Fruit contains certain principles which act like a charm on the liver—and keep the whole system well and strong. But these principles in the fruit juices are too weak to have any marked effect on the internal organs. The value of lies in the secret process by which they are made. The fruit juices are so combined that they have an entirely different effect from fresh fruit. Their action is the action of fruit greatly intensified. They have a marked effect on the liver—toning it up—making it active. "Fruit-a-tives" are, without doubt, the only complete cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

Fruit-a-tives

or Fruit Liver Tablets

Woodstock, Sept. 26.—At the convention of Conservatives of the North Riding of Oxford in the City Hall here Saturday James G. Wallace, barrister, of Woodstock, was unanimously nominated as the Conservative candidate for the next Dominion elections, while Robert H. Butler, who was Col. The nomination was then made unanimous.

Georgiana's Lenten Duties

By RUBY DOUGLAS

Copyright, 1904, by T. C. McClure

Eaton's well marked brows were drawn closely together in a frown. The letter he had just finished reading obviously did not please him. He returned the delicately scented missive to its envelope and leaned back in his chair.

"Hang the new minister!" he commented mentally. "Hang Lent, too!" he added aloud.

"'Faithfully yours, Georgiana,'" he repeated. "And she signs herself that way because the new minister always uses that form, does she? 'Isn't it fascinating?' she asks in her inevitable postscript. No, I cannot agree with Georgiana. It has no fascination to me, inasmuch as she has always signed herself, 'Lovingly, Georgie.'"

Eaton began to pace the room, and as he thought over Georgiana's letter he grew more disturbed in mind. It was all about Lent and sewing bees and flower guilds and parish aid societies and the new minister. The pastor said purple was the proper Lenten color, and she had a new gown of that shade in which she looked "perfectly stunning." Aside from purple being the penitential color, the new minister adored it, of course, after his college colors, orange and black. He was a Princeton man.

"A Princeton cad, probably!" thought Eaton as he continued to make a circuit of his room every half minute. "Girls are silly over the cloth and brass buttons. One is as bad as the other." All the prejudices Eaton ever had against ministers and girls and humanity in general came trooping into his ruffled thoughts.

He and Georgiana, although they were not definitely engaged, had more or less of an understanding as to their future, and since he had been in Easton Georgiana's letters had been a continual source of comfort to him. And now, because it was Lent, she said—because of the new minister, Eaton believed—she would have to deprive herself of the pleasure of writing to him so often. She would save the stamp pennies for her contribution box. The new minister was so enthusiastic about having a large Easter offering, and she was going to help him. It was only right that one should deny oneself the greatest pleasures one had in life during Lent.

"JACK CARELTON!" SAID EATON AFTER A MINUTE.

"It must be a great pleasure," mused Eaton sarcastically.

One of the first things he did after receiving Georgiana's letter was to send her a book of stamps, with the request that she continue her letters to him and not convert the stamps into money for her—her contribution box. Eaton wanted to use some impolite adjectives before writing contribution box, but, in deference to Georgiana, he refrained.

The stamps failed in their purpose, for Georgiana did not write often, and her letters were brief and devoted to a recital of her Lenten duties. Once she condescended to become personal and tell him how lovely she looked in that royal purple gown and to express a wish that he might see her in it. Eaton echoed a portion of her wish only. He longed to see Georgiana, but the dress could remain out of his vision, always, if fate so willed it.

The second week before Easter Georgiana said that she would not be able to write at all during holy week, as there was so much to do. There was a litany service every day; there were Good Friday preparations and the three hour service; she was helping the minister with his confirmation class and with his Easter sermons, which was a great undertaking for so young a man. "However," she went on to say, "we will expect you, as we have planned, for Easter." The minister would dine with them too, and she did want Eaton to meet him. He was so helpful.

"She is crazy—clear crazy—on the subject," thought poor Eaton when he had finished this letter. Queer little hopeless feelings entered his heart and pulled at the strings which heretofore had been so free from knots and tangles. Would he go and see Georgiana once more or would he remain in Boston and let her religious fever lead her into the sea of matrimony with the new minister?

Holy Saturday found him on his way to New York and Georgiana. It was late when he reached the Carelton home that night, and, to his surprise, he was told that Miss Georgiana was in the study.

"With the 'new minister,'" he thought, as he waited for her. His heart dropped deeper and deeper into the despair that had been drawing it down for weeks. Could she not save one evening for him when she had not seen him for months?

All smiling and radiant and, if Eaton could only have detected it, with a wicked little twinkle in her eyes, Georgiana appeared in the doorway.

"Gordon!" she cried and held out both her hands. Eaton took them in his own, but he was formal in his manner.

"Georgiana," was all he said.

"We're just rehearsing the sermon," she said wickedly. "Come on in." And she dragged him unwillingly from the room.

This was more than he had expected, but Georgiana left him no alternative but to follow her. She even held on to his hand. Was she going to enter the presence of the new minister in this fashion?

"He's so anxious to see you, Gordon," said Georgiana as they crossed the hall. Eaton wished he had not come.

Georgiana opened the study door. "Jack," she said to the young man under the green lamp, "Gordon's come."

And then she stood in the middle of the floor and watched the two men grasp hands.

"Jack Carelton," said Eaton after a minute. "What the—that is—Georgiana, why didn't you tell me?"

Georgiana laughed and sat down in the big leather chair under the light. "I wanted to get some fun out of Lent when Jack made me work so hard to help him in his new parish. And this was such fun! Your letters—oh, I did laugh so!"

"Yes," added Carelton, "Georgiana's a trump of a sister for a rising young curate." He was not ministerial in his manner of talking to his sister.

"Well, I say, Carelton, suppose you go now and study up on the marriage service," said Eaton hintfully.

The Fisherman's Regret.

They had a fishing club in one of the middle states; the keeper and factotum of the club was "Old Sammy." Despite his healthful occupation, age grew on him, and unable longer to "watch" the river, there was only one place for the lone old man—the county house. Here, as the end was surely coming, the pastor of the church was asked to see him. To meet the Great Proprietor with a vast accumulation of debt is an ordeal that every wise man may well dread and seek to prepare for. The man with the gospel, trying to induce Sam to see the prime necessity of climbing the cliff to touch the place of blood, was leading him to admit his bankrupt condition, that he might claim mercy of him whose "property is to have mercy and to forgive." "Sammy, I expect you've done many things you wish you hadn't done; haven't you, now?" But Sammy was noncommittal. "Well, now," pursued his visitor, "if you had your life to live over again, wouldn't you do differently in some respects?" "Maybe I would," was the cautious rejoinder. "Well, now, suppose you had the chance of living all these years over again, in what particular would you do differently?" After a minute's silence, the old man, true to the ruling spirit, strong even in death, replied: "Well, if I had my life to live over again, I'd fish more with bait than with fly."—Outlook.

"The Lamb Gourd."

The Duke of Holstein, in his "Travels In Muscovy and Persia" (1636), gives a full account of a wonderful vegetable growing in the neighborhood of the city of Samara, Russia, and known as the "lamb or sheep gourd." The duke says: "It most resembles a lamb in all its members and on that account is called 'the lamb gourd.' It changes place in growing as far as the vine or stalk will reach, and wherever it turns the grass withers. When it ripens the stalk withers and the outward rind is covered with a kind of hair, which the Muscovites use instead of fur. They showed us some of these skins, which were covered with soft wool, not unlike that of a lamb newly weaned."

Scaliger also speaks of the "lamb gourd" in his works. In one chapter he says that the queer vegetable continues to grow as long as grass is plentiful, but that when the grass fails the "pore creetyr dyes frome lac of nourishment." He also says that the wolf is the only animal that will feed upon it.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

When things go wrong you can always find a reason for it in the conduct of the other fellow.

Some people pinch the nickels so hard that they get corns on their fingers.

The trouble about most good things is that one very seldom likes them.

Many a girl practices beauty culture who would do better to practice kitchen culture.

Every dog has his day, but some dogs want more than their share and take it out of the night.

A cow is a gentle and picturesque thing in the middle of a green pasture field, but when she practices gymnastics with her rear limbs at milking time she seems neither gentle nor picturesque.

The people who are saddest when they sing might find on investigation that their auditors are likewise.

WOULD WEAR THE WEEDS.

Clergyman Tells of Amusing Experiences Met With in Work.

"My first church," says a certain eloquent and greatly beloved Washington clergyman, "was in a small country town, and before I learned the hearts of my parishioners their ways used to upset my gravity at the most inopportune time. I shall never forget the first funeral at which I officiated. It was that of a man who had been stricken down in the prime of life, leaving a widow who had been an almost bedridden invalid for years. The services were conducted at the home of the deceased, and when I appeared I was told that the widow was too ill to leave her bed, so in order that she might hear my discourse I was asked to stand near a half open door which led into her bedroom. I had admired the dead man for his sturdy Christian qualities, and every word of the eulogy I delivered came straight from my heart. As I went on with my talk I suddenly remembered the widow and turned toward her door in order that she might hear better. I had not seen her, but as I looked toward her room my eyes fell upon her, and for full half a minute I was obliged to bury my face in my handkerchief. She was lying in bed, her arms in their white-cambric sleeves stretched out on the counterpane, and on her head was a new mourning bonnet, with a long crape veil. She was not able to be dressed, but wear a widow's bonnet she could and did.

"My first wedding, too, was an event long to be remembered," went on the same clergyman. "It was performed at my house, and the bride and bridegroom were perfect strangers to me. She was fully six feet tall and broad in proportion, while his head reached scarcely to her shoulders as they entered the room. I learned afterward that she was extremely sensitive about the disparity in their sizes, and I had good reason to believe it, for as they came forward to take their places and the witnesses began to come in the bridegroom paused and moved a chair forward. The bride looked at me in great embarrassment. Then she seated herself resolutely.

"'I'm feeling faint,' said she. 'If you don't mind I think I'll take it sitting.'

"And with as much gravity as I could muster I married her sitting."

Speed Its Flight.

Time flies when with a lady fair
You sit around and spoon,
And, really, are you are aware,
Gone is the afternoon.
Complacently you watch it's flight—
You can sit closer after night.

Made a Difference.

"Who is the rural jay you were talking to?"

"That is the proprietor of the biggest ranch in the southwest."

"Excuse me, I meant to ask what is the name of the country gentleman."

"I thought I saw you smoking today."

"True, but it was a campaign cigar."

"It is with pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets' have done for me," writes Mrs. T. M. Palmer, of Poole, Kaufman Co., Texas. "Two years ago I was taken with stomach and bowel trouble. Everything I ate would put me in distress. I lived two weeks on milk and eggs that gave me pain. I felt as though I would starve to death. Three doctors pitched me—one said I had dyspepsia, two said catarrh of the stomach and bowels. They attended me (one at a time) for one year. I stopped taking their medicine and tried some patent medicine; got no better, and I grew so weak and nervous my heart would flutter. I could not do any kind of work. Now I can do my house work very well; am gaining in flesh and strength, and can eat anything I want."

Cereal Company, The Agricultural Implement Company, the Cordage & Rope Company, the Woollen Mills, the flour mills, the Machinery Manufacturing Company and of the company for the manufacture of locks of all kinds. These all form a revelation to one who has not seen the city for some years. A few years ago His Honour said that he had been in Rotterdam and in the evening found that the most conspicuous object in that great city was the huge sign "Quaker Oats" formed in electric lights on the highest tower in the place. He then did not know that the article there eagerly sought was made in Peterborough. The beauty of the situation of the city and the facilities for fishing and boating have attracted numerous delighted tourists to the locality and has led to the building of canoes famous all over the world. The development of electric power has been phenomenal and cannot fail to increase the manufacturing industries of the city and also the construction of a radial railway. The engineering works at the lifting lock attract wide spread interest, and the operations on the Trent Valley Canal will do much to facilitate the transportation of grain from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario. While all these works and industries arrest attention and benefit the city it must not be forgotten that Ontario is essentially an agricultural country and that we must all look to the farm as the basis of our wealth and prosperity. It is right therefore that great prominence in such exhibitions be given to agricultural products. The County of Peterborough has long been famous for its fine farms and good farmers. The exhibition of today fully sustains the record of the past. The rise in the status of the farming population of the Province is remarkable. The agricultural colleges have done much to bring this about, and the recognition of agriculture as a science by the University of Toronto in granting degrees in it, will do still more in this direction. The increase in prices brought about by the existence of a large manufacturing population will all tend to increase the comfort of the farmer and keep the young folk more about the farm. This with the diffusion of manufactories throughout the Province, will it is to be hoped keep our sons and daughters from being obliged to seek employment under other and sometimes not very friendly flags. The air to-day is full of the great problems of the empire, and the question of fiscal reform is very prominently before the people, both of Britain and her dependencies. If these and other questions are approached by men imbued with the imperial spirit, difficulties will disappear and methods adopted for promoting the greater unification of the empire and carrying to a higher degree of splendor the imperial grandeur and magnificance of the British name.

ADDRESS OF THE HONOURARY PRESIDENT.

Hon. Mr. Stratton united in the welcome that had been extended to His Honour by the Mayor and Exhibition officials. He was pleased to have him present, for from his official relations with the Lieutenant-Governor, his department having so many branches, he necessarily came in frequent contact with His Majesty's representative in Ontario, and knew much of his excellent official and personal qualities. He was glad also to welcome Mrs. Clarke, a former resident of Peterborough, where no doubt she was subjected to influences which developed the qualities which tended to make her a worthy help-meet of the Lieutenant-Governor. His Honour had referred to the industrial establishments of Peterborough, and its importance as a manufacturing centre. It was also the centre of something perhaps more important—one of the finest agricultural areas in the province, and also one of the best stock raising and dairying districts, peopled and cared for by one of the most intelligent and progressive farming communities. Under these circumstances this town was fitted to be the place for holding one of the best district exhibitions in the province, and he was glad to be able from what he saw, and from the prospects, to congratulate the directors of the Society upon a marked success. There was every reason why the local Industrial Fair should be good. It had good material in the surrounding country — its stock and products — and it had the best of financial backing — two of the most solid banking institutions upon the continent of America, as represented by the President and Secretary, who were ably supported by an energetic Board of Directors. Mr. Stratton closed a few informal remarks by wishing the Peterborough Industrial a prosperous future.

The Lieutenant-Governor then declared the Peterborough Industrial Fair official open, and the vice-regal party was escorted through the grounds by the president and directors, and His Honour expressed himself as being highly pleased with the number and quality of the exhibits seen in the buildings and was particularly pleased with the great showing of horses and other live stock classes.

The crowds then scattered through the grounds to the various points of interest in the exhibits and side shows, while the speeding events proved an attractive feature.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

There were quite a number of effective special exhibits in the main building, and in different parts of the grounds, which not only demonstrated the business enterprise of the exhibitors, but were competing features of interest for the sight-seeing visitor. The enterprise shown by the firms represented was significant of the advertising value and publicity given by our Industrial Fair.

INTERNATIONAL STOCK FOOD COMPANY'S EXHIBIT.

The representative of the International Stock Food Company, of Toronto and Minneapolis, made an excellent exhibit of their goods at the Fair, in a tent near the main building. Great interest was taken in this exhibit by farmers, stock breeders, dairymen, poultrymen and others. The company are sole owners of the following specialties: International Stock Food, Poultry Food, Worm Powder, Heave Cure, Colic Cure, Honey Tar Foot Remedy, Harness Soap, Silver Pine Healing Oil, Gall Cure, Pheno-Chlore, Absorbent, and Cough and Lung Cure. The company has a capital of $2,000,000. Its factory contains 17 acres of floor space, and is many times larger than any other Stock Food factory in the world. They employ over 400 people, and every one of their preparations is sold with a positive guarantee printed on each label, to refund the money in any case of failure, and their guarantee is as good as gold. As to the cheapness of feeding International Stock Food — the average feed for fattening hogs is two-thirds of one pound per month, which only costs ten cents per month. It is by far the cheapest to use, on account of the small sized feed required, combined with the very superior vegetable medication.

This Stock Food and the various preparations put up by the International Stock Food Company, is sold in Peterborough by Messrs. White and Gillespie, grocers and dealers in dairy supplies, George street, where all orders can be filled promptly. Mr. J. W. Brewster, the travelling agent, who is at present in Peterborough, reports a good business constantly being done throughout this part of Ontario with these valuable Stock Foods.

THE "SIMPLEX" LINK BLADE CREAM SEPARATOR.

Alongside of the International Stock Food Company's Exhibit, a continued group of interested spectators were examining the operations and mechanism of the new "Simplex" Link Blade Cream Separator. It proved to be a decidedly valuable exhibit for farmers and dairymen during the two big days of the Fair. It was shown by Mr. Geo. A. Gillespie, of the firm of White & Gillespie, grocers and dairy supply men, George street. The thorough practical knowledge which Mr. Gillespie showed in handling this separator left no doubt in the minds of the interested spectators that he was thoroughly conversant with his subject, and that he knew the milk and cheese business down to the milk stool. This "Link-Blade" Cream Separator has been well tried and tested in this district, and the confidence reposed in it by so many of our practical farmers, is very complimentary to Mr. Gillespie's persistent and painstaking work.

The reason why it is claimed that the "Link Blade Separator" gives an increased capacity seems plain, when one considers their action on the milk in the bowl. The process in other machines is now pretty well aired up. In the "Link Blade" machine the milk pursues a straight course from the bottom of the bowl, where it is delivered by the feed tube to the top, where it is thrown out as separated cream and milk. Each space between adjacent blades acts as an entirely independent separating chamber; all these chambers are fed uniformly at the bottom, and as the milk passes up it is gradually separated into cream and skim milk, the heavier skim milk particles following the concave sides of the blades in their upward and outward direction, and the cream particles following the convex side in their progress upward and inward to the cream outlet. Any mixing or interference with currents is avoided, and the result is increased separating capacity as well as a more thorough separation, amounting, as has been stated, to from thirty to fifty per cent. over the best of other devices. Some other important improvements have been incorporated in the "Simplex" for both hand power and factory machines, such as the improved manner of discharging the skim milk from the bowl, without the use of tubes, etc. Here are some of the warm words of recommendation bestowed on this separator by a few of the many influential and well known farmers and dairymen who have invested in this money-making machine.

"It has cost me nothing for repairs in two years and gives entire satisfaction."—John M. Sargent.

"I am satisfied that any man with five cows or more is making a mistake by not having a separator."—T. W. McIndod, Cavan.

"I can honestly say that my separator has more than paid for itself in seven months with nine cows."—E. W. Bace.

'Entire satisfaction."—A. Wilson, jr. Lakehurst.

Many other testimonials could be added, but these ought to suffice to show how much of a favorite the Simplex has become

The agents, Messrs. White & Gillespie, No. 336 George street, Peterborough, are always glad to explain the full workings of this most successful machine.

"The Simplex good on all points."—A. A. Breston, North Monaghan.

"We tested this machine in every way and with other machines. It was the only good machine in this section and it compared with the best tester in Canada. We bought the machine because there was no better on the market."—Lakefield Butter Company, T. E. Kilne, secretary.

COUGHLIN'S MONUMENTAL WORKS.

Inside the main building the first space in the northwest corner was occupied by the Coughlin Monumental Works, whose warerooms, factory and quarry yard are located at No. 214 Hunter street west. It was a well arranged exhibit and proved an effective feature among the inside displays, besides showing decided enterprise on the part of this progressive firm. The beautiful granite monuments and headstones turned out by this firm are to be seen not only all over our own Peterborough district, but throughout the adjoining counties and as far away as New Ontario.

Taking advantage of Peterborough's electric power and putting the machinery necessary for polishing and finishing granite as well as having every facility for handling it in a time saving manney. They get the rough granite in car load lots from the different quarries thus making a big saving in freight and duty. They employ none but expert granite cutters, men who understand every detail of the business. Their display includes several different styles of monuments, some with all polished faces having tracery carving, others with polished faces and rock ends. They are at present turning out what is a very new style of monument, one of the fine grained granite, very light in color and without any polish finished in axeing and ornamental, with heavy carving. This style of work is very handsome. This firm recommend granite for lot markers and posts as its durability is greater than any other stone. They have a sample of Stony Lake granite polished. Their display is in charge of their energetic salesman, Godfrey Coughlin.

BEN YELLAND'S FINE EXHIBIT OF BUGGIES.

A fine showy exhibit was made in a large tent by our well known citizen and manufacturer, Mr. Ben. Yelland, of 173 Murray street. Of special interest is his neat Knock-about trap with rubber tired wheels, carmine gearing, black body, whipcord trimming, spring back and cushion. It's a light and strong outfit and the finish is right. A Bike waggon is shown with cushion tires, red gearing, black body and whipcord trimming. A very nifty turnout possessing several serviceable patterns. Two top buggies are shown with cushion tired wheels, black gearing and dark green bodies. Also two steel tired top buggies both in blue gearing and black bodies. The style and superb finish of these buggies were matters of very favourable comment among visitors to this section of the grounds. Mr. Yelland points to the fact that his vehicles are hand-made, giving them a greater value than the "factory-made" article. Those shown were excellent samples of others which he has for sale at his place of business on Murray street, where those desirous of picking out a spanking good durable rig can have an excellent choice. Mr. Yeland also displayed a set of his own make of double trees, whiffletrees and neck-yoke, which shows the handiwork of a craftsman that knows his business.

TO-DAY'S NEWS ON STOCK MARKET

New York, Sept. 27.—Noon.—Stocks opened generally strong with fair amount of activity in leading issues. There was not great deal commission biz in sight but traders were active and made up the loss. They were willing to operate for further rallies which seemed to be easy on the lead given by the wide opening. From opening a determined effort was made to force U. S. S. Q. above 70. There seemed to be plenty of stock on advances. Some importance was attached to recent London buying of Nor. Securities. Taken in connection with strength in other stocks and bonds covered the influence is that some settlement has been arrived at. Harriman brokers in London said to have bought stock there and seeing a higher level of prices on this side, he started in to put them up. J. W. Gates said to be behind movement in M.O.P. and was responsible for advance yesterday. The Gould brokers have been distributing stock quietly for about two months past, but are naturally not offering any opposition to market movement. Advance in C.P.R. was merely a reflection on London price. At present only satisfactory market for stock is in London. Market at 11.30 strong and gives indications of going still higher before expiration of session. Lower Wall Street is very bullish on Sugar.—W. F. D. & Co.

MAGNIFICENT CROWDS ON THE OPENING DAY

About 5,000 Spectators on the Fair Grounds Yesterday.

ENTRIES IN LIVE STOCK.

Messrs. Graham Brothers' String of Clydesdales—The Racing Events Yesterday—Results of Judging.

—Yesterday, the opening day of the Peterborough Industrial Fair, of 1904, will go down into history as the day upon which the largest crowd of spectators has ever been gathered at one time on the Fair grounds, and as a result the directors, and particularly the President and the Secretary of the Fair, are wearing pleased smiles to-day. Since the Fair has been under the new management the weather man has never dished up favourable weather, consequently the management have been working under a handicap, but yesterday changed all this, and there has never been more admirable weather conditions, and, as a result, the Fair was visited by a record crowd. Nothing in the shape of a reckoning as to the actual attendance yesterday has n yet been made, but a very conservative estimate places the number of admissions at 5,000, and some assert that this number was exceeded. Certain it is that from almost early morning, until late in the afternoon, the crowds were coming, and there were times when the ticket-sellers absolutely could not handle the business. The greatest rush of course was shortly after noon when the Vice-Regal party arrived at the grounds, and for a time all the street cars were more than crowded with passengers, a number coming to the grounds with passengers hanging on to every conceivable part of the cars, and if the records were produced, it would be learned that the railway company had a bumper day yesterday. The service, on the whole, was pretty good, too, considering that it is such a short time since the system was put in operation, and, making some small allowances for this fact, the company gave its patrons very good service, and it is in no small degree due to this fact that the gate receipts at the Fair were so gratifying.

Secretary Wilmot was a busy man all day yesterday, his work being augmented by the fact that more persons than in previous years have apparently been anxious to be exhibitors at the Peterborough Fair, consequently the work of the one whose duty it is to receive these entries, is very largely increased.

The Fair, despite the very best efforts of those connected with it, is not by any means perfect yet, however, and it will never be so until more ample accommodation is provided for those who make inside exhibits. The present building, while it may have been of spacious enough proportions to serve the purposes when the Fair was smaller, is now painfully inadequate, and, as was mentioned yesterday by Hon. J. R. Stratton, the Hon. President, in his address, the Directors must in the near future provide more ample accommodation for the exhibitors, when the Fair will take on a much more important aspect, and will be one of which the citizens of Peterborough will take even more pride than they do at the present time.

As was mentioned yesterday, the exhibits of the different classes of live stock are particularly satisfactory, not only from the stand-point of the multitudinous entries, but what is more important, from that of the quality of the stock on exhibition. In the horses the entries were very large, and some very valuable animals were judged yesterday. The list of cattle, while not so large, was an exceptionally good one, the exhibit of Messrs. William Stewart & Sons, of Lucasville, who showed a large number of Polled Angus cattle, being perhaps the largest group of animals owned by one firm on the ground. These cattle have been the rounds of the best fairs in the country, starting at Winnipeg, and have won a large number of prizes, one seven months old calf taking a $100 prize at the Winnipeg Fair. William Rennie also showed a number of Shorthorns, which have been prize takers at other Fairs. Sheep and swine were represented by a fair number of animals of good quality, while in poultry the show was one of the largest in the history of the Fair, and some particularly good birds were among those shown.

A very interesting feature of the live stock section was the string of horses from the stables of Messrs. Graham Brothers, of Claremont. These progressive horsemen have ten of their best horses at the fair, not on exhibition to compete for prizes, but as an object lesson to the stock breeders on the value of breeding good stock. Four of these horses were brought out into the ring yesterday afternoon, while this afternoon the whole ten took part in the grand stock parade, which was one of the most interesting features of the whole fair. The horses seen by the public yesterday were:—Baron Sterling, champion Clydesdale at the Toronto and Ottawa Fairs, and before his importation to Canada, champion at Edinburgh. This horse is a black with grey hairs three years old, he was sired by Baron's Pride, dam, Queen of Branby, by Macgregor, Royal Baron, five years old, winner of the first prize for aged Clydesdales at the Toronto and Ottawa Fairs, sired by Baron's Pride, dam, Royal Queen, by Mount Royal, King' Crest, aged four years, winner of second prize, in the class in which the former won first at Toronto and Ottawa, sired by Up-to-Time, dam, Tiara, by Lord Douglas and a beautiful black hackney, Joe Rock, the horse that has won about twenty prizes in England, before being brought to Canada, and at the Toronto and Ottawa Fairs in his class won the first and championship prizes. The other horses owned by Graham Brothers and which are at the fair are:—Minnie MacQueen, sire, MacQueen, dam, Minnie Malcolm, Melia, sire, Concord, dam, Lady of Highfield, by Conqueror, Juliet, sire, Baron's Pride, dam, Ellice, by Prince Royal, Moncreiffe, sire, Baronet, dam, Moncreiffe, Marquis, dam, Bessie Belle, Prince of Kyle and Fairy King, sire, Baron's Pride, dam, Fortune by MacGregor.

These horses were the centre of an admiring crowd of horse-lovers all day yesterday, and the management of the fair is to be congratulated upon their success in securing such a popular attraction for this year's exhibition, and Messrs. Graham Brothers deserve the thanks of the community for being willing to take the risk, which the journey entailed to bring these valuable horses here, in view of the fact that they were not entered for competition and they could not possibly hope to reap any direct benefit from the risk.

In the building devoted to the display of products suitable for exhibition inside the showing was not one which does justice to the capabilities of the County of Peterborough, and with the erection of a larger and better arranged building no doubt the number and quality of exhibits will very materially increase. As it is those that were there were all that could be desired as far as merit is concerned, the garden products, grains, fruits, etc., being of good quality, while the display of art work and ladies' work was a very creditable one. The display of the work one by the Doukohobours, Indians and French Canadian women made by the Women's Art Association of Canada, was one around which considerable interest centered, and all day admiring crowds of ladies surrounded the exhibit, which was in charge of Peterborough ladies.

The speeding events in the ring, including a 2.50 trot, 1 1-4 flat running race and a 1 1-2 mile hurdle race was watched by an interested crowd of spectators, who saw some good races.

THE RACES.

There were three events on the card yesterday, which proved of interest to the large crowd of spectators. The entry list was not large, and the races were won in straight heats, with one or two quite exciting finishes.

2.50 Trot or Pace.

In the 2.50 trot or pace there were four entries. King Van had the pole and took the lead, followed by Maud Keswick, Jim X and Donna Belle. The leader fell back to last place at the quarter pole, and Maud Keswick broke badly. Donna Belle was steadily gaining and was soon in first place. Jim X also passed Maud but could not retain his advantage. In the second half Maud gained steadily and passed both the leaders, though Donna Belle had a big lead at the half way pole. Keswick won by about three lengths from Donna Belle, with Jim X third and King Van last.

Dr. Johnston, the driver of Donna Belle was fined $5 and put back to fourth place for pulling his horse, which apparently could have won if he had so desired. The horse was then drawn from the race.

In the second heat Keswick took the lead followed by Jim X and King Van. The horses remained in this position, about ten lengths separating each of the horses at the finish.

The third heat was a repetition of the second, Keswick winning handily.

Summary—

Maud Keswick, O. B. Shepherd, Toronto..... 111
Jim X, C. Fife, Otonabee 222
King Van, G. Caldwell, Perrytown..... 333
Donna Belle, Dr. Johnson, Peterborough..... ....4dr
Time, 2.35, 2.30, 2.32.

Running Race.

In the mile and one-quarter running race there were three entries. The horses got away together and the race was a good one. Zerba took the lead followed by Michaelmas and Chatelaine. The latter closed up the gap after the first half mile and was pressing the leader, making a beautiful race for first place. Chatelaine took the lead on the second lap and won by about three lengths.

Summary—

Chatelaine, C. Phair, Toronto 1
Zerba, J. Fowler, Carberry, Man..... 2
Michaelmas, J. M. Fowler, Toronto 3

Grey Cloud got the lead in the one and a half mile hurdle race, followed by Fire Field and Cheetem. The latter fell back after the first quarter mile and looked to be out of it. While taking the third hurdle, Fire Field struck her hind foot on the bar, and fell, throwing her rider, Burt, to the track heavily, and badly cutting his head. Cheetem was gaining rapidly on the leader but her spurt was too late and Grey Cloud won by about two lengths in a pretty finish.

Summary—

Grey Cloud, Woodruff, Dundas..... 1
Cheetem, Cluxan, Peterborough ... 2
Fire Field, Worthington..... 3

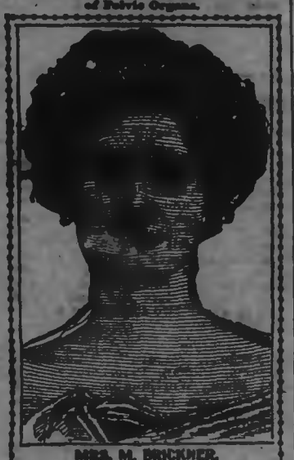
BACKACHE AND DIZZINESS.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of Pelvic Organs.



MRS. M. BRICKNER.

99 Eleventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

"A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headaches, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason of so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

FEMALE TROUBLE NOT RECOGNIZED AS CATARRH.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

If you have catarrh write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

OBJECT LESSONS.

When Mr. Borden went to Stratford the other day, bent upon telling the inhabitants how bad the present tariff is, and how much better off they would be if they let him fix the tariff, a local newspaper made bold to mention that since 1896 sundry new manufacturing plants had been started at Stratford, to wit:

A furniture factory, employing 200 hands.
A packing establishment, 80 hands.
An implement factory, 100 hands.
An implement factory, 60 hands.
A knitting factory, 50 hands.
A biscuit factory, 100 hands.
A carriage factory, 50 hands.
A threshing machine factory, now building.
An overshoe factory, now building.
A flax factory, doubled since 1896.
Grand Trunk shops, employing 900 hands as against 600 hands in the good old days.

If Mr. Borden had gone visiting the new establishments erected and operated under the tariff of the Liberals, he would have had no time left to devote to denunciation of the existing tariff — certainly none to explain how his own indefinite policy would benefit Stratford.

If Mr. Borden were to come to Peterborough and do the same — oh, well there is no use talking about that, for he would be kept going around new and prosperous establishments until long after the elections, and he must be left some time for a work he has to do all by himself.

A BUNDLE OF STRAWS.

The Kingston Whig collates the following bundle of straws showing how the political wind blows:—"Converts to the liberal administration are becoming numerous. Some time ago it was announced that Mr. Tasse, of Montreal, had announced himself as a supporter of the Dominion government; this followed the intimation of Mr. Tuckett, the tobacco manufacturer of Hamilton, that he had been won over by the Liberals on account of their anti-trust legislation, and now Mr. Christine, of Montreal, of the firm of James Christine & Co., and a manufacturer, makes known the fact that he is no longer with the Conservative party.

Mr. Christine is very much in favour of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, thinks it is a commercial necessity and approves of the plans which have been made for its construction. "I do not think," he said, "that any of the alternative schemes offered by the leader of the opposition, to this strong project are thorough and practicable." Moreover, he adds, "I am strongly opposed to government ownership of railways and consider it a bad principle."

Other prominent Conservatives of Montreal, are said to be in accord with the government's proposals, including Sir George Drummond, George E. Drummond, (late president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association), Mr. Clouston of the Bank of Montreal. Indeed, the whole party has been so indifferent towards Mr. Borden's policy that the Toronto News has chided it and pointed out that it must wake up if the people are to know where it stands and to vote intelligently upon the issue.

One thing more, as marking the trend of events. No prominent Liberal has been defeated by the Government's railway or fiscal policy. No one who is a close observer of public opinion can see any evidence on which the opposition sees any hope of success at the polls."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Every place Mr. Borden goes he sees evidences of industrial prosperity under the tariff which he wants to change.

The British Engineers who are at present visiting Canada, are astounded at its resources. This is only natural, and the more our British cousins see us at close range the better they will be impressed.

Our Tory contemporaries, says the the Hamilton Times, rail at the Globe when it condemns impurity among the Grits, but which of them have had a word of rebuke for the Tory rascality unearthed at the recent investigations? Not one. The Buffalo perjurers and heelers have come and gone, and without one word of condemnation, and the Tory organiser, Aleck Wright, can find space for a column of abuse of Mr. Aylesworth in the leading Tory journals, yet not a word of reproach has been written on account of his dealings with the Buffalo men in the attempt to swear a man out of his seat.

In the United States, the banner high tariff country of the world, which affords "adequate protection," the Democrats are making much of the argument that protection does not protect the wage earners. A statement has been issued showing a reduction of ten to thirty per cent. in the wages of all classes of labour. Here in Canada, without what the dreaming Mr. Borden calls 'adequate protection," we have, under a rational tariff, high wages all round the board, and a full dinner pail. A rational tariff, such as we have in Canada, creates the conditions which keep both capital and labour in profitable occupation. This is no time for a change. Experience is better than experiment.

Mr. Williams after coming down to his barber shop early in the morning did the necessary work around the place and left for his breakfast. When he returned about an hour later he was surprised to see smoke issuing from his shop window. On going up stairs he found that the stove he had been using had caught onto some inflamable material and had burnt all one corner of the shop. After he got a few pails of water on to the fire it was soon extinguished. The estimate of damage was about fifteen dollars. It was a good thing that he arrived as soon as he did or there might have been a fire that would not have been put out so easily.

WAS NOT A SUICIDE.

Insurance Manager Hamilton of London Was Trying to Extract Cartridge From Revolver When Shot.

London, Sept. 28.—Coroner MacLaren made further inquiries concerning the shooting of George R. Hamilton, district manager of the Imperial Life Insurance Company at London, and it is now evident that the first suspicions that the unfortunate man had taken his own life deliberately were not true.

The doctor removed the bullet from Hamilton's body and discovered that, if the shot had been fired with suicidal intent, then Hamilton had held the revolver in a position not only unlikely but almost impossible in order to inflict the wound. The bullet had entered to the extreme left of the body, just at or over the heart, and had taken a diagonal course, lodging some inches beneath the right shoulder. Thus it had taken a slanting course almost directly across the body.

It has also been made clear that the revolver with which the fatal wound was inflicted was not the property of Hamilton. It came into his possession through a loan of money which he made to a friend, Rev. J. Dagg Scott, one of the agents of his company. Hamilton objected to receiving the revolver. The weapon was of double-action.

Was Extracting the Bullets.

The police now believe that Hamilton was endeavoring to extract the bullets when the revolver was discharged. His stenographer, Miss Wright, who last saw Hamilton, says he remarked to her that he thought he would remove the bullets and he was handling the revolver when she left for the day.

T. Bradshaw, secretary of the Imperial Life Insurance Company, arrived in the city yesterday morning, together with William Hamilton, formerly of London, a brother of the deceased, and also prominently connected with the company, and C. J. Burchard, brother-in-law of deceased. Mr. Bradshaw made this statement: "The late Mr. Hamilton had been with our company for six years and during the whole of that time his duties have been performed to our entire satisfaction and his reports have always been sent in promptly. To our knowledge there is not a single thing that requires explanation, or that is out of order. I can say this unhesitatingly."

The deceased was born in Hibbert Township, Perth. When 19 years of age he, in company with A. F. MacLaren, M.P., of Stratford, went to Colorado, where he remained for four or five years. On his return he lived in Winnipeg for probably two years. Then he removed to Orillia and later to Toronto, coming thence to this city some four and a half years ago.

IN A CONCAVE LINE

Stretches Oyama's Armies For a Full Front of 60 Miles.

HIS DISCONCERTING TACTICS

London, Sept. 28.—War news from the front is of the scantiest description, but many indications point to the imminence of a renewed forward movement on the part of the Japanese forces. Roughly speaking Marshal Oyama's armies now cover a front of sixty miles, stretching in a concave line from the Hun River, northeast of Mukden, to a point on the Liao River in the neighborhood of Sianchan.

Oyama is thus repeating his previous disconcerting tactics of threatening both the Russian flanks while maintaining a strong force on the main line of attack. Uncertain as to where the blow will fall Kuropatkin is fortifying Fakoman, twenty-five miles northeast of Mukden, evidently with the object of arresting Kuroki's flanking movement from that direction, and also to protect the retreat of the force now holding Sinmintin, an important strategic point forty miles west of Mukden, and ten miles west of the Liao River.

The Japanese are repeating the same leisurely, methodical preparations which have characterized all their successive advances in Manchuria. Their screen of outposts keeps continually in touch with the Russian troops who report a variety of movements at several points of the long front. But it is apparent Kuropatkin does not anticipate he will be able to hold Mukden, and is preparing for an orderly retreat on the Tie Pass, which, by all accounts, will be the hardest nut to crack that the Manchurian campaign has yet yielded.

There is no news from Port Arthur and reports of a sortie by the Vladivostock squadron and of a naval engagement off the southeastern extremity of the Russian Island of Sakhalin have not been verified. Russia is now transporting reservists from Caucasia.

MEDIATION IS POSSIBLE.

The Hague Convention Gives the Nations the Chance.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—Yesterday's session of the American Bar Association was called to order by President James Hagerman of St. Louis. The report of the standing committee on international law takes up the Russo-Japanese war and discusses it at some length. Briefly the report states:

"It is not for your committee to pass judgment upon the merits of this war; but we do submit that the Japanese claim is of a character that affords just grounds for mediation under the second title of The Hague Convention. The third article declares that the signatory powers think it to be useful that one or more powers which have no part in the conflict may offer of their own volition, so far as circumstances may make it appropriate, their friendly offices or their mediation to the states engaged in the conflict.

"The United States might, as it seems to your committee, very properly avail itself of the provisions of The Hague Convention and make an endeavor to put an end to the further shedding of blood in Manchuria."

DUNN SENTENCED.

Campbellford Man Sent to Central Prison For Two Years.

Cobourg, Sept. 28.—Before Hon. Mr. Justice Idington at the Assizes here yesterday, James Dunn was tried for the manslaughter of his uncle, Fraser Dunn, on July 12 last at Campbellford. The two men, who lived together, had been drinking in the village and returned home under the influence of liquor. A scuffle took place between them from some unknown cause in the course of which James Dunn threw his uncle down on the ground and kicked him several times. The deceased doubled up in severe pain, and in twenty-four hours afterwards died from peritonitis. The jury found the prisoner guilty and His Lordship sentenced him to two years in the Central Prison less one day.

An East Simcoe Nomination.

Orillia, Sept. 28.—R. D. Gunn, K. C., of Orillia, was yesterday the unanimous choice of the Liberal convention to contest East Simcoe in the Liberal interests in the approaching Federal elections. Nearly 150 delegates were present from all parts of the riding, a special train bringing representatives from Midland, Penetang, Victoria Harbor and Waubaushene. In all seventeen names were proposed. The coming contest in East Simcoe promises to be keen.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, but by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

DECISION RE MUSKOKA.

Not Illegal Or Corrupt to Employ a Substitute For a Voter.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Chancellor Boyd handed down the following judgment yesterday in the Muskoka election petition, referring to the question of costs and the payment of money in the Peacock case. Mr. Justice Teetzel concurred in the decision:

"The voter in this case was desirous to vote for the Conservative candidate, but because of his place of work being distant from the polls he could not vote unless he absented himself from his employment. His master was willing that he should go to vote if his place was filled by a competent substitute. An active member of the party undertook to supply the substitute and paid the brother of the voter $5 to take his vacant place. This payment was not too much considering that the substitute had to travel some distance to reach the place of employment.

Not Paid to Induce.

"No money was paid to the voter, and the brother, who got the $5, was not a voter. The money was not paid to induce the voter to cast a vote—which is the word used in the statute, section 159. It was rather to enable him to vote. It was not meant to affect the mind or will of the voter but to operate on his bodily presence.

"The transaction is of the character of such acts as are provided for in section 165, e.g., paying expenses of travel to expedite the voter in reaching the poll, but this particular form of expediting appearance thereat is not covered by the language of the statute. It is not in its nature a corrupt practice, and it would require some express and positive enactment to turn it into an illegal act.

Outside the Scope.

"The voter, no doubt, thus gets pay for a day's work he did not do —as his wages ran on—but that is a matter outside of the scope of the primitive provisions of the election law. This payment complained of was not made to induce the man to vote as he did, but it was the means whereby a substitute was procured in his stead at the expense of a political friend by which expedient he was able to vote.

"In respect of the illegal and corrupt matters proved by the petitioner, I should favor a set-off of costs (as against the general costs of petition given to the respondent) to the extent of $50."

MR. MORRISON A JUDGE.

M.P. For New Westminster, B.C., Appointed to B.C. Supreme Court.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 28.—A special wire was received yesterday from Ottawa, announcing that Auley Morrison, M.P., for New Westminster, had been appointed judge of the Supreme Court for British Columbia, in place of Justice Drake, resigned.

Auley Morrison, LL.B., K.C., was born at Baddeck, N.S., in 1868. He was educated at Dalhousie University and was admitted to the Bar at Halifax in 1888. He commenced the practice of law in Westminster in 1900. He was first elected M.P. in 1896, and a second time in 1900. In 1900 he married Elizabeth Livingston, daughter of James Livingston, ex-M.P., Baden, Ontario.

Suprise to Doctors.

Most doctors are astonished at the results obtained by Dr. Chase-s Ointment as a cure for eczema, salt rheum and itching skin diseases which are often considered well nigh incurable. By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Charged With Conspiracy.

St. Catharines, Sept. 28.—Edward Day, president of Local No. 407, Brotherhood of Painters, Paper Hangers and Decorators of America, and two members of the union, William Beatty and William Hodgins, must face a jury on a charge of conspiracy to prevent Albert A. Clay, a painter, 30 years old, from working at his business. The three accused men were yesterday afternoon sent up for trial by Magistrate Comfort after he had heard a great deal of evidence.

DUNLOP IS EX-M.P.P.

Late Member for North Renfrew Throws It Up.

THE PETITION WAS DISMISSED

But There Were Acts Not "Technically Defensible"—Pleasant Phrase Covering Up Things Mr. Hellmuth Was Not Desirous of Bringing to Trial —Future in Party's Hands.

Pembroke, Sept. 28.—The petition filed by the Liberals against the return of E. A. Dunlop, Conservative M. P. P. for North Renfrew was brought up in the Election Court yesterday afternoon, presided over by Chief Justice Moss and Justice Street.

Mr. Aylesworth, for the petitioner, announced that he had no evidence to offer, and the court immediately dismissed the petition.

Mr. Dunlop Will Resign.

Following is E. A. Dunlop's statement made yesterday: "Acting on the advice of my counsel, Mr. Hellmuth, I intend to resign my seat. He informed me a short time ago that in looking over my case for trial he found there had been some acts that were technically indefensible under the law, and which would in all probability lead to the vacation of the seat; that I might win out, as there was nothing in the personal charges, but the chances were against holding the seat, and that the expenses of a protracted trial with a large number of witnesses would amount to four or five thousand dollars at least. I did not want the seat unless it was mine, and I said I would resign at once and run again, but I understand that was impossible while the election petition was pending, so I suggested seeing the other side and telling them what I proposed to do, as I did not believe they would want to go on if they had nothing against me personally, and there were no disclosures that I feared. Mr. Hellmuth saw Mr. Johnston and Mr. Johnston said he saw nothing that was unreasonable in the suggestion, and that he would be glad to save expenses to the petitioners if I really meant to resign, as what the petitioners wanted all along was to have the seat vacated. That is the whole story. There has been no saw-off, no bargain. I have conducted the matter on my own account, without any party aid or suggestion, and am satisfied with the outcome."

Has Already Resigned.

Mr. Dunlop was asked when he would forward his resignation, and replied that he had already done so to Col. Clarke, the Clerk of the House. He added that the reason why he fyled no particulars in the cross-petition was that the Liberals had not claimed the seat, and the only particulars he could fyle would be of a personal character. His opponent, Mr. Hale, had treated him very decently in the whole matter, they were personal friends, and neither had any desire to go into personal affairs. As to whether or not he would be a candidate again he could not say; that was in the hands of the party.

Reception Was Lukewarm.

Oshawa, Sept. 28.—Prosperous, industrial Oshawa, which has new and extending business interests such as never before, was visited by Mr. R. L. Borden and his supporters last evening. The Conservatives of South Ontario are still without a candidate, though several names are mentioned. The reception was only lukewarm. Mr. Borden, besides taking the usual ground on the railway and other questions, threatened his hearers that if the Conservatives are defeated at the next election it will postpone for 50 years any extension of Government railways in Canada and hand over the Northwest for all time to railway corporations.

Election Date Not Yet Known.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Everybody here is talking elections, and few more doubt that Parliament will be dissolved this week. The probable date of polling is a secret known only in the inner circles. If Sir Wilfrid Laurier has confided it to his colleagues they are keeping it carefully to themselves. Public curiosity will, however, soon be satisfied. It is thought the Government would prefer to go to the country at the end of next month, and matters are in such shape that if they so desire the course is clear for them. The Premier drove down to Rideau Hall at 11.30 yesterday morning, and had a conference with the Governor-General. The purpose of the interview has not been disclosed.

North Perth Conservatives.

Milverton, Sept. 28.—At one of the largest Conservative conventions ever held in North Perth, James Torrance, postmaster of Milverton, and ex-warden of the county, was yesterday unanimously nominated as the standard bearer in the coming provincial bye-election. His opponent will be John Brown, ex-M.P.P., Stratford. A. F. MacLaren, M.P., was also unanimously nominated to again contest the riding in the coming Federal elections.

Killed By Stumper.

Minden, Sept. 28.—While operating a stumping machine on the farm of J. J. Scott, near here, J. H. Scott was instantly killed by the upsetting of the machine. The deceased was 75 years old.

Challenge to Chamberlain.

London, Sept. 27.—(C.A.P.)—The Daily Chronicle says Mr. Chamberlain should be challenged on every opportunity to state what answer he expects the colonies to give on the general lines of a return to the preference he offers. Until he answers this question no progress can be made.

GETTING EVEN.

I'd like to have a nice, long play,
But can't find any one today.
There's not a single kid about;
There ain't no answer to my shout.
Where them kids is I jes' don't see;
I'll bet they're hidin' out on me.

I've swung hard on the back yard gate
And made it lop down with my weight;
I've hunted high an' hunted low;
I jes' ain't got no place to go.
I wonder where them kids can be;
I s'pose they're hidin' out on me.

S'pose Ted is mad about his ball
'At let got lost for good an' all.
An' Margie says I hit 'er cat,
An' she is poutin' over that.
They say I done it purposely,
'N' so they're hidin' out on me.

But I'll let show 'em what is what
'N' make 'em think they better not.
I'll pop some corn, a great big lot,
'N' eat it all up while it's hot.
Then, think how mad them kids 'll be
Cus they wus hidin' out on me.

Feels the Honor.

Quite as important a man as you will meet in a day's travel is the fellow who has been nominated for the legislature by some party boss who intends to do the voting for the candidate, should he be elected, and allow him to draw the pay or a part of it.

A turkey gobbler worth 13 cents a pound in the open market could have no more impressive strut than the little candidate as he walks down one side of the street only because of the limitations of nature which prevent him from walking down both sides of the street at the same time.

Solomon in all his glory when he strolled about accompanied by his 500 wives could not possibly have presented a more imposing spectacle. He never dreams that if he were on the market the population would consider itself cheated if it could not purchase him at the rate of two bunches for a nickel.

Perhaps, however, it is well that he should have his day now, for when the legislature meets he will be considerable less in size than knee high to a telegraph pole.

Willing.

He stole her heart
Once on a time.
She did not think
It was a crime
Or say, "Alack, please put it back."
But whispered, "You can keep it, Jack."

PICK-POCKETS GET IN THEIR WORK.

Two Instances of the Handiwork of the Light-Fingured Gentry Reported.

Mr. Thomas Howson of Otonabee, while in the crush at the ticket wicket had his pocket relieved of a purse containing $35 in bills and some silver.

Mr. Allan McCarthy of Ward V. had his pocket slit open while in the grounds and the sum of $40 taken.

Prudence would suggest that the bulk of money should be safely bestowed in some inside, or not easily accessible, pocket, enough small change being retained for immediately current use.

A JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM

Rev. Dr. Potts' Eloquent Word-Picture of the Holy City.

It would be hard to conceive a more interesting trip than that taken a few months ago by the eight hundred delegates to the World's Sunday School Convention at Jerusalem. What inspiration would come from actual sight of the Holy Land! What new interest would be imparted to the sacred story! The impressions gained by this trip will be given by Rev. Dr. John Potts in the George Street Methodist Church Thursday evening, September 29th. Admission 15 cents. Don't fail to hear him.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARD THE BAND.

Black Watch Band at Brock Street Rink Last Evening.

Splendid Programme Presented—Pipers Created Enthusiasm.

One of the largest audiences which has ever gathered to any form of musical entertainment in Peterborough, assembled in the Brock street rink last evening to hear the concert by the band of the Black Watch, 42nd Royal Highlanders. This famous band has been creating the greatest enthusiasm wherever it has played, being received in a most hearty manner, and last evening was no exception, the audience, which numbered nearly three thousand, showing its delight and appreciation by frequent outbursts of terrific applause and cheering. Especially were those enthusiastic who had true Scottish blood in their veins, and when the stalwart Highlanders, with the bagpipes, marched up the rink, one would have thought it was a hockey match, and not a concert, so great was the cheering. The band certainly got a warm and a well-deserved reception.

The concert itself was in every way a most enjoyable one. With the exception perhaps of the Coldstream Guards, the band heard last evening was the finest which has visited Peterborough for a great many years. The fact that it is a Scottish band, a band of a Scottish Regiment, with a world-wide reputation, that it has the pipers in connection with it, and that the band appears in Highland costume, has a great deal to do with the enthusiasm created and with the success of their concerts, but beyond this there is the undoubted fact that the band as a musical organization, is a splendid one, and its music alone is sufficient to draw large audiences. The music of the pipers did not appeal to those who were not of Highland descent, but it came as a welcome variety from the usual programme.

The band is composed of 48 pieces, and though many of its members have a decided youthful, if not boyish appearance, all the members are excellent musicians, and under the capable leadership of Conductor-Bandmaster E. T. Murray, render a programme which from start to finish is highly delightful. The Scottish selections are played with a true spirit and correct interpretation, while the other numbers were equally well executed. The parts were well balanced, the instrumentation being excellent, the shading was effective and the expression was marked. The climaxes were reached by a careful crescendo movement, though they were not as brilliant as those of the Coldstreams Guards band. The reed instruments played a very effective part in all the numbers, but the brass was sometimes too "brassy" for a first class organization.

Nearly every number on the programme was encored, and Bandmaster Murray was quite liberal in his encore numbers, which were generally of a lighter and popular nature. The vocal strains in several of the selections were quite effective. The descriptive number, "Smithy in the Wood" was quite realistic, the imitation of the twittering of the birds being splendid. The National Fantasia, "Under the British Flag," and the medley of Scottish airs were two of the finest numbers on the programme.

The appearance of the Pipers who were heard on two occasions was the signal for a great outburst of enthusiasm. The pipers, six in number, all stalwart, and hardy Highlanders, marched down the rink and paraded in front of the platform playing a march. They were forced to return and respond to an encore. On their second appearance a reel was given on the platform by four of the pipers and was very enthusiastically received. Piper F. Thomson also gave a very clever exhibition of the sword dance and Highland Fling. It is safe to say that anyone who had an ounce of Scottish blood in them had it stirred last evening.

The following is the programme presented:—

March, "Hail Europa" Von Blon.
Overture, "Egmont" Beethoven.
This overture opens with a very impressive sustained movement with the reeds prominent, following the brass. The second movement is a lively allegro. The finale is brilliant.
Reminiscences from Operas, Wagner. (Arr. by C. Godfrey). Introducing "The Prayer from Rienzi; Chorus "Lohengrin"; "Tannhauser," "Cavatina," "Flying Dutchman," Walther's "Prize Song" from Lohengrin; "Pilgrim's Chorus," Tannhauser.
Pipers of the Black Watch.
March, "Barren Rocks of Aden", "Miss Madelina Sinclair," "Miss McLeod, of Passay."—Reel.
Overture to William Free, (by request) Rossini.
National Fantasia, "Under the British Flag" Kappey. Synopsis.—Introduction, The National Anthem. Great Britain.—English Song, "The Dashing White Sergeant." Irish Song, "I'm the Boy for Bewitching Them." Welsh Song, "Fair Cambria". Scotch Song, "Here's a Health to One I lo'e Best," with vocal accompaniment; Canada.—(a) "The Maple Leaf Forever," (b) "Vive la Canadienne." Hong Kong.—"Chinese Flower Song," "Mo-lee-wha." Burmah, "National Air," "Kayah Th an." East India, (a) 'Maud Song," (b) "Pindustani Air." Australia.—"There is a Land where Summer Skies." South Africa, "An Evening in Camp; Thoughts of Far Off Home," (a) Song, "Isle of Beauty," with vocal accompaniment; (b) Kaffir Dance. New Zealand, "God Defend New Zealand." Finale, "Sailors' Dance," "Hornpipe and Rule Britannia."
Clarionet solo, "Les Alsacheinnes" Le Thiery.
Selection, introducing a number of favourite Scottish airs.
Pipers, March, "Loch Katrine," "Tullooch Gorm." (Reel of Tulloch). Argyleshire Sword Dance.
Descriptive piece, "Smithy in the Wood" Meineedieu. Early morning in the forest, twittering of birds, five o'clock in the morning the smith and his family at prayers. Finale, the smith at work.
Two Step, "Mumblin Moss" Thurban.
With whistling and vocal accompaniment.
"Garb of Old Gaul," (Regimental Air), "The Maple Leaf" and God Save the King.

The overture "William Tell" was played by special request of several in the audience and was given an artistic rendition though a portion of it was ommitted. The clarionet solo was a delightful number showing the musician to be a thorough master of his instrument. The difficult passages and intricacies were played with firmness and steady tone, which appealed very forcibly to the audience.

An announcement was made that next month probably about the 20th instant, the band of the Grenadier Guards, England's oldest regiment, would visit Peterborough. This band was selected to represent Great Britain at the World's Fair and contains sixty-one musicians, a number greater than in any band heard on tour in Canada. It was the opinion of the Bandmaster of the Black Watch as well as the general opinion in England, that the Grenadiers' Guards' Band was the finest military band in existence to-day.

A BEAUTIFUL WORK OF FILIAL PIETY.

Erected in St. Peter's Cathedral to the Memory of the Late Mr. and Mrs. E. Phalen.

Recent worshippers in St. Peter's Cathedral have been delighted at seeing a beautiful memorial window, erected by Rev. Father Phelan, to the memory of his father and mother. The window is the first from the altar, on the west side of the nave. It is beautiful in design and execution, and is divided into two parts by the central style of the window. In the quatrefoil, at the top of the window, is a figure of the Agnus Dei. In the right panel, so to speak, is a representation of the Sacred Heart, and in the other a figure of the Blessed Virgin kneeling in adoration. The work, which is by Lyon, of Toronto, in its rich colouring and artistic disposition of effects, is of a high order. Across the bottom of the window is the inscription, "In Memory of Edward Pheland and His Wife, Mary, erected by their sons; May their Souls Rest in Peace." If, as Holy Scripture assures us, "It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead," it is a beautiful thought to have the spirit of that prayer associated, in imperishable form, with a pious memorial of beloved parents. The placing of memorial windows of this kind in a church, serves a double purpose. It at the same time constitutes a pious memorial and an element in beautifying the church with artistic windows, such as that referred to, and if other members of the congregation follow the lead of Rev. Father Phelan all the windows of the church will, in time, be beautified in a manner to correspond with its beautiful interior.

THE LIEUT-GOVERNOR DRIVEN ABOUT TOWN.

Was Shown Some Industrial Establishments and Other Objects of Interest.

At the conclusion of the opening ceremonies at the Exhibition yesterday, His Honour the Lieut-Governor, after "doing" the exhibits on the grounds, was driven, in company with Mr. Hughes-Charles, president, and Hon. Mr. Stratton, to several of the leading industries. Among the places visited were the Canadian General Electric Works, the Cordage Works, the Cereal Works, and the Lock Works. The Lieut.-Governor was very much impressed by his view of the industrial importance of Peterborough, and the great advance in this direction made since his former visit to the town. The Lift Lock was also visited and came in for a generous share of admiration.

The Lieutenant-Governor was also driven about the town and was greatly pleased with a view of the many fine residences, with well kept grounds, and with our numerous and beautiful parks.

The Vice-regal party left on the evening express, delighted with their visit, and the many evidences they saw of the prosperity and progress of Peterborough.

ADOPTED RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION

Y. M. C. A. Deeply Indebted to the Late Mrs. James A. Hall.

The Directors of the Y.M.C.A. at a meeting held last night adopted the following resolution:—

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association have learned with deep grief of the death of Mrs. James A. Hall, the former president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Association. For five years, dating from the dedication of the new building, Mrs. Hall occupied that important position, and during that time the work done by the Auxiliary in furnishing the building and in making it homelike and comfortable, in providing social evenings for the members and in other ways, was of the utmost value to the Association. The interest and constant service rendered by Mrs Hall can never be forgotten.

The Directors respectfully tender to Sheriff Hall and the members of his family their heartfelt sympathy in the great losses which they have sustained, a loss which is shared and felt by this Association and by the Community at large.

Signed on behalf of the Board of Directors.

E. B. EDWARDS, President.
G. H. WILLIAMSON, Secretary.

MR. DUNLOP'S RESIGNATION.

The despatch from North Renfrew, in another column, announcing the resignation of his seat by Mr. E. A. Dunlop, Conservative, the sitting member is, all things considered, no surprise. There is no doubt that Mr. Dunlop resigned his seat to escape the certainty of his personal disqualification, not to speak of unseating, which would have followed the presentation of evidence, if the trial of the petition had proceeded. Mr. Dunlop's excuse for resigning to avoid investigation into the methods by which he won, is ingenious, but this—he resigned to avoid the cost of carrying on the protest proceedings, which would amount to between $5,000 and $6,000. This should not be formidable to Mr. Dunlop, whose personal expenses in the election, according to his sworn statement, amounted to between $7,000 and $8,000, in what is regarded as one of the most corrupt election campaigns ever conducted in the province. Comment is unnecessary, because Mr. Dunlop's act in "throwing up the sponge," is tremendously suggestive.

BURGLARY FEVER STILL PERVADES

Three Youths Break Into a Store and Steal Money.

Burglaries still continue. The boys have now caught the fever, and are at the business. Last night three boys, about 16 years of age, were arrested in the act of stealing money from the Peterborough Hardware Company's store. Money had been missed on Saturday evening, and a sharp watch had been kept since, with the result that the culprits were caught last night, and are now in jail. The three arrested, Joseph Hobbins, Fred Hubble and Herbert Cooney, appeared before F. J. Ball, J. P., this morning, and were remanded until next Tuesday morning.

Hobbins and Hubble were charged with entering the shop of the Peterborough Hardware Company on Tuesday evening, September 27th, and stealing a sum of money, that is to say about $1, of the goods and chattels of the company.

Hobbins and Cooney were charged with stealing from the same company on Saturday, September 24th, a sum of money, about $4.

The three boys have confessed to the police that they were those who some week ago entered the grocery store of Miss N. Smith, at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets. This store was entered on two Sunday nights, and some coppers, a quantity of tobacco, and some small articles were stolen.

WEDNESDAY'S PROGRAMME.

This morning the opening of the last day of the fair opened fair, and the ideal weather of yesterday was continued, much to the delight of the directors. The grounds this morning did not contain many spectators, the forenoon being given up to judging in the live stock classes, in which some excellent animals were shown.

This afternoon the band of the 57th went to the grounds shortly after dinner and the street cars carried good crowds again to-day, although the attendance is considerably smaller than that of yesterday.

The racing events for the afternoon are a 2.23 trot pace, a hurdle race and a 3-4 mile running race.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

EXHIBIT OF THE CANADIAN CORDAGE COMPANY.

One of the most prominent and central positions of the inside exhibits was occupied by a very striking display of the products of the Canadian Cordage and Manufacturer's Company of our town.

This exhibit attracted a great deal of the attention of farmers and visitors who were particularly pleased with the excellence and quality of the Royal Brand of Manilla Binder Twine. This twine is made with the utmost care and with the most carefully selected qualities of Manilla Hemp from the Philipine Islands, being considered by users the most satisfactory Binder Twine ever sold in Canada. During the past season the output has been very large. The company have manufactured upwards of two thousand tons of binder twine. This has been completely disposed of throughout the Dominion and has given excellent satisfaction.

The Canadian Cordage Company also exhibited some pyramids of their Manila and Fisal Rope and also Lath Yarn, the superior quality of which was freely commented upon by visitors. One of their exhibits was part of a drilling cable which had lately been supplied by them to The Manitoba Oil Field. This company can manufacture the largest drilling cables for oil wells of any factory in Canada and are fully equipped to manufacture all qualities of cordage.

The company employ nearly two hundred and ten hands, and is in active operation through the year, thereby distributing in wages in Peterborough between $50,000 and $60,000 annually, largely contributing to the present prosperous condition of the town and county.

The president and directors are to be congratulated upon the fact that this company has become so successful, and it is an industry creditable to any city in Canada.

The exhibit was in charge of Mr. Donald Potter to whom credit is due for the carrying out of the well executed design and appropriate decorations in connection therewith.

MESSRS. GEO. FITZGERALD & CO.

It took the largest tent on the ground—30x60—to hold the mammoth display of buggies, etc., which was put up by the energetic firm of Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald & Co., whose well-known carriage works occupy the corner of Brock and Water streets. The exhibit was a record breaker, out-classing anything of the kind ever seen at this Exhibition. Under this wide stretch of canvas was shown the following rigs:—

Eight handsome covered top buggies, embracing cushion tires, rubber tires and steel tires. The gearings were finished in different colours, carmine, green and black, the bodies were piano box or Cornish design, which were beautifully finished and decorated and ornamented with nickel plated trimmings. One handsome knockabout, with bicycle wheels and pneumatic tires, seat handsomely trimmed with whipcord. One doctor's rig—a nobby, up-to-date trap of the latest design, light and durable, with neat dark blue panels, black body, high backed seat and sides and carmine gear. One splendid farmers waggon with double box, high seat, wheels with 2 1-2 inch tires, gaily decorated with a red and green finish, testifying an appropriately executed by a skilful brush hand. These vehicles were home made and built in Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald's own factory—wood work, iron work, upholstering and finishing having been done by the company's own well-skilled mechanics. The buggies shown were samples of the every-day work turned out of their factory and were not specially gotten up for the exhibition. The excellence of the finished outfits was greatly praised by the hundreds attracted to the exhibit. Some very new improvements were shown in the gear, bodies, tires and tops. The artistic work of the painter and decorator, Mr. A. Gibbs, was much praised. By making their own buggies, carriages and waggons, Messrs. Fitzgerald & Company are enabled to control more perfectly the quality and workmanship of their products and because of this they are able to give what they promise. The Fitzgerald line of vehicles are known to be honestly built because they are built under their own supervision. Wheels, shafts and gear wood are of specially high grade hickory and guaranteed. The painting and trimming of each vehicle testifies for itself, and the entire work is mechanically constructed. Their motto is to make the best and their very large trade this season is one result of their excellent and reliable turnouts.

QUAKER OATS.

Prominent in the main building is the exhibit of the American Cereal Company which consists of a programme of Quaker Oats, Banner Oats Saxon Oats, and Pettijohn Breakfast Food. The exhibit is in charge of Messrs. A. C. Stevens, who has as his assistant Miss Cranley. The attractive literature for which this company is famous, is distributed to the numerous visitors to the exhibition, which is one of the most popular in the whole fair. The design was executed by Mr. G. W. Mulligan who spent yesterday in the construction and the arrangement of the exhibit. The new Pettijohn Oats formed the subject of an attractive booklet which was distributed from the booth of the company. Those in charge of this exhibit were kept busy all day and it is pretty safe to assume that the products of the company will be much better known after the close of the fair.

The local sale of these cereals is growing very rapidly, replacing much of the allied line of foods which formerly have had their place on the breakfast table in this locality. The export trade is assuming immense proportions. The Banner and Saxon packages each contain a pretty useful piece of china as a souvenir. The Quaker Oats and Pettijohn packages each contain a coupon which entitles the holder to receive a premium of silver.

A FINE DISPLAY BY W. L. TAYLOR.

In a large tent near the main building Mr. W. L. Taylor, doing business on Water street made an attractive exhibit of Canada Carriage Company's standard buggies and sleighs. He showed an exceptionally neat and durable rubber tired buggy black body and gearing. Two smart looking cutters were also shown in the "Lady of the Snows" pattern. One was built of the natural wood in three ply stuff, the other was a dark finish, both being very roomy and comfortable rigs. Mr. Taylor also displayed a sample of the "New Home" sewing machine with drop head, which possesses some very new and serviceable features. He also made a good display of harness, horse covers, robes, etc.

ROY'S ART EXHIBITION.

Best leaves no room for improvement. Most men have a hobby, which by well directed effort helps to make brainy workers, and ardent enthusiasts in whatever field of labour they are engaged. This can truthfully be said of Mr. R. M. Roy, whose achievements in the high art of modern photography has won him unstinted praise as a skilful and original artist.

The people of Peterborough hardly realise till a favourable opportunity for passing judgment arrives, that they have in Mr. Roy one of the best specialists in photography in the Dominion. His work and his style represent results that only the artistic temperament and complementary skill could achieve. His art exhibition at this fair occupying as it did the whole of one of the most important sections in the main building was by long odds, the best that has ever been hung up in Peterborough. This space will not permit of particularizing, but mention should be made of some excellent portrait work, large group pictures, etc. An India ink portrait of Dr. Bonnher and a coloured portrait showed beautiful treatment of details. Perhaps the largest photograph ever shown here was that of the Hydraulic Lift Lock, measuring three feet by four feet. This picture attracts unusual attention and was much admired for the faithfulness of actual details.

Mr. Roy's straight photographic work possesses similar excellence, as conspicuous for delicate toning, sharp artistic finish and admirable posing, and at the same time soft effects. These qualities were shown in all his work and became especially noticeable in the large pictures. Roy's exhibit as a whole was not only pleasant to look upon but also for the assurance it gave, that in his well equipped studio on Hunter street one can get as good photographic work as any in Canada, and infinitely better than in most establishments of the kind. The first prize ticket as usual decorated the display, which it always occupies in an art display made by Mr. Roy. During his eight years in business in Peterborough he has carried off all honours whenever he exhibited.

THE "STAR" HEATER.

Mr. C. Wilhelmy of 337 George street was on deck with his celebrated "Star" Heater, also an improved washing machine, patent weather stops and aluminum goods. He occupied a position just inside the south entrance of the main building next to the Cereal Company's exhibit. He made a good display of "Star" heaters in several sizes, one of which was doing the heating for the building. These stores are very economical heaters and Mr. Wilhelmy has testimonials by the hundreds from well known citizens of Peterborough and district, who are using the "Star." Hard or soft coal can be used. It is the only grateless stove made with a pan at the back for the escape of gas. They are made in five sizes, ranging in price from $11.20 to $28.80. Mr. Wilhelmy also showed samples of patent metal weather strips which is claimed to be a better protection for doors and windows against the storms of winter than any other appliance. It becomes a permanent fixture which does not get out of order, does not wear out and protects all parts of doors, and windows from dust, cold and draught. Mr. Wilhelmy also made an interesting display of Aluminium goods for household utensils. The new washing machines shown is called the O'Donnell washer, for which Mr. Wilhelmy is the sole agent and proprietor for West, and East Peterborough. The machine is so constructed that a child can work it. The agent will operate machine, and if it does not do as he recommends it to do, he will cheerfuly take it away. It is the only machine manufactured that will wash clothes clean without rubbing. It saves clothes, it saves time; it saves soap; it saves labor; it saves fuel; it saves money. Its worth your while to call at Mr. Wilhelmys store, No. 337 George street, and see these specialties.

TENTS FOR ALL.

Messrs.. J. J. Turner & Sons' tents were very much in evidence all over the fair grounds. There must have been at least twenty-five tents erected outside for the purpose of making special exhibits and side atttractions, nearly every one of which were Turner & Sons' make. The largest one was occupied by Messrs. George Fitzgerald & Son, for their buggy exhibit, and measured 60 x 30 feet. The beautiful reception tent used for the official ceremonies by the Lieut.-Governor and suite presented a very showy and attractive appearance. It opened up in splendid shape and was furnished with Turkish rugs, ottomans, and richly upholstered oak furniture, for the occasion. One would hardly suppose that they were in a tent out of doors, in such luxurious apartments. The firm displayed, near the main building, some very well executed pictorial signs, painted by Reg. Turner, referring to their business in waterproof horse covers, lap covers, oiled clothing, horse blankets, woollen and plush rugs, etc. The energy displayed by the members of the firm has long been known in Peterborough, and during the present exhibition the placing of so many tents of every sort and size, shows how well prepared they are for the most exacting demands placed upon them. Their courteous representatives on the grounds cheerfully gave any information required. The front of their large store and factory on George street was effectively decorated with flags, and from every corner of their imposing building there were indications of their business enterprise and sagacity.

SHOT BY OWN HAND

George R. Hamilton Commits Suicide in His Own Office.

WELL KNOWN INSURANCE MAN

No Apparent Cause For the Deed, Which Was Committed After Office Hours On Monday Evening—Leaves Wife and Six Children to Mourn His Loss and Rash Act.

London, Sept. 27.—George R. Hamilton, Western Ontario manager for the Imperial Life Insurance Company, shot himself in his office in the Bank of Toronto Chambers, about 6 o'clock last night. There was no witnesses of the deed, the office staff having left some time previously. The shooting was not discovered for half an hour later.

Caretaker Borland found the suicide. He was surprised to see seated in the inner office, the door of which was ajar, the manager of the company, Mr. Hamilton. He called him, but received no answer. Thinking that Hamilton had fallen asleep, for his head rested on the table in front of which he was seated, the caretaker went over to him and shook him.

Police Called In.

Discovering the pistol he quickly summoned the police, who found Hamilton sitting at his table, his head dropped over on the table, and resting upon the leather case of a large revolver. His left hand grasped the side of the table, as though he had clutched it in falling forward. The right hand rested on the table. His face was down. He was seated in his chair, the revolver lying by his right hand, and it appeared that he had shot himself with this hand.

Within fifteen minutes Mrs. Hamilton and two children had reached the office and learned the terrible news. Mrs. Hamilton was overcome. Coroner McLaren, after an investigation, determined that the case was one of suicide and that no inquest was necessary. The circumstances were such as to point most plainly to self-destruction. Asked if it might not have been an accident, the doctor said that this was not impossible though he believed that it was not an accident.

Of Highly Nervous Temperament.

Deceased was of a highly nervous temperament, but that he had trouble of any description whatever is not known. During the day those who met with him noticed nothing wrong. He was perfectly natural in all that he had to say or that he did. He complained during the morning of having suffered lately with lumbago, but otherwise he had no complaint. He enjoyed good health, and apparently possessed all that should cause a man to appreciate life. He was deeply devoted to his wife and family of six children, and spent all of his leisure hours in their company at the family's handsome home on Marley place, in London South.

Deceased had lived here some four or five years, coming from Toronto. He previously had lived in Winnipeg. William Hamilton, of Toronto, general manager of the Imperial Life, is a brother of the deceased. He was notified by telegraph shortly after the shooting, of what had happened. Others notified were Mrs. W. D. Burchard of Woodstock, Mrs. Dr. Hueston of Strathroy, Fred Cox, president of the Imperial Life, Toronto.

Miss Wright, stenographer for deceased, probably last saw him alive. She says that she noticed nothing unusual about the deceased's actions as she left the office for the night. No note from deceased was found, if he left one, which is doubted.

Mr. Hamilton was probably 45 years of age, though he looked younger.

Fitful Revolver Accident.

Owen Sound, Sept. 27.—At three o'clock yesterday afternoon a little two-year-old son of John J. McMeekan, while playing with a revolver, was shot and instantly killed. The parents reside on Beech street, where the child was in charge of a little girl named Libbey McNally. While she was in the yard the child got the revolver out of a drawer, and when found was dead, with a thirty-two calibre bullet through its heart.

THEIR BOAT UPSET.

Tragic Ending of Sailing Excursion At Victoria, B.C.

Victoria, B.C., Sept. 27.—The captain of the British ship Blythswood took a party of seven friends with him Sunday afternoon for a sailing cruise in one of the ship's boats. She upset off Albert Head in a squall, and three of the party were drowned. Captain Pritchard had invited Sergeant-Major Churchard and Sergeant Endicott of the Royal Engineers of the Victoria Garrison, with their wives, to spend the day aboard the Blythswood, and he, with his son, the two officers, the second mate of the Blythswood and three seamen, went off in the ship's long-boat for a sail to Race Rocks. All hands succeeded in clutching the overturned boat, and after consultation, the second mate started to swim to the ship several miles distant. He had not reached her three hours later. Sergeant-Major Churchard tried to swim ashore, but perished before he had gone a hundred yards. Sergeant Endicott, after two hours in the icy water, sank. When rescued, the five survivors were in such a state of exhaustion, that ten minutes longer would have meant death.

HAS VINETTE PERISHED?

A Bush Hunter Drowned in Whitefish Lake.

Port Arthur, Sept 27.—A man named Demarche was found yesterday morning. He was about done out when they met him on the shore of Whitefish Lake, and was mentally affected. He was fed and then sent back with a party to hunt for Vinette, whom he left three or four miles back in the woods, where he gave out, and could go no further. Demarche covered him up with twigs and leaves to protect him from the cold. According to the last account, they had not returned to Whitefish. It is believed Vinette has perished.

Thomas Fisher of the Ontario Bank was drowned at Whitefish Lake yesterday. He was duck shooting when the canoe upset.

Hurt By Machinery.

Walkerville, Sept. 27.—Frank Benn of Windsor and John Connor of this town were terribly injured by falling machinery at the basket factory of Gardner Bros. yesterday morning. Both are in Hotel Dieu, Windsor, and, while Benn's recovery is probable, grave fears are entertained for Connor, whose skull is badly crushed. The victims are middle-aged men and married.

Ran Into Open Switch.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 27.—Three are dead, nine others seriously injured, and some 20 other persons cut and bruised as the result of the wrecking of a passenger train on the Maine Central Railroad, which ran into an open switch and crashed into a freight train opposite the State Fair Grounds, near this city, late yesterday.

Another Fatal Wreck.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 27.—A washout on the Burlington Railroad, near Elmwood, caused a wreck yesterday in which one man was killed and three persons were probably fatally injured. The roadbed was washed out for a short distance, leaving the rails suspended in the air. The train struck the unsupported rails with a high speed.

Former M.C.R. Brakeman Dies.

St. Thomas, Sept. 27.—Simon J. Schreck, jeweler, Sunday received a telegram from F. R. Brown, secretary of the B. of R. T., at Ellenburg, Washington, stating that Mr. Schreck's son-in-law, W. Delos Steele, until about three years ago a brakeman on the M.C.R. here, had been killed in a wreck near there Sunday morning. His remains will be brought to St. Thomas.

WHY GALLAGHER SUICIDED.

Mistook Land For a Dark Cloud and Liner Stranded.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—At the inquiry yesterday into the stranding of the Allan Liner Hibernian, off the coast of Newfoundland last May, it developed that Second Officer Gallagher, who was blamed for the accident, committed suicide by drowning.

Gallagher was on the bridge when the steamer ran ashore, and, according to the evidence of Capt. Wallace yesterday, he accepted the blame, saying that he mistook the land for a dark cloud. Gallagher had been brooding over the death of his wife and Capt. Wallace said he believed this had something to do with the error of judgment which caused the vessel to go ashore.

After the accident Gallagher disappeared and later his body was found floating in the sea. The court could not render a finding in the case and referred the evidence to the Imperial Board of Trade for judgment. In the grounding of the collier Turret Cape, on Goose Island, Sept. 17, the court held Pilot Delisle responsible and fined him $100.

HOME RULE CAUSE.

Irish Leader Gets a Great Reception From His Compatriots.

Toronto, Sept. 27.—John Redmond and party arrived in this city yesterday, and were met at the Union Station by Peter Ryan and other well known Irishmen. In the party besides Mr. Redmond were Capt. A. J. C. Donelan, M. P., and Patrick O'Brien, M.P., and Mrs. Redmond. The party were banquetted, and in the evening Mr. Redmond addressed two meetings, one at Association Hall and an overflow meeting at Guild Hall.

In the course of his speeches, the Irish leader, who is eloquent, described the three steps to home rule already taken as the banishment of famine, the abolition of coercion, and the ousting of landlordism. He added in his banquet speech that his party could not rest till Irish public opinion was as potent in Ireland as public opinion was in Ontario. Irishmen had been shown in the county councils to be capable of governing themselves, and the Irish landlords were now actually engaged in evolving a home rule scheme of their own. Ireland's opportunity had come, and he confidently predicted the speedy triumph of the home rule cause.

Premier Ross also spoke at Association Hall in welcome of Mr. Redmond and his party. One of his good points was: "I might have been tempted to follow Mr. Blake's example, but I have reached the summit of my ambition already, and my great anxiety is to keep there."

A letter of regret was read from Mayor Urquhart, and one from Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., who subscribed $500; Eugene O'Keefe subscribed $200; George P. Magann, $50; Mr. Mulcahy, $25; Peter Ryan, $25; Lawrence Cosgrave, $25; G. R. Bristol, $25; P. Jamieson, $25; Frank Slattery, $10; P. F. Cronin, $10; E. J. Hearn, $10; L. MARCHING DOUKHOBORS.

Police Arrest Three and Try to Quiet Many Others.

Saskatoon, N. W. T., Sept. 27.—A large party of Doukhobors, men, women and children, arrived here yesterday after three days on trail. The police arrested three of the ringleaders, and will try to persuade the remainder to go back. The party is, as usual, looking for Messiah, and want universal peace proclaimed as a message to the millennium. They are, however, warmly clothed, and wear shoes. The present warm weather encourages them on their pilgrimage, and they regard this as a direct intervention of Divine power in their behalf. English-speaking settlers are indignant at the Doukhobors' antics, and are said to be preparing a memorial to the Dominion Government for cancellation of the latter's land grant, as constituting a serious detriment to the settlement of the district.

Mr. Borden Speaks Frankly.

Orillia, Sept. 27.—Friends of Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., rallied loyally in a warm welcome to Mr. R. L. rden last night, and the Opposi.on leader addressed one of the most successful meetings of his Ontario tour. Mr. Borden spoke more frankly than at previous meetings on the Government ownership feature of his program, announcing candidly that he intended making the experiment if returned to power. In speaking of a visit to a successful Orillia factory, Mr. Borden said it had prospered by reason of the Conservative policy of 1878.

New York, Sept. 27.—Rear Admiral Fernando P. Gilmore, U.S.N., retired, died here yesterday of Bright's disease. He was born August 15, 1847.

NO RESPECTOR OF PERSONS.

Secretary of Sir Mortimer Durand Fined For Contempt of Court.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 27.—Hugh Gurney, third secretary to Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, was yesterday morning fined in the police court at Lee on two charges.

For contempt of court he was fined $25. A similar fine was imposed in a case charging him with speeding his automobile in Stockbridge Sunday. Mr. Gurney, when arraigned in court positively refused to plead, claiming that as he was third secretary to His Britannic Majesty, he could not under international law be arrested or held for any crime.

Special Justice Phelps informed the defendant that he must enter a plea. Gurney continued in his refusal. Then a fine was imposed for contempt of court.

N. NORFOLK VACANT

GAVE PRESENTS AND LOANS

That Was the Method of Making Political Friends in Mr. Little's Constituency—The Chancellor Makes a Sarcastic Comment On Mr. Baker's Prodigality—The County Judgment Voids the Election.

Simcoe, Sept. 28.—The riding of North Norfolk will again be plunged into the turmoil of election for the Legislature as a result of the election trial before Chancellor Boyd, and Mr. Justice Teetzel yesterday. The evidence showed that one Chas. Baker, an active worker in Mr. Little's interest, had committed corrupt acts, and the respondent, in the absence of Baker or direct evidence to the contrary, found himself under the necessity of admitting agency, thereby voiding the election.

The Chancellor in commenting upon the case condemned the lavish expenditure of money, and sarcastically expressed the opinion that one man who was paid $10 could have been bought for $5. The court refused to give any order for full costs without further light, and that question will be argued at Toronto. The personal charges on both sides were dropped. The court passed some strictures upon the practice in election cases of cumbering the record with a large number of charges upon which no evidence was ever offered.

The petitioner was represented by Mr. George T. Blackstock, K.C., and Mr. S. H. Bradford, Toronto, and Mr. S. Price of St. Thomas. The interests of the sitting member were looked after by George H. Watson, K.C., and Mr. W. E. Kelly, Simcoe. There were 685 charges in the first bill of particulars, and a few others have been added.

The Judgment.

The evidence being all in the Court retired to consult, and on returning the Chancellor said:

"We agree that upon the cases which have come before us there is at least one, there may be more, it is not necessary to consider minutely the details of the different cases in view of the statement that has been made by counsel—there is at least one case, the case of Alex. Schram, in which it appears from uncontradicted evidence that he recovered $5 in connection with the election. There is no manner of doubt of that. Baker is not here to contradict, and as against him and against the petitioner, we think it has proved that $5 was paid by him for a corrupt purpose, which was in short bribery. Now, it is conceded by Mr. Watson that he cannot successfully deny that Baker was a subagent, for whose acts and conduct the candidate was responsible, although he did not appoint him and even though he did not know of actual misconduct. That no doubt is the law, that if there is an agent or series of agents who are acting in the interest of the candidate and his election is promoted by their acts, he cannot disavow their illegal acts while he takes the benefits of their legal acts. So by Schram it is proved that there was a corrupt act committed by Baker, who is admitted to be the agent of the candidate. That by law in old time was, and now is, enough to void the election. The law is that the seat shall be declared void unless it is saved by the cause mentioned in section 172, and these causes are where it appears that the corrupt practice was of such trifling nature or extent that the result could not have been effected or reasonably be supposed to be affected by it. We, as judges, have to be satisfied of that. Mr. Watson does not claim the benefit of section 172, he knowing much more about the case than we do. We have only heard certain portions of it. He knows exactly what can be, and what cannot be, proved, and he does not propose to claim the protection of section 172.

Not A Trifling Act.

"I think we as judges should be satisfied that the act was not of such trifling extent that the result could not reasonably be supposed to have been affected. The act is of a serious character. It is bribery. If it stood alone I think further evidence should be given, but certain evidence has been given in connection with the other charges, and while it does not exactly fit the particulars, still if it fails there are others which might be made pertinent by an amendment showing those facts that Baker was not alone, that there was some one with him. The particulars state it was a man named Cunningham, but he was not called, according to one of the witnesses who knew Cunningham, it was not he but some one else. Baker was accompanied by an assistant in making a good many of these visits. We have heard from James Chambers of Baker going to him with one who was a stranger and giving him $5 on one occasion. We have from Charles Waldick that there was what is called a loan of $10 by this man called a stranger, but who nevertheless was accompanied by Chas. Baker and introduced by him. Then the evidence of Charles Chambers that he had another of these transactions of making Christmas presents, which was $5 given to him, although he states it was in connection with his vote. Still it is given by this man Baker. Then the Walter Grey who speaks of Baker making him an offer of $50, although that may not have been so serious as he puts it, still there was the speech on Baker's part when he was spoken to about buying votes that he was not buying them, only making presents.

"Now, there was the other case of Alex. Schram, which, to my mind proves sufficient for the purposes of the enquiry now, that there was $5 paid to him by Baker. So that we have not only Baker, the agent, but we have one in company with Baker whose name we do not know, but who was a man evidently possessed of money which he spent freely. One would think from Baker's condition that he was a rich man, who was able to spend this out of his own pocket on account of political zeal. But he was accompanied by this man who had the money, and money was, I should judge, lavishly spent. One man got $10 where I have no doubt he could have been bought for $5. Looking at what we have heard and what Mr. Watson states that he cannot claim the benefit of section 172, knowing the case as he does, I think we can say that we may reasonably suppose that the election has been effected by these transactions. That being so, the result is void with the effect that such costs, unless you agree about the costs, such costs as are occasioned by this action, will be borne by the respondent, no costs of witnesses on charges not dealt with being allowed."

Mr. Blackstock asked for the dismissal of the petition, which Mr. Watson agreed to, saying that the evidence did not warrant pursuing the personal charges against Dr. Snider.

No evidence was offered on the cross-petition, the personal charges against the petitioner being also withdrawn.

Mr. McConkey's Sudden Death.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Death came with startling suddenness yesterday morning to George S. McConkey, the well known proprietor of McConkey's restaurant. He was stricken with apoplexy at 6 o'clock, and at ten minutes to eight had passed away. The late Mr. McConkey was born in Toronto about 63 years ago and was one of its best known citizens. He began his career as a soldier in the grand army of the republic, fighting on the side of the north all through the Civil war. When the armies were disbanded he came back to Toronto and opened up a restaurant on Yonge street, the nucleus of the present large business. Deceased was a member of Doric Lodge, A.F. and A. M., and had taken the 30th degree. He was also a member of the Orange order. Surviving him are Mrs. McConkey, Ernest (manager of the business), Fred and Miss Maude.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Massachusetts woman. Mrs. Carrie P. Hansford, of No. 69 Hale Street, Beverly, Mass. who is well known socially there, being Treasurer of the Order of the Eastern Star, wrote her experience as follows: "Your Favorite Prescription" is, without a doubt, the finest remedy on the market to-day, for female difficulties. I suffered for four years with pains every period, and I dreaded the approach of the time as I knew it meant two or three days' misery. Tried several different widely-advertised remedies, and found that they did me no good whatever. One day a friend called, who had suffered as I was suffering, and who told me that she had been cured through the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, so I purchased a package. I found that the real value of your medicine was greater even than my expectations, and the next month I had hardly any pains. The following month had none at all, and found that my general health was much better and new life and strength had come to me."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the City Market were 71 carloads, composed of 1301 cattle, 511 hogs, 1507 sheep and lambs, 88 calves and 15 horses.

There was little or nothing doing in shipping cattle, only one straight load being offered, and there was no one who seemed to want them, altho offered at less than $4.75 per cwt. The drover offering this load obtained space thru a friend, and shipped them himself. Several export bulls sold at $3.75 to $4.90 per cwt.

The bulk of the butchers' cattle on sale was of common to medium quality; only a limited number could be classed as good to choice. One picked lot of six, weighing 1180 lbs. each, were sold by McDonald & Maybee at $4.50 per cwt., which was the highest price quoted. This firm also reported another lot of 10, weighing 1275 lbs. each, at $4.30 per cwt. George Rountree reported having paid $4.25 for good butchers' for the Harris Abattoir Company. Picked butchers' sold at $4.25 to $4.50; loads of good at $3.80 to $4; medium at $3.50 to $3.75; common at $3 to $3.25, and inferior, rough, at $2.50 to $3.75 per cwt.

There is a good demand for choice, breedy steers, weighing from 900 to 1000 lbs. each. These would be worth from $3.70 to about $4 per cwt. The bulk of feeders offered to-day were coarse, rough, mongrel-bred brutes, that no farmer that understands the feeding of cattle wants to waste his feed on; that is, if he can get better quality. Trade for these was dull, and some of them were reported as being unsold at the close of the market. Feeders weighing from 850 to 1050 lbs., sold at $3.30 to $3.60 per cwt. Stockers, 550 to 700 lbs. each, sold at from $2.60 to $3 per cwt.; off colors at $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt. Feeding bulls sold all the way from $2.50 to $3.12½ per cwt.

About 40 milch cows and springers, generally of medium to good, but few what might be termed choice cows, were offered. The bulk sold at $35 to $45 each, with a few as high as $50 to $55 each. Prices ranged from $30 to $55 each.

About 100 veal calves sold at unchanged quotations, the market ruling steady to firm at $3.50 to $3.25 per cwt.; something extra choice would be worth $3.60 per cwt.

Deliveries of sheep and lambs were moderately large. Sheep sold at about the same prices; that is, $3.75 to $3.90 per cwt. Lambs sold at lower prices, at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.

Deliveries were light and prices steady at $5.15 per cwt. for selects and $4.90 for lights and fats, fed and watered.

Bamboo Crab Traps.

A curious use of the bamboo in some islands of the Pacific is as a crab trap. The jointed bamboo is stuck into the ground. Each piece has a little bow half way up, and a string set at tension to shoot off an arrow, passed through an aperture in the lower part of the cylinder. It is set at the mouth of crap holes and when the crab proceeds to climb up to the upper part of the tube a delicately set hook releases the broad arrow, which closes the lower aperture and imprisons the crab.

Origin of the Word "Farm."

The origin of the word "farm" is as follows: In the Saxons' time the estates which the lords of manors granted to the freemen were at first but for a term of years, with a render of a rent, which in those days was of corn and other produce. The leases so made were called fermes, or farmes, but times ensuing turned the produce into money and terms of years to terms of life and inheritance.

Sins of the Fathers.

Fair Girl—I am sure papa would not object to you, but I am afraid mamma will. She says your family have depraved tastes. Rich Grocer's Son—Good gracious! Where did she get that idea? Fair Girl—I think she judges by the butter that your father used to recommend as good.

The Dear Girls.

Milly—You know, dear, we've been engaged for two years, and I think it's time we were getting married. Tilley—Oh, I don't know, dear. If you really love him you'll let him be happy for a little longer yet.

E. A. DUNLOP RESIGNS SEAT.

Conservative Member for North Renfrew Vacates to Escape Disqualification.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Pembroke, September 28. — It is learned here on unquestionable authority, that Mr. E. A. Dunlop, the sitting member for North Renfrew, has placed the resignation of his seat in the hands of Hon. Mr. Charlton, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly. It is generally understood here that, evidently by pre-arrangement, Mr. Dunlop resigned his seat to avoid personal disqualification, it being understood that, apart from other evidence, his own evidence would have been sufficient to disqualify him. There was no desire on the part of the Liberals here, to bring about this extreme penalty, and no evidence was offered in the protest case, which was dismissed. Mr. Dunlop evidently carried out the arrangement and has saved himself from the disqualification, which would have resulted from the presentation of the evidence available.

PETERBOROUGH BOYS DO WELL ABROAD

Success of a Former Peterborough Boy in the Sunny South.

It is always a pleasure to record the success of Peterborough boys at home or abroad, especially abroad, for there they come in comparison with other systems of mind and character training.

Mr. Harold Muncaster, son of Mr. R. W. Muncaster, a former resident, now of Charleston, South Carolina, has won by competitive examination, a four years' appointment to West Point Military Academy. One of these appointments is competed for every four years, and entitles the winner to four years at West Point, including a monthly payment during that time of $50, and at graduation a guaranteed position with $1500 per year, or a commission in the regular army.

Mr. Muncaster won the appointment in a stiff competitive examination, and his success is a tribute to the superiority of Ontario school methods. He left here at ten years of age, and the teachers in the Charleston schools were surprised at the knowledge he possessed of nearly all subjects, in advance of other pupils of his own age, and his success in the final examination is largely due to the solid educational foundation laid in old Peterborough. Congratulations are due his father, and the clever lad himself, upon his success, and the credit the latter reflects upon his birthplace.

First Aid to the Injured.

This is one of the new subjects to be taken up in the Y.M.C.A. evening school this year. It is an important one. Several accidents have happened of late and are constantly happening where it his associates knew some of the first principles of first aid, the comfort and welfare of the victim of such accidents would have been different. Mr. Percy E. Holmes, Physical Director will be the instructor. The common interest of man in men should cause many to take up the class.

Seasonable and Appetizing.

We are now receiving Finnan Haddies, Kipperd Herrings, Bloaters, and the "Old Reliable" brand of Oysters, which never fail to please. The store will be open every evening during Exhibition Week. S. A. OKE, 376 George street; telephone 18.

A CHAMPION ONTARIO "OLD BOY"

Mr. A. E. Hayter a Former Peterboro' "Boy" Enters His Eightieth Year.

The following is taken from the Mail and Empire of Saturday night last:—

A much respected citizen of Toronto in the person of Mr. Alfred E. Hayter today (Saturday, September 24th) enters upon the eightieth year of his life. Mr. Hayter was born at Hull, Yorkshire, England, Sept. 24th, 1825. He came to Canada in 1834, and took up his residence in May of that year at York now Toronto. He was for many years a veteran newspaper editor and publisher. His newspaper life began as an apprentice under Richard Dover, Cheltenham, England, in the office of the Cobourg Star, on Feb. 3rd, 1840, one week before the late Queen Victoria's marriage. He established the Millbrook Messenger in Millbrook on Aug. 19th, 1857, and continued its publication till Dec. 17th, 1887, a period of thirty years. Mr. Hayter is the registrar of the York Pioneers, an honorary vice-president of the Cobourg Old Boys' Association, of Toronto, the "oldest old boy" of the Ottawa Old Boys' Association of Toronto, having resided in Bytown, now Ottawa, as far back as 1834, and is also a member of the Peterborough and Port Hope Old Boys' Associations. Recently he became a member of the St. George's Society, of this city. Mr. Hayter's many friends wish him many more enjoyable years of life.

EVERYTHING IS LIVELY IN RUGBY CIRCLES.

Boys Working Hard for Saturday's Big Match—Some Notes.

Although the management of the local team is somewhat reticent on the matter, it is understood from them that they have the assurance of Ben Simpson that he will play with the local club this year. A definite announcement will be made to-morrow, but it is practically a certainty that the ex-Queen's star half-back, recognized as one of the finest defence players on the Canadian gridiron, will figure on the Peterboros' line-up this season.

Saturday's game will come off on the exhibition grounds. There will be a good street car service.

RUGBY.

A full practice of the rugby team will be held on the Exhibition grounds tonight at eight o'clock. All players are urgently requested to turn out.

• • • •

The locals are confident of opening the season with a win of the Argonaurs on Saturday. Turn out and cheer the boys to victory.

• • • •

Chris Graham will not be in the game this season. Chris put up a splendid game at quarter last year and his place will be a hard one to fill.

• • • •

Peterborough wings should have no trouble in holding the strong Argos on Saturday. The local wing line will be very strong this year.

• • • •

From present indications the outlook for the City League this year is not a bright one.

• • • •

The Argonauts won the senior championship in 1901. In the following year they were beaten out by Ottawa City and last year played independent rugby. They have a strong team this season.

• • • •

With such players As Crowley, Rickey, Dillon, Hurtubise, Cameron, Meagher, Noble, R. Craig, Barnham, Gilbert and Green and other strong men to choose from, there should be a great wing line for Saturday.

BASEBALL.

"Bill" Read pitched for Toronto in the game against Providence yesterday and lost by 3-0. He was touched up for nine hits, while the Cannucks failed to make a safe single.

• • • •

• • • •

The Young Quakers will be represented by the following team in their game at Bobcaygeon to-morrow with the Kawartha League team of that town, and will try to land another victory:—Wilson, c; McCorry, p; Conroy, 1 b.; Duncan, 2 b.; Gilman, s. s.; McMillan, 3 b.; Distin, r. f.; Kendry, c. f.; Curtis, l. f.

HOCKEY.

The Belleville Intelligence says:—This time last year there was quite a lot of talk about "the residence rule," and other matters pertaining to hockey. This year nobody seems to care whether there ever is another game of hockey in Belleville. Those two body blows the O.H.A. gave us pretty nearly knocked the wind out of hockey in this city. It begins to look, if somebody doesn't get a move on soon, as though basket ball and crokinole will be the leading sports during the coming winter.

ACTION WAS DISMISSED.

Case of Dickson Co. vs. O'toole Settled at High Court.

At the High Court yesterday the case of the Dickson Co. vs. O'Toole was dismissed with costs. In the case O'Toole was engaged as contractor for the Dickson Company in the erection of a concrete dam. The plaintiff claims that the defendant owed them the sum of $347. It seems that the defendant purchased lumber for the company and agreed to pay $20 per thousand, according to his evidence. In the plaintiff's account the lumber was charged against the defendant at $22.00 per thousand the difference amounting to the $347.00 question. Mr. R. B. Wood appeared for plaintiff and Roger & Bennett for defendants.

TO-DAY'S NEWS ON STOCK MARKET

The following review of to-day's market was received by Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock and Bond Brokers. Phone 416.

New York, Sept. 28th, 04.—Noon. — Although the market seemed to have gone ahead too fast at opening and was checked by profit taking in first hour tone was still very strong. Traders' sold moderately but reported stocks well taken. U.S. steel made another high record for the year this morning, viz. 71 1-4 for the pfd and the street is apparently as bullish as ever on it. Reading was another strong stock, gaining a point from low price. The coal stocks strongest on board but with exception of Rdg they did not do much. Metropolitan St. Ry. and Metropolitan Securities were quite active and strong in first hour and half but lost all the gain by twelve o'clock. The market seemed to get very dull in spots and quite active in others giving the idea that the big people were unloading in one quarter and holding the market up by boosting some other stock a quarter of a point while the unloading was going on.

Grain was quite erratic, gaining a cent from low and then losing it, but held strong. Liverpool closed 1-2 higher with corn unchanged.

A REVIEW OF THE LIBERAL RECORD.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Opens the Campaign at Sorel, Quebec.

A MAGNIFICENT GATHERING.

Premier Displayed Remarkable Strength and Buoyancy During the Delivery of His Speech—An Impressive Moment in the Course of His Address—Contrast Between Papineau's Mission and Sir Wilfrid's.

Sorel, Que., Sept. 29.—The first Liberal gun in the general election campaign of 1904 was fired by Sir Wilfrid Laurier here yesterday. The Premier addressed a magnificent gathering of the electors of the county of Richelieu, speaking for a full hour, and although he did not announce the actual date of the elections, he said that the question that was foremost in the minds of his hearers at the moment would be answered in a few days. The gratifying part of the Premier's address was the remarkable strength and buoyancy that he displayed throughout its delivery. His voice had the old vigorous ring that so characterized the campaign of 1896, and his general bearing under the heavy task was excellent. It had been asserted that Sir Wilfrid would not speak for more than half an hour, as he was not physically able to do so, but by actual count he was on his feet more than an hour, and he spoke for fifty-eight minutes.

A Splendid Audience.

The crowd that greeted him was one of the most gratifying and enthusiastic urban gatherings ever seen in the Province of Quebec. The entire market square in front of the stand erected for the speakers was packed with people, and a portion of the mass reached down into the main street. Every available window and gallery in the vicinity was crowded, and even though it was impossible for any but the most vigorous speakers to throw their voices as far as the outskirts of the crowd the great gathering remained intact, standing in a block intensely interested from 2 o'clock until 5.30, three full hours and a half. Line after line of flags and bunting were here and there stretched across the principal streets and the docks and railway station were similarly decorated.

Reception of the Premier.

The Premier, accompanied by Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, arrived by the R. & O. steamer "Three Rivers," a crowd of several hundred persons came from Montreal. When the steamer came into view around the curve in the river a cannon announced its arrival, and immediately the whistles of every steam craft in this busy little shipping port sent forth a stirring welcome. An immense crowd that packed the approaches to the wharves and hung upon the sheds and every available elevation gave a great cheer to the accompaniment of a band aboard the boat. Mayor Paradis extended a civic welcome to the distinguished visitors.

Long before the Premier arrived at the market hall platform the square was crowded. Balloons bearing inscriptions such as "Long Live Laurier," "Liberalism and Liberty," "Prosperity and Progress," ascended over the heads of the people, and a brass band discoursed music. As Sir Wilfrid was driven through the streets the crowds on both sides greeted him with cheer after cheer, and many pressed to the side of the carriage to shake his hand.

The Premier's Speech

The Premier's speech was a review of the work of the Liberal Government since coming into power in 1896, telling criticism of the Opposition's program, a reiteration of his sympathy with all dignified efforts to bring about treaties of commerce with Great Britain, an avowal of his intention to maintain the British preference, to revise the tariff wherever revision should be found to be advisable, and a glowing assurance of his loyalty to Canada, to British institutions and to the Motherland. It was an impressive moment when the Premier bared his head and spoke of his attachment to his native country, and to all that made for the advancement and prosperity of the whole Dominion.

The Other Speakers.

Other prominent speakers were Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue; Hon. R. Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor-General, and Mr. Bruneau, the local member. Mr. Brodeur practically sent down a defiance to the trusts and monopolies, and Mr. Lemieux drew a contrast between the mission of Hon. Louis Joseph Papineau in 1837-38, and the mission of Sir Wilfrid to-day. Papineau had asked the people of Richelieu not to buy British goods, so that they might avenge the injustice done by British bureaucrats, but Sir Wilfrid now asked the children of the same people to encourage their trade relations with the people of Great Britain by keeping in power a Government that would maintain the British preference.

Among those on the platform were: Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine and Fisheries; Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of Inland Revenue; Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Solicitor-General; Senator Casgrain, Senator Cloran, Robert Bickerdike, M.P., L. A. Rivet, M.P., S. Cherrier, M.P.P., Hector Champagne, M.P.P., A. Bergevin, M.P.P., G. A. Lacombe, M.P.P.

Mr. Borden At Port Hope.

Port Hope, Sept. 29.—In pursuing his Lake Ontario tour, Mr. R. L. Borden and his lieutenants spoke in Port Hope last evening to an audience of only fair elements of responsiveness. The reception accorded the Opposition leader was, however, quite enthusiastic, and his address was heard generally with close attention. It was evident that the audience contained a large number of Liberals. Mr. Borden dwelt at length on purity of Administration, and on the railway question, and in the latter case upheld his proposition for Government ownership as "at least better than the present bargain."

ST. PETERSBURG IS DESPONDENT.

Kuropatkin to Meet Japs at Mukden With a Great Army.

St. Petersburg, September 29. — Despondency regarding the situation in Port Arthur is becoming more pronounced daily. Grounds for this feeling of pessimism have been added in the past few days by the entire absence of news from General Stoessel.

Rome, September 29th. — The St. Petersburg correspondent of the newspaper Italia Militare, reports that in the impending battle of Mukden General Kuropatkin will have a force equal, if not superior to, that of the enemy. The Russian force he says will amount to 250,000 men with 800 guns, of whom 60,000 are at Sin Min Ting, and 12,000 along the Hun River. The rest of the army faces south from Mukden; besides these there are 10,000 Russians at Tiejing to the north of the city, on the banks of the Liao. The Japanese forces are estimated at 250,000 men and 1,000 guns.

THE BATTLE CREEK SANITARIUM DAY

To-day at the World's Fair is Being Devoted to That Institution.

To-day is Battle Creek Sanitarium day at the World's Fair.

The tender of this distinguished favour was made to the Battle Creek Sanitarium without their previous knowledge that such a thing was even contemplated, the matter having been arranged by a former patient as a grateful acknowledgement of benefits received. The forenoon is devoted to a demonstration of the principles, foods, methods of treatment, etc., which have made the Battle Creek Sanitarium world famous. The congress proper is held in the afternoon. Many notable persons who have been patrons of the Battle Creek Sanitarium are present, together with representatives of the leading Sanitariums of the United States which are in affiliation with the Battle Creek Sanitarium, who will discuss the various phases of the Battle Creek Sanitarium and Battle Creek ideas. The afternoon session closes with a Battle Creek Sanitarium lunch, after which is the reunion of old patients, doctors and nurses, and later stereopticon presentation of the sanitarium in all its phases. The World's Fair Management have assigned to the conference their most beautiful Congress Hall.

THE PRESBYTERY OF PETERBOROUGH

Principal Gordon of Queen's University, will be present at the meeting of the Presbytery to be convened at Millbrook, next Tuesday, October 4th, at 2 p.m.

It is the aim of Dr. Gordon to get all the congregations in the Presbytery of Peterborough to take a practical interest in carrying out the will of the General Assembly to raise an endowment so that the College may be more fully equipped and made more serviceable to the church and Ontario than ever before. It has been hinted that the Presbytery will undertake the endowment of a chair in Theology, particularly in connection with the study of the English Bible.

MAJOR M'DONELL VISITS PETERBORO.

A Veteren of Two African Wars Now in Town.

Saw Service in South Africa and Later in West Africa.

Major McDonell, D.S.O. of the Canadian Permanent Force, Stanley Barracks, Toronto, is in town visiting his sister, Mrs. L. M. Hayes, 385 Reid street. He is, though a comparatively young man, a veteran of two wars, and bears the badge of the distinguished service order. Major McDonnell was seen by a representative of the Examiner, but with the modesty of the true soldier, whose business is to fight rather than talk, he absolutely declined to say anything about his exploits for publication, but there are many interesting things to be said concerning him which are matters of history. In the first place physically, as well as in matters of courage and military resource, Major McDonell is every inch a soldier and that is saying a good deal for he stands six feet two inches in height. He served in the Boer war with the first Canadian Contingent, and remained till the close of the campaign. He was "in at the death" at Paaredeburg -- the surrender of Cronje — and had the honour of being mentioned in despatches, a distinction which only a soldier can fully appreciate, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order. On the return to London from South Africa he had the honour of being presented to Her Majesty. He came to Canada, and was subsequently "lent" to the Imperial services, being attached to a special corps, composed of native soldiers, with white officers, with headquarters at Calabar, Nigeria. It was on the occasion of a visit to England en route, that Major McDonell was received at the hands of the King the Distinguished Service Order. He served three years in this special corps and had many exciting experiences. Apart from the perils of fever, venomous reptiles, and cannibal natives, he had a good many close calls in action; on one occasion a Soudour sergeant and a private soldier were shot down, one on each side of him. At the end of this special service, about three months ago, he returned to his duties with the Canadian Permanent Force, and is at present enjoying a furlough in town.

RECEPTION AT ST. ANDREW'S ON FRIDAY EVENING NEXT.

The members and adherents of St. Andrew's Church hold a reception in the school room of the church to-morrow, Friday, night. The executive met last night and completed arrangements, appointing reception, decoration and refreshment committees.

The men of the congregation will assist in receiving. The programme committee reported the success of their endeavour to provide a first class programme which among other numbers will include the following: Miss Lora Leach whose work in physical culture and oratory has been highly complimented by the press; Mrs. D. McGregor, vocalist, concerning whom the Toronto Globe said, "This young lady possesses an exceptional voice both in quality and compass"; and the excellent qualities and ability of Mr. Gilbert markle violinist, Miss Florence Miller soloist Mr. Jos. Leggy and Master Herb Mowat are well known and will ensure a most delightful evening. The evening's entertainment is entirely complimentary and friends of St. Andrews are invited.

GROWTH OF WESTERN CANADA

The Conservative party has become the party of sundown while the Liberal party is the party of the dawn. Mr. Borden tells his audiences of the great things done long ago by Sir John Macdonald and Sir Francis Hincks, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier's face is turned to the national accomplishments of today, that are giving Canada a position in the world not dreamed of by that generation of men. We all remember how, notwithstanding the vast sums poured into the West under Conservative rule, that region remained almost as void and empty as when it belonged to the hunter and trapper. If people went in many of them soon came out, and those remaining were dissatisfied and dispirited by the failure that followed on the heels of every new stroke of policy adopted by Ministers who legislated at a distance for a community they knew little about and whose misgovernmented fomented a rebellion that cost the country millions of money and many lives. The recent growth of the West cannot be better illustrated than by comparing the homestead entries of the last five years with the number in the closing five years of Conservative rule:—

1882	4,735	1900	7,426
1893	4,175	1901	8,143
1894	3,568	1902	14,673
1895	3,630	1903	31,358
1896	1,833	1904	26,073
	17,399		87,717

That is, settlement has been progressing five times more rapidly under Mr. Sifton's management than under that of his Conservative predecessors. Liberals do not assert that their policy has produced the bumper crops, the rise in the value of lands and other phenomena of prosperity that are attracting British and American farmers in such numbers to the West, but they can truthfully declare that their policy has created conditions permissable to expansion and has done nothing to hinder the rush, whereas in former times the country suffered immensely from unstable and unwise laws as well as from the incapable administration of things in general.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Borden is strong on "adequate protection." This is a mistily vague term. He should give it a definition.

Several prominent United States politicians are in favour of reciprocity of trade with Canada. If they want it, they must make the first move, and ask pretty humbly, too.

Mr. Borden declares for Government ownership of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It looks very much as if he wouldn't find enough of his prominent supporters in favour of his scheme to make a Government to own a railway.

Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader-in-chief, is playing a lone hand in his Ontario tour — no political lieutenants accompanying him. His speeches and their substance do not indicate that he holds a good enough hand to "play it alone."

The Ottawa Citizen says that 'Mr. Dunlop, late member for North Renfrew, did the proper thing in voluntarily resigning, when he found out that he even technically had no right to the seat." If that were the case, he would have resigned the day after the election, or at least when he swore to personal election expenses amounting to $7,290.

It is a relief says the Globe to read in a Conservative journal such candid common-sense as is to be found in the following paragraph from The Montreal Gazette:—"The manufacturers of Canada, as the association's resolutions show, want adequate protection for their industries and also a tariff preference in favour of the British manufacturer. They have never shown how the two things are to be combined. The combination is practically impossible. Any preference that Great Britain would be justified in agreeing to would be one which would gain for her manufacturers some advantage in Canadian markets. Her statesmen are not looking for an outlet for foodstuffs."

Only Did His Duty as He Saw It

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well known merchant and post master at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not be without it for anything. Very often, to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery.) You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." For sale by All druggists.

WEATHER FORECASTS FOR BROWN OCTOBER.

Rev. Ira L. Hicks, the St. Louis Seer, Presents His Slate.

As indicated by the storm diagram illustrating these forecasts, the effects of the Earth's autumnal equinox last up to the middle of October. Of course its disturbing influences will be in diminishing degrees, fading away entirely by the middle of the month.

The storm period in progress at the close of September will be felt the first two days of this month in the eastern parts of the country while the high barometer and change to fair and colder weather will have advanced eastward beyond the central valley of the Mississippi.

On and touching the 4th and 5th look for return of higher temperature, falling barometer and more falling weather. All these October disturbances will wind up with rising barometer, change of winds to north-westerly, and much cooler weather.

The first regular storm period proper for October is central on the 11th, and extends from the 8th to the 12th. The Moon being in perigree on the 7th and on the celestial equator and new on the 8th, expect very prompt developments, in the form of falling barometer, change to quite warm and followed by rain, wind and even thunder storms as early in the period as the 8th to 9th. Later in the period these storms will spread to the east, and along with the rising barometer behind the storms, an early touch of boreal weather will come out of the northwest, attended by high, autumnal gales of the like regions. It is possible also that delayed equinoctial storms may reach the southern coasts at this period. Within forth-eight hours of noon on the 8th, seismic disturbance in many parts of the Earth need not cause surprise.

The next storm period will be central on the 16th, 17th and 18th. This is a Vulcan reactionary period and it will bring on a disturbed weather condition that will run, most probably, into the regular storm period following. The Mercury brace shows that a Mercury equinoctial disturbance is central on the 20th, reaching from the 18th to the close of October. This fact will tend to a prolonged spell of unsettled, disturbed weather.

During the regular Vulcan period, central on the 22nd, the already unsettled elements will return to very decided storm conditions. From about the 21st to the 24th general and active autumnal storms may be expected. A very depressed barometer will advance from the west, attended by storms first of rain and probable thunder, followed by early spurts of snow and sleet in the northern extremes. Heavy northwesterly gales will visit the great lakes and the north Atlantic coasts at this time, and a general and decided change to colder will spread over most parts of the country with the anti-storm area that follows this period. The culminating crisis of this period will fall on and touching Monday the 24th. On and about this date will also be another period when earthquake shivers will be reported from different parts of the globe. Look for frost well to the southward, with some freezing to the north at the end of and for some days following this period.

The last period of disturbance in October, blending with Mercury equinox, is central on the 27th and 28th. At this time look for a reaction to warmer, with falling barometer and return of rain and thick cloudiness and mist, amounting to sleet in many sections northward.

The month will go out with anti-storm areas spreading eastward from the west-northwest causing general change to much cooler.

We have thus outlined the periodic storm movements of October. But those who have followed our forecasts for any length of time know that these forecasts imply that much pleasant and open weather will lie between the perturbed periods. Even in the opening stages of storm periods, much of our finest autumn weather will occur, and immediately behind the actual area of cloudiness and precipitation, cooler but fine weather conditions set in. So that instead of "storms all the time", fair to pleasant weather is to be expected in large measure.

The wise and practical student of nature, in the light of these forecasts, will turn the recurring storm periods to blessings, and be ready the better to improve the conditions and the open weather that naturally follow. Properly understood storms are only transitory incidents in a sea of settled, economic weather conditions, always preparing the way for more comfortable, more practical and more profitable application of all pursuits and industries.

The reading public need not be told that our forecasts of frost in the month of August were amply verified. All the northern tier of states, reaching from the northwest into New England, were visited by more or less frosts before the end of August. Four to six inches of snow was reported from several points. We did not predict that these frosts would prove very destructive to crops, but reports received just as we go to press with October Word and Works, show that serious losses have been sustained in several states.

As stated, our forecasts of these early frosts were not made so much to warn the people of the probable losses, but to call attention to important and fundamental facts in nature—facts upon which we are basing and working out investigations that lead more and more to the solution of scientific and commercial problems. This present instance of predicted frosts in August resulted in only thousands of dollars losses, whereas the next time it might run into millions. If there are laws underlying these problems involving human weal and woe, in the name of reason, why not find them out and escape the penalty of their violation?

The same is true of our forecasts of earthquake phenomena in August and September, both of which were literally verified. Our earthquake predictions for August were from the 20th to 23th. On the 27th violent seismic shocks visited California and other parts of the globe. Our forecasts of earthquakes for September were on and about the 9th. On that very day many very heavy shocks were reported from South America. A fact to be noted is that these earthquakes in South America occurred just at the beginning of the total eclipse of the Sun visible in that region. Do not forget that earthquakes were reported on no other dates anywhere on the globe.

To date no disastrous hurricanes have visited our southern coasts, but the Rio Grande, and other streams far to the south, are working ruin and death — purely from equinoctial storms — as we close this last page of October Word and Works.—Ira R. Hicks.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and diarrhoea remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of man-fresh air is made to pass through small flues, over the top of the oven, just back of the hot fire box. Thus heated, it enters the oven and by a direct current of air the impurities and cooking odors are carried up the chimney.

EASTWOOD'S WRECK

Four Railway Men Killed and Burned Past Identification.

STATION DESTROYED BY FIRE

Grand Trunk Engine and Cars Piled in a Heap — Twenty Cars Burned — Live Stock and General Freight Consumed in the Fire—Fireman Cameron Not Expected to Recover.

Eastwood, Sept. 29.—As a result of one of the most disastrous freight wrecks in the history of the Grand Trunk Railway, through a rear-end collision at this village, five miles from Woodstock, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, four men are dead and possibly five, and one injured so severely that he could not survive the night.

The dead: Thomas Heron of Toronto, engineer; Harry Fallis of Hamilton, conductor; C. B. Benedict of Hamilton, brakeman; Alexander Kirkland of Hamilton, engineer.

Late last night it was learned on good authority that a Buffalo driver, who was riding in the caboose of the through freight, is missing, and is believed to have perished. His name could not be ascertained.

Cameron Will Likely Die.

Simon Cameron of Parkhill, living at 418 West King street, Toronto, fireman, was severely scalded and burned and injured internally and will likely die.

About twenty cars of meat, stock and general freight were consumed by fire, together with Eastwood Station, which was wrecked by the collision and afterwards destroyed by the burning of the wreckage. One new locomotive of the "900" class is a complete loss. Three hundred yards of track were torn up and rendered useless. Auxiliaries with a force of 200 men labored since early morning until late last night, and the track was not clear till 10 o'clock.

Inquest Opens and Adjourns.

Dr. McLay, coroner, opened the inquest at 5 o'clock last evening. He empanelled a jury who viewed the wreck and discovered that the switch had been left open. As the conductor and brakeman of the freight on the siding, and as Engineer Heron of the second freight are dead and his fireman is dying there is little hope of accurately determining who was responsible for the disaster. The inquest now stands adjourned until Monday.

Station Agent's Escape.

One of the remarkable features of the disaster is the escape of Thomas Dunn, the station agent, and his family. They were stopping in the east room of the building, and to this fact alone they owe the saving of their lives. As it was they had to rush out in their night attire to avoid the fire. The collision threw freight cars right into the side of the western half of the station building and it was one of the first things to fall a prey to the flames. All the books, tickets, fixtures and furniture, together with some freight, was destroyed.

The remains of the dead were only a few charred bones and ashes, the first being recovered about ten o'clock.

Collision on the C.N.R.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29. — Four men were injured in a collision at Oak Point, on Lake Manitoba, yesterday morning on the C.N.R. A couple of work cars, a boarding and sleeping car were standing on the track when a work train coming down the line backed into them, doing considerable damage to the train and injuring William Breen, Thomas Marks, Ernest Breen and Joseph Richardson. The injuries of the two former are internal and may prove serious. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock in the morning.

Knelt to Meet Train.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 29.—A Canadian Pacific work train coming into the Soo from the east struck and killed an unknown man a couple of miles from town about 6 o'clock last evening. Deceased, accompanied by two other men, named O'Reilly and Banister, all drinking considerably, was walking along the track. When first seen by the engineer they were to one side, but when the train came near the deceased stepped between the rails and got down on his hands and knees.

Ten Cars Derailed.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—An accident resulting in the derailing of ten freight cars occurred on the C. P. R. line, just east of the old Streetsville Station, at about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause was the breaking of a defective wheel. The loss will run to several thousands of dollars.

M.C.R. Censured By Jury.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 29.—The coroner's jury, investigating the death of J. W. Mill, a Michigan Central engineer, who was killed on Sunday, found a verdict censuring the railway company for the defective condition of the siding where the accident occurred, and for the lack of wrecking appliances by means of which Mill might have been rescued.

Blame For Wreck Fixed.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Responsibility for the wreck of the Sunday school excursion train on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad at Glenwood, Ill., July 31, when 18 persons were killed and more than 100 others injured, has been fixed by the grand jury. It indicated for manslaughter Frank E. Hoxie, engineer; Frank Casper, conductor, and Chas. H. Wright, brakeman of the train which caused the accident. Frederick Whitman, train despatcher, and Patrick Costello, fireman of the freight train, were exonerated. Disobedience of orders was given as the cause for the indictments.

Chisel Entered Brain.

Port Arthur, Sept. 29.—Yesterday John Strachan, a carpenter of Port Arthur, was seriously injured at the Empire elevator, Fort William. A cold chisel fell from among the tools used by the workmen forty feet above, striking Strachan on the head, penetrating his skull. Srrachan now lies in an unconscious and precarious condition.

Killed By a 500 Feet Fall.

Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 29.—R. K. Brown, Hamilton, Ont., was instantly killed at Ymir Tuesday by a fall of 500 feet down the shaft of a mine. The accident was the result of a break in the hoist cable.

Wandered to Her Death.

St. Catharines, Sept. 29.—Julia Collins, the two-year-old daughter of Frank Collins, was drowned in the hydraulic race-way yesterday morning. The child strayed into the yard of a neighbor, through which premises the race-way runs, and accidentally fell in and was rapidly carried down stream. When she was taken from the water she was dead.

Toronto Man Injured.

Wrecked On Cape Race.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 29.—The British steamer Loyalist, Captain Phillips, bound from Halifax for London with a general cargo, went ashore Tuesday night. She will be a total wreck. The crew escaped.

NAVVIES NEAR CARLSTADT.

Took Possession of C.P.R. Train and Shot the Engineer.

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—A gang of Italian navvies employed by the C. P.R. drove the engineer and crew from the work train upon which they were employed near Carlstadt station yesterday. One of the cars was derailed and several of the Italians were injured. The uninjured men secured a gun, and, going to the locomotive, shot the engineer in the arm and back. The train crew interfered, whereupon they were chased from the train by the Italians. Special police were ordered to the scene from Fort William, and the ringleaders of the gang were arrested. Engineer Towne's injuries are painful but not serious. He was taken to Fort William Hospital.

Suprise to Doctors.

Most doctors are astonished at the results obtained by Dr. Chase-s Ointment as a cure for eczema, salt rheum and itching skin diseases which are often considered wall nigh incurable. By word of mouth from friend to friend the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment have gradually become known until it is now standard the world over and has a record of cures unparallelled in the history of medicine.

Martin Pleads Not Guilty.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—The police court room was filled yesterday when Magistrate Denison called the names of Alexander and Ethel Martin. The formal proceedings only lasted a few moments. The man stood up in the dock and the woman was brought in. The charge of murdering their infant on Aug. 3 last was read to them. T. C. Robinette, K.C., on behalf of the man, entered a plea of not guilty. The woman, who was not defended by counsel, said nothing. They were remanded for a week. Both parties have been identified by several people.

JAPS' LAST ASSAULT

On Port Arthur Reported to Have Cost Them 7,000 Lives.

RUSSIAN LOSSES 500 OR 600

Japanese Said to Have Been Driven Out of Captured Positions—St. Petersburg Authorities Admit That Togo's Blockade of Port Arthur Is Effective—Reported Naval Losses By Japanese.

Che Foo, Sept. 29.—Russians residing here claim to have received information that the Japanese losses in the last assault on Port Arthur, which begun September 19, were 7,000. A Chinese who left the fortress on September 26th says that the Russian losses were between 500 and 600. This Chinaman says that the Japanese were unable to remain in the three supplementary forts which they captured, and that they retired at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of September 26th, after enduring several days of tremendous firing from the inner forts.

Blockade Is Effective.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—The information received at the War Office concerning the situation at Port Arthur is not reassuring. The blockade at last seems to be effective. Admiral Togo's ships are arresting all the junks which try to enter the harbor and are sending them to Port Dalny. It is feared that this complete isolation may react on the spirits of the garrison.

Reported Naval Losses.

London, Sept. 29.—A despatch to a news agency from Vladivostock says that, according to reports from Port Arthur, two Japanese torpedo boats and a Japanese steamer have been sunk by mines near Port Arthur during the last few days. A Japanese cruiser of the Nitaka type, it is added, was badly damaged.

Numerous Skirmishes.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—A despatch from Gen. Kuropatkin, dated yesterday afternoon announces that numerous skirmishes have occurred along most parts of the Russian front. The Japanese have not altered their positions east of the railroad and confine themselves to outpost attacks to the north, all of which so far have been repulsed.

The Jap Sick and Wounded.

Tokio, Sept. 29.—Unofficial estimates place the number of sick and wounded Japanese soldiers under treatment in Japan at forty-five thousand. The military hospitals at Tokio, Osaka and Hiroshima contain ten thousand each. Nine thousand have recovered sufficiently to be sent to mountain and health resorts. The system of handling and treating the sick and wounded is working splendidly and the death rate is exceptionally small.

May Not Battle At Mukden.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—In summing up the situation yesterday the military expert of The Russ says it is evident from all indications at the front, that the Japanese are engaged in a big turning movement on the eastward. This would give them the advantage, as heretofore, of operating largely in the mountains to which their artillery is better suited than for movements in the open. But, in the present movement the units of the Japanese army are necessarily losing touch with one another. Their strategic position is, therefore, less satisfactory than at Liaoyang. The Russ says it is a question whether a decisive or even serious engagement will occur at Mukden. Such an event will depend entirely upon Gen. Kuropatkin's view as to the exigencies of the situation.

More Torpedoes For the Russians.

Paris, Sept. 29.—A despatch to The Temps from Toulon says: The Russian Government has negotiated for the construction of 11 torpedo boat destroyers of the latest model, by a French company.

International Disarmament.

St. Louis, Sept. 29.—At the initial meeting of the first universal congress of lawyers and jurists, held under the auspices of the American Bar Association, former U. S. Secretary of State John W. Foster urged that the United States Government should hold itself ready to enter into an agreement for international disarmament.

Ask Provincial Audit.

Essex, Sept. 29.—A number of property owners, dissatisfied with the showing made in the finances of the town, have petitioned the Ontario Government to make an audit of the books of the Council. The rate for some time has been 30 mills on the dollar; no permanent improvements have been made and all that is being taken care of are current expenditures and debentures falling due.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—The International Flax Fibre Co. of New York have brought an action against J. R. Lerendeau for the sum of $455,000, the value of the president's shares handed to him, and which he refuses to hand over to the company.

NO CHANGE IN THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Ald. McWilliams' Motion to Reduce Members was Withdrawn.

Joint Meeting of Alderman and Trustees—Change in Board not in the Interest of the Town.

The proposed change in the Board of Education by which the number of members of the Board would be reduced from the present figure, (17) members, to eight, will not be made at the present time. This was decided last night at a joint meeting of the Council and Board of Education held in the town clerk's office for the purpose of discussing the matter. It will be remembered that at the council meeting on Monday night Ald. McWilliams made a motion, notice of which he had made at a previous meeting "that in the opinion of this council, it is expedient that the School Boards be amalgamated and a Board of Education as provided for by 4 Edward VII, c. 33, be elected in lieu of the present Board."

It had been expected that the Board of Education would have had a deputation at the meeting on Monday night to support the resolution sent to the council asking that no action be taken to reduce the size of the board at the present time. As Mr. V. Eastwood was the only member present, and the majority of the aldermen expressed themselves as being unwilling to take action on such a radical change until the members of the board had met the Council and then discussed the matter together. This resulted in a joint meeting being arranged for last night at which there were present for the council, Aldermen Morrison, in the chair, Adams, Batten, Clinkscale, Hicks, Johnston, Best, Rush Muson, Scott, McWilliams, and the Mayor, while the Board of Education was represented by Messrs. Hartley, chairman; Hill, Morgan, Pringle, Stevenson, Jamieson, R. B. Rogers, and W. G. Morrow, secretary.

All the members of the board present expressed themselves on the subject, and all except one seemed to be adverse to the change being made this year.

At the beginning of the meeting Ald. McWilliams addressed those present, outlining the change suggested by his motion and giving reasons why the change in his opinion would be beneficial.

The first speaker for the Board of Education was Mr. Jas. Stevenson, the oldest member on the board. Mr. Stevenson said that the present board though large was working harmoniously and he did not think it in the best interest of the town to reduce the members at the present time.

Mr. J. J. Hartley, chairman of board was the next speaker and said that he felt sure that no number of the board was speaking from personal feelings when they advocated making no change in the Board at the present time, but they were actuated by the desire to do what was best for the educational interests of the town. The honest opinion of the board, after mature deliberation was that at the present time it would be a clamaity to make the change suggested as a number of very important matters were now before the board for consideration and these matters could be much better dealt with by the present board, the members of which were familiar with the details of the new matters. He agreed that the proper way was to elect the members of the board by the people.

Mr. W. H. Hill set forth the position taken by the board at length. He fully agreed with the position taken by the former speakers and thought that it would be a great mistake to make the change suggested at the present time. He was not in favour of the provisions of the new act, which classed Peterborough in educational affairs, with such places as Norwood, Keene, and Omemee, giving it a board of only eight members. He thought seventeen was too large a number, but he also thought that eight was two small and his idea was that Peterborough should have a board of ten placing it on a par with the smaller cities such as Belleville, which had a population of several thousand less than Peterborough. He thought no change should be made this year, and at the next session of the Legislature an effort should be made to get special legislation giving Peterborough a board which the size of the town and its importance deserve.

The new system of supplying school books and supplies to the school had only now been introduced and it is always the case with new departments there were bound to be some little difficulties which can be dealt with better by men who are familiar with the details of the system than with new men. Then another thing was the new Collegiate Institute and this he thought could be handled better by the present board than by a new and smaller one. For these and other reasons he thought the board should remain the same as at present.

Mr. Morgan was the only member of the board present who did not agree with his colleagues on the board. He thought the board at present constituted was too unwieldy and said that as a matter of fact the business of the board was done by less than eight members. He thought the board had not yet committed itself in any way to the Collegiate Institute site, and it was possible that if the present board were to be superseded by an entirely new one the interest of the town might be as well or better served.

Ald. Adams was of the opinion that in all probability this matter would adjust itself in the near future. In all probability on the occasion of the next municipal election the question of incorporation as a city will be voted upon and should the electors decide in favour of incorporation the board would then automatically become one of ten members, so that he thought the best way to do would be to allow the matter to stand for the present.

Mr. Jameson was the next member of the board to address the meeting and said that like the majority of those who had spoken previously he thought that it would be a mistake at the present time to make the change suggested in the board. Mr. Pringle who followed spoke also the same lines as did also Mr. R. B. Rogers.

Ald. McWilliams then withdrew his motion, the great majority of the council being in favour of granting the request of the board not to make any change at the present time, consequently the matter dropped at that and no action will be taken.

SIDING MATTER DECIDED NEXT WEEK.

A Meeting Will be Held About the Middle of the Week.

The council meeting, which was to have been held to-morrow night to deal with the request of Mr. W. H. Meldrum for a siding to his mill on Simcoe street, will not be held, the Mayor receiving a telegram yesterday from Mr. Stuart, treasurer of the American Cereal Company, stating that it would be impossible for him to be present at the meeting, and asked as a personal favour that it be postponed until next week when he would be in Peterborough.

The American Cereal Company are interested in this matter, and the council decided to accede to the request of Mr. Stuart, consequently the meeting will not be held until the middle of next week.

It is understood that a number of the merchants of the town are anxious to have this siding put in, as it would be much more convenient for them to get their freight than to obtain it from the station.

END OF SEPTEMBER WEDDING EVENT

Miss Margaret May McGregor Made the Wife of Mr. A. E. Morrison.

What proved to be a very interesting event took place last evening at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. William James McGregor, when his daughter Margaret May was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Alexander Edie Morrison. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march, which was very beautifully played by Miss Agnes Sabin. The bride was charmingly dressed in a gown of white alkoelienne trimmed with embroidered lace and chiffon, she wore the customary bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations. Miss Margaret Morrison, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, her dress was of white silk organdie with trimmings of silk rusching and lace over a lace drop yoke, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and smilax. The groom was supported by Mr. Alfred Goodwin.

After the wedding ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Major of All Saint's Church, about sixty guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dejeuner. The groom's present to the bride was a pearl sunburst, to the bridesmaid a pearl crescent pin and to the groomsman an opal pin. The house was very prettily decorated with harvest trimmings and evergreens. The happy couple will for the present reside at forty-eight Chamberlain street. They have the best wishes of a host of friends. Among the many handsome presents received were a set of dishes from the employees of the C.G.E. Works.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO MR. H. EDMISON.

His Wagon Struck by Street Car While Attempting to Cross the Street.

Hip Bone was Broken—No Blame Attached to Railway Employees—How the Accident Happened.

The first serious accident since the advent of the street cars in Peterborough occurred yesterday afternoon between five and six o'clock, near A. McDonald's mill, on George street, and from the effects of the accident Mr. Henry Edmison is suffering from a broken hip bone.

Mr. Edmison, who is a carter, was driving down George street on the west side of the street and wanting to go into the mill yard he attempted to cross the track, neglecting to look behind him up the track to see if a car was approaching. A car was coming down the street and this fact became known to Mr. Edmison just after he started to drive across the track. He at once attempted to turn back, but was not able to do this quickly enough and the car struck the truck on the side throwing Mr. Edmison off in front of the wheel of the latter, the horse pulling the truck over him and breaking his hip bone. Luckily the horse escaped without injury and the wagon, strange to say was very little damaged.

Mr. Edmison was taken home where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Morgan and Dr. Caldwell. He was found to be badly shaken up and will be confined to his bed for two months at least. Mr. Edmison wishes it understood that he attaches no blame to the street railway employees for the accident. He admits that he should have ascertained whether there was a car coming before he attempted to cross the tracks, and to this neglect he says his accident is due, but he was in a hurry and had not yet gotten into the habit of calculating on the street cars hence the accident.

WEDDING BELLS.

A pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McCullough, 317 McDonnell street, when their daughter Miss Eva McCullough was made the bride of Mr. William Cole of town, formerly of Deseronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Davidson in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bridal couple were unattended. Among the relatives present were Mrs. Piton and Messrs. Edward and Herbert Kennedy of Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Cole will reside in Peterborough.

EXPLANATION.

I have been an enrolled member of the Salvation Army local corps for some fifteen years, and corps treasurer for some thirteen years consecutively. The outcome of my endeavouring to do my duty to my comrades and the citizens of Peterborough as corps treasurer is my being suspended from being treasurer, and my ceasing to be a soldier. I saw the need of an audit of the S. A. band books and accounts being made, and hoped to have this done within the S. A., as Territorial S. A. Headquarters, Toronto, promised me by telegram, and later more fully by letter, that this would be done, and done thoroughly. The audit was to take place about Aug. 15, 1904. The audit not being made as I desired, and as T. H. Q. so fully promised, after a good deal of persuasion on my part, to have the audit made and conducted inside of the S. A., I was compelled to take steps towards having it made outside of the S. A. The notice put in the press was thus for the purpose of furthering these steps taken. I wish to make it clearly understood that I am not fighting the Salvation Army, nor acting through any ill-will to any one. In spirit I am still a Salvationist, and am one with the Army, believing in its rules and regulations, and its modes and methods of adaptation to the needs of mankind. I also wish to say I do not judge T. H. Q. in the action that they have now taken. It is quite possible that did they know the whole facts of the case they might act differently. The lack of administering or enforcing S. A. rules and regulations has been the cause of this difficulty. I now wish to say that I do not desire to carry on any further discussion on this matter through the press.

M. T. BUTCHER,
Late corps treasurer.

ENDORSED THE CHANGES

Inspector Hughes Much Pleased With New Regulations Issued Recently by Education Department.

"The changes made in the courses of study are the best the Education Department has made in many years," said Inspector Hughes this morning, in referring to the recent amendments and additions to the regulations.

"The general principles underlying the changes are all along the right lines, and are simply in keeping with the progress made in other countries."

"What are the features which are of special importance to the Public Schools?" he was asked.

"The introduction of nature study, science teaching, reducing the influence of examinations and doing away with the examination in literature and history," he replied. "We can now teach the vital principles of those subjects and not be oblized to spend so much time in data and other mechanical facts."

FAIRS' RELATIONS TO THE OUTSIDERS

Shall the Exhibition Adopt Policy of Exclusion of Outside Exhibits?

No Ladies' Work Accepted From Outside the County of Peterborough.

Visitors to the Fair yesterday and on Wednesday, remarked upon the smallness of the exhibits in ladies' work, as compared with previous years, and in connection with this some explanation is due the directors.

While it is admitted that the exhibits in these classes were not as large as patrons of the Fair have been accustomed to see in the past, this fact is explained by saying that this year the directors have decided upon the adoption of a policy with the spirit of which every one who has the best interests of the Fair at heart will be in sympathy.

In other years the custom has been to accept exhibits from professional exhibitors from places outside of Peterborough county in the department of ladies' work, and the result has been that every year large shipments of fancy goods were made to Peterborough to be exhibited at the Fair, and all the prizes were scooped up by outside parties, and absolutely no benefit was received by local parties. These goods had been gathered up by certain parties especially for exhibition purposes, and were sent around from fair to fair, taking what prizes they could. This year several large cases containing such goods were received here, but the directors very wisely decided against allowing them to be placed in competition with the local exhibitors, and while the showing in ladies' work as a consequence was smaller than usual, there is this satisfaction, that all the prizes were won by local exhibitors, and the latter had not, as in former years, the chagrin of seeing that after having gone to considerable trouble to prepare their exhibits, their work went for nothing and the prizes went to outside parties.

This policy, the majority of people will no doubt agree, is the proper one to pursue, and one the pursuance of which will result in decided benefit to the Fair.

This same policy might also be pursued in the other departments, and it might be interesting to see how this would work out.

Take the cattle, as an example. In Galloways, Aberdeen Angus, Grades, Holsteins and Dairy Breeds, there were out of a total of forty-nine entries, only three made by persons living in Peterborough County. In some of the more popular breeds the proportion of outside exhibitors was not nearly as large, however.

Of course there is something to be said on the other side. It may be urged that the local farmers should be willing to place what they consider good animals in competition with the outside exhibitors, so that a comparison may be made, and the local farmers might benefit by the experience of the ones with wider knowledge.

Butterick's Fashion Sheets. Free.

The most popular patterns today are Butterick's. Made in all sizes and styles to suit every person. No matter what the ladies want to make they can get a Butterick pattern to suit it. The prices are as low as the lowest — 10, 15 and 20c. Delineator fashion sheets free every month at their local agency, the Peterborough Cash Bookstore, 417 George street.

The Steamer Sovereign Trips.

The steamer Sovereign continues her daily trips between Peterborough and Rice Lake, with this change. On Fridays, instead of leaving at 9 o'clock in the morning, she now leaves at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, from her landing place below the locks, where she connects with the street railway, returning Saturday morning.

CLOSING DAY OF INDUSTRIAL FAIR

Yesterday's Crowd was not as Large as That of Opening Day.

The Racing Events Yesterday—Accident to Jockey—Closing Day's Programme.

The Peterborough Industrial Fair of 1904 is now a thing of the past, and, in some respects, the most successful exhibition in the history of the local Agricultural Society, is that which last night closed.

The weather, which during the past two years, was not all that could have been desired, and which, as a consequence, dampened to a great extent the Fair in those years, was for the Fair which has just closed, perfectly ideal, and nothing more could have been desired from that quarter. The immediate result of this excellent weather was that the attendance was large, very large, in fact, particularly on the opening day, when fully 6,000 persons passed through the gates. The exact number of paid admissions for the two days is not known yet, but it will be away up in the big figures, and the number should be large enough to have convinced the Directors that the people of this town and county will patronize a Fair if it is properly conducted, and should also stimulate them to provide an exhibition worthy of the importance of this exceedingly prosperous and important county.

The great attendance of Tuesday was no doubt to a large extent due to the presence as the guests of the Directors, of His Honour the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Clarke, and for their foresight in inviting these important public personages to be present and open the Fair, the Directors are to be complimented. The visit was no doubt an education to His Honour and Mrs. Clarke, as to the great and growing importance of Peterborough, and as well it gave the town a distinction from which it should profit.

The crowds yesterday were not nearly as large as those of Tuesday, most of those attending yesterday being those who were unable to be on the grounds on the previous day, and the presence of the smaller number enabled those present to see to much better advantage those exhibits and other features in which they were interested, and which on the opening day the great crowds made a pleasant tour of the grounds and buildings an occupation attended by certain inconveniences.

As far as the exhibits were concerned, there were no special features yesterday, all of them being the same as those of the proceeding day, but in the racing programme a variety was provided, and those who were at the grounds yesterday saw some good races, while one of the most interesting events of the whole Fair was the parade of live stock before the grand stand during the afternoon. The original intention of the President was to have on the last day a parade of all the stock which had exhibited at the Fair, and this would have been a feature which would have been greatly enjoyed, but it appears that a number of the exhibitors had removed their stock before the hour for the parade, consequently the showing was not nearly as large as it otherwise would have been. The parade was headed by the prize Clydesdales from the stables of Messrs. Graham Brothers, of Claremont, through whose kindness these valuable horses were sent to the Fair, and following these came a good string of heavy draughts, and the carriage horses which were prize-winners.

The racing events yesterday were interspersed by the judging of carriage horses on the half mile track, and in some of the classes there was some pretty keen competition, and some nice animals were shown. In the best livery turn out, three outfits were entered, and the choice for first money was hard to make. It eventually went to R. H. Leary, while R. Gibbs got second, and R. Wolstenholm third.

The races yesterday provided some good sport. The 2.23 trot gave three pretty heats. Although Minnie Keswick took first in straight heats, in the second heat particularly, Petroleum gave her a hard run, and for the whole mile was only about one length behind the fast little mare, and pushing her hard. In the other heats Petroleum broke badly and lost considerably, but when she got on her feet again she rapidly regained her place. J. R. Gentry was never dangerous. The summary follows:

Petroleum, W. Fanning, Cambray	2 2 2
J. R. Gentry, J. Brooks, Peterborough	3 3 3

Time, 2.24, 2.19 1-4, 2.23.

In the running events there was a big field for the 3-4 mile, while in the hurdle race only two horses started. In the latter race Fire Field again threw her rider, who was yesterday Charlie Jameson of Toronto, Burt not being well enough to again attempt to ride the mare. At the first hurdle the mare struck her foot and went partly down, carrying Jameson, who fell off, and for a time was stunned by the fall. He was not seriously hurt however, his injuries being represented by a few bruises. Grose, a young jockey from town, finished the race with the mare, who now went over the hurdles in good style. The race was won by Grey Cloud in 3.47, with Fire Field second.

Chatelaine	1 1
Zerbra	2 2
Victoria	3 3
Golden Cockade	4 4
Lady Russell	5 5
Sea Song	6 6

Time, 1.18 1-2, 1.18 1-2.

The officials were: Starter, J. G. Martin, Stouffville; judge, W. Leahy; Timers, E. G. Patterson and Alex. Gibson.

The secretary has not yet been able to report as to the financial results of the Fair, but it is believed that from this standpoint, it will have been a success.

The list of prize winners will be published to-morrow.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

MESSRS. LANG & MAHER — THE NEW CLOTHIERS.

For the first time for a number of years past, our local clothiers were missed from the exhibition. Their displays were usually the most prominent in the main building, and their absence this year was quite noticeable. But the new aspirants for a share of the gentlemen's patronage — Messrs. Lang & Maher — made good use of the Fair grounds and the streets leading thereto for advertising their new business. At the entrances to the grounds, on the sheds, fences, gates and grand stand their large coloured bulletins were prominently displayed. It was impossible for anyone who attended the Fair, not to see these attractive sign boards, and carry away with them the impression that Lang & Maher were determined not to hide their light under a bushel.

"The Daylight Store," said a Monaghan visitor, "That's a good name, and has a good ring to it, too!" And so it has — for it means that Lang & Maher have no dark corners in their new clothing store. It means that their artistic and well furnished store is one of the brightest and best equipped clothing stores in the country — bar none. The clearest daylight is obtainable in every part of the store. It is the only store in town that extends from one street to another, having a full glass rear as well as in front, enabling a customer to see to the best advantage in every corner, even in the dullest weather. Farmers who have spirited horses can avoid the annoyance of the street cars by driving to the rear on Chambers street, instead of coming to the front entrance on George street.

The active members of this new firm are both well known clothing men, who have many friends and connections in both town and country. Mr. J. T. C. Lang was, for the past four years, principal salesman with Gough Bros., and Mr. Jos. Maher head salesman with Grafton & Co. for seven years. Both have practical experience and an expert knowledge of the trade, and the requirements of the public.

Of course their whole stock of clothing and gentlemen's furnishings is brand new, high class and up-to-the minute. No danger of any of last year's bird's nests being found in their stock. Their new brands of clothing for men, young men and boys are selected from the reputable makers, who are known to excel in their own specialties, and having been bought close are to be sold close. Get acquainted with Lang & Maher, with the handsome tile entrance to their front door, and their name plate in blue tile lettering. During the exhibition the visitors who have called in to see the store and purchase, have increased to a remarkable extent.

THE SYLVESTER FARM IMPLEMENTS AND MACHINERY.

The Sylvester Manufacturing Co., of Lindsay, had the only exhibit of farm implements and machinery at the Fair, and for that reason it was accorded a great deal of interest by the farmers. Their Peterborough agent is Mr. T. J. Perdue, whose warerooms are on Hunter street west, and he is to be congratulated on having put up a most excellent and practical display of the kind of farm implements farmers are looking for. There was shown a pivoted land roller, a disk harrow, steel diamond harrow, corn cultivator, Improved Stiff Tooth Cultivator, the King Cultivator with ribbing and plow attachments, Disk Shoe Drill, and two Combination Ploughs. The Sylvester farm implements are becoming well and favourably known in Peterborough County, because of their being made so near home, and because of the well-earned reputation they have made for themselves in adjoining counties. The company turn out implements that can boast of a high degree of efficiency, and the steady growth of their sales in this district attest the confidence the farmers have in them. Their improved cultivator attracted a great deal of attention at our Fair. For summer fallows and to kill foul grass and weeds this machine possesses features that will accomplish all it claims. Its ribbing and ploughing attachments are novelties which soon save the price of itself. It will cultivate the hardest land, sod land, stubble land, easily and quickly. It will kill thistles, quack grass, mustard and other foul weeds better than any other device on the market. Mr. Perdue handles all kinds of the Sylvester ploughs, straw cutters, root pulpers, harrows, etc., for fall work. Farmers will study their own interests by calling at Mr. Perdue's warerooms and learn some pointers that will save them money.

THE U. S. CREAM SEPARATOR.

This is the separator that saves the cream, that skims the milk, that feeds the stock, that brings the cash to the farmer. One man who had no separator, was overheard to say to his neighbour who had a U.S., "Your pigs will weigh seventy-five pounds more than mine, and I think it is because they have got skim milk from your separator, instead of sour (old method) skim milk." Another explains the "milk in the cocoanut" in this terse way: "The U. S. separates the milk and cream — the skim milk makes the calf — the cream the butter — all bring in the cash. That's the way to value a U. S. Cream Separator." Every butter maker should learn all about the Model 1904 Separator, by which they can save all kinds of money. It's the kind that gets all the cream. It was exhibited at the Fair, and its interesting and simple operation was watched by hundreds of visitors, and won many new friends. A cheap dog, sheep or goat power for operating the separator was also shown. Messrs. Drummond & Duffus, the popular and reliable agricultural implement dealers of Simcoe street, are the local agents, who will be pleased to furnish any information regarding the separator.

VISITS HIS OLD HOME.

Famous Canadian, Sir John Murray, in the Land of His Birth—Famous by Reason of His Marine Exploration.

Visiting his old home in the land of his birth is Sir John Murray, a quiet, middle-aged gentleman unknown to the general public, and withal one of the most eminent scientists ever produced on this continent. In oceanography Sir John is acknowledged to be the supreme authority. His title to fame lies chiefly in connection with the voyage of the man-o'-war Challenger, a vessel which will live in scientific annals with the Beagle, Darwin's ship. Apart from the wonderful explorations accomplished by the Challenger, Sir John is famous by reason of later submarine discoveries on the coast of England and Scotland. After a long absence from Canada Sir John has returned to visit his birthplace at Cobourg and the scenes of his early school life at London. It was from London that he left for Edinburgh, where his aptitude as a naturalist attracted the attention of Prof. Thompson, the regius professor on this subject, and later on led to his joining the immortal band of scientists who sailed on the Challenger.

Voyage of the Challenger.

The voyage of the Challenger was, in many respects, the most remarkable ever undertaken for the purposes of scientific exploration. It was the direct result of a request to the Lords of the Admiralty by a special committee of the Royal Society. It was with little difficulty that the Royal Society had its request granted, and the necessary arrangements were made. At the time, students of ocean life clung tenaciously to beliefs natural enough from the scanty data at their disposal. They supposed, for instance, that ocean life was confined to a narrow fringe on the outskirts of visible land, and that mid-ocean, a short distance below the surface, was deserted and lifeless. It was held that at a depth of 100 fathoms plant life disappeared, as the sunlight was believed to be cut off at 50 fathoms, and that at 300 fathoms life of any sort was as impossible as in a vacuum or a furnace. About this time, however, Scandinavian scientists reported some results which tended to contradict these theories. Their conclusions were verified by Prof. C. Wyeville Thompson, who, in 1870, dredged to a depth of 2,435 fathoms and found animal life, which, it had been definitely proved, could not there exist. At this depth the creatures of the deep supported nearly two and a half tons on each side of their backs a condition hitherto inconceivable.

Thompson Chooses Murray.

Prof. Thompson was at the time one of the most eminent of British naturalists in this line of research. To him therefore was offered command of the Challenger expedition, which, with some reluctance, he accepted, choosing John Murray as his assistant. In one of the volumes in which the results of the voyage are set forth Sir Wyeville (for he had been knighted because of his scientific discoveries) speaks in the highest terms of his young assistant, whose services included not only many investigations independently conducted, but also the laborious and delicate task of labeling, cataloguing, and arranging the countless specimens collected. The Challenger, with half a dozen scientists and a full complement of bluejackets and officers, sailed from Sheerness on Dec. 7, 1872. She returned on May 24th, 1876, having traversed 68,890 nautical miles, and after establishing 362 observing stations. Her main course from the time she left England was down the coast of Spain and Portugal; from Madeira to the West Indies, Bermuda, the Azores, Cape de Verde, the coast of South America; thence across to the Cape of Good Hope; by the Marion Islands and Crozets, Kerguelen Land to Australia, New Zealand, through the Coral Sea and Torres Straits; west between Lambok and Bali; thence through Celebes and Sulu Seas to Manila, east into the Pacific, visiting New Guinea, New Britain and the Solomon Islands, and to Japan; again half round the world and home. Thus it was that Sir John Murray, speaking at London the other day, was able to say that he had visited every British colony.

Gave the World a New Science.

Of the results of the voyage of the Challenger one must be a fellow of the Royal Society to speak with impunity. To attempt the merest summary would be the work of weeks. The magnitude of the task which Sir John Murray was, equally with Sir Wyeville Thompson, instrumental in accomplishing may be gathered from the fact that it took 50 royal quarto volumes to set forth the results. This library is the largest of the kind ever issued. It contains 40 volumes on the zoology of the ocean, three volumes of simple and direct narrative, three volumes of physics and chemistry, two volumes of botany and two volumes of a summary. Altogether the work covers nearly 30,000 pages and 3,000 illustrations. The immense task of preparing the mass of information for publication naturally devolved on Sir Wyeville Thompson, but on his death, when the work was only well begun, Prof. Murray was appointed to assume these duties. This he did, and an idea of the labor necessary is conveyed by the reflection that only in 1896 was the herculean labor accomplished, and the scientific world enriched by a new literature. One may say, without exaggeration, that Sir Wyeville Thompson and Sir John Murray gave to us a new science—oceanography, of which the Canadian is acknowledged the greatest living authority. "The dark, unfathomable caves of the ocean" yielded to him the secrets guarded for millions of years. Well may Canada be proud of this distinguished son.

From Over Study at School.

Mrs. R. Wareham, 267 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., states:

"One of my children suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, and in fact was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles were attributed to over study, and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her as the colour is returning to her face and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

LIVING A LIE.

Those People Who Dress or Live Beyond Their Means.

Dressing or living beyond one's means is nothing less than absolute dishonesty. If you are trying to do what you cannot afford to do, you are living a lie; if you are wearing clothes that you cannot afford, they are perpetual witnesses against you. They are labeled all over with falsehood. If your jewelry, your carriages, your furs and your costly gowns tell me that you are rich when you live in a poverty stricken home and when your mother is obliged to make all sorts of sacrifices to enable you to make this false display, you lie just as surely as you would if you should try to deceive me by your words.

The consciousness of being well dressed and yet owing for it, of riding in carriages which one cannot afford or of patronizing expensive hotels and restaurants which one cannot by any stretch of imagination or sophistry afford, is destructive to self respect, to truth and honesty and to manhood and womanhood. You cannot afford to wear lies or eat lies any more than you can afford to tell lies.

There is only one possible result upon character of falsehoods, whether acted or told, and that is perpetual deterioration and demoralization. No one can act a lie or live a lie without being dishonest. When a man sacrifices his honesty he loses the mainspring of his character, and he cannot be perfectly honest when he is tying by frequenting costly restaurants or hotels, by wearing expensive clothing or by extravagant living when he cannot afford it.—Success.

The Swamp Under St. Petersburg.

"St. Petersburg was once a swamp," says a recent writer, "and so rotten is the ground that it would be quite possible for a monolith (like the sixty foot columns for St. Isaac's) to sink out of sight and never more be heard of. To provide against such contingencies a forest of piles was driven into the earth at the cost of $1,000,000 as the foundation of St. Isaac's, and yet the cathedral sinks. Like causes render the roads of St. Petersburg the worst in Europe. Winter frosts, which penetrate several feet below the surface, seize on the imprisoned waters and tear up the streets. The surface thus broken is so destructive to wheels that I have known an Englishman who, though he kept four carriages, had not one in a condition to use. The jolting on the roads is so great as to make it wise for a traveler to hold on fast, and when a lady and gentleman ride side by side it is usual for the gentleman to protect the lady by throwing his arm round his companion's waist. This delicate attention is so much of a utilitarian necessity as in no way to imply further obligations."

A Deceptive Fish.

A naturalist who is familiar with Ceylon writes: "In the clear water of Colombo harbor it is not uncommon to see fallen and faded leaves of the jak tree floating a short distance below the surface or sinking slowly to the bottom. A certain small fish, commonly known as the sea bat, mimics these leaves, both in form and color, in order to escape detection. Both in shape and color they look when in the water like waterlogged leaves, but when removed from their native element this resemblance is immediately lost. They float in the water half sideways and all swim in the same direction, turning simultaneously. On one occasion Mr. Willey attempted to capture one of these sea bats in a rock pool and directly he made a plunge with the hand net saw nothing except what he took to be a jak leaf slowly and inertly sink to the bottom. To his astonishment, as he withdrew the net, the supposed leaf righted itself and darted away."

Doubtless the mosquito will be more aggressive than ever when he reads that man has declared war on him.

When a man is really anxious to find a good fellow he looks in his mirror.

As it is the unexpected that happens, why not expect the unexpected and thus make it the expected?

HOBBIES ARE GOOD.

They Aid One In Forgetting Sorrow, and They Help Health.

How often does one hear the expression, "Oh, that is So-and-so's hobby," spoken rather disparagingly. It is the tendency of the average mind to regard a person who has a pronounced enthusiasm as a species of harmless lunatic, rather to be pitied. The truth of the matter is that any one who has any especial fad is greatly to be envied, as it probably provides more interest and amusement for its possessor than anything else. Any decided interest in life, whether it is dignified by the name of an occupation or is simply an enthusiasm or even mentioned slightingly as a fad, is eminently desirable.

"I have never seen a genuine collector that is not happy when he is allowed by circumstances to gratify his tastes," remarked a student of human nature, "and a bent in that direction should always be encouraged. It is a curious phase of our humanity that we will work diligently to make provision for our material needs when we are old and quite neglect to store up mental resources that will interest and amuse us until we are called hence."

Hobbies help one to forget sorrow and give us pleasure in the present. They are among the best things in life, promoters of health, peace and happiness.

Greek Sailors.

Sailors of the Grecian archipelago often equip trading schooners on a plan of profit sharing after the custom of New England whalers, and if their venture proves anything like a success they cannot easily be induced to take a berth in the merchant marine of the western nations. They detest subordination, but a chief cause of their preference for home enterprise is the difference of the night watch system. For a week or two a Greek sailor will watch all day and sleep all night—emergencies, of course, excepted—then take his turn at night working and day sleeping. English, French and German captains would dismiss him to his hammock for four hours and then rout him out in the midst of his sweetest sleep. In wages there may be no great difference, but his experience has convinced him that in the long run the long term plan can best be reconciled with perfect health.

SHE SELLS HER SKIN.

One London Surgeon Has Bought Over £200 Worth From Her for Grafting—And There Are Others.

It may not be generally known that there is at the present time a regular traffic in the selling and buying of human skin, said a surgeon in one of the big hospitals to a writer in Tit-Bits. We have on our books the names and addresses of many men and women on whom we can rely for several square inches of cuticle when the necessity arises. These patients, if one may call them so, are by no means among the poor and destitute, as might perhaps, be supposed, but are people occupying an averagely high niche in society, young and, of course, absolutely healthy.

There is one young lady from whom we have bought from time to time over £200 worth of cuticle, and who manages to make a very respectable income by disposing of her fair skin, for she supplies other surgeons besides ourselves.

Only the other day we had to perform an operation on the throat of a young and beautiful leader of society, which was bound to leave an ugly scar unless we could obtain three square inches of absolutely healthy cuticle. Without our knowledge our patient advertised in a medical paper for the required amount of skin, offering £20 per square inch. She received between 400 to 500 replies from men and women in all classes of life, and, fortunately, brought them to me to select from.

Curiously enough I had not opened half a dozen before I recognized the handwriting of the young lady from whom we had already obtained so much cuticle, and I at once advised our patient to accept her offer, which she did. The operation of skin-grafting was a perfect success, and no one, to look at the fair throat of the beautiful woman we had operated on, would believe that a knife had ever been near it.

Sometimes, of course, the necessary amount of flesh tissue required cannot be obtained from one person, and there have been occasions when we have had to requisition every man and woman on our books before securing the needful quantity of cuticle. A month ago a young man was brought into the hospital with half his face terribly scalded. When it was healed we knew there would be a very disfiguring scar unless skin-grafting was resorted to, and although the patient was far too poor to pay for the tissue, we were fortunately able to draw on a special fund which provides for such cases.

Six of our regular "cuticle merchants" were summoned, and from the arms of each we took a certain amount of skin, the half-dozen supplying sufficient to cover the wound left on the youth's cheek by the scald. The operation was a tedious one, but perfectly successful, and there is now nothing to indicate that the lad's cheek has been built up with the skin obtained from six different people.

Sometimes, of course, we can obtain the skin from the patient himself. I remember such a case when I was in attendance at the Exeter Eye Infirmary. There was a young man brought in who had met with a curious accident, whereby he had lost his left eyelid. The eyeball, of course, was exposed, and besides being very unsightly caused the patient considerable pain.

The work of grafting an eyelid is not easy and is very seldom attempted in England. However, Dr. Tosswell, a well-known eye specialist in the west of England, determined to make the attempt, and taking various minute portions of skin from the patient's arm stitched them to what remained of the eyelid. The operation was a fearfully painful one, but the patient stood it excellently, and in eight weeks' time sufficient skin had been grafted to enable the sufferer to close and open his eye with considerable facility.

To give a few inches of skin does not require very much courage—the idea being far worse than the actual cutting. Besides, there is no objection to the victim being placed under the influence of ether if desired, though, curiously enough, it is better that the patient on whom the flesh tissue is to be grafted should be operated on while awake. The after-effects amount to very little, the place from which the skin has been taken being about as sore as a vaccination mark immediately after the operation.

Of course, some patients who enter the hospital for the purpose of undergoing skin-grafting have many friends who are only too willing to supply the needful material, and when they are healthy we allow them to make the sacrifice. No one, however, need ever find any difficulty in obtaining as much cuticle as he or she requires so long as they can pay for it, for there are thousands of people who would gladly part with as much skin as is consistent with safety at prices as low as one shilling the square inch.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use.

When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

Growing Old

Ought not to mean growing weak and feeble. It does not mean weakness or feebleness for those who eat with good appetite and sound digestion. It is of the utmost importance that old people should retain the power to digest and assimilate food which is the sole source of physical strength. When age brings feebleness it is generally because of the failure to assimilate the nutrition contained in food.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food. It invigorates the liver and promotes general physical well being.

"It is with gratitude we acknowledge what Dr. Pierce's medicine has done for grandmother's good, in fact it has cured her," writes Miss Carrie Rankey, of Perrysburg, Ohio. "She had doctored with several physicians but found no relief until Dr. Pierce advised her what to do. She has taken only three bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and is entirely well. She suffered with pain in kidneys, bladder and liver for ten years, and her limbs were swelled with dropsy so bad she could hardly walk. My grandmother's name is Mrs. Caroline Heaney, her age is 71 years. I will gladly answer all letters of inquiry."

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

Danish Peasantry.

The Danish peasantry have a notable love of order and symmetry in household arrangement, placing their furniture wherever possible in pairs and in exactly corresponding positions. One old peasant who had accumulated a little money and had been prevailed upon to buy his daughter a piano seriously considered buying another to place against the opposite wall. Their bedsteads consist of great boxes, generally painted red or green and heaped with feather beds, between which they insinuate themselves winter and summer. If unable to afford so many feathers, the underbed is of straw and receives so little attention that mice build their nests in it and race back and forth squealing shrilly without disturbing the stolid peasant slumbers. The bedding is not washed oftener than once or twice a year.—London Standard.

The Modern Way.

Cast your bread upon the waters,
And unless the storm is rude
It some bright and pleasant morning
May come back as breakfast food.

Not For Many Years.

"This new flying machine they are talking of can be put on the market for $10."

"Yes, it can, but wake up! It won't."

Matter of Spelling.

The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la,
Have little to do with the case.
It's the flour that blooms in the bin, hei ha!
That makes things run smooth round the place.

Might Think Up One.

"Admits that he went through the war as a private and never held a commission."

"But where is his imagination?"

When It Was His Way.

For harmony he took the bun,
His mind ran as a hymn.
He could agree with any one
Who would agree with him.

Disappointed.

"He died of a broken heart."

"Love affair?"

"No; he ran his auto a whole year without killing a man."

Painful Consequences.

She married a dyspeptic
And tried to do her best,
But she was from a cooking school,
And you can guess the rest.

Wise Counsel.

"Don't be too anxious to get a husband," said the wise matron. "Don't go around hunting for one."

"Think I should just sit down and wait for one, eh?" replied the maiden.

Corroborated.

Jones—It is just impossible for me to keep a lead pencil. People are always borrowing, you know, and they always forget to return. Brown—Why, I never have any trouble. See, I've got a whole vest pocketful of pencils. Jones—Doesn't that prove just what I said?

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A wise man will think twice before he disturbs the meditations of a mule.

When a woman has nothing else to do—but come to think of it she never has.

Wise men sometimes marry foolish women because folly is an excellent foil for wisdom and may be taught to burn incense at the shrine thereof.

There are lots of people who would rather wait for a hand out than hustle up a square meal.

The sprinkling cart man assiduously sprinkles your street immediately before a shower and neglects it for days thereafter.

The unmarried woman does not grow old gracefully or any other way.

A rich widow takes her time when she wants to marry again. Also her pick.

There is no need to lock up the amateur who thinks he can make money raising chickens. He is harmless.

Putting the Best Foot Forward.

When a chap is peart an' smilin',
Sort o' cheery in his way,
With an air that's smooth, beguilin'
When he's anything to say,
You will find, without a doubt,
He's the chap that's winnin' out.

He's not smilin' cause he's winnin',
Not a bit, but just cause he,
Up to date from the beginnin',
Had a habit of it, see?
Kind of got a grin a-goin'
So's to be a good front showin'.

Don't let on when things don't please him.
Keeps a-smilin' every day.
When misfortune tries to squeeze him
Sort o' ducks an' slips away,
Stiffens up his lip and grins
Waitin' till good luck begins.

He's the chap that wins out easy;
Anyway, it has that look.
He's so smilin', light an' breezy
That he gets there, hook or crook,
Just because he knows enough
Always to put up a bluff.

The Educated Hog.

Here is the ed-u-cat-ed hog. He can read and spell and do sim-ple sums. He is al-most hu-man, but not quite. He does not trav-el first class and try to oc-cu-py three seats when he has paid for but one. Per-haps his ed-u-ca-tion has been neg-lect-ed in that par-tic-u-lar, and it may be that he hasn't the price. He will not be butch-ered like oth-er hogs, be-cause he is too val-u-a-ble, and will prob-a-bly die a nat-u-ral death. This teach-es us that an ed-u-ca-tion some-times pro-longs life.

Dangers of the Sea.

The fourth day a perfect mountain of water, the biggest sea I have ever seen in all my life, came towering up and fell on the Roddam. I thought she was foundered, but she shook it off, and we saw that the after deck house and the hand steering gear had been carried away as clean as cutting off the top of a cake. A piece of the truck had got jammed in the wheel chains, and the next bash the rudder got broke the chains. In half a minute we were wallowing helplessly in the trough of the sea, and I knew that another big sea would end the chapter. Getting the men together, I made a try at getting the chain picked up and spliced. The steward, who was a brave lad, went over the side and got up the loose end. We had tied ourselves together for the work, and that was all that kept us from being washed overboard. In a few minutes we had connected up the chain with a strong strap and were ready to get back amidships when the wreck of the hand steering gear, which was swinging free, came clipping around and caught the steward's leg, taking it off like a butcher chops off a bone.—Metropolitan Magazine.

Gifts at Baptism.

Gifts to infants on their baptism are of ancient origin. Formerly the sponsors generally offered gilt spoons to the child. These spoons were called apostle spoons, because the figures of the twelve apostles were carved at the top of the handles. Rich sponsors gave the complete set of twelve, while for those who were not so opulent four was considered the proper number, and poor sponsors would content themselves with offering one. In the latter case the handle of the spoon generally exhibited the figure of any saint in honor of whom the child received its name. It is in allusion to this custom that, when Cranmer professes himself to be unworthy of being sponsor to the young princess, Shakespeare makes the king reply:

"Come, come, my lord, you'd spare your spoons."

The mug or spoon and fork offering of the present day appears as a very debased survival of a really beautiful christening offering.—Westminster Review.

The American Honeymoon.

Faithful in few things the American public yet remains true to an old honeymoon tradition which assigns those to whom Europe is an impossible expense to Niagara Falls and Washington, the national capital. In these two centers bridal parties have been since long before the civil war the pride and the prey of hotel men and cabmen. Modern maids may consider them a little old fashioned, but when the time comes to choose a wedding tour the west, the middle west and the rural east of the United States are still true to Niagara Falls and Washington. It is in the spring and summer, when of course the larger number of marriages take place, that these resorts are so popular. In the winter New York itself is the Mecca of the newly wed.—London Telegraph.

Early Horse Race Prizes.

Prizes for winners of horse races hundreds of years ago took curious forms. The earliest was the "brigila d'or," or golden bridle. After this the prize in England was a bell. This idea was taken from the custom among owners of pack horses of decorating the best horse, which led the cavalcade, with a bell, so that on dark nights and in dangerous places the whereabouts of the leader might be known and the others follow boldly. At Carlisle, silver bells were raced for by the moss troopers and dalesmen and specimens of these bells are still retained in the town hall.

Few Solid Gold Dinner Services.

They say it is all nonsense talking of solid gold dinner services, for there are not more than three or four of them in the world, and they are too small for use in a party of any size. In many large houses in England and also in the United States a quantity of silver gilt plate, which looks precisely the same, is in use, but the feeling prevails that silver gilt is not as "becoming" to other table furniture as pure, dazzling silver plate and that it must be displayed with great discretion.

Killing Rare Birds.

Commenting on the craze for killing rare birds wherever they may be found, a writer in London Truth says: "I should have thought that the fact that a bird is rare would be reason for not killing it. I suppose the idea is that, however rare a bird is, something may still be done to make him rarer."

A Comet.

The following whimsical account of the nature of a splendid comet is given in an old French military journal: "It is a parcel of old stars who, being no longer fit for service, have been discharged on half pay and, to save expense, have agreed to mess together."

The Test.

Adorer—You still doubt me? Test my love. Bid me attack wild beasts, defy savages, find the north pole, descend into a volcano—anything, no matter what, I will do it. Doubting Girl—Go ask papa.

The Cynic.

"Married yet, old man?"

"No, but I'm engaged, and that's as good as married."

"It's better, if you only knew it."

No Hustler.

"He has a head for business, and yet he doesn't succeed."

"That is because he has no feet for it."

OLD COUNTY RESIDENT DIED THIS MORNING.

Death of John Torpey at the Age of 90 Years.

One of the many old residents of Peterborough County, John Torpey, died this morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. William O'Brien, East Ward. The deceased gentleman had reached the ripe old age of 90 years, and his vitality and activeness up to the past few months have been something remarkable. During the summer he became weaker, and has been confined to his bed for some months. His death was due to old age.

The late Mr. Torpey was born in Cork, Ireland, in the year 1814, and came to Canada with his parents in 1825, settling in Douro, at that time only a few log houses comprising what is now the town of Peterborough. His father was a farmer, and on becoming of age the deceased also followed the life of a farmer, and had a most successful farm in Douro, where he lived until about three years ago, when he came to the East Ward and lived with his daughter. His wife predeceased him by about four years, and he leaves four daughters and one son, a daughter, Mrs. Condon, having predeceased him. The daughters are Mrs. S. Mahoney, of Chandos, Mrs. M. Foley of Dummer, Mrs. J. O'Brien, Albert street, Peterborough, Mrs. W. O'Brien, East Ward, Peterborough. The sons are Eugene of Toronto, William, of Beaverton, and Patrick, of the East Ward, Peterborough.

In 1837, at the time of the Mackenzie Rebellion in Toronto, the deceased was one of the few who marched from Peterborough to Toronto to take part in the affair. His associates on that occasion are now dead. He was always an active and energetic man, and until his death his mind was bright and his intellect clear.

Upon going to press the arrangements for the funeral had not been completed.

HIS LORDSHIP AT SAULT STE. MARIE.

Bishop O'Connor Will Be at the "Soo" Next Sunday.

The Sault Ste. Marie News says: "Bishop O'Connor of Peterborough, will be in the Soo next Sunday. In the morning he will conduct the service of confirmation of members of the congregation of the Sacred Heart church, and in the afternoon he will conduct similar services at St. Ignatius church. In the evening he will officiate at the blessing of the new bell to be placed in the tower of the Sacred Heart church. The bell will be placed in position the following day."

SIMPSON WILL PLAY WITH PETERBORO'

The Star Half Back Decides to Play With the Locals.

Will Greatly Strengthen the Team—Last Night's Fine Practice—Saturday's Match.

Ben Simpson will figure at centre half back on the Peterborough Rugby Club this season. Arrangements to this effect were completed this morning and Simpson will not go to Hamilton until Monday morning. He will attend the Normal School there but owing to a clause in the O.R.F.U. constitution, he is permitted to play with his home club. He will play on the local team in all the remaining games. Simpson is recognized as being one of the best centre halves in the business, having figured on the Queen's senior team for four seasons. This decision of Simpson's to play with the local team will be hailed with delight by all rugby enthusiasts and the prospects for the season are much brighter as a result. The team will be much stronger than last year.

RUGBY.

The first night practice of the rugby players was held last night at the Driving Park and was largely attended. The field was well lighted and the boys had a great workout. Signals were practised with good results and it was evident that the team is going to work in fine order. All the seniors with the exception of Simpson were out and showed up splendidly. The management was greatly pleased with the practice and a spirit of confidence prevails that the boys will take the Strong Argonauts in camp on Saturday.

The following were out last night: R. Craig, Hurtubise, Rickey, B. Cameron, Gilbert, Morgan, Scriver. J. O'Brien, Dillon, Noble, Hubbs, F. Burnham, Green, Ford, Walkey, Crowley, Meagher, Shaw, A. Gillespie.

Gilbert's tackling last night was splendid and he is improving at each practice.

A full practice will take place this evening after which a meeting will be held in the Y.M.C.A. which all players are asked to attend.

• • • •

To-night's practice is called for 7.30 sharp.

• • • •

The team for Saturday will be chosen at to-night's meeting.

• • • •

With Hardisty, Darling, Joe Wright and others of the old guard not available for service this year, the prospects of the Argonauts did not look any too good when the team commenced practice. But for all that there is every probability that the Scullers will have a first-class twelve this year. At last night's practice there was an excellent turnout. Many intermediate players and quite a few seniors were in line. Among those at the practice were:—Phil Boyd, Wesley Wilson, Hugh Hoyles, Trimmer, Grey, Climie, Bob Brant, Inglis, Ross, Murphy, Partridge, McCarthy, and many others. Irving Ardagh has promised to again lend his assistance to the Scullers, and he will be in uniform this evening. In the absence of Hamber, who is at present in Winnipeg, Ardagh will captain the team. "Boxby" Russell will play at scrap-back and great things are expected of him this year. Climie of the Winnipeg Shamrocks, a half-back, is a fine punt and a good all-round man. He should make the team easily. Grey played outside wing for McGill University last year, and in addition to being a fast runner is a splendid tackle. Wilson, Ross, Murphy, Russell, Hoyles, Boyd, Grey, Reiffenstein, Dennison of U. C. C., McCarty, of Woodstock College, to choose from, the Scullers should have a formidable wing line. For the back division there are Bob Grant of last year's Toronto, Trimmer, Ardagh, Climie and Partridge. A strong team will be sent down to Peterborough on Saturday.—Globe.

• • • •

Saturday's big game is called for 3.30 o'clock. There will be a five minute street car service to the Driving Park.

• • • •

Last night's practice was a corker.

• • • •

The juniors are showing up splendidly and it will keep some of last year's seniors hustling to hold their places.

• • • •

Alex. Gillespie was tried at quarter last night and did splendid work. He may be given a trial on Saturday.

• • • •

Capt. Crowley will likely be back on the wing line on Saturday.

FOOTBALL.

The Bridgenorth Football team was the only team which entered the competition for the Hall cup to be donated to the team winning the game to be played at the fair. The Bridgenorth team was on the ground in uniform Tuesday afternoon prepared to play but no team appeared to oppose them, consequently no game was played. The Bridgenorth team now claims the cup.

• • • •

The rugby practice to-night will be held from 7 to 8 o'clock. Tickets will be issued to those wishing to practice in the Y. M. C. A.

Guilty of Murder.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—The jury which inquired into the death of Marcus H. Perryman at the Dunn avenue crossing brought in a verdict that the evidence shows that the said crossing is a most dangerous one, and that "in the opinion of this jury whoever is responsible for the public safety, whether it be the Mayor, the Board of Control or the City Council, is morally, even if not legally, guilty of murder; and further, that the mayor should immediately cause gates to be erected at Dunn avenue crossing, and maintained at the city's expense if necessary."

TO-DAY'S NEWS ON STOCK MARKET

The following review of to-day's market was received by Messrs. W. F. Dever & Co., Stock and Bond Brokers. Phone 416.

New York, Sept. 29th, noon letter.—At opening market was very active and first quotations were rather too good to last. Stocks steadied a little in first minutes, but continued to show strength although buying seem to be circulated in very few hands. C. & W. opened 1-2 higher but lost 1 and 1-2 points by noon. It then firmed up a little. The 3 per cent. dividend on this stock is looked on with suspicion, as many claim the road don't earn it. Steel pfd was strong on opening, selling as high as 73, but subsequently selling off to 71 and 5-8. The strength of last couple of days in this stock is explained by rumored Sewab buying 20,000 shares around 68 and 69 and is also said some prominent Pittsburg operators also bought freely around 70. The grain roads did not show much strength with exception of St. Paul and Wabash pfd. Reading was again strong on the good demand for anthracite coal from the west. Canadian Pacific and Twin City showed good strength, C.P.R. selling at 130 1-8 and Twin City 109 1-2. Sales to noon showed up a little better than yesterday amounting to 402,900. Grain opened fairly strong but irregular and nkt very active. Liverpool closing 3-8 higher.

No More Operations.

The day of operations for piles is past for all who know of the efficacy of Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for this horrible ailment. It doesn't matter what form of piles you have, so long as you use Dr. Chase's Ointment carefully and plentifully, it will soon bring relief and cure. Ask your friends and neighbours what they know about this preparation.

PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED

NOMINATIONS OCTOBER 27th
ELECTIONS NOVEMBER 3rd

ELECTION DAY, NOV. 3

Dissolution of 9th Parliament Announced at Ottawa.

A CAMPAIGN OF FIVE WEEKS

Sir Richard Cartwright Appointed to the Senate—Judicial Appointments—Sir Napoleon Casault Retires—Mr. Justice Routhier New Chief Justice—Sir A. P. Pelletier Appointed to the Bench.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—The flag has dropped and the horses are off. The ninth Parliament of Canada was yesterday afternoon formally dissolved, and has passed into history. Nominations of candidates for the new House will be received on October 27th, and polling is to take place on November 3rd. The elections are thus within four days of the polling in 1900. The final details of dissolution were settled yesterday afternoon. The Cabinet had a sitting from 11.30 until 1.30 p.m., and again in the afternoon from 4 until 5.30 o'clock. At 5.15 the Prime Minister left his colleagues, and proceeded to Rideau Hall, carrying with him a minute of Council which recommended that His Excellency dissolve Parliament. In this the Governor-General was pleased to concur. Accordingly the dissolution of Parliament is proclaimed, and the writs are issued for a new election. The announcement of the date of the elections was "a free-for-all." No secret was made of the information, and it was in everybody's possession last night. This is in marked contrast with the procedure on such occasions in the past.

Senator Cartwright.

Concurrent with the termination of the ninth Parliament's existence comes the passing from the House of Sir Richard Cartwright's powerful personality. The Minister of Trade and Commerce was yesterday appointed to the seat in the Upper House vacated by the death of Senator Alkins. Months ago Sir Richard made public his intention not again to seek the suffrages of the people of North Oxford. Now he has gone from the popular Chamber to the Senate. The House of Commons will greatly miss the "hero of many fights," who, ever since confederation, whether in Opposition or on the Treasury benches, has exercised a remarkable influence in its affairs; but the Commoners' loss will be the Senators' gain.

Judicial Appointments.

The judicial appointments forecasted a few days since also went into effect yesterday. Sir Napoleon Casault, Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Quebec, retires on full salary, to become Chairman of the Commission to revise the Provincial statutes. Mr. Justices Routhier is advanced to the Chief Justiceship, and is succeeded by Sir A. P. Pelletier. The latter gave up a Senatorship to become a Judge. His seat in the Upper House has been given to Mr. Choquette, who represented Montmagny for many years, but in 1901 was appointed Judge for the district of Athabaska. Mr. Choquette has tired of the Bench, and recurns to the glamor of political life. As a political speaker Mr. Choquette used to be a perfect whirlwind, and carried everything before him. Another judicial appointment is that of Dr. Russell, to be appointed to the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, which is now practically assured. Dr. Russell's disappearance from the House of Commons will be a decided loss. He had few equals as a keen, incisive and luminous speaker, and at all times commanded a ready hearing.

The date of polling, No. 3, is later than usual, though not as late as it was in 1900, when it was Nov 7. Previous elections for the House of Commons have been held on the following dates: 1867, Aug. 7—Sept. 20, 1872, July 20; 1874, Jan. 22; 1878, Sept. 17; 1882, June 20; 1887, Feb. 22; 1891, March 5; 1896, June 23.

MR. BORDEN'S PLEDGE.

Will Get Out of the Government If Colleagues Won't Stand By Public Ownership—News of Dissolution.

Napanee, Ont., Sept. 30.—(Globe Special.)—A firm declaration of his adherence to a tariff for the manufacturers was Mr. R. L. Borden's answer last night to a communication from an association of farmers, who asked a pledge that candidates should not favor a tariff discriminating against the farmer, and in favor of the manufacturer. Mr. Borden in a sense qualified his declaration by a previous explanation, in which he contended that adequate protection would benefit the farmers, by enlarging their home market. Another interesting feature of the Opposition leader's speech was his declaration that if returned to power, and his colleagues would not stand by Government ownership, then he would get out of the Government. Last night's meeting was in the interest of Mr. Uriah Wilson, the Conservative candidate in Lennox and Addington, and was well attended and attentive.

News of Dissolution.

News of the dissolution of the House of Commons came to Mr. R. L. Borden last night, in a telegram from a friend at Ottawa, which he read at his meeting, announcing polling for Nov. 3rd. The news was heard by the audience without demonstration. Later Mr. Borden was asked what effect the dissolution would have on his tour. He said it would shorten his plans originally made, and abbreviate his stay in Ontario somewhat. He intended going to Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, but would not be able to go to the Northwest again this time. "Do you intend going on speaking until election day?" he was asked. "Yes, or until I drop," he replied laughing. It might be added that Mr. Borden is standing the campaign well, and seems no less fit than the day he entered Ontario, over two weeks ago.

Will Fight On.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 29.—Notwithstanding the general feeling of satisfaction in Uruguay over the conclusion of a treaty of peace between the Government and the revolutionists, eight revolutionary leaders, including two members of the family of the late General Aparicio Saraiva, have announced that they decline to recognize the action of Gen. Munoz, who claimed to act for the revolutionists, and that they will continue hostilities.

Hooley Goes For Trial.

London, Sept. 30.—Ernest Terah Hooley, the company promoter, who was arrested in London May 10 last on the charge of conspiracy to defraud, and Henry J. Lawson, another company promoter, who was taken into custody the same day in connection with the charge against Hooley, were yesterday committed for trial.

Great Fair At Whitby.

Whitby, Sept. 30.—Despite bad weather, the second day of the model fair was a big success, several thousands being in attendance. Mr. Miller of Brome, Quebec, a director of the Great Eastern Townships Fair, came all the way to study the experimental plots and expressed himself as greatly pleased.

Russian Minister of the Interior Makes An Impression.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—The speech of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, Russian Minister of the Interior, at his reception of the officials of the Ministry of the Interior yesterday afternoon, is bound to produce a deep impression in Russia, and be interpreted as the harbinger of a mild and broad regime. It has a ring which will be welcomed by the Liberals.

While not going into details, it practically reiterates what the minister said to the Associated Press at Vilna, Sept. 23, about the Emperor's manifesto furnishing the guiding spirit of his administration. The following words are considered to be a direct appeal to the people to have trust in his regime:

"It is my deep conviction that the fruitfulness of the work of the Government is based upon the sincere good-will and sincere confidence which knits its relations to the social class, the institutions and the people in general."

Armenians Killed By Kurds.

Paris, Sept. 30.—The Temps yesterday afternoon published a despatch from Constantinople saying that private information had been received there to the effect that the Village of Ramsa, Armenia, was Wednesday the scene of a massacre of Armenians by Kurds. Details are lacking.

U.S. Battleship Launched.

New York, Sept. 30.—The U. S. battleship Connecticut was launched at 11.16 yesterday.

Killed By a Train.

Shelburne, Sept. 30. — Richard Banks, a farmer, was killed here Wednesday night. It is supposed that he was run over by the 8.43 express and his body carried from the station yard to where it was found. Coroner Steele was notified and the remains were gathered up and conveyed to the Town Hall. He leaves a wife and large family.

Brakeman Meets Death.

Milton, Sept. 30.—By the spreading of the rails a southbound freight was wrecked on the Grand Trunk about a mile above Milton. Five cars were derailed, two falling into the creek. In the wreck was found the body of Brakeman Loomis, badly mangled, the wheels having passed over his head.

Senator Hoar Dead.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 30.—Senator Hoar died this morning at 1.49. He was 78 years of age, having been born at Concord, Mass., in 1826. He has represented the Republican party of Massachusetts in the United States Senate since 1877. He was known as an independent man.

National Council of Women.

Winnipeg, Sept. 30.—The proceedings of the National Council of Women of Canada concluded with the election of officers as follows: National president, Mrs. Thompson, St. John, N.B.; elected vice-presidents, Lady Laurier, Ottawa; Lady Taylor and Mrs. Sanford, Hamilton; provincial vice-presidents: Nova Scotia, Mrs. R. L. Borden; Prince Edward Island, Mrs. Anderson; New Brunswick, Lady Tilley; Quebec, Madame Dandurand; Ontario, Mrs. Hoodless; Manitoba, Mrs. McEwan; Northwest Territories, Mrs. Edwards; British Columbia, Mrs. McLagan; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Whitoughby Cummings; recording secretary, Miss Darrich; treasurer, Mrs. Frost. It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Charlottetown, P. E. I., June or July, 1905.

Tramp Left Fire Behind.

St. Catharines, Sept. 30.—Isaac Ziebler was brought to the jail here last night by Constable Tufford of Beamsville, charged with incendiarism. Wednesday Ziebler, who appears to be an ordinary tramp, went to James Walker's fruit farm just south of Beamsville and applied for a job as farm hand. He was engaged, but later was discharged, and as he went away he was heard to remark: "I'll come back and burn your barn for you." Mr. Walker went to the Beamsville fair. About 10 o'clock it was discovered that the barn was on fire. It is said that he has admitted his guilt.

Standing Treaty of Arbitration.

Boston, Sept. 30.—The Boston Chamber of Commerce received a cablegram yesterday afternoon from the Associated Chambers of Commerce, to the effect that the organization had just passed a unanimous resolution in favor of a standing treaty of arbitration with the United States. The cablegram was signed by Sir William Holland, M.P., the president of the British Chambers. The Boston Chamber sent a cordial response.

Another club woman, Mrs. Haule, of Edgerton, Wis., tells how she was cured of irregularities and uterine trouble, terrible pains and backache, by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—A while ago my health began to fail because of female troubles. The doctor did not help me. I remembered that my mother had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on many occasions for irregularities and uterine troubles, and I felt sure that it could not harm me at any rate to give it a trial.

"I was certainly glad to find that within a week I felt much better, the terrible pains in the back and side were beginning to cease, and at the time of menstruation I did not have nearly as serious a time as heretofore, so I continued its use for two months, and at the end of that time I was like a new woman. I really have never felt better in my life, have not had a sick headache since, and weigh 20 pounds more than I ever did, so I unhesitatingly recommend your medicine."—MRS. MAY HAULE, Edgerton, Wis., Pres. Household Economics Club

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly, and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass. No woman ever regretted having written her, and she has helped thousands.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Frances Cook, Box 670, Kane, Pa., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for ten years with leucorrhœa, but am glad to say that through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her Sanative Wash I am cured, for which I am very thankful."

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1904.

A FALSE CHARGE REFUTED

From the last source from which such kind of criticism could consistently be expected, come wild Conservative charges of Liberal Government extravagance of expenditure. A Conservative campaign document prints in flaring type the Consolidated Fund expenditure in the last fifteen years to show that Liberals have been "grossly extravagant and wasteful." In the last full year of Conservative rule 1895-6 it was $37,000,000, in 1903 $52,000,000, therefore the Government is wasting $15,000,000 a year. Let us briefly point out what has resulted from this extra outlay—see what value has been received, what resources have been available, to show whether the increased expenditure has been "extravagant" or in every way justifiable.

First—The gross foreign trade of Canada has risen from $239,000,000 in 1896, the last Conservative year, to $467,000,000. It is now four times greater than it was in 1868. To put it in another way, the gross foreign trade during the last seven years of Conservative rule, 1890-96, was $1,230,000,000, whilst for the seven years, 1897-1903, of Liberal rule it has been 900,000.

Second—Population has greatly increased since 1896; immigration was never so large and the exodus has practically ceased. Meanwhile a very considerable movement of Americans into Canada has set in. Down to June 30, last, the American immigrants to the Canadian Northwest numbered 165,000. All that country is being rapidly settled up, and as its population grows the demand for factory goods and general merchandise from the older provinces increases.

Third—Liberals have added to and improved the Intercolonial, the betterments helping indirectly to promote interprovincial trade, which was never so great in the history of the country.

Fourth—They have improved the St. Lawrence route, are now providing a channel 30 feet deep between tidewater and Montreal, have built canals west of Montreal, and constructed minor works of various kinds at other points, all with the view of cheapening transportation rates and so increasing the selling value of Canadian products.

Fifth—They have opened the Yukon, preserved order there and aided in establishing another market for Eastern goods.

Sixth—The abounding prosperity is due, of course, to natural causes; but Liberals can justly claim credit for having, by a wise readjustment of the tariff and other measures, allowed industry full play and done all that could have been done by human means to advance the general interests of the country.

Seventh—They have arranged for the construction of a second transcontinental road, which will cost the taxpayer little, ensure competition and lower rates, and open the back country of the older Provinces as well as a new country in the West. From being on a side street when the Liberals came in, Canada has leaped to a front street; and under the same wise and progressive rule is bound to grow apace in future.

Eighth—Notwithstanding the heavy expenditures occasioned by this general boom, the national debt has been kept down by surplus. In the last five years of Conservative rule, '91-95, when the country was stagnating, it rose from $236,000,000 to $258,000,000, while in the last five years of Liberal rule 1898-1903, with everything and everybody prospering the national debt has fallen from $254,000,000 to $252,000,000.

Who, then, would want to return to the old days when the Conservatives legislated chiefly for themselves and their friends; when depression was the rule and people moved out, and the rest of us spent the time largely in sectional and sectarian quarrels?

PREMIER'S SPEECH

Sir Wilfrid Produced an Impression in Britain and Europe.

THE GRAND TRUNK MEETING

Resolution to Purchase the Canada Atlantic Railway Passed By the shareholders—Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson Says Mr. Borden's Attitude on the Grand Trunk Pacific Is a Surprise.

London, Sept. 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Morning Post says Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply to the latest of Lord Rosebery's occasional speeches has produced a great impression, not only in Britain but also in Europe. Distinguished German and French statesmen see a similar trend of events in Mr. Chamberlain's scheme, which has enabled that statesman to achieve new greatness. In the United States, Germany and Japan, it is impossible to avoid sympathizing with British Cobdenites over Sir Wilfrid's defection, whose undue caution when he might have spoken out a year ago has been one of their chief assets. The Post declares that the Canadian Premier's utterance has released a volume of latent sympathy with Mr. Chamberlain's policy remarkable among which is Mr. Belcourt's statement concerning the disinclination towards American reciprocity.

THE G. T. R. MEETING.

Resolution to Buy the Canada Atlantic Railway Passed—Mr. Borden's Attitude On G.T.P. a Surprise.

London, Sept. 30.—(C.A.P.)—The semi-annual meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday was largely attended. Sir Rivers-Wilson, presiding, said that the almost uninterrupted progress of the railway during the past eight years had during the past half year ended June 30, received a temporary check, but he expressed confidence that the check was only temporary. He blamed the severity of the weather for the falling off in freight traffic, and the enormous amount of snow blocking the country roads, and thus preventing the farmers bringing in freight. The removal of snow during the half year cost £80,846, a sum never before approached in the history of the company. The Chairman quoted the figures of the Canadian Pacific Railway and other railways, as showing that the G. T. R. was not alone in the increase of expenditure. The prospects, however, were bright, as a bumper corn harvest in the United States and a heavy wheat harvest in Canada prophesied a period of great commercial activity in these countries.

Mr. Borden a Surprise.

Referring to Mr. R. L. Borden's opposition to the Grand Trunk Pacific, Sir Charles said it was not one of hostility, but of urging the adoption of a system of Government-owned railways. Mr. Borden's opposition was a great surprise, as other Conservative leaders, Sir Charles Tupper and Sir John A. Macdonald, had been against the system of State ownership. Mr. Borden's threat of exappropriation, though possibly legally right, and not breaking contract, is a declaration that does not tend to uphold the dignity of the Government. Mr. E. B. Osler, said Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, has launched out in considerable abuse, and had uttered threats against the Chairman, but Sir Charles claimed that the G. T. R. had always held aloof from politics in Canada.

The resolution adopting the report and accounts was carried unanimously.

Purchase of Canada Atlantic.

On the resolution for the acquisition of the Canada Atlantic Railway there was a somewhat heated discussion. A shareholder moved an amendment that it be postponed until the next meeting, but the amendment was lost. Sir Charles stated that the resolution for acquisition must be voted on at the present meeting as an answer was required within twenty days. He regretted that he was unable to take the shareholders into his confidence as he would like, but if it was postponed it meant abandoning the idea altogether. Finally the resolution was put and carried.

The resolution asking approval for the purchase of the Canada Atlantic Railway by the Grand Trunk was based upon a guarantee of $16,000,000 of 4 per cent. 50-year gold bonds, a portion of which will remain in the treasury for development purposes.

Seal's Disease.

The Finance News referring to the Grand Trunk Railway meeting, says that Mr. Seal, the spokesman of the opposition, was suffering acutely from diarrhoea verborum, and tied himself up in tangled and contradictory nonsense with vague suggestions that something was wrong in the system. He received support from the invariably few shareholders who will not take the trouble to listen to explanations from the president. The News scores Colonel Stewart, who seconded the motion for delay for looking askance on competition between railways when rivalry means the opening up of a land of promise.

Trying to Rosebery.

London, Sept. 30.—(C.A.P.)—Referring to Lord Rosebery quoting the fourth resolution of the Colonial Premiers Conference of 1902 in proof that no offer was made Capt. G. Tryon, writing to The Times, refers Lord Rosebery to resolutions 3 and 5 of the conference.

Case of Cheese.

London, Sept. 30.—(C.A.P.)—On the calling of the resummons against a Hastings firm of grocers for alleged selling of margarine instead of cheese, Counsel F. Beck, on behalf of the Grocers' Federation, asked that a third sample be sent to the Government laboratory. The Canadian Government desired the fullest enquiry and Canadian witnesses would give evidence that the cheese was purchased by the defendants from the largest importers of Canadian cheese in London and sold it in exactly the same state as when shipped. The magistrates granted the application made for the defence and the case was set for Nov. 24.

Labor to Labor.

London, Sept. 30.—(C.A.P.)—John Burns, M.P., and R. Bell, M.P., two British labor leaders, appeal to the Australian labor party to respect the decision of the English workers as expressed at the recent Trades Union Congress, declaring their hostility to Mr. Chamberlain's food tax proposals.

Canada and the Empire.

London, Sept. 30.—(C. A. P.)—The Association of Chambers of Commerce, in session at Manchester, gave a cordial reception to Alex. McFee, of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce. Mr. McFee said the questions engaging attention in Canada were how to increase not only the trade of Canada but of the Empire. They were endeavoring to strengthen in every possible way the bonds uniting the colony and the Motherland, and were constructing commercial highways which would ensure that trade would not pass north and south but west and east, thence to the Motherland. The Canadian Government sought guidance in fiscal matters from Canadian Boards of Trade. Sir Wilfrid Laurier the other day had not spoken in advance of public opinion, but in response to it.

DECIDED TO APPEAL.

Voiding of the North York Election—Mr. Davis' "Personal" Knowledge.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Hon. E. J. Davis, Commissioner of Crown Lands, stated yesterday that he had instructed his counsel to enter an appeal to-day from the judgment of Chancellor Boyd and Mr. Justice Teetzel, voiding the North York election. Mr. Davis was unseated on the ground that W. J. Robinson, reported in the North Grey election trial for hiring a conveyance in which "mixed" voters were drawn to the poll, was employed in the North York campaign, contrary to the statute. The main argument will be on the point whether Mr. Davis had "personal knowledge" of Robinson's presence in the riding within the meaning of the act.

Sentenced to 19 Years Imprisonment.

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The four Italians who robbed Paymaster Orson C. Longyear of the Hudson River Bluestone Co., near Kingston, June 23, securing $2,600, were each sentenced by Judge Van Etton last night to 19 years' imprisonment at Dannemora. Salvatore Congoso fell insensible when the court's sentence was interpreted to him. The others received their sentences stoically.

JAPS ON TO MUKDEN

Da Pass and a Number of Other Positions Taken.

ST. PETERSBURG IS ANXIOUS

No Serious Attempt to Be Made to Hold Mukden—Main Force of Russian Army Has Retired North of the Sacred City—Japanese Attack On Mukden Now Stated to Be Nov. 4.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—The absence of the Emperor, who has gone to Odessa, is causing an even greater dearth of official news from the front than has been experienced heretofore.

Communication with Mukden has been practically suspended and St. Petersburg is therefore suffering another period of anxiety and suspense, just when the intimation had been given that important developments were imminent between the armies of Kuropatkin and Oyama. Port Arthur is more isolated than ever and the only news from that place comes by way of Vladivostock. It contains, however, the hopeful intimation that the garrison is confident of being able to hold out until the first of the year.

Russians Leaving Mukden.

London, Sept. 30.—Telegraphing from Newchwang, Sept. 20, The Daily Mail's correspondent says: "The main force of the Russian army has retired to the north of Mukden. Strong bodies of troops have been thrown out to defend both flanks, and the southern approaches to the city have been carefully mined. The indications are that no serious attempt will be made to hold Mukden."

Attack Mukden Nov. 4.

London, Sept. 30.—There is again to-day a noteworthy absence of news from the Far East, accompanied by the activity usual in such cases of rumors concerning the condition of Port Arthur. Reports from Chinese sources at Harbin fix Nov. 4 as the date for a Japanese attack on Mukden. The Daily Telegraph's Shanghai correspondent gives a vivid account of terrible ravages of beriberi among the Japanese, and especially among those besieging Port Arthur, asserting that deaths from disease exceed the number of those killed in the fighting. The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Sinmintin learns that on an average 150 railroad trucks per month are reaching there laden with supplies for the Russians.

Japs Capture Da Pass.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 30.—News has been received here from Mukden to the effect that the Japanese have at last begun the offensive. They have captured Da Pass and are pressing on General Kuropatkin's left flank. The War Office is unable to confirm this officially, because Kuropatkin's despatches are following the Emperor, but the Associated Press is informed by the general staff that all indications point to the news being correct.

It is believed the Russian abandoned Da Pass without serious resistance. Several other passes of the Da range, eastward of Bentsiaputze, twenty miles southeast of Mukden, are also in the hands of the Japanese.

Kuropatkin is evidently drawing in his forces to the less mountainous country northwestward, where he may decide to give battle. In the meanwhile, sharp fighting is regarded as imminent southeast of Mukden, whence the Japanese are expected to deliver their main attack, the flank movement from the west being of secondary importance.

Increased By 200,000.

Tokio, Sept. 30.—The emergency ordinance amending the army conscription law was gazetted yesterday. It extends the service of the second reservists from five to ten years and abolishes the distinction between the first and second reserve conscripts. Reservists will be retired at the age of 37.

A contemplated increase in the army involves a new scheme of divisional organization, the plan of which has not yet been disclosed.

At the Foreign Office last evening it was stated that the new conscription regulations will augment the available Japanese fighting force by about 200,000 men.

Learn By Reference.

Mukden, Sept. 30.—Gen. Kuropatkin has issued an order of the day to the officers on the lessons of the ten days' fighting at Liaoyang, pointing out the shortcomings of both armies, as exposed by the battle.

Japs Falling Before Disease.

Tie Pass, Sept. 30.—The Japanese armies around Liaoyang are reported to be decimated by epidemic due to decaying corpses.

Forgery Charge Dismissed.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—Michael Scharf of Baden appeared before Magistrate Weir yesterday morning on a charge of forgery. It was alleged that he had forged the name of A. Wagler to two notes, one for $156.50, and another for $80, made out in favor of Oliver Master of Berlin. The Crown did not appear to prosecute and he was accordingly dismissed.

NO BLAME ATTACHED TO CHIEF ROSZEL.

Committee Appointed to Investigate George Cowling's Death so Reported.

Thorough Investigation Into Death of Late Chief Ranger of I. O. F., Court Chemong.

At the regular monthly meeting of Court Chemong, I.O.F., held last night, the committee appointed to investigate the circumstances connected with the death of Mr. George Cowling, late Chief Ranger of the Court, reported. The facts learned and reported by this committee are sent to the Examiner over the signatures of A. Allison, P.C.R., and J. W. Buyers, R.S., of the Court, and are as follows:—

Our committee appointed to investigate into the circumstances connected with the death of the late George F. Cowling have reported to the Court as follows: We find that the deceased George F. Cowling on the forenoon of Thursday, September 22nd, while engaged as a carpenter at Meldrum's new mill, fell from the top of a part of the building and received injuries which at the time were thought by himself and fellow-workmen to be slight, but which afterwards proved to be fatal. We find that the deceased set out to walk from the mill towards Dr. Greer's office, but when in front of Cavanagh's hotel on Simcoe street, he fell from the sidewalk, but managed to rise again and go a short distance when he again fell unconscious at the side of the wooden bridge. Chief Roszel at this time received a telephone message that a man was lying in front of Cavanagh's hotel in an awful state, and he hurried to the place where he found deceased lying as described.

The Chief not knowing who it was, concluded the deceased had been under the influence of liquor as he had been undergoing spasms and fits of vomiting. The Chief took the precaution to search the deceased's clothing and found a letter addressed to Geo. Cowling, and he then asked the bystanders if they knew him, but received no reply. The Chief then stopped a passing dray and with the assistance of several others the helpless man was lifted on the vehicle and taken to the police station.

Mr. James Clancy, the owner and driver of the dray, states that the deceased was carefully lifted on his dray and also gently carried into the police station, and Mr. Clancy added, "I knew the deceased quite well, but I did not recognize him then owing to the state he was in when found." We find that upon learning the true facts of the sad occurrence Chief Roszel immediately telephoned several doctors and for the ambulance which took deceased to the Nicholls Hospital where he died about 1 o'clock the same day. Chief Roszel is a brother Forester, but his night duties prevent him from attending the Court meetings and he was therefore not well acquainted with the deceased and, like Mr. Clancy, did not recognize him at the time. We all regret very much that deceased was taken to the police station, and none regrets it more than Chief Roszel himself. We have come to this decision, however, that Chief Roszel was only doing what was his duty by removing the apparently intoxicated man from the street by the first available vehicle to the only available place at his disposal. There has been no discredit reflected on the character of the deceased by what has occurred, but rather the opposite, as his true character has been brought to the public notice, as he was not only a temperate man, but a strict total abstainer.

We wish to warn those who have so severely and falsely criticised Chief Roszel regarding the manner of discharging his duties to desist from doing so, as it only hurts the already shattered feelings of deceased's friends. We refrain from recommending officers of the law to exercise cautiousness in the future, as we consider this case will be a warning to all concerned. The widow and friends of our departed brother have our sincere sympathy and we believe the sympathy of the whole community in their sore trial.

Signed on behalf of Court Chemong, 530, I.O.F.,

A. ALLISON, P. C. R.,
J. W. BUYERS, R. S.

WILLIAM CHRISTIE BEFORE THE JUDGE.

After Eluding the Authorities for Months.

William Christie appeared before Judge Edmison at the County Court room yesterday afternoon on a charge of creating a disturbance on a C.P.R. coach by being drunk and disorderly on May 30, 1904. Christie escaped arrest at the time and has been sought after ever since. He was arrested in Toronto Saturday and was brought to Peterborough by County Constable Cochrane.

The prisoner had but little defence to offer in answer to the charge. It appears that upon entering the train he met one with whom he was not on the best of terms and he began using profane and obscene language. He was convicted of the charge, and was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $28.24 altogether.

Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the defence and Mr. W. H. Moore for the prosecution.

L. Huddlestone, B. A., B. Th., of Toronto, has been accepted. Mr. Huddlestone is a recent graduate of McMaster. During the past five months he has been touring with the eastern section of the McMaster Evangelistic Band. He begins his duties as pastor of the Wentworth street Baptist Church, Hamilton, on October 1st."

HIGHER PRICE FOR THE STAFF OF LIFE.

Peterborough Bakers Raised the Price of Bread This Morning.

The Result of the Increased Cost of Flour—Prices Here Still Lower Than in Some Places.

A meeting of the Peterborough bakers was held last night, when an increase in the price of bread was decided upon, the increase to take effect this morning. It will be remembered by Examiner readers that some time ago when this paper contained the information that flour was being raised in price, the present increased price in bread was prophesied. It was stated at that time by the bakers who were interviewed by the Examiner, that it would be necessary to raise the price of bread in the near future, although they were loath to do so until they found that the higher price of flour was likely to be permanent.

Since that time flour has still further jumped in price, and now it is fifty cents per hundred dearer than it was a few months back. The best Manitoba flour is now quoted at $5.70 per barrel, or $2.85 per hundred. In view of this high price the bakers have found it necessary to increase the price of bread, and, commencing this morning, the following prices will obtain: Four pound loaf, 13c.; three pound, 10c.; one and a half, 5c. This means an increase of one cent per loaf on the three and four pound loaves, while the one and a half pound loaf remains at the same price as formerly.

The bakers say that even at the higher prices there will not be as much money made as there was when the flour was lower, and the price of bread less. In other places of a corresponding size bread is higher than it is in Peterborough, and the condition in Brantford is quoted in support of this statement. In that city the three pound loaves sold at 10c.; and recently the price has been raised to 12c.; two cents higher than the Peterborough bakers charge.

The increase in the price of flour, as a consequence of which bread is dearer, has been caused by the scarcity of the wheat supply in Ontario, and the fact that the general supposition is that there will be considerably less Manitoba wheat offered for home consumption this year than in former years.

The bakers say that the higher price for bread is entirely due to the higher price of the raw material, and is not the result of a combination and should the price of flour be reduced to what they believe is its normal value, bread will be correspondingly reduced.

Wilson, tenor, of Toronto, has been appointed choir-master of St. Andrew's church, and will meet the choir on Saturday evening Mr. Wilson comes very highly recommended as a leader and his conduct of the Praise Service in St. Andrew's last Sunday was appreciated. Mr. Wilson's father was for some twenty years leader in one of the largest churches in Hamilton and as a result the son has taken a deep interest in the Presbyterian Service of Praise.

TRIP TO JERUSALEM AND HOLY LAND.

Rev. Dr. Pott's Very Interesting Lecture in George Street Church.

Last Evening—Attendance was Large—A Delightful Speaker.

"A trip to Jerusalem and the Holy Land" was the subject of a lecture by Rev. Dr. Potts, of Toronto, at the George Street Methodist Church last evening. The church was well filled with an audience which heartily enjoyed the address. Dr. Potts told the story of his trip in a most interesting manner and held the attention of his audience for over an hour. He is a delightful speaker and is always welcomed in Peterborough.

Dr. Potts was one of those to attend the World's Sunday School Convention in Jerusalem last summer. He opened his remarks by saying he wished to tell the story of the cruise and convention and to take his audience with him to Jerusalem and give as vivid an idea as possible of the points of interest of the trip. When the trip was first proposed the speaker was opposed to it, thinking it both unwise and impracticable and that it could not be carried out. But his American friends said that it could and would be done and that when a number of Sunday School leaders in New York said that he must come he yielded. He was chairman of the International Sunday School Committee which had in charge the selecting of lessons for the Sunday Schools and he felt that he should go.

Three gentlemen formed a committee and were responsible for over 400 thousand dollars in chartering one of the great steamers. The rates for the delegates were from $300 dollars to $750. The distance travelled was over 15,179 miles, there were represented 28 nations and 47 denominations of the Christian church. There were 187 left New York on March 18th and a little later 500 left England and the two parties met at Jerusalem.

The first stop of the trip was made at Madeira where the first service was held in a theatre. New York was left in wintry weather, but here all was sunshine and flowers. The next stop was made at Gibraltar and as this mighty fortress was approached those on board thought of the Governor, Gen. White, the hero of Ladysmith. The German Emperor was at Gibraltar at this time as guest of King Edward VII. and consequently the Governor's time was pretty well occupied, but was able to meet several of the Canadians and it did them good to hear him speak of the services of the Canadian on the South African battlefield. As we looked at Gibralter, said the speaker, we seemed to read the words, "What we have, we hold." Our American friends were good enough to say that wherever the British flag was flying there was order and justice.

A short stop was made at Algiers. It was remarkable how great a quantity of liquor was exported from this port and it was learned that in the dry season, wine was often mixed with mortar. Some people in this country would think that to be a great waste of wine.

The next stop was at Malta and the steamer piled as near as possible to the place where St. Paul was shipwrecked and where a monument had been erected to his memory. A stay of considerable length was made at Athens, a wonderful city with its magnificent ruins. Some of the buildings there would compare favourably with those of Paris or London, but the visitors were interested in the ancient relics. The one particular spot on which all eyes centred was Mars Hill and on a Sunday morning between six and eight hundred godly men and women sat on the rock where St. Paul preached and worshipped God. Dr. Potts preached the sermon on that occasion and President Gates, of Roberts College, Constantinople, led in the reading of the 17th Chapter of Acts recording St. Paul's sermon from Mars' Hill. The service was a very impressive one.

Constantinople, the capital of Turkey, was next visited and while going from Athens an Easter Sunday service was held on board the steamer while passing the Isle of Patmos where St. John was imprisoned. Of all the cities of the Orient Constantinople is perhaps the best located, its appearance from the water being very beautiful. One's ideas, however, are somewhat dissipated upon reaching the city. The officials gave the most courteous treatment to the foreigners and the Sultan banquetted them. In this city the dogs sleep in the daytime and provide "orchestral" music at night. They have their own districts and it is not well for the dog who wanders to another section. During the stay at Constantinople, the Straits of Bosphorus, Black Sea and Sea of Marmora were visited.

A short stop was made at Smyrna, after which Beyrouth was visited Here there is a fine American College built by several men in New York who were anxious to promote missionary work. It was a great wonder to many that the Sultan allowed this college to exist for it was educating the young men along broader lines and those who received such education would be certain to form a disturbing element to the Turkish nation at some time.

Joppa was the next place visited and here the houses of Simon the Tanner where Peter had the vision of the admission of the Gentiles to all privileges of the covenants of God was seen. From Joppa a journey was made to Jerusalem by a train of cars. Everything appeared to be beautiful outside of Joppa, and the fruit growing there was magnificent. But the land became less interesting as the journey continued. Jerusalem was reached at night and at the station were found busses and cabs just as would be found in any representative city in the country. This seemed somewhat unnatural to the visitors who expected to see things different In the city everywhere were signs of deterioration, however, and it did not appear like "Jerusalem the Golden". Dr. Pott's first thought and desire was to visit Calvary which he did on the first opportunity. If you go to Jerusalem and the Holy Land indifferent to the Bible, it is not worth the journey as it is a poverty stricken country except in a few places where agriculture is carried on and it seems as though God had cursed the country because they had rejected Him. There was more religion and less Christianity in that country than in any other country in the world. But the sights were wonderful if looked upon in the light of the Bible. There was the place where Stephen was stoned, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Temple and other such places. No one is allowed to enter the Temple without either taking off their boots or put on overshoes. The doctor was not feeling in a mood to take off his boots and as he had "pretty fair understandings" there were none of the overshoes to fit him. But the guides would not be outdone and securing the covers of tea chests, tied them about his feet and he entered the Temple. Solomon's stables were also visited and the Jews' waiting place where they come every Friday to read the Hebrew Bible and weep. Pilot's judgment Hall where Christ was tried. Herod's palace where the decree was issued to slay all the male infants in Bethlehem in the hope of killing Christ and other points of biblical interest were visited.

On the first Sunday spent in Jerusalem Dr. Pott's preached in a tent to an audience of 1,200 people, including both Roman Catholics and Protestants. The meeting was held in the shadow of Calvary. Several Canadians living there attended and in fact hardly a point was touched on during the trip were some graduates from Canada were not found either in Missionary or educational work.

On the second Saturday night in Jerusalem a banquet was tendered to the missionaries in the city. The invitations had to be sent out by a messenger as the mail service is very poor. It frequently being a week before a letter would be delivered. The missionaries had never met together before and the gathering was a delightful affair.

Venerable Archbishop Sinclair of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, preached the sermon, a sermon which was worthy of the great occasion. The speaker had the honour of conducting the sacrament and the service was perhaps the most impressive which had ever been attended by those present.

The general Convention opened on Sunday evening. It was most gratifying to see a Jew and a Samaritan taking part in the first service, a Samaritan high priest reading an address and a Christian Jew being the translator The Bishop of Jerusalem and the American Consul attended the service.

There were many points of interest to be visited in and about Jerusalem. A trip was made to Jerico and on the the way the Mount of Olives and Bethany were visited. The speaker was greatly disappointed in the latter place and several of his sermons dealing with it were spoiled as a result.

Upon reaching Jerico the Dead Sea and the River Jordan were visited. Elisha's fountain where the waters were sweetened, the wilderness where Elijah was fed by ravens, the wilderness where Christ was tempted, the tomb of Rachael, the field of Bethlehem, the stable and manger where the Christ was born, Solomon's pool and many other points were most interesting features of the trip.

After leaving Jerusalem the party proceeded to Alexandria, which city was not entered as there were reports circulated that the plague was raging there. The trip from Alexandria to Cairo was made by rail. When the speaker saw the River Nile and the magnificent crops about it, he thought that this should be called the "Land of Promise". There were five crops every two years in the vicinity of the Nile. The heat there was intense and there was but little rain. In fact, Dr. Potts never opened his umbrella during the entire trip except as a sunshade. The Nile and the great pyramids were sources of much interest. Between six and seven hundred dollars were subscribed by the tourists to have a missionary boat built on the Nile that missionaries might go from place to place preaching the gospel.

From Alexandria the steamer went to Naples, the seaport of Rome. There is a saying, "See Naples and Die," but it was the opinion of those who visited it that this should read, "See Naples and get away or be robbed." Eleven of the party had their watches stolen in broad daylight. It was a beautiful city, however. The Lord Mayor of London and Sir Thomas Lipton were at Naples at the time and they came aboard the steamer and welcomed the party.

Rome was next visited. It was indeed a wonderful city. St. Peter's Cathedral was a dream of architectural beauty and while the visitors were there, dignitaries from many parts of the world were there celebrating mass. The speaker thought he would rather return to Rome than any other city. St. Paul's church was visited among others and it commanded the admiration of the visitors more than any other church.

On leaving Rome the party was ready to start for home when it was learned that the steamer was to stop at Monte Carlo, the gambling hell of the world. A resolution was drafted and signed by the 800 passengers with the exception of about a score, that the boat should not call at this city. The resolution was adopted.

The voyage homeward was very pleasant. The German orchestra on board supplied delightful music and the services were very helpful. Very little rough weather was experienced during the entire trip which could hardly have been more enjoyable.

The result of the convention was seen partly in the fact that two associations were added, one in Italy and one in Palestine.

In Jerusalem when the convention opened there was but one Sunday School which had been in existence just three weeks.

The Sunday School work was the greatest in connection with the church and it was very essential for the pastors to keep in close touch with the children. The Sunday Schools must keep time to the music of the 20th century. The work was a world wide one and the interest was on the increase. Next year an International Sunday School convention would be held in Toronto and would be the greatest convention ever held in that city.

A hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. R. E. Wood and seconded by Mr. J. J. Hartley, was tendered the speaker for his very interesting address.

The BEST STOVE CO

DOMINION ELECTIONS.

Parliament has been dissolved and the general elections will be held on November 3rd. The Liberal Government goes to the country with confidence on a broad policy of peace, prosperity and progress. The best Government this great country of Canada ever had appeals to the people on the credit of a past, during which the country at large and every individual and interest have enjoyed an abounding prosperity. There have been growth and expansion in every direction. For eight years past there has been unexampled prosperity—commercial activity has resulted in an overflowing treasury—this in turn has permitted liberal expenditure for purposes of national benefit, and withal there has been a reduction of the national debt amounting to six millions of dollars in eight years, in contrast with an average yearly increase of the national debt of six and a half millions during the eighteen years of Conservative rule. The Liberal Government has put an end to the disturbing elements that prevented harmonious co-operation of all our citizens and created the conditions permitting the undivided attention of national endeavour to national advancement. Forward is the watchword of the Liberal Government, and its return will make for the solid progress of Canada, as the election of a supporter of that Government in the person of R. R. Hall will conduce to the interests of Peterborough. We want a live representative who can do something tangible for West Peterborough.

Husband Drunk—Wife Dead.

Brantford, Sept. 29.—The wife dead in bed and the husband in a near-by chair in a state of drunken debauch, was the sight that met the police officers yesterday, when they forced an entry into the home of Allan S. Donaldson, 20 Wellington street, this city. The woman had been dead about three days. Donaldson was arrested. An inquest will be held on Thursday night. As no marks were found on the woman's body it is supposed the woman died a natural death. Mrs. Donaldson was about 80 years of age. The couple were only recently married.

50 School Boy Pickets.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Fifty boy pickets, none of them over 15, stationed about McAllister Public School here, prevented pupils from entering yesterday. Outside the picket cordon, a crowd of 700 boys and girls hooted and yelled at the teachers looking from the school doors. The picketing was a result of a "strike," which was caused by a mistaken belief of the children that the assistant kindergarten teacher was colored. About 80 per cent. of the "strikers" went back to their classes on learning their mistake.

Trades and Labor Resolutions.

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—At yesterday's session of the National Trades and Labor Congress a strong resolution of censure was passed on the Senate for killing the alien labor law introduced by Sir William Mulock last session. Another resolution asked the Government to take steps to prevent a repetition of the large influx of pauper immigrants who were in evidence this year. The Government will also be asked to have an inspector for scaffolding in each city and an inspector of dynamite and other explosives.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Ghouls At Pretoria.

Pretoria, Sept. 29.—An attempt was made to carry off the remains of Prince Christian Victor from their resting-place in the cemetery here Tuesday night. Yesterday morning it was found that the earth above the coffin had been removed to the depth of several feet. Tools from the sexton's store-house had been used for the purpose. The stone slabs covering the remains lay bare, but had not been disturbed. It is thought that the perpetrators of the outrage were disturbed in their work and made off. This is the second attempt to remove the body during the past week.

Policeman Suicides.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Police Constable Steedman yesterday committed suicide by taking prussic acid, in his home at 295 Spadina avenue. Deceased had been on the force for 13 years. He leaves a wife and two sons, aged 9 and 14 years. Steedman was suspended a week ago, on account of a charge of theft having been laid against him.

In Our Grandfather's Youth.

Paralysis was almost unheard of in the youth of our grandparents, and now nearly every newspaper contains a record of someone being stricken with this dreadful form of helplessness. Paralysis is in reality a starving of the nerves, and can always be prevented by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation which has no rival as a creator of nerve force.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock since last Tuesday's market as received by the two railways, were the largest of the year thus far, amounting all told to 142 car loads, composed of 2226 cattle, 1760 hogs, 2754 sheep and lambs, 131 calves and 17 horses.

There were no straight loads of shipping cattle offered and certainly none wanted. Joseph Russell of Mount Forest brought in 10 cattle, which he was offering to exporters. Seven of these were really good quality, weighing about 1350 lbs. each, costing Mr. Russell $4.75 in the country, but he could not obtain this price on the market here to-day.

The bulk of the offerings of butchers' cattle was composed of light steers and heifers and cows that in many instances were only bought because there were none other to be had, and were sold at lower quotations than at any time this season. Choice picked lots of butchers' heifers and steers, 1100 lbs. each, which there were few to be had, sold at $4 80 to $4.90 per cwt.; loads of good heifers and steers sold at $4 to $4.25; loads of good mixed cattle sold at $3.70 to $3.80; medium butchers', $3.40 to $3.60; cows of good quality sold as low as $3 to $3.25, but inferior and rough old worn out cows sold as low as $1.60 to $2 per cwt.

Taken altogether there was a larger number than usual of fairly good feeders offered, but at the same time there was too many of the inferior class that were hard to sell, altho there was a good demand. It was hard to get a straight load of choice breedy steers, nearly all of them being composed of a few of the right kind mixed with those of off-colors and poorer breeding qualities, which sold at $3.80 for the good, and $3 to $3.25 for the poorer grades, altho they were nearly all of the same weight. Choice breedy steers, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, sold at about $4.20; feeders, choice, 800 to 850 lbs., at $3.60 to $3.65 per cwt.

There was a large number of distillery bulls, 1050 to 1300 lbs., that sold from $2.50 to $3.12½ per cwt. Amongst the many bulls offered there were a number that were refused by the dealers for various causes, such as bad feet, as well as poor breeding and off-colors. These sold at $1.80 to $2 per cwt., many of them going for canning purposes.

There was, as usual, a large number of eastern stockers, few of which were of good quality. Trade was dull and prices were easy, at about $2.25 to $2.85 per cwt. for those weighing from 500 to 700 lbs. each. It will be seen from the above that prices were further all round for both feeders and stockers.

There was a fair demand for all offerings of good quality at steady prices. Prices ranged from $30 to $50 each, the bulk going at $35 to $45 each.

There was a good demand as usual for veal calves of good quality, but taken altogether there was not as many of good to choice quality. Prices ranged from $3.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

The run of sheep and lambs was one of, if not the largest of the year, and prices were easier all round. Sheep sold at $3.75 to $3.90, the bulk going at about $3.85 per cwt. Lambs sold at $4 to $4.15 for all of good quality, while culls and feeding lambs sold at $3.70 to $3.80 per cwt.

Deliveries were about 1800, which sold at unchanged prices, selects at $5.15 and lights and fats at $4.90 per cwt. In looking over the deliveries to-day it was quite apparent that there are too many unfinished hogs being marketed.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—About 175 head of butchers' cattle, 20 calves, 200 sheep and lambs and 20 young pigs were offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The wet, muggy weather caused a dull market to become even duller. Sales were slow and these were only of the ordinary medium and common cattle. The better kinds of cattle will be held over for Monday's market. There were a lot of unusually lean cows, which sold at about 2c per lb. Small bulls sold at 1½c to 2c and a few larger bulls, in pretty good condition, sold at 2¼c to 3c per lb. The calves were a poor lot and sold at $3 to $5 each. Shipping sheep are 3½c and the others 2¾c to 3¼c per lb. Lambs sold at 3¾c to 4¼c per lb. Fat hogs sell at 4¾c to 5¾c per lb. Young pigs sell at $1.50 to $4.50 each.

From Over Study at School.

Mrs. H. Wareham, 257 Sherbrooke street, Peterborough, Ont., states:

"One of my children suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, and in fact was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles were attributed to over study, and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her as the colour is returning to her face and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

POLITE BULLDOG.

Manner in Which the Old Fighting Breed Has Degenerated.

The modern bulldog is grossly libeled by his own appearance. His bloodshot eyes, flattened nose, deep chest and formidable tusks give him the appearance of ferocity, and his naturally sweet disposition is overlooked save by the few who know and love him.

Take, for example, the 80 forbidding animals in the 13th annual championship show of the London Bulldog Society, which opened recently at the Crystal Palace, London.

For all their ill-looks, they allowed themselves to be pulled about and treated disrespectfully by everyone who passed.

"Champion "Broadlea Squire," for example, came down from Manchester in a railway carriage full of children. The little ones poked their fingers in his eyes, put their hands in his mouth, pulled his tail and took unheard of liberties. The champion did not like it, but was too much of a gentleman to protest.

There was an old gentleman at Sydenham who moved about disconsolately among the exhibits seeking for something that was not there.

"There's not a fighter among them," he said. "Not one of them would stand a moment's chance against one of my old dogs." He was listened to with respect, for he was Mr. "Teddy" Morgan, aged 71, a famous trainer of the old fighting breed.

"I had an old dog named Fiddler," he said, "that killed 18 dogs in his time, but that was 40 years ago. At one great fight two dogs, 'Joe' and 'Duke,' fought for three and a half hours before 'Joe' was killed.

"There were some cruel 'dodges' in those days," continued Mr. Morgan. "One was poisoning a dog's neck so that the other animal weakened and died in the course of a fight. We used to lick their necks to see that this was not done, but 'Bill' Axford, of Birmingham, did this once, and died from the poison."

Etiquette in War.

The offer of the Mikado to allow the non-combatants to leave Port Arthur is one of those amenities of which warfare between civilized powers furnishes many examples. The Duke of Wellington was a stickler for etiquette in this connection; and it is on record how, on a famous occasion, after giving Junot "a good beating," he sent to inquire concerning his health, the friendly message being accompanied with a present of vegetables, which were said to be scarce in Junot's camp. The great Duke, says The Birmingham Post, was especially punctilious in any matter affecting the comfort or convenience of women and children. Soult, during the Peninsular War, hearing that there were many wounded English in an adjacent village, sent forthwith to their assistance; and all the time Charles Napier was a prisoner he was treated as an honored guest, particularly by Baron Clouet, Ney's aide-de-camp. When, after three months' uncertainty, the British Government sent to ascertain what had become of Napier, Ney learning for the first time that his gallant opponent had a blind and widowed mother, said, "Let him go and tell her himself that he is alive."

Jew Lord Mayor of Belfast.

Alderman Sir Otto Jaffe, Lord Mayor of Belfast, who recently opened a new synagogue in the city which is to serve the needs of two congregations now amalgamated, is the most distinguished Jew in the Emerald Isle, and with Sir Israel Hart of Leicester shares the distinction of being the shining light of provincial Jewry. He has long been President of the Belfast Hebrew Congregation, which, indeed, was founded by his father, the late Daniel Jaffe, in 1870.

Sir Otto is descended from Mordecaiben Abraham Jaffe, who became President of the Holy Congregation of Prague, and was born in Hamburg in 1846. He was first Lord Mayor of Belfast in 1899-1900, the following year becoming High Sheriff of the city. He is head of the firm of Jaffe Bros., linen merchants, one of the biggest business houses in the city, a J.P., member of the Harbor Board, and Governor of the Royal Hospital. Besides all this, he is Consul for the German Government—a somewhat unique position for a Lord Mayor.—London Star.

HOUSE FURNISHING.

ARTISTIC AND PRACTICAL POINTS IN THE HEATING ARRANGEMENTS.

The Fire on the Hearth—The Modern Franklin and Other Stoves—Heating With Hot Air, Hot Water and Steam—Decoration of Radiators.

With all of these well defined steps of improvement in house heating it is a curious fact that not one of them has been discarded. The fire on the hearth, supplemented by other heating, is still a popular, important feature in the house. Modern Franklins are on the market. Stoves continue in use in many places, and the hot air furnace is retained in many of our small dwellings.

Heating by hot water and steam has been carried to a high plane of excellence by various ingenious mechanical contrivances. For hot water the radiator must necessarily be larger than for steam, and with the latter a room can attain a high temperature more rapidly than when hot water is the medium. In the steam heated room the dry atmosphere may be moistened by keeping fresh water in an open basin on the top of the radiator, and scientific housewives say that adding a little ammonia to the water increases its efficiency.

A way of combining direct and indirect heating is also gaining favor. By this method a radiator with a ventilating box for its base is placed under or in front of a window, and the fresh air from out of doors is warmed before it is distributed in the apartment. The advantage of the system consists in the purity of the air.

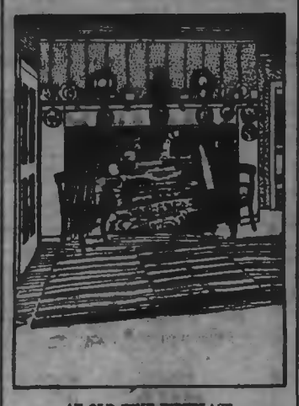
Among the improvements in the construction of boilers for steam or hot water heating is the adoption of cast iron in place of steel or wrought iron, thus preventing them from rusting when not in use. For the older style of packing the joints a better way has been substituted in introducing lathe turned joints that prevent leakage.

The radiator of ordinary shape is well known, but the variations made upon the general plan to suit buildings of irregular construction are numberless.

Curved walls, rounding windows, crooked stairways, corners and angles of all types are fitted with radiators to suit their eccentricity of line. In bathrooms or tiny halls where space on the floor must be economized the clever designer of radiators has made some that can be suspended against the wall on brackets.

In the dining room the radiator may be selected not only for making the room comfortable in winter, but for warming dishes for the table. A radiator for the butler's pantry is made of steam or hot water pipes, giving a gentle warmth for food waiting to be served for the meals.

The position of the radiator is a serious problem to the housebuilder, increasing in difficulty when the rooms are contracted in size. The proper time for a consideration of this matter is before the home is really built, when architect and heating engineer can consult for the best advantage of each.



AN OLD TIME FIREPLACE.

The covering of the radiator is no longer limited to gold and silver paint. Oftentimes a delicate color scheme requires a radiator in pure white, or with woodwork and walls somber in tone the radiator looks best in deep colors. Two kinds of metallic paint combined make an artistic covering for a radiator when applied with skill.

Marble slabs in pink, white, brown or gray may be fitted to the top of a radiator to continue its usefulness as a pedestal or table when its heating properties are discontinued.—Delineator.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

The Start

In married life is generally made on an equal footing of health in man and wife. But how soon, in many cases, the wife loses the start and fades in face and fails in flesh, while her husband grows even more rugged and robust.

There is one chief cause for this wifely failure and that is, the failure of the womanly health. When there is irregularity or an unhealthy drain, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness, the general health is soon impaired.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up only just a little while at a time. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's medicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my housework. It is the best medicine I ever used."

THE ODOMETER.

It Was Known to Engineers of the Alexandrian School.

The odometer, an instrument for measuring distance traversed in a carriage, is no modern invention. The first description of it is to be found in a fragment of a Greek treatise and was known to engineers of the Alexandrian school.

Passing to more modern days, we find that on Jan. 1, 1598, a book was published in Nuremberg which professed to give a "succinct, detailed and positive explanation" of various systems of measurement by means of such an instrument. This "divider," as the author calls it, had a wheel which carried in its axle an indicator worked by the circular movement; at each turn a needle made a stroke, which was transmitted to the dial.

This odometer, divided into 100 equal parts, had a long hand and a short, like modern clocks, the latter moving one stroke as often as its big brother made a complete round of the dial.

Another odometer, said to have been invented by Peter the Great, was shown at the Moscow polytechnic exhibition in 1872. It was called a "verst counter" and worked excellently.

The Branded Artist.

The thought of possible cartoons cannot will be absent from the minds of men whom all the world knows. Mr. L. A. Tollemache, the author of "Talks With Mr. Gladstone," told—not in the book—a story which presents the statesman in an attitude not familiar in ordinary representations of the great man.

One stormy day during one of Mr. Gladstone's visits to Biarritz he walked from his hotel to call on Mr. Tollemache, who was amazed to see that Mr. Gladstone came without an umbrella.

Mr. Gladstone laughingly explained that if the high wind had happened to turn his umbrella inside out a picture of him in that forlorn plight would have found its way into half the comic papers of Europe.

Names of Fruits.

The very names of many of our fruits at once suggest their foreign origin. Corinth was the sponsor of "currants" and Damascus of "damsons." We have borrowed the word "gooseberry" from the French "groseille;" "apricot" is derived from Arabic; "peach" from the French or the Italian, and "tomato" from the Mexican Aztec "tomotel," while the word "cauliflower" is almost comically close in its derivation from the Spanish "col-y-flor," cabbage and flower.

WESTMINSTER HALL.

Its Bargain Counters, State Trials and Coronation Banquets.

Westminster hall, whose old gray walls have seen coronation banquets and state trials, used to echo with the bargains driven at shops or stalls which at one time fringed its walls like a modern bazaar. These were kept by booksellers, toy dealers, sempstresses and milliners. The rents and profits went by right to the warden of the Fleet. An engraving of the busy scene was made by Mosely and prints taken therefrom by Gravelot before 1773 showing how,

In hall of Westminster,

In "Tom Brown's Amusements" (1770) we read: "We enter into a great hall where we were surprised to see in the same place men on one side with baubles and toys and on the other taken up with fear of judgment. In this shop are to be sold ribbons and gloves, towers, headdresses, etc. On the left hand we hear a nimble tongued painted sempstress with her charming treble invite you to buy some of her knick-knacks."—London Mail.

A PECULIAR COMPOUND.

Cryestase Thaws In the Cold and Freezes Under Heat.

According to a German medical journal, very anomalous is the conduct of a peculiar chemical compound known as "cryostase." This consists of a mixture in equal parts of phenol, saponin and camphor, with a little turpentine oil.

This weird substance possesses the remarkable quality of becoming liquid, or we may say of "thawing," in the cold, and again becoming solid, or, as if were, "freezing," when heated.

It is true that some other bodies—as, for instance, the white of an egg—possess a similar property of becoming solid, or coagulating, with heat, but in the case of these, when once the solidification has taken place, no degree of cold will restore them to the liquid state, whereas with cryostase the experiment can be repeated and the process reversed any number of times.

We have thus a substance which absolutely defies all rule and precedent, but of whose exceptional behavior no satisfactory explanation has as yet been given.

Nourishment.

A man is a very broad, omnivorous animal and needs a great variety of food, both mental and physical. No matter what element we omit in his bill of fare there is a corresponding loss, omission or weakness in his life. You cannot get a full, complete man on half a bill of fare. You cannot nourish his body and starve his soul and expect him to be symmetrical, well balanced, poised. Nor can you starve his body and nourish his soul and expect him to be a giant on the physical as well as on the spiritual plane.—Success.

Must Be Very Good.

Jenny—Papa, cook must be very good. Papa—Why, my dear? Jenny—Because in my lesson last Sunday it said that the wicked shall not live out half their days, and cook says she has lived out all her life.

Fruited Rice.

Wash and put to cook a cupful of rice. Add a teaspoonful of salt. Have ready some tart apples cut into fine pieces, add a pint of the apple to the rice and simmer until done. Melt white or brown sugar and pour over the dishes of rice when serving. Any desired flavor may be added to the sugar.

Judicious.

Many a true word is spoken quite by accident. There were two middle aged women in the waiting room of a department store the other day, and, looking over the railing, they espied an acquaintance on the floor below.

"There's Mrs. Blank," said one. "Well, I must say that she's done a wise thing for once. No woman ought to go on living with a man that acts like her husband's done."

"What's she done?" asked the other.

"Ain't you heard?" queried the first. "Why, she's got a judicious separation."

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

BY THEIR DEEDS.

A tattered beggar in the street
Sang always some old croning hymn,
And held to those whom he might meet
His hat with rugged, greasy brim.
Two men—two mighty men—came by—
Two honored leaders of the town;
Came, too, a dame of repute high—
Each passed the beggar with a frown.

But still the beggar sang away,
With awkward music in each word;
And thru the balance of that day
The three that chanting echo heard.
They heard, and held the fading strains
As memories of things that bless,
And added to their other gains
The golden one of kindliness.

Now, by some careless prank of fate,
These four met on the Way of Death,
And journeyed to the Joyous Gate
Where but the perfect entereth.
The warder halted them, and told
How all who entered must be known
By goodly deeds—by deeds of gold—
By helpful actions all their own.

The honored men explained that they
Had given of their earthly wealth
To help their fellows on the way
To knowledge, peacefulness and health.
The woman told of visits made,
The suffering and poor to greet—
All three told how the world had laid
Its laureled tributes at their feet.

"You may go in," the warder smiled,
"Although your fame we did not know,
A cup of water to a child
Is more than all the passing show."
The beggar turned to take his way
With humbled mien and drooping head.
The warder called to him to stay,
"Come in! We've heard you sing!" he said.

Rather Free Mannered.

Maurice Hewlejt writes of the people of Certaldo, the Italian town where Boccaccio was born and lived: "Their women are handsome, as they ought to be, with green eyes, dusky skins, fair, tangled hair. They carry themselves bolt upright, like all mountaineers, but with better reason than most, for their figures are remarkable. The men sing gay songs, are happy and free mannered, and if Boccaccio is not at the bottom of it the mischief is. I saw here what I have never seen elsewhere in all long Italy, a man stop and kiss a girl in open street. No offense, either. He was a baker who came—a floury amorino—saw and considered the bend of her industrious head and stooped and kissed her as she sat sewing at her door. Her lovers and acquaintances about her saw nothing amiss, nor was she at all put out. After so flagrant an achievement the madcap went a whole progress of gallantry down the street, none resenting his freedom. He danced with one good wife, chucked another's chin and lifted a third bodily into the air, singing all the while."

The Prescription Bath.

The bath house at each of the famous health resorts of Europe is the most imposing building in town, with stately facade and inviting entrance. Inside are long corridors, ladies to the right and gentlemen to the left, lined with dozens of little cell-like rooms, each containing a bathtub, a couch and a thermometer. At the door is a strong armed masseur. There is much conferring between the doctor and this attendant, repeated testing of temperatures and mixtures of water in the tub. After the patient gets into his tub the doctor waits outside the door, watch in hand, timing the immersion. Then the masseur gets to work with vigorous rubbing, still timed by the doctor. Finally the patient appears dressed and refreshed. The doctor talks diplomatically on favorite symptoms, sympathizes a little, flatters a little more and, with a sweeping bow, hands his victim into a carriage.

The "Language of Music."

The best chamber music, like the finest symphonic music, is a sort of transcendental language, which affects the hearer somewhat in the same way as the study of astronomy or the higher mathematics their ardent devotees. It suggests the ineffable and the infinite perhaps more vividly than any other form of art. It also evokes many other images and thoughts of a definite nature, but in no two cases are these mental pictures identical. A passage suggesting a sunset to one hearer may call up a battle scene to another. But no reasonable person wishes to force his picture on his neighbor, especially as the same passage may visualize itself differently to the same hearer on different occasions.—From "Diversions of a Music Lover."

Tatar and Tartar.

"Tartar" is a word which gives an illustration of etymology gone astray. The name "Tatar" (as it is correctly spelled) is really derived from a Turanian root meaning "to stretch," and hence "to draw the bow" or "to pitch tents." But when the hordes of Tatars burst upon eastern Europe from the Asiatic steppes in the thirteenth century the minds of students turned to the ninth chapter of Revelation. The Tatar invasion was interpreted as a fulfillment of the prediction of the opening of the bottomless pit. A contemporary chronicler writes of "this detestable satanic people issuing forth like demons let loose from Tartarus, so that they are fitly named Tartari." Thus the misconception took root.

FIRST SENIOR GAME TO-MORROW AFTERNOON.

Both Argonauts and the Locals Will be Very Strong for the Match.

"I have witnessed practices of nearly every senior O. R. F. U. team this season," said a commercial traveller last evening, according to the Hamilton Herald, "and I can tell you that from what line I have on them it is a hard matter to select a winner. I have not seen the London team as yet, but my belief is that the Peterborough team will win District No. 1. They are a husky bunch, and have the speed. Three senior teams in Toronto is bound to weaken the colder teams. It certainly looks like Hamilton and Peterborough for the championship final."

* * * * *

The rugby boys had a splendid practice at the Exhibition grounds last evening in final preparation for to-morrow's game with the Argonauts. After the practice a meeting of the players and officers was held in the Y.M.C.A., when full details of the match were arranged. The President, Mr. E. S. Clarry, the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. C. G. Graham and the Captain, Mr. W. Crowley, were appointed team committee for the season. By an unanimous choice Mr. Crowley was elected Captain of the team. The game will start punctually at 2.30 o'clock and the grounds will be in good shape. There will be efficient police protection and good street car service.

* * * * *

The following players are requested to be at the Y.M.C.A. in uniform at 1.45 p. m., sharp, for the game with the Argonauts. The car will leave the Y.M.C.A. at that time for the exhibition grounds. It is necessary that all be on time as the senior game must start right on the minute:—Ford, Morgan, Simpson, Crowley, Gillespie, Burnham, Hurtubise, Craig, Noble, Meagher, Cameron, Rickey, Gilbert, Dillon, Shaw.

* * * * *

The Grasshopper Club is asked to meet at 2.15 o'clock to-morrow afternoon to attend the rugby match in a body. Consequently the locals will win.

* * * * *

There is no "five yards" in the O. R. F. U. this season, but players must give an opponent a fair chance to catch a punt or a bouncing ball. A "fair chance" means there must be no interference in any way.

Peterborough is crazy over football. A bumper crowd will witness the Argonaut-Peterborough game at the latter place on Saturday.—Mail and Empire.

BASEBALL

Lindsay, Sept. 29.—Lindsay won the Midland championship to-day, with Joe McLaughlin and Billy Cinnamon in the points, defeating Bowmanville, before a large crowd, in the sudden-death game, by 10 to 7. Lindsay gave their battery good support. One of the features of the game was McGill's wonderful stops at first. About 18 supporters came with the Bowmanville team. They are a clean lot of sports and good losers. Now Lindsay will be ready to meet Cobourg at any time for the $100 spoken of. Mayor James of Bowmanville was an interested spectator and complimented the management of the ball team for the way the game and grounds were managed.

BURLEIGH POWER FOR PORT HOPE.

The Roseate Assurances Given by Mr. Culverwell.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, the indefatigable talked electric power on Monday night to the Port Hope council. He has switched the Burleigh Falls power onto Port Hope, Cobourg and elsewhere. He said he could find no market in Peterborough. Mr. Culverwell's statement of his powers and influence and the intentions of his company will be read with interest by Peterborough residents. In addressing the council, as reported by the Guide, Mr. Culverwell said that his company intend transmitting electric power from Burleigh Falls to the Lakefront towns, having lately received written assurances of some fifty thousand annual revenues. He said "We have got tired waiting for an opening for a market for our electric power in Peterborough." His company has expended thousands of dollars in pushing ahead Peterborough interests as a manufacturing centre, and last year has spent $1,200 in cash in advertising alone. He said he had the faculty of seeing a good thing in nature before others grasped that fact, and he only followed his father and grandfather, who had in their early days been successful water-power engineers. He had shown this in discovering valuable water-power and also the Trent Valley Canal—and the world's canal experts had written complimenting him on his ability. In his early youth he had started from its inception the Edison Electric Company's business in Western Ontario.

He had been credited with being the cause of the great recent developments of electrical power and manufacturing growth of Peterborough. His competitors had openly admitted that. He had taught them the use of the water-power that was idly washing the rocks around Peterborough, and to save themselves they had developed these water-powers and brought manufacturers there so that now they are all utilized with the exception of a small Government water-power near Lakefield.

SEVERE FAMINE FELT IN INDIA.

Mr. Walter Turnbull Sends Particulars of the Distress of the People.

The Rain has Failed and as a Consequence, Crops are Ruined.

The Examiner has received the following despatch from Mehmedabad, Gujerat, India, sent by Walter Turnbull, a former Peterborough boy, dealing with the famine in that land:—

It is with heavy hearts that we make an effort to lay before the people of the home lands the great want and distress that is again impending in this part of India.

The rains seem to break with their usual copiousness in June, and until the end of July there seemed every prospect of a good year. The people spent all their good wealth, and in many cases borrowed money also, in sowing their fields. But the monsoon ceased entirely and all the grain crops have been a total loss. What little cotton is left can only be saved by the very unlikely event of a heavy rain coming during the next week or two. Agriculture is the only resource of the people of Gujerat, and a failure of the rains means loss to all, starvation to the poor. It is hard for anyone not acquainted with the conditions here to realize the precarious state of the mass of the people at all times, and their utter helplessness in a time like this.

On Tuesday, August 30th, a conference was held near Ahmedabad at which was present a number of the Missionaries from each of the societies labouring in Gujerat. The question of famine was discussed and from reports given by representatives from all the various localities, it was made obvious that a general famine in this part of India is an absolute certainty. The need of making some timely effort to meet the emergency was felt to be so urgent that a Famine Committee was appointed to frame an appeal to the home lands on behalf of all Gujerat, and each missionary was urged to represent the needs of his section to the Government officials.

We are stationed at a small town called Mehmedabad, three hundred miles north of Bombay. Our missionary efforts extend over a "taluka" or township that has a population of one hundred thousand people. We have an excellent opportunity for learning the extent of the damage caused by the lack of rain, and from personal observations, as well as from the opinions of all those of the native community, we have been convinced that this "taluka" is about to undergo the severest famine it has yet known. There is a likelihood of a water famine being added to the other trouble, for all the tanks are dry, and the water has gone down in the wells to a dangerous extent. The people have no resources to fall back upon, for they have not yet recovered from the famine of 1900.

In this "taluka" there are three hundred baptized native Christians, besides a larger number of candidates and those interested. We are naturally much concerned about the welfare of these people, for they are of the household of faith, and we do not think that it is right to allow them to go hungry and naked without making some effort to alleviate their distress. They are all small farmers who have been ruined by the drought, and are too many for us to assist ourselves. It would be a hard experience to have to refuse aid to a sufferer from lack of funds. The Christians will be our first care, but we shall have to help many others of different castes and religions. In all cases we shall have the people earn what they receive by digging wells, weaving, etc. We are confident that there will be a liberal response when the need is known.

Please send all donations by bank draft or Post Office money order to Mehmedabad, Gujerat, India.

Hare and Hound Chase.

The Senior School and Working Boys, will have a hare and hounds chase on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This is a dandy good run. Two hares first start out with bags of finely cut paper, scatter a trail, sometimes broken, for two or three miles, through country and woods; then the hares hide their empty bags and also hide themselves. They wait in hiding until the hounds have followed up the trail and have arrived at the spot where they are all in hiding. The hounds are to find the bag, then the hares, and all finish up with a race for home. The hounds do not start until the hares have gone for twenty minutes. This is great exercise and there is lots of fun in it too.

JAPANESE WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

Reported Russian Defeat in a General Engagement.

JAPS PORT ARTHUR LOSSES

Oyama Begins His Long-Expected Advance on Mukden—150,000 Japs Surround Kuropatkin's Army—Chee Foo Report That Japs Captured Main Forts Discredited—Daily Clashes Between Outposts.

London, Oct. 1.—According to The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent it is reported that the Japanese have been victorious in a general engagement at Mukden. The news is not confirmed. It is probably an exaggerated version of outpost affairs.

The despatch from Mukden yesterday, representing that a serious collision between the opposing armies there was imminent, attracts the greatest attention from the London press. It is considered certain that the despatch was mutilated by the military censor.

Russ Outposts Driven In.

Kuropatkin's outposts have been driven in after sharp fighting near Mukden and there are indications that the Japanese are about prepared for an aggressive movement.

Long-Expected Advance Begun.

Field Marshal Oyama has begun the long-expected advance upon the Russian army at Mukden and a coincident movement against Sinmintin is indicated by the fact that the Japanese have occupied Siabeyho, west of the Liao River. There is a concentration of Japanese forces in the vicinity of the Yentai mines, and the advance lines are being gradually pushed forward.

Must Go Into Winter Quarters.

The failure of the latest Japanese attempt to drive out the Port Arthur fleet and reduce the fortress has led, according to the Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent, to the decision that the Japanese must go into winter quarters, Japanese officers admitting that Gen. Stoessel is making a superb stand.

"Accordingly," the correspondent adds, "permanent fortifications, affording excellent shelter, are being constructed outside the Russian main line of defences and warm clothing is being brought up for the troops. Reinforcements are continually arriving. Finding it impossible to hold outer forts, even when they are captured, owing to the enfilading fire, the only alternative left the Japanese is to cut off supplies and communications."

150,000 Japs Surround Kuropatkin.

Renewed efforts by Chinese bandits to destroy the Manchurian Railway south of Harbin are reported. A statement also comes from Mukden that the Japanese are preparing to act on the defensive and have fortified a position northeast of the Yentai Mines. The Japanese army now encircling General Kuropatkin is estimated to consist of 180 battalions, or about 144,000 infantry, with 6,000 cavalry and 638 guns.

The Japanese are losing no time in altering the guage of the railway. This has been completed to a point within ten miles of Liaoyang.

Discredit Che Foo Report.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The authorities at the War Office discredit the Che Foo report that the Japanese have captured the main forts at Port Arthur. The information of the War Office proves that the Japanese losses during the siege have been 45,000 killed or wounded.

The reports from Seoul of the landing of a Russian detachment from Vladivostock from north of Hamheung are denied at the War Office. The few Russian troops in northeastern Corea west there overland.

A Direct Exchange.

The report that Japan and Russia have arranged a direct exchange of news regarding prisoners of war without the intermediary of the United States and France is confirmed.

Daily Clashes Between Outposts.

Field Headquarters of the Second Japanese Army, Sept. 28, noon, via Fusan, Oct. 1.—The changing of the gauge of the railway has been completed within ten miles of Liaoyang, and it is expected that within three or four days the first train will be run over the new tracks. There is no change in the situation. Japanese outposts are now 15 miles to the north. There are daily clashes between Japanese outposts and Russian patrols, usually resulting in only small casualties.

Gen. Sakharoff's Report.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The War Office at a late hour of the night gave out a telegram from General Sakharoff, dated Sept. 30, describing a successful onslaught upon a Japanese advance guard near Yentai, on Sept. 28. The Japanese began the fight by attacking a position held by the Russians at Ouladitza, 20 miles south of the Taitse River. The Russians withdrew and then countermarched and occupied the enemy's position at Toumysta and drove the Japanese as far as Yentai Station, losing only four men wounded, whereas the Japanese lost twenty killed or wounded.

Gen. Sakharoff further reports that a reconnaissance on Sept. 29 showed the Japanese force was concentrating in increasing numbers along the branch of the railway concentration of the Japanese along the Taitse River near Bensihu.

Japs Advance Along Whole Line.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1, 2.20 a.m.—It is admitted that the Japanese advance has already begun along the whole line, assuming its most active form on the east, whither Field Marshal Oyama continues to draft large forces. Operations are also progressing west of the river.

The Associated Press' Harbin despatch contains the important announcement that the Japanese have occupied Siabeyho, west of the Liao River, from which point they are evidently threatening Sinmintin.

Will Attempt to Escape.

Tientsin, Oct. 1.—Russian officers here admit that it is the intention of the remaining war vessels at Port Arthur to attempt to escape. They say they expected the movement one week ago, and that it may be expected any day.

German warships are cruising outside of Tsingtau daily. It is believed that if any of the Port Arthur fleet should attempt to reach that port it would be examined at sea and if found seaworthy, be advised not to enter the port.

Guilty of Criminal Negligence.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—A sessions jury yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against the Toronto Railway Company, charged with criminal negligence in not having provided better safety appliances to prevent the fatality which occurred on the "Y" near the head of Avenue road on the night of June 30, when Mrs. Ward, an aged woman, was killed. A corporation, it is held, cannot be indicted for manslaughter, but there is no limit to a fine which may be imposed. As a reserve case was asked for, there was no fine named yesterday.

Death Came Swiftly.

Harriston, Ont., Oct. 1.—Death came very suddenly to John McConnell, grocer, Thursday night. He was in his store until nine o'clock, went home and retired at eleven in apparently his usual good health. In a few minutes his wife heard him make a slight noise, and on investigation found he was dead. The cause was heart failure. He for years conducted a grocery business in Chesley and came here about nine years ago.

Opened An Artery in His Arm.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—On account, it is thought, of illness that preyed upon his mind, William McMillan, a man employed at 180 West Adelaide street, attempted suicide yesterday morning by opening an artery in his left arm. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, but he has lost so much blood that the doctors have little hope of his recovery. McMillan hails from St. Thomas.

Crushed Between Couplings.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Owing to an ill-judged attempt to pass between two cars which he was coupling at Port Hope yesterday, Thomas Williams, a York brakeman, was crushed between the couplings and so badly hurt that there is scarcely any hope of his recovery. Only recently his father, a section man, was killed by a train near York.

Cancelled His Meeting.

Quebec, Oct. 1.—J. Redmond, leader of the Irish Parliamentary party, was compelled to cancel his engagement to lecture here last evening. Mr. Redmond was called to the United States on important business. The lecture was called off and money refunded to the ticket-holders.

Till Spring Assizes.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The libel action of Hon. F. R. Latchford v. Free Press and D'Arcy Scott, arising out of an attack published in The Free Press, was sent over to the spring assizes yesterday.

Beets $5 a Ton.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The sugar beet harvest has commenced, and the beets are now being hauled to the factory. They are testing well. The lowest of any test thus far made was 14. The tests vary from 14 to 15.8. With this average the price of beets this year will be $5 a ton.

2,363 Homestead Entries.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 30.—During August, 2,363 homestead entries were recorded at the various land agencies in Western Canada. Most of the homesteading was done in the Territories and the Regina district led other agencies with a record of nearly 600 entries.

Redmond Gets $2,000.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—John Redmond spoke here last evening and his hearers contributed $2,000 to aid the Irish party at the coming Imperial elections. Mayor Laporte presided. Mr. Redmond's speech was

TO CONTROL THE STOCK

Steel Trust Purchases Cramp Works at Collingwood.

NOMINAL CAPITAL $2,500,000

Will Not Disclose, However, Its Definite Plans As to Canadian Trade Just Yet, But It Will Ultimately Be Used as the Canadian Subsidiary of the Steel Trust Corporation.

New York, Oct. 1.—Interests representing the United States Steel Corporation have purchased the controlling block of stock in the Steel and Iron Company, organized with a nominal capital of $2,500,000, to acquire and operate the Cramp Steel Works at Collingwood, Canada. The steel corporation will take over the Canadian firm at an early date. In this connection it is said that the new company, which is called the Northern Steel and Iron Company, Limited, will ultimately be used as the Canadian subsidiary of the steel corporation, and that the new plant may be in operation much sooner than if the corporation undertook to build an entire new plant at any point in Canada. Until there are further developments as to the ability of the steel companies now operating in Canada to meet the requirements of the new bounty laws there, the steel corporation will not disclose its definite plans as to Canadian trade.

KILLED THE GOVERNOR.

Moroccan Tribes Revenge Imprisonment of Rebels.

Tangier, Oct. 1.—The Governor of Arzila (a small seaport, 25 miles from Tangier), who was the father-in-law of the former War Minister, El Menebhi, has been murdered at Arzila by people of the surrounding tribes. The murder was committed out of revenge for the action of the Governor in imprisoning members of the tribes. The murderers released the prisoners at Arzila and killed many of the townspeople.

Great alarm prevails at Arzila, and the authorities there have appealed to Mohammed El Torras, the representative at Tangier of the Sultan, to send them assistance.

British Commercial Bureau.

London, Oct. 1.—(C.A.P.)—Premier Seddon of New Zealand, speaking at a banquet to celebrate his silver jubilee as an M.P., urged the establishment of a British Commercial Bureau, with branches in all the British possessions, maintained by Great Britain and the self-governing colonies.

The president of the Board of Trade, at the head Board, should be affiliated with the Colonial Chamber of Commerce, with the special object of watching and reporting on trade requirements, manufactured goods, raw material and all other products. The Empire should assist in the extension of British colonial markets, keeping the mother country and colonies posted in respect to competition of other countries.

Threshers Narrow Escape.

Woodstock, Oct. 1.—The barns on the farm of William Scott, in East Zorra, were destroyed by fire from a spark from a threshing engine at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All the grain and buildings were consumed. There is only a small insurance. David Malcolm, the owner of the threshing outfit, and several men, narrowly escaped death when trying to get the separator out of the barn. Flames caught their clothing but they escaped serious injury. The separator was saved. Loss about $10,000.

Mr. Gurney Wishes to Regret.

Lenox, Mass., Oct. 1.—Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, has received a despatch from Acting United States Secretary of State Loomis, which embodied the substance of Governor John L. Bates' letter to the State Department, in the recent Phelps-Gurney episode. The Ambassador has wired Mr. Loomis to thank Governor Bates for his letter, and also to inform him that Mr. Gurney wishes to express regret if he had not conformed to the motor speed regulations.

Warrant Against Aldermen.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—High Constable Huber yesterday swore out an information against Ald. McKay, chairman of the Police Committee, charging him with assisting a prisoner to escape. Ald. McKay is alleged to have without authority released the prisoner, Herbert Hummell, from the police cells, where High Constable Huber had placed him for maltreating a horse. Hummel was drunk at the time.

Decrease in British Revenue.

London, Oct. 1.—The return of the total revenue of the United Kingdom for the half year ending yesterday shows a decrease of £151,233,525, compared with corresponding period of 1903. The principal decrease is in the property and income tax, $12,000,000. The principal increase was in the customs receipts, $4,857,685. The total revenue was $306,851,640.

JAPANESE WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

Reported Russian Defeat in a General Engagement.

JAPS PORT ARTHUR LOSSES

Oyama Begins His Long-Expected Advance on Mukden—150,000 Japs Surround Kuropatkin's Army—Chee Foo Report That Japs Captured Main Forts Discredited—Daily Clashes Between Outposts.

London, Oct. 1.—According to The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent it is reported that the Japanese have been victorious in a general engagement at Mukden. The news is not confirmed. It is probably an exaggerated version of outpost affairs.

The despatch from Mukden yesterday, representing that a serious collision between the opposing armies there was imminent, attracts the greatest attention from the London press. It is considered certain that the despatch was mutilated by the military censor.

Russ Outposts Driven In.

Kuropatkin's outposts have been driven in after sharp fighting near Mukden and there are indications that the Japanese are about prepared for an aggressive movement.

Long-Expected Advance Begun.

Field Marshal Oyama has begun the long-expected advance upon the Russian army at Mukden and a coincident movement against Sinmintin is indicated by the fact that the Japanese have occupied Siabeyho, west of the Liao River. There is a concentration of Japanese forces in the vicinity of the Yentai mines, and the advance lines are being gradually pushed forward.

Must Go Into Winter Quarters.

The failure of the latest Japanese attempt to drive out the Port Arthur fleet and reduce the fortress has led, according to the Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent, to the decision that the Japanese must go into winter quarters, Japanese officers admitting that Gen. Stoessel is making a superb stand.

"Accordingly," the correspondent adds, "permanent fortifications, affording excellent shelter, are being constructed outside the Russian main line of defences and warm clothing is being brought up for the troops. Reinforcements are continually arriving. Finding it impossible to hold outer forts, even when they are captured, owing to the enfilading fire, the only alternative left the Japanese is to cut off supplies and communications."

150,000 Japs Surround Kuropatkin.

Renewed efforts by Chinese bandits to destroy the Manchurian Railway south of Harbin are reported. A statement also comes from Mukden that the Japanese are preparing to act on the defensive and have fortified a position northeast of the Yentai Mines. The Japanese army now encircling General Kuropatkin is estimated to consist of 180 battalions, or about 144,000 infantry, with 6,000 cavalry and 638 guns.

The Japanese are losing no time in altering the guage of the railway. This has been completed to a point within ten miles of Liaoyang.

Discredit Che Foo Report.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The authorities at the War Office discredit the Che Foo report that the Japanese have captured the main forts at Port Arthur. The information of the War Office proves that the Japanese losses during the siege have been 45,000 killed or wounded.

The reports from Seoul of the landing of a Russian detachment from Vladivostock from north of Hamheung are denied at the War Office. The few Russian troops in northeastern Corea went there overland.

A Direct Exchange.

The report that Japan and Russia have arranged a direct exchange of news regarding prisoners of war without the intermediary of the United States and France is confirmed.

Daily Clashes Between Outposts.

Field Headquarters of the Second Japanese Army, Sept. 28, noon, via Fusan, Oct. 1.—The changing of the gauge of the railway has been completed within ten miles of Liaoyang, and it is expected that within three or four days the first train will be run over the new tracks. There is no change in the situation. Japanese outposts are now 15 miles to the north. There are daily clashes between Japanese outposts and Russian patrols, usually resulting in only small casualties.

Gen. Sakharoff's Report.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The War Office at a late hour of the night gave out a telegram from General Sakharoff, dated Sept. 30, describing a successful onslaught upon a Japanese advance guard near Yentai, on Sept. 28. The Japanese began the fight by attacking a position held by the Russians at Ouladitza, 20 miles south of the Hun River. The Russians withdrew and then countermarched and occupied the enemy's position at Toumysta and drove the Japanese as far as Yentai Station, losing only four men wounded, whereas the Japanese lost twenty killed or wounded.

Gen. Sakharoff further reports that a reconnaissance on Sept. 29 showed that the Japanese force was concentrating in increasing numbers along the branch of the railway concentration of the Japanese along the Taitse River near Bensihu.

Japs Advance Along Whole Line.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1, 2.20 a.m.—It is admitted that the Japanese advance has already begun along the whole line, assuming its most active form on the east, whither Field Marshal Oyama continues to draft large forces. Operations are also progressing west of the river.

The Associated Press' Harbin despatch contains the important announcement that the Japanese have occupied Siabeyho, west of the Liao River, from which point they are evidently threatening Sinmintin.

Will Attempt to Escape.

Tientsin, Oct. 1.—Russian officers here admit that it is the intention of the remaining war vessels at Port Arthur to attempt to escape. They say they expected the movement one week ago, and that it may be expected any day.

German warships are cruising outside of Tsingtau daily. It is believed that if any of the Port Arthur fleet should attempt to reach that port it would be examined at sea and if found seaworthy, be advised not to enter the port.

Guilty of Criminal Negligence.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—A sessions jury yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against the Toronto Railway Company, charged with criminal negligence in not having provided better safety appliances to prevent the fatality which occurred on the "Y" near the head of Avenue road on the night of June 30, when Mrs. Ward, an aged woman, was killed. A corporation, it is held, cannot be indicted for manslaughter, but there is no limit to a fine which may be imposed. As a reserve case was asked for, there was no fine named yesterday.

Death Came Swiftly.

Harriston, Ont., Oct. 1.—Death came very suddenly to John McConnell, grocer, Thursday night. He was in his store until nine o'clock, went home and retired at eleven in apparently his usual good health. In a few minutes his wife heard him make a slight noise, and on investigation found he was dead. The cause was heart failure. He for years conducted a grocery business in Chesley and came here about nine years ago.

Opened An Artery in His Arm.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—On account, it is thought, of illness that preyed upon his mind, William McMillan, a man employed at 180 West Adelaide street, attempted suicide yesterday morning by opening an artery in his left arm. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, but he has lost so much blood that the doctors have little hope of his recovery. McMillan hails from St. Thomas.

Crushed Between Couplings.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Owing to an ill-judged attempt to pass between two cars which he was coupling at Port Hope yesterday, Thomas Williams, a York brakeman, was crushed between the couplings and so badly hurt that there is scarcely any hope of his recovery. Only recently his father, a section man, was killed by a train near York.

Cancelled His Meeting.

Quebec, Oct. 1.—J. Redmond, leader of the Irish Parliamentary party, was compelled to cancel his engagement to lecture here last evening. Mr. Redmond was called to the United States on important business. The lecture was called off and money refunded to the ticket-holders.

Till Spring Assizes.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The libel action of Hon. F. R. Latchford v. Free Press and D'Arcy Scott, arising out of an attack published in The Free Press, was sent over to the spring assizes yesterday.

Beets 65 a Ton.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The sugar beet harvest has commenced, and the beets are now being hauled to the factory. They are testing well. The lowest of any test thus far made was 14. The tests vary from 14 to 15.8. With this average the price of beets this year will be $5 a ton.

2,363 Homestead Entries.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 30.—During August, 2,363 homestead entries were recorded at the various land agencies in Western Canada. Most of the homesteading was done in the Territories and the Regina district led other agencies with a record of nearly 600 entries.

Redmond Gets $2,000.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—John Redmond spoke here last evening and his hearers contributed $2,000 to aid the Irish party at the coming Imperial elections. Mayor Laporte presided. Mr. Redmond's speech was

TO CONTROL THE STOCK

Steel Trust Purchases Cramp Works at Collingwood.

NOMINAL CAPITAL $2,500,000

Will Not Disclose, However, Its Definite Plans As to Canadian Trade Just Now, But It Will Ultimately Be Used as the Canadian Subsidiary of the Steel Trust Corporation.

New York, Oct. 1.—Interests representing the United States Steel Corporation have purchased the controlling block of stock in the Steel and Iron Company, organized with a nominal capital of $2,500,000, to acquire and operate the Cramp Steel Works at Collingwood, Canada. The steel corporation will take over the Canadian firm at an early date. In this connection it is said that the new company, which is called the Northern Steel and Iron Company, Limited, will ultimately be used as the Canadian subsidiary of the steel corporation, and that the new plant may be in operation much sooner than if the corporation undertook to build an entire new plant at any point in Canada. Until there are further developments as to the ability of the steel companies now operating in Canada to meet the requirements of the new bounty laws there, the steel corporation will not disclose its definite plans as to Canadian trade.

KILLED THE GOVERNOR.

Moroccan Tribes Revenge Imprisonment of Rebels.

Tangier, Oct. 1.—The Governor of Arzila (a small seaport, 25 miles from Tangier), who was the father-in-law of the former War Minister, El Menebhi, has been murdered at Arzila by people of the surrounding tribes. The murder was committed out of revenge for the action of the Governor in imprisoning members of the tribes. The murderers released the prisoners at Arzila and killed many of the townspeople.

Great alarm prevails at Arzila, and the authorities there have appealed to Mohammed El Torras, the representative at Tangier of the Sultan, to send them assistance.

British Commercial Bureau.

London, Oct. 1.—(C.A.P.)—Premier Seddon of New Zealand, speaking at a banquet to celebrate his silver jubilee as an M.P., urged the establishment of a British Commercial Bureau, with branches in all the British possessions, maintained by Great Britain and the self-governing colonies.

The president of the Board of Trade, at the head Board, should be affiliated with the Colonial Chamber of Commerce, with the special object of watching and reporting on trade requirements, manufactured goods, raw material and all other products. The Empire should assist in the extension of British colonial markets, keeping the mother country and colonies posted in respect to competition of other countries.

Threshers Narrow Escape.

Woodstock, Oct. 1.—The barns on the farm of William Scott, in East Zorra, were destroyed by fire from a spark from a threshing engine at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All the grain and buildings were consumed. There is only a small insurance. David Malcolm, the owner of the threshing outfit, and several men, narrowly escaped death when trying to get the separator out of the barn. Flames caught their clothing but they escaped serious injury. The separator was saved. Loss about $10,000.

Mr. Gurney Wishes to Regret.

Lenox, Mass., Oct. 1.—Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, has received a despatch from Acting United States Secretary of State Loomis, which embodied the substance of Governor John L. Bates' letter to the State Department, in the recent Phelps-Gurney episode. The Ambassador has wired Mr. Loomis to thank Governor Bates for his letter, and also to inform him that Mr. Gurney wishes to express regret if he had not conformed to the motor speed regulations.

Warrant Against Alderman.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—High Constable Huber yesterday swore out an information against Ald. McKay, chairman of the Police Committee, charging him with assisting a prisoner to escape. Ald. McKay is alleged to have without authority released the prisoner, Herbert Hummell, from the police cells, where High Constable Huber had placed him for maltreating a horse. Hummel was drunk at the time.

Decrease in British Revenue.

London, Oct. 1.—The return of the total revenue of the United Kingdom for the half year ending yesterday shows a decrease of $151,233,525, compared with corresponding period of 1903. The principal decrease is in the property and income tax, $12,000,000. The principal increase was in the customs receipts, $4,857,685. The total revenue was $306,851,640.

Will Be Heard in November.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Hon. E. J. Davis yesterday filed an appeal at Osgoode Hall against the decision of the election court in North York, by which the seat was vacated on account of the employment of a "reported" election worker. A deposit of $100 was made to cover the costs. The appeal will be heard

Are you feeding your pigs on the food that develops brain and muscle and your children on the food that simply produces fat and heat?

No farmer wants to increase the brain and muscle elements in his cattle. Yet through ignorance of the laws of Nature he feeds them on the outer coatings of wheat (which contain the brain and muscle-producing elements) only grinding the starchy kernel of the grain (which practically contains only the fat and heat-producing elements of wheat) into white flour to make bread for human beings.

To be physically and mentally fit you require every element in the whole of the wheat. The only food you can get it in is

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT LAKEFIELD FAIR

Fourty-ninth Annual Fair was Held in That Village Yesterday.

List of Exhibitors in Live Stock—Some Interesting Speeding Events.

Yesterday was the busiest day Lakefield has seen for many moons, the reason for this unwonted activity being the fact that the 49th annual Exhibition of the Townships of Smith and Enniamore and the Village of Lakefield Agricultural Society was being held. This fair, although it has almost reached the half century mark is still a very lusty youngster, and shows no signs of approaching decline; on the other hand the directors and officers of the Society are as enthusiastic as ever, and work just as energetically for its success as they did in the earlier days, and this fact may perhaps be the secret of its success. At any rate, anyone who was at the fair yesterday will be of the opinion that the Exhibition conducted and maintained by the residents of the prosperous Townships of Smith and Enniamore, aided by those of the village municipality can teach the managements of some fairs which make much larger pretensions something about the proper way to successfully conduct an exhibition.

The conditions for the fair yesterday werte not by any means ideal. Nearly all day on Thursday the rain fell literally in torrents and in such quantities that it would have cooled the ardour of a less energecic and more easily discouraged people than those of the country adjacent to the village in which the fair was held, and although it had the effect of injuring to a certain extent the fair, yet that effect was not nearly so noticeable as it would have been under similar circumstances in other places.

The fair, as far as the attendance and quality of the exhibits were concerned was fully up to the standard of last year, but the entries were not as numerous as last year, when there was an unusually large number. This year there were 799 entries, as compared with about a thousand in 1903, and the gate receipts this year were in the neighbourhood of $250.00, and the attendance was about 1,500. The grounds were well filled with the spectators, and during the whole afternoon there was always something to interest those present.

The weather was a little too cold for perfect comfort, but outside of this feature, over which, of course, those in charge of the fair had no control, everything was perfectly satisfactory, and the fair of 1904 will go down in the history of the fair as one of the most successful in that history of successes.

The association now has about 130 members, and the revenue of the society this year, from gate receipts, membership fees, entry fees, grants from the Government, etc., will pay the prize list, of about $350 adn leave a nice balance on the right side of the ledger.

The exhibits in the building were not only numerous but they were also of good quality, and the display was one which would have done credit to much larger fairs. The grain exhibit was a particularly good one, and the judge of that department, Mr. Hall, expressed his surprise at the remarkably good showing, not so much in the number of samples shown, although these were particularly large, as in the really excellent quality of those samples, and the reputation of Peterborough county as a grain growing county will not suffer so long as the farmers are able to grow grain equal to that shown yesterday at Lakefield. There was also a good showing of fruits, while that vegetables was excellent, and surpassed Peterborough Fair in that respect. In ladies' work there was also a large number of very handsome and valuable articles, which showed very plainly that while the men of the section represented by the fair may be in the lead in their respective lines the ladies are not one whit behind them in that respect, and can produce evidences of skill against which few, if any, can successfully compete.

The stock exhibit also was more than ordinarily good. In horses this applies more especially, and in all classes of horses the showing was good, from the light carriage classes to the heavier general purpose and draft animals.

The exhibits of cattle sheep and swine were not particularly large, but the showing was a representative one, and the breeding was good, evidence of the fact that the stock raisers of that part of the county are alive to the benefits to be derived from the breeding of good stock, even if the quantity should be smaller, realizing that there is greater profit in raising five really good animals than in double that number of poor or only fair stock.

The speeding events were well contested and created considerable interest, not only among those participating, but also among the spectators.

In the class devoted to general driving purpose horses, in which trials of speed were required, there were four entries. The result of the race, with the summary of the three heats were as follows:

Nigger, F. Gray, Lakefield 111
Mac. Hamilton, M. Mitchell, Peterborough..... 222
Tariff Pride, E. Rosebrough, Smith..... 333
Lady Almonte, W. Allen, Smith.4dr

The Novelty Race also aroused considerable interest. In this race the horse was to be hitched to the buggy, trot once, walk once, and trot once again around the track, and then be unhitched. There were three entries for this event, which resulted as follows:

W. Fowler, Smith; W. Allen,Smith; W. Duncan, Peterborough. The latter was at the finishing point first but did not succeed in getting his horse detached quickly enough from the vehicle.

The president of the Society, Mr. R. Q. Dench, ably assisted by the secretary, Mr. W. Sherin, has worked energetically for the success of the Fair, and the present satisfactory standing of the Fair, must be very gratifying to these gentlemen.

The officers of the Society for the year 1904, with the committee of management are as follows:

President—R. Q. Dench.
Sec.-Treasurer—W. Sherin.
Honorary Directors—T. E. Bell, E. Fitzgerald, G. W. Mann, W. Leahy, R. Garbutt, Thos. Fitzgerald, S. Wallace, J. N. Johnston, V.S., and A. Johnson.
Auditors — W. M. Graham and A. Fairbairn.

Committee of Management.

Classes 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 — Dr. J. N. Johnston, T. Fitzgerald, William Leahy and H. C. Garbutt.
Classes 6, 7, 8, and 9 — Ed. Fitzgerald and G. W. Mann.
Classes 10, 11 and 12—R. Garbutt and A. Johnston.
Class 13—L. Payne.
Classes 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 — H. C. Garbutt, S. Wallace, G. W. Mann, A. Johnston, R. Garbutt and Wm. Leahy.

The judges in the different classes were:

Horses—W. B. Kelly, Bridgenorth; D. Hughes-Charles, Peterborough; John Tate, South Monaghan.
Cattle—Wm. Rutherford, South Monaghan; J. H. Lefevre, Douro.

Diamonds

The reputation of "Diamond Hall" is continental for the quality and reasonable prices of its precious stones.

The same care is exercised in selecting the stone for our $45.00 solitaire ring (No. 1393) as for one at six or eight times that cost.

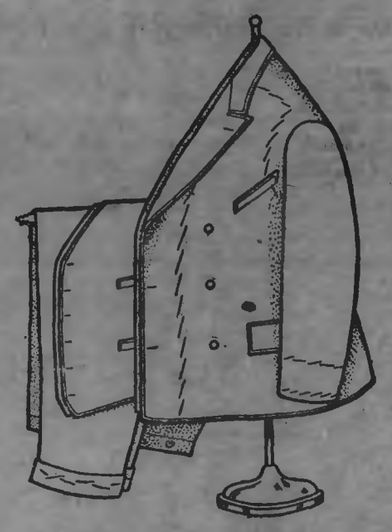
THE DIFFERENCE



A "ready-made's" a "ready-made," you'll know it whenever you see it!

You can't hack suits out by the hundred—give them to the "Ghetto" to be hastily sewn together by under paid apprentices at so much per hundred and expect to get style.

Style and shape permanence are hand sewn and needle moulded into each Semi-ready garment!

Honest, stiff canvas and thick, resistable haircloth skilfully pressed into form with the hot iron, then sewn into the shape that is permanently retained give each Semi-ready garment its personality—impart the intangible atmosphere of quiet refinemeut.

LAURIER IS "ALL RIGHT."

The enemies of Sir Wilfrid Laurier who wish to discredit the great influence he wields in the country, are seeking to make him a broken man in health, whose shoulders are unfit to bear the burdens of the big responsibilities he carries. This has no justification. In the matter of health he is as fit as possible. Any one who saw him at the opening meeting of the campaign at Sorel, would see that not only were his health and strength robust, but that, as shown by the magnificent address he delivered, his great mind was as active and strong as ever, and that his devotion to the promotion of the welfare of Canada was as deep and strong as at any time of his life. Sir Wilfrid's enemies will find that they do not have to reckon with a sick man, but a man who will put up a big fight, and win a great victory. The signal and magnificent success of his eight years of administration are behind him, to buttress his claims upon the support of the people, and his bold, aggressive policy of progress and development of Canadian interests, is an inspiration to hopefulness for the future of this great and growing country. Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

THE RIGHT WAY TO DO IT.

At Napanee Mr. Borden made a devised declaration of his subservience to a tariff for manufacturers, an answer to the demand of a farmers' association, that no discrimination in tariff matters should be made against the farmers. He felt compelled, however, to hedge and trick to come off the honest farmer by the absurd declaration that an "adequate" tariff would benefit the farmer by enlarging the home market. It is plain that we cannot enlarge the home market in the older parts of Canada. It is only by opening up and peopling new areas that new centres of demand can be created. To open up those we must have increased transportation such as that represented by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Then from the Atlantic to the Pacific new country will be opened up, new homes for new population and new centres of demand for the manufactured products of older Ontario. This will beget a demand for more manufacturing industries, give additional employment to labour, and produce all-round prosperity. Yet Mr. Borden, who would open new markets by taxing the consumers of the country, opposes the best means for increasing our population and creating demands for manufactured products. Our home market is now unequal to the absorption of our manufactured products. The only feasible way to enlarge our home market is to encourage more manufacturing industries to supply the demands of an increased population in new areas.

Mr. Preston, the Government Immigration Agent, denies that the Government is offering any inducements to mechanics to come to Canada. He says the Government agents are confining their efforts strictly to sending out agriculturists and domestics. The more farmers and farm labourers that come the better it will be for the mechanics here.

The Mail and Empire is shameless in its journalistic methods, as examined by the following extract from its editorial columns. The venom is there, but the organ in the pursuit of political objects so often writes with of the facts that the statement contained in it may safely be taken with a largish pinch of salt. It says:

"Mr. Sydney Fisher received the cold shoulder at the West Kent Exhibition. He was shunned by the people, and prominent men would not even dine with him. Mr. Fisher has offended against the moral sense of the community by his conduct in the Dundonald affair, and the Laurier Government ought to drop him without delay. As a Minister of Agriculture Mr. Fisher is a joke. As a Minister of Militia he is a tragedy."

—And as a newspaper the Mail and Empire is a disgrace to the guild.

STRAINED HIS BACK WHILE LIFTING.

Was in a Bad Way Till he Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They Removed the Bad Effects and now William Sharam is as well as Ever Again.

Murray Harbour South, P.E.I., Sept. 30.—Special.—Hurt through straining his back while lifting Mr. William Sharam, general storekeeper here, got so weak that he could scarcely hold up. To-day he is enjoying the best of health once more and when asked how he got his health back he unhesitatingly answers, "Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"Having sprained my back with heavy lifting," Mr. Shram says in telling his story, "it brought on Urinary and Kidney Trouble. I got so weak that I almost fainted and could scarcely hold up. I was terribly troubled with having to get out of bed so frequently to urinate.

"After using many medicines with no good results, I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used ten boxes in all and now I can sleep without being disturbed and my old trouble has vanished."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys cure numerous diseases, including Rheumatism, Dropsy, and Bright's Disease.

WORKS RUNNING DAY AND NIGHT.

Government Inspector's Report on "Soo" Steel Plant.

Helen Iron Mine in Full Blast, the Output Averaging 1,000 Tons per day—Copper Smelter and Dynamite Factory Possibilities.

Mr. W. E. H. Carter, Inspector of Mines, writes to the Bureau of Mines from Sault Ste. Marie that the steel plant there is running day and night with some 600 men employed. The output averages 500 tons of 85-pound rails per day. The blast furnace plant is receiving the finishing touches, and it is proposed to commence smelting by the end of October. Meanwhile, supplies of iron ore and coke are being accumulated sufficient to last during the winter. About one-third of Helen ore will be used, together with ore from Michigan and Minnesota.

The Helen mine is in full blast, the output averaging about 1,000 tons per day of 24 hours of a grade containing 60 per cent. iron and low in phosphorus and sulphur. The mine is in good shape and is being worked systematically and economically. After this fall all mining will be done underground. The ore is being shipped as fast as it is mined, mainly on old contracts to United States ports.

The Shakespeare gold mine near Wabwood has been reopened, and a stamp mill has been purchased and is on the way in.

Mr. Carter also reports from the corundum district of Hastings and Renfrew counties that the Canada and Ontario Corundum Companies are both busily at work. The latter is erecting a new concentrating plant capable of handling about 75 tons per day. The process will be entirely dry. Corundum Refinery, Limited, have a small force putting up camp buildings and preparing to erect a mill and mine next season.

President Warren, Director Rowell and General Manager Shields of the "Soo" company interviewed the Commissioner of Crown Lands yesterday for the purpose of closing up matters in connection with the reorganization of the company.

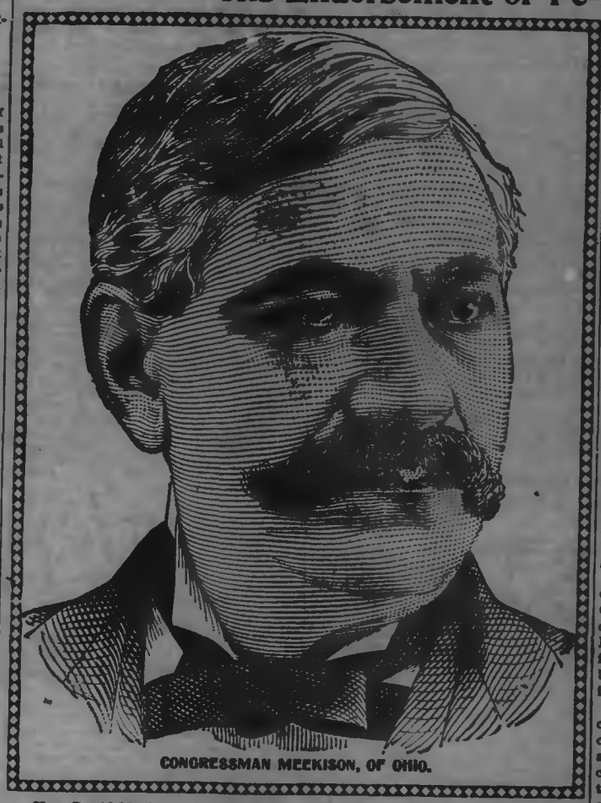
FOR THIRTY YEARS

Congressman Meekison Suffered With Catarrh—Read His Endorsement of Pe-ru-na.



CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.

Over fifty members of Congress endorse Peruna as a catarrhal tonic. Men of prominence the world over praise Peruna.

A TONIC is a medicine that gives tone to some part of the system. There are different kinds of tonics, but the tonic most needed in this country, where catarrh is so prevalent, is a tonic that operates on the mucous membranes.

Peruna is a tonic to the mucous membranes of the whole body. It gives tone to the capillary circulation which constitutes these delicate membranes.

Peruna is a specific in its operation upon the mucous membrane. It is a tonic that strikes at the root of all catarrhal affections. It gives tone to the minute blood vessels and the terminal nerve fibres. Catarrh cannot exist long where Peruna is used intelligently. Peruna seeks out catarrh in all the hidden parts of the body.

A. M. Ikerd, an employe of the C. B. & Q. R. R., West Burlington, Ia., writes:

"I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief. Finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me, that I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was something awful. I could hardly stand it, it was so offensive. I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse.

"Finally I got one of your books, and concluded I would try Peruna, and thank God, I found a relief and a cure for that dreadful disease. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle in my house all the time."—A. M. Ikerd.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually called dyspepsia. Catarrhal dyspepsia cannot be cured by pepsin powders or any other temporary relief. The only cure for real dyspepsia is a removal of the catarrh from the mucous membrane of the stomach. This Peruna will do. This Peruna has done thousands and thousands of times.

Congressman Botkin, of Kansas, was cured of catarrh of the stomach of many years' standing. Hundreds of other cases have been reported to us through unsolicited testimonials. Peruna is the only internal systemic remedy for catarrh yet devised. Every one afflicted with catarrh in the slightest degree ought to take a course of Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

OPENING IN TWO DEPARTMENT'S.

Semi-Ready Wardrobe Formal Opening at Cressman's.

An Event of Dual Interest—1,100 Mantles Placed in Stock in Last Three Weeks.

Last night the Cressman Store was "At Home" to its friends, the occasion being the formal opening of the Semi-Ready wardrobe department for gentlemen and, and the mantle department for ladies. The actual opening of the Semi-Ready wardrobe took place about a month ago, and the department has met with great popular favour with the patrons of the store.

There have been erected in the store twenty-six Semi-Ready cabinets in which the Semi-Ready garments are kept. These cabinets are ingeniously arranged, and are constructed so that they will contain a large number of garments, keeping them in perfect shape, and still occupy very little floor space.

The Semi-Ready idea is one which has taken the fancy of the men who have been accustomed to buying tailor-made garments, and the manager of the Semi-Ready department, Mr. J. E. Oles, states that the volume of business since this department was started has been surprisingly large.

Last night the store presented a very pretty appearance, having been very tastefully decorated for the occasion of the opening, and from 7.30 till 10 o'clock this store was crowded with interested men. Mr. Gliddon's orchestra which was stationed at the rear of the store on a platform, rendered a choice programme of music, and the whole surroundings were very bright and cheerful.

The Semi-Ready idea is one with several distinctive features. In the first place the originators of this idea started out with the belief that a man wanted the chance to see his suit on him before he bought. — to judge its effect and its fit. With this in view they made suits to the trying on stage—seams left open, outlets and the inseams basted. The use of these suits could then be adjusted and the suit finished and delivered two hours after fitting.

At the start there were two wardrobes, one in Toronto and another in Montreal. To-day there are thirty. The manager of the local Semi-Ready wardrobe stated that among the men in Peterborough there has been already a decided prejudice in favour of the Semi-Ready garments. A number of men had already worn them and were pleased with the many advantages which they possess, consequently the work of introducing these garments was comparatively easy.

Mr. R. S. Broad, formerly with Zimmerman's, of Hamilton, has taken charge of the practical end of the semi-ready wardrobe, and any alterations are made under his supervision. Mr. Broad is a practical tailor and is thus fully competent to take charge of this important end of the business. The opening was in every respect a highly satisfactory one.

Last night, too, the mantle openings in the other department of the store took place, so that there was a dual interest in the Cressman store last night.

This year the store put in 1100 mantles, all purchased in Berlin personally, and to show the extent of this branch of the business it may be said that while last year the purchases were not quite as extensive as they were this year, only two garments were left over, a tribute to the buying ability of the firm. There was a large crowd of ladies present at the mantle opening, and some very beautiful garments were shown. These show rooms, too, were prettily decorated for the opening event. One of the most handsome garments was an evening wrap made of fine fawn broadcloth, with deep yoke, trimmed with French applique in brown and green, and satin lined. This wrap will doubtless grace the form of some fair Peterborough lady ere long. Another handsome mantle was a brown tourist coat, lined with satin.

The characteristic feature about the mantles of this season is the fact that the leg o' mutton sleeve will again be stylish, after having been out for six years. All coats made since July 10th will have this sleeve, for on that date in Berlin the styles completely changed, and the old sleeve was discarded, so that all garments bought before that date will be behind the new styles.

The predominating colours this year will be brown, black, and dark shades of fawns, and the lengths will be either 24 and 26 inches, or the 36 inch tourists' coat.

The millinery department is in full swing, and the business done in fall headwear since the opening has been very large. Nine-tenths of the millinery shown by the firm was purchased in Paris, which statement is sufficient guarantee of its newness and style.

A THEORY PROVED.

A New Idea Which Means a Great Deal in the Treatment and Cure of Disease.

Dr. L. Leonhardt, of Lincoln, Neb., the foremost physician of the Western States, has put forward a new theory as to the cause of disease. He says: "There can be no doubt, from the evidence at hand that the Stomach is and has always been the first cause of ninety per cent. of all the illness of mankind. The failure of the Stomach to digest the food properly results in fermentation and decomposition, and the poisons arising from the foul and rotting mass get into the blood and tissue and nerves and breed diseases of every kind."

Dr. Leonhardt has found a remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Constipation. He has tried it in thousands of cases without a single failure.

He calls it Anti-Pill. It is sold at 50c. by all druggists, or The Wilson-Fyfe Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. Sole agents for Canada. 109

STEAMER STONY LAKE BROKE RUDDER CHAIN

First Accident to the New Steamer Yesterday Afternoon.

The new steamer Stony Lake, which was built last spring, met with its first mishap yesterday when it was running its last trip. The boat has had a most successful season, and has been giving good satisfaction in every way, and yesterday it was running a special trip from Lakefield to Stony Lake, and was carrying a few passengers. On the return trip, when about two miles above Lakefield, the rudder chain broke and the boat drifted over the Government boom into the Dickson Company's logs. The Government yacht Empire was soon on the scene but could do nothing. After about two hours the "alligator" used for lumbering purposes came to the rescue, and the passengers and their baggage was landed. The accident was not a serious one.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE WAS THE JUDGMENT.

Edward Taylor appeared before Judge Weller at the County Judges' Criminal Court yesterday afternoon to face two charges of stealing. The first was of stealing a watch from Ira McMullen on Aug. 29th and the second of stealing a gold watch and a sum of money, about $25, from a traveller at the Balmorral Hotel. The evidence given showed that in both cases the defendant was under the influence of liquor. No such charge had ever been brought against him while in a sober condition and his counsel, Mr. D. O'Connell, asked for the clemency of the Judge in dealing with his case. The defendant, he said, was heartily sorry for his misdeeds and since being confined in the jail had signed the pledge, in the presence of his clergyman, and expressed his determination to abstain from liquor. He had a wife and three small children who were absolutely dependant upon him for their support and who had always found him a good husband and father. The Judge said the case was an unusual one and though the offence was a serious one, the conditions and circumstances would be considered. He asked the prisoner if he would promise to abstain from indulging in liquor, which evidently rendered him in a condition where he was not responsible for his actions, and the defendant faithfully promised to do so. He was allowed to go on suspended sentence, the Judge warning him that if he should appear before him again the punishment would be a severe one.

Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution and Mr. D. O'Connell for defence.

MRS. CORNELIUS HALPIN DIED YESTERDAY

Had Been Ill But a Few Days—Funeral To-morrow.

Another old resident of Peterborough, Mrs. Cornelius Halpin, died yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Mary Haley, was born in the county of Limerick, Ireland, and came to Canada in the year 1840. She resided for one year in Montreal, after which she came to Peterborough, where she had resided ever since. She was taken ill three days ago, her demise being of a quite unexpected nature. She leaves a husband and six children — two daughters, Mrs. W. J. Devlin of town, Miss Bridget at home, and four sons, John, Michael, Thomas of town, and Patrick, of Toronto. One son died about five months ago, and her only sister has been deceased for one year.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, 34 Lake street, to-morrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and proceed to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

WHAT SULPHUR DOES.

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any result.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide), and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigour and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver, and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur, were often worse than the disease and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples, and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists, and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and especially in all forms of skin disease as this remedy."

At any rate, people who are tired of pills and cathartics and so-called "blood purifiers," will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

THE LIBERAL CANIDATE.

In another column will be found the address of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate to the electors of West Peterborough. The address itself sets forth fully Mr. Hall's claims to public support, as a supporter of the Liberal Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but still claiming that independence of action in regard to many matters which a government of the right ideas in regard to its responsibility, appreciates in a follower. Mr. Hall, of the firm of Stratton & Hall, is a young man of great energy, public spirited, enterprising, and of first class business ability, a combination of qualifications which most effectively fit him for making a representative who will look keenly after the interests of West Peterborough, and give this riding what it has not had in the Dominion Parliament for many years, a representative who appreciates his responsibility to his riding and with a will and ability to promote its special interests.

Consulting an Unerring Compass

WHEN a man is lost, so to speak, in the dark depths of kidney trouble, words of advice come from every side as to the direct course to health.

But so conflicting are these various instructions that well might he voice his despair in the words of the poet: "Who can direct when all presume to know?"

Here let us state that our assertion is not one born of presumption, but is the fruit of the best knowledge and of years of successful experience. We have received many letters expressing gratitude for the relief received from the use of Bu-Ju. These come from well-known residents, of all ages, and are proof positive of the wonderful efficacy of Bu-Ju in relieving and curing all the ailments that are the effect of kidney disorders. Among these are: Rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, constipation, urinary troubles, pain in joints, swelling of extremities, backache, and chills. Some of these are merely symptoms of kidney trouble, and all can be cured if the kidneys are put right and kept right. Bu-Ju is the compass that points to Health. A single trial will convince any sufferer.

Bu-Ju is sold by all druggists; box of 50 pills 50 cents.

MENNONITE SETTLERS

FRUGAL PEOPLE WHO HAVE PROSPERED IN THE NORTHWEST.

Landing Almost Penniless in Canada They Have Grown Rich—Good Customers for Goods From Capital City of Ontario—They Buy the Best Quality of Articles—Brief Story of the Community.

Writing from Grotna, Man., to The Toronto Star, John P. McConnel, says:

More than a century and a quarter ago a German religious sect left the fatherland and in the dominions of the Czar at that time sought freedom from military duties and the right to worship God in their own way. And they found what they sought. In the light of latter-day Russian history this may sound strange, but the then Russian Government reserved a large tract of land, some 600 square miles, guaranteed the people freedom from military duties for 99 years, and protected their religious freedom. But the 99 years elapsed and in the meantime Czars had come and gone. Military duties were imposed. At first these people were not asked to bear arms. They were merely required to serve in hospital and sapper corps But gradually other duties were forced upon them, until it became a question of two things, unreserved submission to the military mandates of the Czar and the relinquishing of the tenets of their faith, or in seeking in a new land exemption from the hateful business of learning to legally kill their fellow-men.

They Come to Canada.

It was in the early seventies that the attention of the Canadian immigration office was attracted to this community. Mr. Hespeler, at that time German Consul in Winnipeg, and who has since represented a Manitoba constituency in the Dominion House, was sent over to South Russia to meet their representatives. He was authorised to offer them homesteads in a large reservation in Manitoba, and also to promise military exemption. The Russian Government learned of his mission and gave him a few hours to leave the country, but he had accomplished what he went for.

A Prosperous Community.

It was in 1874 that the first contingent of Mennonites, now one of the most prosperous communities in the West, first arrived in Manitoba.

In leaving Russia they made inconceivable sacrifices. The homes and ties which they had been a century in building and forming, the fortunes they had accumulated, were for the most part left behind. They had made an agricultural paradise in Russia, and they left it all for an unknown wilderness in the heart of the American continent under the protection of the Union Jack.

What they did in Russia in a century they have done in part in Canada in thirty years. Nowhere in Manitoba are there better farms or better farmers. Thrifty, industrious, frugal and honest, they have made splendid progress.

It was in August, 1874, the advance guard arrived. They landed almost penniless. Those who had been fortunate enough to realize even a small fraction of the value of their Russian possessions helped those who had nothing. They had barely time to locate on their reservation and erect rude shelters on the prairies before a Manitoba winter was upon them. Next spring they broke some land and planted their first crop. But the grasshoppers took it all and then their plight was desperate. The Dominion Government came to their aid and loaned the Mennonite Church the sum of $80,000. The church authorities distributed it as it was needed, became responsible for the repayment, and assessed each man for his share. Needless to say, the debt was fully paid up in a few years after it was incurred.

The Best of Wheat.

This Mennonite community occupies a territory extending from Winkler in the west almost to Morden in the east, and from Rosenthal north to Gretna south. Gretna, from which this is written, is almost in the centre of the south end. The population of this district is about 15,000. At least half a dozen prosperous towns or villages dot this area. Each one has from three to five elevators. The district is crossed from north to south and east to west by railway lines. The extent of the reservation is practically 600 square miles, and no similar area in Manitoba produces more or a better grade of wheat than it does.

The Church exercises an almost communal influence over the district Separate schools are maintained in which is taught the German language from the Mennonite Bible. Religion is the primary subject. Arithmetic has its place, but the Bible comes first. The Mennonites ask no State support for their schools; they would not accept it if it were offered. They want to avoid any relations whatever with the Government. They are averse to voting. The smallest vote in proportion to population is polled in this district. Not twenty-five per cent. vote. They reason if they accept favors or assume public responsibility from the Government the Government may some day require military service in return. For this reason, too, the older members of the community steadfastly oppose the introduction of district or Public Schools, which carry the Government land grants. These are, however, making headway, and where they do both German and English are being taught, and the rising generation are learning the language of their native land, though few of the older ones speak anything but the low Dutch dialect of their forefathers.

No Mixed Marriages.

No member of the community may marry any but a baptized Mennonite. Baptism is voluntary and the candidate is usually over fifteen years of age.

In some respects their religious principles resemble those of the Doukhobors. Unlike the Doukhobors, however, they are not vegetarians, and they have a regularly organized church with a pastorate. The Doukhobors have no pastors, refuse to eat meat, and are deficient in intelligence in comparison with the Mennonites.

The Church also forbids a Mennonite to sell his land to others than members of his own faith. That this regulation does not militate against a Mennonite securing a good price for his farm is illustrated by two sales of 160 acres each which were made near here a short time ago, the two farms being sold for $7,600 and $7,500 respectively. The community, however, is outgrowing its reservation, and another has been started at Rosthern, in the Territories. This has already a population about half that of the Manitoba settlement.

Buy the Best Goods.

The Mennonites are good customers of Eastern manufacturers. They wear and use good goods. While they are frugal they are intelligent, and understand that it is not the cheapest but the best that pays. I saw a party of Mennonite women in a store here to-day. They wore the usual black headkerchief, black stuff dresses of good material, and were buying goods of the better sort.

I remarked to the proprietor of the store, himself a thorough-going Mennonite business man, that it might reasonably be inferred that the corset trade among the Mennonite women was not extensive. He good-humoredly pointed to a pile of corset boxes, perhaps less than three dozen in all, and said that stock was quite sufficient for his trade. He carried a stock of about $30,000 worth of general goods, and yet a stock of less than $75 worth of corsets supplied his trade.

Are Up-to-Date.

However, on his shelves I noticed all the advertised grocery specialties, breakfast foods, underwear, suspenders, shoes, patent medicines, and many other lines familiar to readers of Eastern papers.

I asked him how the demand for these goods had been cultivated, seeing that the majority of his customers, not being English readers, could not have learned of the goods through the usual channels of advertising. His reply would be worth while the average Ontario retailer pasting in his hat. He said: "We want to be up-to-date here. We keep posted on everything that comes out, and we sample it. If it turns out satisfactorily we stock it." Prominent in his store was a stock of the very latest breakfast food being advertised in Ontario.

There is no newspaper in Gretna. The Mennonites are not great readers. Their principal secular reading is a German weekly paper published in Winnipeg. They are content to live within themselves and to let the great world outside go its own way with its wars and its great undertakings.

For them the business of growing wheat, saving it to grade No. 1 hard, get the best possible price, and tuck most of the money away in the bank—or, better still, into another farm—is all they need or want. And who will say this community has not been, nor is, a most useful one, or that these simple-minded people, with such steadfast sense of duty that they left the homes a hundred years in the building to settle on our then bleak and almost unknown prairies, are not the kind of people Canada wants in laying her foundations of Empire.

Land in the Abitibi.

The report of Mr. T. J. Patten, who has just completed the laying of 120 miles of base and meridian lines in the Abitibi district, between the Frederick House and Metagami Rivers, 122 miles northwest of New Liskeard, is most encouraging. He states that the country is most beautiful and that there is land equal to any found within 100 miles of Toronto. "The results of the exploration we made in the clay belt in 1900 are being verified all the time," remarked Mr. Aubrey White, Deputy Commissioner of Crown Lands.

Mr. Patten's letter is in part as follows: "A considerable portion of the country in the southern part of the district gone over is level, with a heavy growth of red spruce from five to twelve inches in diameter, interspersed with an occasional ridge covered with large poplars and balm of Gilead. In the north the country generally is higher and gently undulating, with timber, chiefly large poplar, balm of Gilead, white spruce, and balsam. There are lower tracts of red spruce from four to ten inches in diameter.

"The territory covered by our actual survey lines embraces an area of about 1,000 square miles, while from a hill nearly 200 feet high near our meridian and twelve miles west of the 172nd mile-post, on Niven's east boundary of Algoma, we could see, by the aid of a powerful field glass, the country for nearly forty miles to the southwest, west, northwest and north. This country appeared to be chiefly poplar ridges, and our most northerly base line, which runs west from near the hill for eighteen miles and twelve miles east to Niven's line, verified it."

Burns' Best Poem.

It is said that a boy was once asked in the poet's presence which of Burns' works he liked best. After taking thought with himself for a little he declared that he liked the "Cotter's Saturday Night" by far the best, "although," he added, "it made me greet (cry) when my father bade me read it to my mither."

This statement seemed to impress Burns, for presently he said to the lad: "Weel, my callant (boy), it made me greet, too, more than once when I

THE LAST OLD-TIMER.

An Editor of Fifty Years Ago Passes Away at the Ripe Old Age of Eighty-three.

Mr. Thomas Holmes, one of the pioneer journalists of Ontario, passed away at Wingham on Saturday, 17th Sept., in his 83rd year, after a lengthy illness, following a general break up of the system. Half a century ago he was an important figure in Toronto journalism, and for the past forty-five years, since 1858, had been a resident of North Huron. In Wingham for a generation he conducted a legal and financial business. Besides brothers and sisters and other relatives, he leaves two sons and a daughter. His wife predeceased him two and a half years ago. The late J. G. Holmes, barrister, of Toronto, was a son.

One of the last bits of writing done by Mr. Holmes was the following sketch of newspapermen in Toronto over fifty years ago. It was written for The Globe, and at the time of his death was standing in type:

Fifty Years Ago.

As the multitude of interesting events in Toronto more than fifty years ago pass now before me like a panorama, I feel it would require a book to describe them. In a newspaper sketch I can only allude briefly to a few of them. I believe I am the only person now living who can speak personally of the people and events indicated.

At that time Mr. Hugh Scobie was editor and proprietor of The Colonist, newspaper. He was a man of considerable means, and was one of the best known men in Canada. He was a large, tall man with an honest face; he had no peculiarities or bad habits, except snuff-taking. His family consisted of his wife and one interesting little girl whom I saw grow up until she was about twenty, when she married Chief Justice Harrison. Mr. Scobie was a clever editorial writer. In connection with The Colonist he also published the Canadian Almanac. He as well had a large book store and a lithographing establishment. The book store was faithfully managed by James Bain, who knew more about the book trade than any other man in Canada. Sandford Fleming worked in the lithographing establishment. I did not expect then he would become Sir Sandford.

The Cholera Outbreak.

Before I went on The Colonist Mr. Scobie had been doing all the editorial work himself, but after my engagement on the paper he seldom contributed. In the summer of 1848 or 1849 the cholera broke out in Toronto and caused a general panic; all who could leave hurried away from the city. Mr. and Mrs. Scobie and their little girl went to Avon Springs in the United States, and I was left alone in the large and lonesome editorial office. A dark cloud seemed to hover over the city. People moved along rapidly and silently. Business for a time was almost suspended. There was hardly a vehicle to be seen on the streets except the ambulances taking new cases to the cemetery. The Colonist, however, went on as usual without the slightest assistance to me from any one, except an occasional editorial from Hon. Henry Sherwood or Mr. Angus Dallas. I had to go each day to the cholera sheds to get the number of the dead. Towards October the plague wore itself out, the absentees returned, and the cholera was soon forgotten.

The Northern Railway was the first railway ever built in Upper Canada. I had a farm on the line, and through the influence of Mr. Scobie, who was president of the railway company, a station was placed on it named Maple, which place is now a flourishing village.

Toronto's First Daily.

The Colonist was Independent Conservative from start to finish, and I spared no trouble to make the paper a success, which Mr. Scobie saw and appreciated, and he and I became sincere and earnest friends. In the fall months of the year Mr. Scobie and I spent several hours each night working at his almanac. About the year 1858 The Colonist was changed from a bi-weekly to a daily, a weekly edition called The News of the Week taking the place of the bi-weekly. When The Colonist was changed to a daily Mr. John Lowe of Montreal was engaged as chief editor. He was a noble, high-principled man, a brilliant writer, and the best shorthand reporter in Canada. Shortly after coming to Toronto he married a Montreal young lady named Chambers. She had the union of two qualities not often found in one woman—beauty and learning—and was quite qualified to take her husband's place on the paper. She and my wife were the only two ladies I know who wrote for the press at that time. When the Duke of Wellington died Mrs. Lowe wrote a memoir of his life for The Colonist, occupying about three columns of the paper, which was considered so good that it was copied throughout Canada and even in England.

The last Parliament ever held in Montreal passed the bill called the Rebellion Losses Bill, which so exasperated the Loyalists that they burned down the Parliament House. Mr. Robert Easson read the report to me and when I repeated it on King street the report created great consternation. As I mention Mr. Easson's name I wish to say that he was one of the most clever and obliging operators there were in Toronto in those days. To punish Montreal for the burning of the Parliament buildings the seat of Government was soon after removed to Toronto.

A Well's Wonderful Cure.

A wonderful cure has just been effected by the waters of St. Winifreda's well, in the little Welsh town of Holywell, the fame of which dates back hundreds of years. The patient is James Plunkett, a builder's laborer, of Manchester, who became almost a helpless cripple after falling from some scaffolding. He was dipped in the well and given a course of baths and was soon able to discard his crutches. He now walks with the aid of a stick, having only just the suspicion of a limp.

Albinos.

The human species offers frequent examples of individuals attacked by albinism. It is found oftenest among men of the black race. White albinos have skin of a peculiar paleness, blond hair, white or colorless beard, pink iris and red pupils. The negro albino has skin of variable aspect. In some cases it is white as milk, and in others it is like wax, or, rather, resembles the hue

DECADENCE IN ART

By AUTA POWELL

Copyright, 1904, by Auta Powell

Polly Anne Greenway's family thought her decidedly gifted, and that young lady's singular esteem for her relatives' opinions forced her to come to the same conclusion.

Nevertheless, when she announced her intention of studying art, her father demurred. It was one thing to have talent, but quite a different matter to depart from the beaten track, and Polly's family had other views for her.

"Let her marry and settle down," said her father.

But Polly's lips came together in a very firm line. There were plenty of women in the world. Let those who felt inclined marry and be given in marriage; as for her, she had a mission in life and she meant to perform it.

And she went about wearing such a set apart expression that parental objections gave way and she was allowed one meager but soul inspiring year in New York.

After that began the long battle with publishers and advertising bureaus. Discouragement she met at first with the joy of resistance, but that sort of joy weakens with use, and surely Polly's ill luck was phenomenal.

At last her cover for the Christmas number of a magazine was accepted and hope once more lit its lamp in her breast. But when a villainous lithographer transformed her designs so that nothing remained that she could call her own, her stoicism gave way utterly, and she folded her wings for a season.

It was just at this juncture that the Y. M. O. D. C. made his appearance. This title he acquired later on, when she discovered that he was a Young Man of Diabolical Cunning.

Polly had met him at more than one function, and he swelled the list of a large and uninteresting bowing acquaintance from which individuals were once in a long while selected to fill up vacancies made by removals and occasional misunderstandings.

Why should he call upon her? She ran rapidly over her scant knowledge concerning him as she came down to meet him. Rather stiff and expressionless. Rumored well off and on the point of marriage to some stranger. Nothing very decided, nothing particularly attractive.

The Y. M. O. D. C. rose before she had time to smile any "glad to see you" fibs.

"Good morning, Miss Greenway. Perhaps I should apologise for troubling you, but the truth is I am in a dilemma and have come to you for advice."

Polly settled herself and became all attention. A man may be most uninteresting, but the moment he asks for advice he becomes in the eyes of the woman he is consulting a most discerning individual and decidedly worth cultivating.

"You probably are not aware that I have been building a house on Lincoln street."

She believed she had heard it mentioned in connection with the homecoming of the stranger bride.

"It is completed," he continued, "and is now ready for the decorators. Just here is where I want your advice. There are lots of professional decorators, but none of my friends' houses satisfies me. Some of them have been done by well known decorators. I choose to think they show a lack of individuality. Now, I beg of you to undertake the management of the whole scheme of decoration and furnishing. Oh, pray don't veto it," as Polly's eyebrows went up to her pompadour, "till you have heard me out. I want each room in my house to be part of one scheme and the keynote of the whole thing to be simplicity. If you will undertake it you shall have all the help you wish—anything, everything you need to carry it out. It is well planned and well finished. I don't want it to be ostentatious or handsome or have any of those unholstery things, but to be quiet, restful, artistic—a home in every sense of the word."

"But I don't believe I'm competent," said Polly, to whom the idea began to appeal strongly—"in fact, I am sure I'm not."

"Does that mean that you wouldn't care to undertake it?"

"Oh, dear, no! I think I should like it above all things. I wish I had taken up that sort of thing at the art school."

"Then let us go at once and look at the house, and you can form your plans."

In five minutes they were on a car. Polly was carried off her feet. The whole undertaking grew momentarily more attractive, and, as she was an inveterate castle builder, by the time the car stopped at Lincoln street she had become a successful middle aged decorator.

She found the house a perfect gem in its way, beautifully laid out and with all sorts of possibilities in the way of decoration. As she went from room to room her delight and enthusiasm were good to see.

So the work was undertaken, and upon the whole everything went well. She did not often see the Y. M. O. D. C., but his appreciation and suggestions were always helpful, and a telephone message brought him immediately when he was needed to smooth out difficulties with stubborn or inefficient workmen.

It is hard to say just when Polly began to hate the bride elect, but the feeling reached its climax on that day when, everything being completed, the workmen gone and the owner out of town, she stole back for a last look before the key should have left her possession. She sat down on a high backed settle commanding a vista of three rooms. The sun threw stains and splashes of color on the inlaid floor, and outside a high wind whistled mournfully, the sort of wind that sings to sensitive ears of sorrow and desolation.

"I don't care how many houses I should decorate, there could never be another one just like this, and his wife will bring a whole lot of wedding presents and stuff and just ruin everything. I wish I had never seen the place. I wish I had never been born," she ended miserably. Then she wiped her eyes angrily. "No wonder I haven't been a success," she thought. "I am a weak minded simpleton anyway, and no doubt that fact is patent to every one but myself."

"Well, this is a success anyway," she mused a trifle more cheerfully, "and the color scheme and the plan are my own, and it cannot possibly turn into wretched, glaring pinks and blues or any old washed out things."

Then all at once the Y. M. O. D. C. stood before her horrified eyes, and she felt like a thief as she stood up weakly and tendered him the key.

"No; sit down. Let's talk about it," he said. "Great success, isn't it? I cannot flatter myself too much for my courage and wisdom in going to you."

He sat down beside her on the settle, looking so thoroughly contented and prosperous that she hated him from the bottom of her heart, or thought she did, which is just the same thing till we find out the difference.

"Everything is finished. When shall we move in?" he said. "It needs a woman in trailing robes handling delicate china and moving lightly from room to room to give the finishing touch and turn it into a home."

"It will need servants in the kitchen and provisions in the pantry and plenty of management," said Polly grimly, sick of the picture he drew and determined to cut short his rhapsody.

"Well," he said quizzically, "when shall we move in and begin the management?"

"I should think your fiancee would have some choice in the matter."

"Oh, I don't know," said he unconcernedly. "I think, perhaps, she will be satisfied."

"You take a good deal for granted," said Polly. "You must think a wife is a perfect nonentity."

"You will be a good deal together, I hope," he went on, ignoring her remarks. "I like the way you manage things."

"Do you, indeed?" thought Polly. Her lips quivered, and she made a mental resolution never again to cross the threshold.

There was a long silence while Polly looked at the rooms, and the Y. M. O. D. C. looked at her. Finally Polly stood up, but he took her hand and drew her down again.

"When are we going to be married, Polly?" he said.

"Who?" gasped Polly.

"We—you and I—Polly."

"We—and your fiancee—what do you mean?" she cried in distress.

"There isn't any one but you, Polly. I built the house just to get you to decorate it; then people had to provide a reason, and it really wasn't worth while contradicting them. I'm a dreadful sinner, Polly, but I couldn't interest you in any other way. Do forgive me and admit that you love the house—and me."

But Polly, wholly unprepared and too paralyzed for speech, sat back cold and pale. She shivered slightly.

A fire of driftwood had been laid in the quaint corner fireplace.

"Come, Polly," he said, taking her hand again; "we will light the fire and talk it over."

And they did.

Queer Fads of Smokers.

"Men who can afford to smoke really good cigars have more fads than other men you will meet in a day's walk," said a Broadway manufacturer who makes a good many cigars to order for his customers. "I know men who throw a cigar away the moment the ashes fall off. They believe the taste of it is ruined then. For such customers I make very close rolled cigars.

"Other customers like a cigar rolled so light that the ashes float off of their own accord. They like the red fire. Many men will never relight a cigar after it has gone out. Nothing could induce them to. Others relight a cigar five or six times before they discard it. Needless to say, they do not get the best of a good cigar.

"I have one customer who has a special brand of after dinner cigars made for him. They cost him $1 each net and are of medium size. It is his invariable habit to keep the cigar between his teeth half an hour before lighting it. His guests may light up with the coffee, but he never does. He likes to inhale the fragrance of the tobacco—to become permeated with it, so to speak—before he lights up. Then the cigar lasts him precisely one hour."—New York Times.

Good as Her Word.

Esmeralda—She used to say that if she ever married a man it would be because she wanted to make him miserable, yet she married that young Frizzletop after she had known him only a week.

Gwendolen—Yes; it seems to have been a case of hate at first sight.—Chicago Tribune.

Mutual Happiness.

"Can you forgive me and love me still?" said the newly made bride, "when I confess that my teeth are artificial?"

"Thank heaven!" cried the groom as he snatched off his wig. "Now I can cool my head."

The Gentianal Plant.

Gentius, king of Illyricum, the eastern boundary of the Adriatic, was taken prisoner by the Romans about a century and a half before the Christian era for encouraging pirates and died in custody. He discovered that a certain plant was a very good tonic, and that plant has ever since been called gentianl, after him. This plant is generally supposed to have been the tall, coarse alpine, common in mountainous districts in central Europe, and known to botanists as G. lutea, a preparation of which is still in high repute as a medicine.

Belated Weddings.

The love of independence and the freedom and pleasure of today make girls less and less anxious to marry before they are past five and twenty. Perhaps it is better that there should be that disinclination, for our modern life may fit a woman better to marry late than early.—Lady Jeune in London Opinion.

Telling on the Tail.

DEVIL DANCE IN THIBET.

Most Grotesque and Gorgeous Production of the Present Age in the New Protectorate of Britain.

The most noted ceremonial in Lhassa is the enacting of the great secret drama or mystic play, which is done on the occasion of the anniversary of the birth of the founder of Lamanism, at the end of the old year. It is said to be the most grotesque and gorgeous production of the present age. At the time of the New Year festival it is performed before the Dalai Lama on the hill of Potala, and is presented in all the Oriental splendor and religious fanaticism of Buddhist ritual. It is performed in the open air and witnessed by the head religious officials, throngs of pilgrims and spectators. The main object of the mystery play is to portray in pantomime the leading historic epochs of Lamanism, especially its triumph over other forms of worship. A certain portion of the play is intended to expel all the old year evil spirits and devils from the land. Several hundred maskers, representing the various demon lords, fiends and evil spirits of the innumerable places of punishment of the other world, take part in the performance, which lasts a day. According to the Thibetan belief, the soul of man, both on earth and after death, is surrounded by a vast number of malignant demons, who are constantly seeking to destroy and harrass him, with all sorts of tortures. Against the oppression of these demons he himself can do nothing; only the prayers of the Lamas can shield and save him from their attacks. In order to acquaint the people with the appearance of these misleading spirits of evil the Lamas during a dance put on masks representing their evil faces and imitate their antics. In this way the people are made familiar with the looks and appearance of these tormentors.

Chief among these masked characters are Yama, King and Ruler of the Inferno, who is represented as being enveloped in fiery flames and girded by a belt of grinning skulls, aided by one of his minions stag-faced, with protruding horns and gaping mouth. These assist in marshalling and directing the hosts of masked devils. The latter rush and howl in a wild, frenzied manner, and upon the appearance of another set of goblins they pounce upon and beat them with long clubs. This is intended to depict the punishment inflicted upon the wicked in the under world, who refuse to obey the laws taught by the Lamas. One of the chief acts of the play is the pantomime illustrating the assassination of the great enemy of Lamanism, impersonated by a set of black hat dancers. A certain iconoclastic king in the ninth century began to persecute the Lamas by burning and destroying the books and temples. In the third year of his reign he was shot through the head by a strolling dancer, whom he had commanded to dance before him. The assassin wore a peculiar black hat. To commemorate this event a high hat, the top crowned with filigree work and ornamented with a skull of the Enemy King, is worn by the troop of black hat performers who represent this tableau.

Feeling the Battleships.

During the recent manoeuvers between the submarine flotilla and the battleship squadrons of the British navy some ingenious ruses were adopted by the former to mislead the latter. One of the most successful was the building of an exact replica of the conning tower and a short length of the top of the submarine of canvas material. This was painted the same color as the submarine and was attached to the top of the craft. The submarine then traveled toward one of the hostile vessels, and when within range, and as conspicuously as possible, the canvas structure was released. It immediately floated to the surface of the water. Directly the submarine had discarded the mock structure it sunk again and, completely altering its course, approached the vessel from another quarter.

This canvas affair, being conspicuous, immediately attracted the warship's attention, and a severe fire was directed upon it. While this firing was in progress the submarine arose again to the surface on the opposite side of the warship and succeeded in launching a torpedo unobserved and at close range. The ruse was therefore completely successful.

Not Down to That.

The late Phil May spent several years when a very young man in Australia. There he met his first success as a comic artist, but not until he had experienced his share of ups and downs.

Six months after he left England a London friend, who has since achieved fame as a dramatic critic, also went out to Australia to seek his fortune.

He, too, soon encountered ups and downs, and during one of the latter happened upon a cheap restaurant in an obscure street of Sydney to order a frugal meal. After studying the bill of fare earnestly he looked up at the waiter and was startled to recognise in this person his friend May.

"Phil," he said solemnly, "is it possible that you work here?"

"Sir," answered May, drawing himself up with great dignity and throwing his napkin over his arm, "it is possible that I work here. I do work here. But, sir, I'd have you understand that I don't eat here. I'm not down to that yet!"

Modesty.

Genial Old Gentleman—Well, my little man, I suppose you think yourself pretty clever, eh?

Little Man—Yes. But I don't think myself so clever as I really am!

A Delicate Compliment.

Father—What, marry my daughter? Why, she's only a child. Spooner—Yes, sir. I thought I'd come early to avoid the rush.—Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday.

Easy Timekeeping.

Captain Cuttle's famous watch, which would keep "correct" time only by various shakings and shiftings of the hands during the day, is matched by a Yorkshireman's clock. He resented the imputation that there was anything wrong with it. "It goes reet enow for thim that knaw how t' read it," he said. "When its hands are at 12, it strikes 2,

DELIGHTFUL EVENT AT ST. ANDREW'S.

Eighth Anniversary of Induction of Pastor was Commemorated.

Last Night's Congregational Gathering —A Splendid Programme.

The school room of St. Andrew's church, was the scene of a most delightful event last evening when, under the auspices of the ladies of the church, the eighth anniversary of the induction of Rev. J. G. Potter as pastor, was commemorated. The occasion was in the form of a social reunion for the congregation, who responded in large numbers to the invitation to be present, with the result that the school room was crowded. A hearty spirit of sociability was manifest and everything possible was done to make strangers feel at home. The affair was in every way a great success and everyone was highly delighted with it.

A programme of more than usual merit was presented by local artists who were all very heartily received. The chairman was the pastor, Rev. J. G. Potter. The first number was an instrumental duet by Mrs. McClellan and Mrs. T. H. Mowat, which was well received. Mrs. D. McGregor, a vocalist with a soprano voice of fine quality and good compass, was heard with much pleasure in Totti's "Good-bye," and for an encore sang 'March of the Cameron Men." Miss Lora Leach, a late addition to the local elocutionary ranks, and an artist of much ability, gave a dramatic number, "The Patriot," with fine effect. Mr. Jos. Legg, the popular tenor, was very warmly applauded upon the rendition of his solo and responded with an encore. A short address was given by the chairman, who was pleased to see such a large gathering and was sure that the occasion would result in a larger degree of sociability being manifest in the congregation, and would result in strangers becoming better acquainted and more interested in the work of the church. Miss Florence Miller as usual delighted her hearers with her solo, "This and That," and was encored. Master Herbert Mowat, the boy soprano, was very successful in the rendition of his solo, "When we were Two Little Boys," and received a recall.

An intermission of fifteen minutes was spent in a social manner, and refreshments were served, the men of the church proving excellent waiters.

The second part of the programme opened with another solo, "A Lullaby," by Mrs. McGregor, who was encored. Mr. Gilbert Markle, the talented violinist, scored a great success in his solo and was enthusiastically recalled. Miss Leach's second number was of a humourous nature and was entitled "Young Jacob." The chairman at the point thanked those who had assisted on the programme and made reference to the excellent abilities of Mrs. McGregor, Miss Leach and Mr. Markle as teachers, and suggesting in view of the manner in which dormant faculties and talents could be developed, that they could be of encouragement and help to those who had time to take an interest in studies along these various lines during the winter months.

Mr. T. C. Elliott, in a bright speech, moved a hearty vote of thanks to those taking part. He also took occasion to refer to the work of the ladies of the church and the pastor's services during the past eight years. Mr. A. McFarlane seconded the motion, which was enthusiastically carried.

A vocal solo "The Maple Leaf" was splendidly sung by Rev. J. G. Potter, the audience joining in the chorus. After the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the Doxology the meeting was brought to a close by the benediction which was pronounced by the chairman.

The school room was very tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers and presented a very pleasing appearance.

The accompanists for the evening were Mrs. P. Kerr, Mrs. Mowat and Mr. Armstrong.

ANNUAL MEETING OF MISSION BAND

Society in Connection With Murray Street Church is Flourishing.

The entertainment given by the Murray Street Baptist Church Mission Band last night was a decided success.

CRYING BABIES.

Babies do not cry unless there is some good reason for it. The cry of a baby is nature's warning signal that there is something wrong. If the fretfulness and crying are not caused by exterior sources, it is conclusive evidence that the crying baby is ill. The only safe and judicious thing to do is to give Baby's Own Tablets without delay. For indigestion, colic, teething troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, worms and simple fevers, these marvellous little Tablets have given relief in thousands of cases and saved many precious lives. They are guaranteed to contain no harmful drug. Mrs. John Dobie, St. Andrew's East, Que., says: 'Baby's Own Tablets are a splendid medicine for the cure of constipation and all other ills that afflict children. I consider it my duty to recommend them to all who have little ones." The Tablets are sold at 25 cents a box by all druggists, or may be had by mail by writing The Dr. Williams' Co., Brockville, Ont.

ADDRESS OF R. R. HALL.

To the Electors of West Peterborough.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the Riding of West Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—

Having received, and accepted, the nomination of the Liberals of West Peterborough to be a candidate at the general elections, and as it is impossible to see every elector personally between now and election day, I hereby solicit your influence, support and vote to secure my return as representative of this riding in the Dominion Parliament, and as a supporter of the able and progressive and patriotic Government led by that foremost Canadian, Right Honourable Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

While I do not wish to be understood as attaching undue importance to a personal appeal for support, I may be permitted to say that my home, my heart and my interests are in West Peterborough. It is, therefore, to my personal advantage, as well as to the advantage of every resident of the county, to use every effort to promote the advancement of the material, and other interests, of the town and county. As I have done in the past, I shall, if I have the honour of being chosen as your representative, do in the future — and, perhaps, from that circumstance, with better prospects of successful service — everything that lies in my power to advance the building up and well being of Peterborough, town and county, so far as it is consistent with the promotion of the interests of the country at large. For I hold that while a representative's first duty is to the constituency he represents, that duty should be discharged with reference to the general welfare of the Dominion.

While I announce myself as a supporter of the Liberal Government of the Dominion, I shall not pledge myself to a slavish support of all the details of the working out of a general policy, but shall reserve to myself independence of action, where it seems to me special interests may demand it.

I yield to NO man in my faith in the merits and importance of the Trent Valley Waterway as a prime element in the national transportation problem, an imperative necessity in the development of the great Canadian West, incidentally a powerful promoter of trade between the West and the older provinces and, also incidentally, a most important factor in developing local industries and local trade and commerce. In view of the importance of the canal as a factor in national progress, and of its supreme importance to this district and to this town and county, I shall, if I do not absolutely make its completion a condition of my support, leave no stone unturned, no effort unemployed, to induce the Government to actively push its completion. This course promises the better success since the present Liberal Government is making surveys with this end in view, and has spent in the last seven years in prosecuting the work, $2,596,573.59, while the previous administrations only spent $1,229,108.66 during 18 years. Moreover, when the present works, now under contract, are completed, there will be over 165 miles of navigable waterway on the Trent Canal System.

I regard the building of the second transcontinental railway line, the the Grand Trunk Pacific, as the most important contribution to the solution of the transportation problem in the history of Canada, inasmuch as it will constitute another outlet for the wheat of the North-west and another inlet for the commercial and manufactured products of older Canada. It will build up, develop and help populate the one hundred and seventy million acres of rich and fertile lands yet to be occupied in the North-west, will create new and increasing markets for, and stimulate the activities of, the manufacturing and commercial industries of Eastern Canada, in which Peterborough occupies so central and prominent a place.

I am a firm believer in the necessity, benefits and advantages of British connection. The best way to retain that connection and improve our inter-imperial relations, is not alone by wordy assertions of loyalty, but by practical measures looking to improvement of relations in a way to advance both the interests of the mother country and her greatest colonial unit, and to conjoin with a loyal attitude towards the Mother Country, a proper spirit of self-respect and jealous regard for the rights of self-government we possess.

I believe that we should have a reasonable military equipment for defence, though I am not in favour of extravagant military expenditures. The present Government has expended twice as much as its predecessors in the same period, and has generously met, and will continue to meet, all reasonable military requirements of Canada, whose real interests consist in devoting the national energies to developing and building up the country.

I can, however, claim your franchise on grounds far higher than personal considerations—as a supporter of the Liberal Government, led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. If success in government—if government attended with splendid national results—is a recommendation, then I submit that the present Government is eminently deserving of a renewed lease of power. In the eight years since the Liberal Government came into power, the progress of Canada, and the prosperity of the Canadian people, have each succeeding year been unprecedented. To emphasize this I need only refer you to a few facts indicative of wonderful and continuous growth and expansion.

In 1896, the total trade of Canada was $239,025,360.00. In 1903 it has under the Liberal Government, grown to $467,064,685 — nearly double.

In 1896 the total of Canadian exports to Great Britain was $62,717,941.00. In 1903 under the Liberal Government these have grown to $125,199,980.00, more than double.

In 1893 the number of miles of railway in Canada was 16,270. In seven years under the Liberal Government, this has grown to 18,987 miles.

In 1896 the business failures, with far less business done, amounted to $16,208,460.00. In the seventh year under the Liberal Government the amount represented by business failures has dropped to $8,328,362.00.

In 1896 the deposits by the people in the chartered banks of Canada amounted to $183,769,992.00. In seven years under the Liberal Government this amount has grown to $378,937,458.00, more than double.

In the eight years under the Liberal Government there has been a net reduction of the public debt with liberal expenditure for public works of $1,084,993.66, or an average reduction per year of $135,626.20. This is in striking contrast with an average increase of the public debt of $6,563,075.00 each and every year for eighteen years under the Conservative administrations.

In 1896 the public debt amounted to $50.61 per head. Under eight years of Liberal Government this has been reduced to $46.31 per head.

In 1894 the number of immigrants arriving in Canada amounted to 16,835. During this last eight years of Liberal Government this number has grown to 101,514.

In 1893 Canada's export of manufactured products in the country amounted to $9,365,384. In 1903, under the Liberal Government the exports of Canadian manufacturers amounted to over twice as much—$20,624,967.00.

It is not necessary for me to quote a long array of figures to show that the fiscal policy of the Liberal Government has improved trade and commerce in all its branches, for every industrious Canadian can now find "prosperity in his own pocket."

In regard to the tariff question I have decided views. While it is desirable to have as little change as possible, I am in favour of such adjustment of the tariff as circumstances may demand, to the end that the manufacturing operations of the country may receive the benefit of conditions most favourable to their expansion and most profitable operation, and at the same time have due regard to the interests of every class and section of the people and of every province in this great Dominion. This is particularly of interest to the Town of Peterborough, whose special prominence and fitness as a manufacturing centre it shall be my earnest endeavour to emphasize in my representative capacity.

The interests of the farming community, the largest and most important of all, deserve the highest consideration at the hands of the Government and of Parliament. The consideration it has received in the past eight years shows that never before have the agricultural interests been so effectively served. I shall favour and support all legislative and administrative action which can advance the best interests of farmers, not only in respect of creating conditions which will promote and increase the profit from farm operations, but in respect of providing the cheapest and best means of conveying to the best market, and in the best condition, the farm products of this country.

I shall favour and heartily support all measures calculated to advance the interests and improve the condition of the working classes, but, as special legislation in this direction can have only a limited influence, I shall feel it my duty to strive for the attainment of such fiscal and other conditions, as will create the largest demand for labour at the highest reward and give the greatest purchasing power to wages.

By reason of the splendid results that have followed the tenure of power of the present Administration, and the ever increasing progress, expansion and prosperity Canada has enjoyed, the Dominion Government, led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, deserves, as the best interests of the country demand, a renewal of the power they have used so widely and so well. There is no doubt that the overwhelming endorsation given their first parliamentary term in 1900 will be repeated and with greater emphasis in the present appeal to the sober judgment, sound sense and progressive spirit of the Canadian electorate.

With the certainty of the return of the present Government to power, it is manifestly in the interests of West Peterborough that it should have a supporter of the Government as a representative. Under the system of party Government prevailing in Canada, it is only natural that a representative who supports the Government of the day, whether Liberal or Conservative, who is in sympathy with its policy, who lends his aid in carrying out that policy, is in a better position to serve his riding than an uncompromising antagonist of the Government, an opponent of its policy and a hostile critic of its acts.

Now is the time when West Peterborough needs to be placed in a position, in respect of its representation, to reap its full share of the magnificent growth and development of Canada of which a new era has begun. We have unlimited resources to develop and in the process the town and county of Peterborough must have its full share of the reciprocal benefits that must necessarily result. If I am honoured by your confidence, I shall do my utmost to procure for this riding the many needed improvements and advantages, which not only local but national interests suggest, and in every way in my power endeavour to serve the best interests of this town and county.

Your obedient servant,

R. R. HALL.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Local Hotelkeeper Heavily Fined—Other Cases.

At the police court this morning, three cases came up for the consideration of the Magistrate. The old, stale, apparently worn-out dog tag case was on again. Some people would evade the law for ever, if possible if given a chance, but our police are always on the look out for tagless canines and eventually all will be brought to justice. This morning's case was enlarged until Monday morning.

A local hotel keeper pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping a disorderly tavern. He was fined heavily, $50 and costs, or $60.75 altogether.

A young man was charged with using grossly abusive and insulting language. The evidence showed that the complaint was well founded, and a fine of $2 and costs or $4.60 altogether was imposed.

Superfluous Hair

Removed by the New Principle

De Miracle

It is better than electricity, because it does not scar or produce a new growth. Better than X-ray, because it does not burn, scar or paralyze the tissues under the skin. Better than depilatories, because it is not poisonous; therefore, it will not cause blood poisoning, or produce eczema, which is so common with depilatories, and does not break off the hair, thereby increasing its growth.

Electrolysis, X-ray or depilatories are offered you on the bare word of the operators and manufacturers. DE MIRACLE is not. It is the only method which is indorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and prominent magazines.

DE MIRACLE will be mailed to any address, sealed in plain wrapper for $1. Your money back without question if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.

Our booklet — the most complete treatise on Superfluous Hair ever published—containing the testimonials of numerous physicians and surgeons and those of hundreds of others—will be sent free, in plain, sealed envelope, upon request. Write for it to-day to DE MIRACLE CHEMICAL CO., 23 Queen Street West, Toronto, or THE ROBERT SIMPSON COMPANY LIMITED TORONTO, ONT.

MINISTERS' PLANS

Meetings in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec.

THE PREMIER MOVES LATER

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick and Hon. Mr. Fisher Already Booked For Meetings in the East —Two New Senators For the North West.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not yet mapped out his plans of campaign, but several of his colleagues are starting out to take part in the fight. Hon W. S. Fielding left last night for Halifax, where he will meet the Provincial leaders. Hon. H. R. Emmerson leaves to-night for New Brunswick. He will spend Tuesday night in St. John, and on Saturday, October 8th, will attend a convention of Westmoreland Liberals at Moncton. Hon. Mr. Brodeur leaves to-day for Roxton Falls, Shefford County, where he speaks in the evening. On Sunday he will address meetings at St. Valerian and Ste. Cecile DeMilcon. On Monday night Mr. Brodeur and Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Fisher will address a mass meeting at Richmond. On Thursday Mr. Brodeur is booked for the convention of Nicolet Liberals at Becancour. The proclamation dissolving Parliament will appear in The Canada Gazette to-day.

A Conservative convention will be held in Harmony Hall next Friday. Messrs. Thomas Birkett and Napoleon Champagne will likely be chosen as the candidates.

Meetings of Registration Boards.

A circular will be sent out by the Secretary of State yesterday, pointing out the desirability of the registration boards meeting and giving effect to the provisions contained in the Ontario act. The Clerk of the Peace has been instructed to furnish the registration boards with forms of oaths and index books and such other information as may be necessary.

The rates of remuneration to registration officials will be the same as in the Provincial elections. The registration of manhood suffrage voters will take place in the cities and country towns of Ontario and also in Niagara Falls, Sault Ste. Marie and Descronto.

Mr. Bronson May Accept.

Hon. E. H. Bronson has been approached with a view to his becoming a running mate to Hon. N. A. Belcourt for the city of Ottawa in the coming election. Mr. Bronson has not given any definite answer, but there is some reason to believe that, although he determined some time ago to abandon politics, he will consent to run again if it is the unanimous wish of the party.

MR. BORDEN SENSITIVE.

Replies to Sir Wilfrid's Accusation That He Was Not Serious.

Bomanville, Oct. 1.—Sensitive to the criticism of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sorel, Mr. R. L. Borden last night replied to the accusation that he was not serious in his railway policy. The Opposition leader denied the allegation with vigor, and charged the Liberals with lack of seriousness, because, as he said, they had abandaned every plank in their platform of 1903. The remainder of the Opposition leader's speech was along the lines of those preceding. The Bowmanville meeting, like that at Port Hope, was in the nterest of Lieut.-Colonel H. A. Ward, Conservative candidate in Durham, who evidently expects a keen fight with the popular Liberal member for the old riding of West Durham, Mr. Robert Beith. Contrary to expectations the announcement of the date of the elections made no appreciable change in the amount of enthusiasm at this as compared with other Conservative meetings.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

At a meeting of the Cabinet at Ottawa Friday, Hon. J. H. Ross, ex-Governor of the Yukon, and T. O. Davis, formerly member for Saskatchewan, were called to the Senate. They are appointed to the two new Senatorships created by Parliament last year.

Dr. Barr, M.P.P. for Dufferin, having received the nomination of the Conservatives for the Commons, will resign his seat in the Local Assembly to-day (Saturday).

Andrew Miscampbell is again the choice for the Conservative party for the Legislature at Sault Ste. Marie. Should he decline another candidate will be chosen on the 13th inst.

Shot While Duck Shooting.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Oct. 1.—Roy Thompson, a son of I. W. Thompson, was shot and instantly killed near here Thursday evening. The unfortunate boy had been visiting with friends near Portage Creek, and had been duck shooting. He tried to draw his loaded gun towards him from the boat, when it discharged, striking him in the side.

His Arm Amputated.

Hamilton, Oct. 1.—W. E. Vandervere, Sarnia, a G. T. R. brakeman, was seriously injured last evening at the Stuart street station. He ran after his train as it was pulling out of the yard, stumbled and fell under the cars. Two cars passed over his arm. He was removed to the City Hospital, where it was amputated.

Fell Into Cylinder.

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—Guy Hawkins, a farm hand from Nova Scotia, working on the farm of A. Pecerr, near Carieville, N.W.T., fell into the cylinder of a thresher yesterday and lost one leg.

In Our Grandfather's Youth.

Paralysis was almost unheard of in the youth of our grandparents, and now nearly every newspaper contains a record of someone being stricken with this dreadful form of helplessness. Paralysis is in reality a starving of the nerves, and can always be prevented by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation which has no rival as a creator of nerve force.

HUSBAND MISSING SEVEN YEARS.

Windsor Woman Sues A. O. U. W. For Insurance Policy.

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Thomas McAuley has entered suit against the Grand Lodge, A.O.U.W., for the recovery of $2,000 life insurance held by her husband, who disappeared from Windsor seven years ago, and who has not been heard of since. Mrs. McAuley sets up in her claim for the amount that her husband is dead, while the company claims there is no proof of his death.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realise its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefitted by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Killed in a Collision.

FIGHTS FOR HIS LIFE.

Serious Accident to Chas. McGregor While Threshing At Palermo.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—On Wednesday, Charles McGregor of Omagh, nephew of Rev. W. McGregor, editor of The Presbyterian, Toronto, met with a serious accident while threshing at the farm of Mr. Vansickle, Palermo. He turned on the steam to start his engine, but the driving wheel, being on the dead centre, refused to start.

Without taking the precaution to close the throttle, he attempted to turn the wheel past the centre, and as it suddenly started he slipped and was caught and whirled around several times. His right arm was badly crushed and broken both above and below the elbow, some of the tendons being torn out. The right leg was also broken and the right lung lacerated by a broken rib.

He never lost consciousness, and when heard from last night was making a brave fight for life.

Public Works Supervision.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—For the purpose of a closer supervision of public works the Province of Ontario has been created into two districts, divided by a line running from the western boundary of the County of Welland to Wiarton. The eastern district remains under the care of Major Henry of Toronto. Superintendence of the western district has been given to Mr. J. G. Sing, formerly assistant to Major Grey in Toronto, whose headquarters will be in London. Mr. Sing will have as assistants Mr. W. Brough, formerly assistant engineer in charge of the harbor improvements at Goderich, and Mr. Lambe, who acted in the same capacity at Burlington Beach.

Only Did His Duty as He Saw it

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well known merchant and post master at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not be without it for anything. Very often to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery.) You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." For sale by All druggists.

FOR THE DAILY MENU.

Suggestions For the Use of a Number of Timely Delicacies.

Peaches and melons have reached their height, and grapes are an incoming tide. Nearly every kind of vegetable appears in market in great quantity, with corn, lima beans and tomatoes among toothsome and popular delicacies. A few hints from Table Talk on the use of the seasonable things in the daily menu are subjoined.

When tomatoes are round and firm they may be hollowed out and stuffed, either with seasoned rice, hominy or other cooked cereal, cold boiled chopped meats or vegetables or crumbled bread, and baked. Corn can be stewed with the lima beans (succotash), and when too old to be served on the cob it makes a delightful pudding; it can also be grated and used in fritters.

For the hot days an appetizing lunch dish is a cucumber and onion ragout. For six people thinly slice two large or three small onions. Heat two tablespoonfuls of dripping or butter in a frying pan, put in the onions and cook very slowly until they begin to color, then draw to one side of the pan. Add four cucumbers which have been pared, cut in long, thick slices, dried and dipped in flour. Brown them rapidly and draw to one side, dredge in sufficient flour to absorb the fat, then gradually add boiling water to make a sauce—about one cupful and a half. Color with a few drops of kitchen bouquet, season with salt, pepper, a spoonful of tomato catchup and a little walnut catchup, then cover and stew slowly for twenty minutes. Serve on toast.

A good soup is made by boiling one-half a cupful of rice in two quarts of water until reduced to a thick starch. Add to this a pint of reduced stewed tomatoes, season with salt, pepper and onion juice and rub through a sieve. Reheat and serve with croutons, sprinkling over it when in the tureen a little finely chopped parsley.

For clam chowder remove the raw clams from the shell and put through the food chopper. For each pint try out a quarter of a pound of fat salt pork cut fine. Cook in this fat two chopped onions and when beginning to color add the clams, a pint of raw diced potatoes and a pint of boiling water. Simmer slowly until the potatoes are tender, then add a pint of milk thickened with three tablespoonfuls of flour, season well with salt and pepper and simmer for five minutes longer.

When cold soups are not desired and clams are not available for a first course for dinner serve fruit. At this season melons, peaches or grapes are the most appropriate. They should be thoroughly chilled and served simply, the melons opened or cut, the peaches sliced and sugared, the grapes rinsed and laid on a cloth to dry, then arranged on each plate in a cluster.

Cantaloupes, after being chilled, should be opened at the last minute and the seeds removed. To fill the centers with broken ice weakens and frequently dissipates entirely the finest flavor of the fruit. Watermelons should be so cut as to give each person a portion of the center or "heart," which is the sweetest portion of the fruit. This may be done by preparing it as suggested in the illustration.

Originally a Maryland delicacy, the peach cobbler has become a favorite wherever fresh peaches are obtainable. Fare enough large sweet ones to almost fill a deep pudding dish. Do not halve or pit them, but sprinkle with plenty of sugar, then cover with a rich pie crust rolled rather thicker than usual. Bake in a moderate oven for from forty minutes to an hour.

Pickled Silver Skinned Onions.

Every housekeeper should prepare for pickling by providing plenty of the best vinegar, a variety of spices both whole and ground, including white mustard seed, celery seed, tumeric powder, also dark brown sugar, and make a number of small spice bags out of cheesecloth. Have crocks of different sizes, wide mouthed jugs and glass jars scalded and ready for use.

If silver skinned onions are carefully prepared they make a very delicate and piquant pickle. They are also good to add to a salad in the winter months.

Plunge the onions, which should be very small, even sized, into very hot water for five minutes and rub off the skins with a clean cloth.

Boil in salted bubbling water ten minutes, drain and then boil in milk ten minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Stand in brine twenty-four hours. Prepare a pickling vinegar, using the white wine vinegar, white sugar and a few mixed spices in a bag. When scalding hot add the onions, which have been thoroughly rinsed in cold water. Stir constantly in the vinegar five minutes.

Chile Sauce.

Eighteen ripe tomatoes, six onions, three green peppers, one cup of sugar, two cups and a half of vinegar, two teaspoons of salt, one teaspoon each of cinnamon, allspice and nutmeg, and half a teaspoonful of cloves. Scald and peel the tomatoes and cook with the onions and peppers until tender, then add the sugar, vinegar and spices, and cook ten minutes longer.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaints and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

HANDICAPPED.

The man who started to run a race in chains and fetters would be visibly handicapped. No one would expect him to succeed. The man who runs the race of life when his digestive and nutritive organs are diseased is equally handicapped. In the one case his strength is overweighted, in the other it is undermined. Success demands above all else a sound stomach.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

"I was taken with what our physicians here said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote to you and you sent me a question blank to fill out, and I did so, and you then advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped, being cured. I have no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

A CURIOUS TREE.

One of Nature's Queer Products That Are Found In Africa.

The Welwitschia mirabilis is a wonder of the vegetable kingdom. It grows on the barren land of the western side of Africa, where rain is almost unknown and the only moisture is that from dews which fall at night. This plant was discovered in 1860 by Dr. Welwitsch, an eminent scientific traveler. The welwitschia is a tree which lives for many years, many specimens being estimated as more than 100 years old.

Every year of its life increases its size, yet it never grows higher. Rising just above the ground this strange plant, looking like a rough round table, regularly enlarges by adding concentric layers to its circumference. The flat upper surface of the trunk is very hard and dark, resembling in color and texture the crust of an overbaked loaf. The trunk attains the size of from fourteen to eighteen feet in circumference, but is never more than a few inches above the ground.

The welwitschia is remarkable in the fact that it never loses its first two leaves and never gets any more. These leaves increase in size year after year until they attain the length of six or eight feet or more. They are flat and leathery and frequently split into numerous straps.

The Turnpike Era.

Between the years 1790 and 1840 innumerable plans were made for the creation of turnpikes in the United States. There had been one great success, the Lancashire turnpike in Pennsylvania, and then came countless other projects. In 1811 New York had 137 chartered roads, with a total length of 1,600 miles, and the sum required to build them amounted to $7,500,000. An era of canal digging and then of railroad building followed this period, but the canal promoters and railroad men had great difficulty in advancing their schemes. They were considered insane when they insisted that the mountains and plains could be conquered by these means of transportation.

Quite the Reverse.

"That's so," replied the intelligent Eskimo. "We live on the fat of the sea mostly—whale blubber and such things."—Exchange.

HEALTH CULTURE.

A Simple Art—Work, Rest and Take Life as It Comes.

An old fashioned doctor once remarked in the writer's hearing that sweeping and bedmaking are the two most healthful occupations known to womankind, and, although the statement is undeniably a farreaching one, it contains at least a measure of truth.

Performed in the right way and punctuated by regular intervals of sleep and recreation, work never hurts any one—never, in fact, does one-half the harm, physical, mental or moral, that is the inevitable outcome of indolence. Unfortunately, however, says a writer in the Designer, not many people in these days do perform it in the right way, and the consequence is that we are fast becoming a nation of neurasthenics, wrapped in morbid imagining and lacking the ability either to work or to play in the healthy, whole hearted fashion that nature originally intended.

Women waste time and strength over gymnastic exercises, hoping vainly to find therein something that will answer for the health they have lost, and all the time the one crying need is to live rationally, taking the sunshine of life along with the shadow and never rushing in pursuit of either.

Every woman should know that if she would enjoy life she must be well, and she cannot long be this, however splendidly nature may have equipped her, if she wantonly wastes the energies at her command.

People talk of health as if it were some great secret, known only to a favored few, but the key to it is both simple and easily found, being merely the ability to take life just as it comes without worrying about the future.

To work when there is work to be done, to do no more at the moment than the moment actually demands and to take a "breathing spell" of rest just when it is needed—to follow these rules will be to prolong life, to keep the health good and the heart light and to make the most of the powers that lie within us.

When we are weary we can do nothing well; hence, even when it seems difficult to spare the time, it is really the wiser plan to lay the work aside for a few minutes, relax the muscles and occupy the mind with restful, uplifting thoughts.

It is the woman's way to rush from one duty to another, without a moment of rest in between, and she pays the penalty by growing old before her time, by arriving all too quickly at the point where not only duty, but life, is a burden, and by passing out of the sphere of her usefulness just when she ought to be in her prime.

with ribbon bows, without any inconvenience of pushing the little hands and arms through armholes.

The material used is the very finest cashmere, the edge being buttonholed with pale blue or pink silk and a powdering of rosebuds or forgetmenots worked upon the jacket. This charming little pattern makes a nice piece of fancy work.

Her Postscript.

"Dear Mr. Hicks," she wrote, "I am sorry that what you ask I cannot grant. I cannot become your wife.—Yours sincerely, Ethel Burrows." Then she added: "P.S.—On second thought, dear George, I will marry you. Do come up tonight and see your own true Ethel."

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, shortened stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old form" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels renewed anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. THOSE WHO THINK MUST ALSO EAT

And What They Eat Must be Digested —Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets What They Need.

Students, writers, book-keepers, clerks and all others who sit inside and work their heads for a living should be alive to the important part the stomach plays in the day's work. If the stomach is right the mind work easily, the pen runs smoothly, and all is one grand sweet song. But when the stomach is wrong all the rest is out of gear. Let us show by example. Let Rene Trudel, a student of Three Rivers, Que., give his experience:

"I was troubled with Dyspepsia," he said, "and it made alarming progress, to the point that every day saw me in despair, and I was resolved to give up my studies. Then I resolved to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They made me better. To-day I have no bad head, no weariness, no pain. I am cured."

HOCKEY.

At the present the outlook for hockey is not encouraging. Some of last year's team are out of town, and there does no appear to be many but juniors to take their places. Most of last year's junior team are also over age to play junior hockey and there does not seem to be a great deal of material in sight to fill their shoes. It looks as though Trent Valley hockey would be the chief attraction. In view of this apparent scarcity of hockey, it has been suggested that a press league be formed in order to give the public a chance to witness a good game occasionally. It is rather early to talk hockey yet but still it is in the air that there should be a press league. The Examiner is at present the champions of the newspaper arena and would like to see a league formed of the three newspaper offices of the town. It is to be hoped that our contemporaries will look upon the scheme favourably.

After Ten Years.

Mr. G. L. Stephenson of Peterborough, says: "For over ten years I suffered constantly with piles, first itching, then bleeding; pain almost unbearable; life a burden; tried everything in vain till I used Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid.

"I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice an improvement. I decided to keep on and now after using three boxes I am glad to say I am completly cured. My general health has also greatly improved. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Hem-Roid to all sufferers with Piles, and I feel convinced that what it has done for me it will surely do for them."

A $1,000 guarantee goes with every box of Hem-Roid. Price, $1, all druggists, or the Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 9

TUG-OF-WAR.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:—

Dear Sir,—Where is the tug-of-war team that we used to hear so much about—the Quakers? They were so anxious for a pull at the exhibition that no less than three different teams were on hand to grant their request. But no Quakers showed up. We should like to arrange a pull with them for a hundred dollars. Our team to be a picked bunch of amateurs. When I say one one hundred I mean not less than one hundred or more than two hundred. If these terms are satisfactory I will meet their Captain at any place he may desire and put up the wager.

Respectfully yours,

MAC.

Seasonable and Appetizing.

We are now receiving Finnan Haddies, Kippered Herrings, Bloaters, and the "Old Reliable" brand of Oysters, which never fail to please. The store will be open every evening during Exhibition Week. S. A. OKE, 376 George street; telephone 18.

CAME NEAR DYING

CURED BY CUTICURA

One Application Soothed Him to Sleep. Cure Speedy and Permanent.

"When my little boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fluid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin around his wrists. He got so weak and run down that he took fainting spells like we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws.

"He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that I put him in the cradle. You don't know how glad I felt when he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment, pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap, and about half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, to cure. I think our little boy would have died only for the Cuticura Remedies, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them."

MRS. M. C. MAITLAND, JASPER, ONTARIO.

No return in 14 years. Mrs. Maitland writes, under date of Feb. 24, 1903, that the cure is permanent.

"It affords me much pleasure to inform you that it is fourteen years since my boy was cured of the terrible skin disease from which he suffered.

"He has been permanently cured and is hearty and strong."

Cuticura Resolvent, Pills and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

PREPARATORY SERVICE AT ST. PAULS CHURH

Rev. H. E. Abraham, of Port Hope, was the Speaker—Fifteen New Members.

Rev. H. E. Abraham, B.A., of First Church, Port Hope, preached in St. St. Paul's church last evening in connection with the preparatory service there. His text was Luke 4; 18,—"The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because He hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor, etc." This was Mr. Abraham's first appearance in a Peterborough pulpit, and the impression made was a distinctly favourable one. At the close of the service, fifteen new members were received and were given the right hand of fellowship.

Mantle Styles

A Very Important Feature

"40 Years Experience Hasn't Caught Us Napping."

Our Mantles will be found as heretofore, to have the styles that are demanded, the effects that good dressers and dress authorities deem correct.

True, some new fad or fancy is cropping up every day, but these "gingerbread" styles are not "business builders." A style wants a little confirmation before it takes with the Canadian people.

As soon as such new styles have the confidence of proper Coat authorities you will find them in our Department—we leave ourselves open for such additions.

Over 40 years of mantle buying should teach us where and when and on "what authority" to buy Mantles.

A BIG BLUFF AND HOWLING FARCE.

Some Local Conservatives Duping an Honourable Gentleman.

How a Catspaw was Attempted to be Made of Mr. Hugh Waddell.

It is generally understood that the Conservative "nominating" convention was a farce — and intended to be a farce — as it was, in fact, a frost, in regard to enthusiasm and hope of success. The attendance was small, and those present did not by any means represent the best elements of the Conservative party in West Peterborough. Mr. Waddell himself was not present, and no one accuses him of being identified with the peculiar tactics by which he was persuaded to innocently become the dupe of designing politicians. He accepted the nomination in good faith and after much plausible urging. Those who were in touch, in the way of knowledge, with the undercurrent of intrigue, could see the game that was being played, and no one accuses Mr. Waddell of being a party to it. An honourable and an upright man himself, he had doubtless the feeling that others would act honourably, and openly, as he would do. His sudden retirement, and rejection of the nomination, less than a dozen hours after he received it, can be explained by no change in the local political situation, or the prospects of the party. It is only fair to assume that in the short interval intervening between his reluctant acceptance of the nomination and ready resignation of the perilous honour, Mr. Waddell discovered that he was being made the cats-paw of a few intriguing politicians. No doubt some few persons had an attitude of bona fides towards Mr. Waddell, but the conclusion cannot be resisted that other and less scrupulous members of the party were playing a "cut-throat game, with a view of fooling the rank and file of the party and put forward Mr. Waddell, (who throughout the whole sorry business acted in good faith,) as a mask behind which the secret game of intrigue could be worked — the game to bring into the field another candidate with no affiliations with, or love for, the Conservative party, but willing to lend himself to do anything—travel in any company — to defeat the Liberal candidate and gratify his personal ambition.

So ends the first round in the political battle in West Peterborough and the public will watch with a lively and amused interest immediate future developments in the game of double shuffle, and many will regret that the great Conservative party in West Peterborough should be made the sport of such elements. But in the meantime and all the time, the intelligent elector will keep his head level and resolve to

A GOOD ARRANGEMENT.

The arrangement by which the Ontario Legislature loaned $2,000,000 to the re-organized Lake Superior Company to secure resumption of operations at the "Soo," was, on the face of it, a wise and patriotic one, and experience and fact confirm this prevision. A day or two ago there were six steamers lying at one time at the Lake Superior Power Company's docks at Sault Ste. Marie. Two of these were unloading iron ore, two were awaiting their turn to unload the same kind of cargo, one was loading steel rails, and one was unloading lath. The steel rail mills are working day and night, and turning out from 500 to 600 tons of rails per day, making it possible for Canadian railways to use, as our street railway has done, "Made-in-Canada" steel rails, as good as any rolled on earth. The blast furnace is receiving the finishing touches, and will by the time this is read, be in full operation. The Helen iron mine is raising a thousand tons of ore per day, and in all of the many departments of industrial enterprise at the "Soo," which can, from the nature of things, be operated at a profit, there is brisk activity. Owing to the action of the Government in bringing about the resumption of these great allied industries, by a guarantee of a loan, thousands of men are restored to profitable employment, languishing commerce has revived, the town of Sault Ste. Marie has taken new life, and a train of industrial activity has been put in motion, that is leading to the development of natural resources, which would otherwise remain dormant. But the Liberal Government had, and has, faith in the resources of the region affected, and acted accordingly. If the policy of the Opposition had been followed we should have had a dead town at the "Soo;" the magnificent industries there would have remained smokeless and dead; the population, from lack of employment, would have drifted away, and we should have had stagnation in place of the busy hum of industry that now prevails. Speaking in the House on March 8th, Mr. Whitney declared the proposition to resurrect the "Soo" from the dead as "an idiotic and unreasonable scheme." He lacked enterprise, he lacked faith in the country's resources; he would stand still, do nothing, and see stagnation settle on the "Soo" like a blight, without stretching out a helping hand. The same lack of faith in the resources of Canada, leads Mr. Borden to oppose the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which will do as much for the development of the country, and more, than the Canadian Pacific Railway has heretofore done. It would be just as culpable an act of retrogression to refuse to build a much-needed second transcontinental railway, as to abolish the Canadian Pacific Railway. The latter would set back the country as much as the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will forge it ahead. If a man enters into business he must put in some capital. If a country wants to develop its natural resources it must take steps to provide the means, and transportation is the one great need. Shall Canada stand still, or go ahead?

REDISTRIBUTION AND REPRESENTATION

Changes Effected by the Redistribution Act.

Now that a dissolution of Parliament is announced it will be interesting to present briefly a synoptical view of the changes that have been effected in the representation by the Redistribution Act.

The present Parliament, which was elected on the 7th of November, 1900, consists of 213 members, and the one which will take its place after the general election will consist of 214, the additional member being the result of the creation of the Yukon into a constituency.

The representation of the different provinces will differ considerably in the new House as compared with the old. The following tabulated statement will show at a glance the result of the redistribution effected by the act of 1903:—

	Old House.	New House.
Quebec...	65	65
Ontario	92	86
Nova Scotia	20	18
New Brunswick...	14	13
Prince Edward Island ...	5	4
Manitoba	7	10
The Territories	4	10
British Columbia	6	7
The Yukon	0	1
	213	214

It will be observed that Ontario and the maritime provinces have had their representation reduced, while Manitoba and the Northwest Territories gain substantially.

The interesting question of the moment is "How will the strength of parties stand in the new House as compared with the present?"

The present Liberal majority is 58. Will it be increased or diminished? That the Government will be defeated no one believes for a moment.

The redistribution itself ought to have an advantageous effect upon the prospects of the Liberal party. It was conceived and carried out in the largest possible spirit. It removed the mischievous effects of one of the most flagrant gerrymanders that was ever carried out in the interests of a political party, and it readjusted the electoral power of the provinces in harmony with the familiar principle which was long a political battle-cry in this province — Representation by Population.

So fair has the present redistribution been that not even the most bigoted "Tory," could, with any truth, allege a gerrymander.

The Liberals had it in their power to retaliate upon their opponents, but they preferred to set the example of political honesty to their opponents.

But this fair redistribution has removed the injustice from which the Liberal party suffered for a great many years.

Conservative authorities admit that it will mean a gain for the Liberals in Ontario—probably of ten seats.

Apart from the advantage which will accrue to them from the righting of a most iniquitous wrong, there is reason to believe that the Liberals will, as the fruits of their wise policy and efficient administration, win several seats that their opponents now hold. There is substantial grounds for believing that the Conservative majority of eighteen in Ontario will fall rapidly towards zero, and after that the Conservative position looks dismal enough. The Conservative expectations of improving their circumstances in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are very slender, while Manitoba and the Northwest Territories will vote for the continuation of the policy under which they have prospered so greatly.

Here is the condition of the parties as it stands in the different provinces:

	Lib.	Con
Ontario... 37		55
Quebec... 58		7
Nova Scotia... 15		5
New Brunswick... 9		5
Prince Edward Island 3		2
Manitoba... 3		4
British Columbia 4		2
The Territories... 4		0

Having regard to the facts to which reference has been made, and having regard to the exceptional prosperity Canada has enjoyed under the present Government, to the progress made in the settlement of the country and the development of its resources, it is not improbable that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's majority will be nearer seventy-three than fifty-three as the result of the appeal to be made to the country.—Ottawa Free Press.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, and thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Drowned in Georgian Bay.

Parry Sound, Oct. 1.—Patrick O'Connell, watchman on the steamer City of Midland, was carried through a lower gangway and drowned during a heavy gale yesterday morning on the trip from Collingwood here. Nothing could be done to render assistance on account of the heavy sea running at the time. Considerable damage was done to the cargo of general freight and merchandise, and some cattle were injured. O'Connell came from Glenora, near Cobourg, Ont.

LABOUR CONDITION IN PETERBOROUGH

Correspondence to the Dominion Labour Gazette.

Ald. W. J. Johnston, the Correspondent Here, Sends His Monthly Report of Conditions Here.

Mr. Alderman Johnston, official correspondent at Peterborough for the Labour Gazette has the following in the last issue:—

During August all outside labour was well employed, especially in the building trades. A few manufacturing shops are getting a little slack, especially in the iron working departments. The new pump and windmill factory which was burned is being rapidly rebuilt and will soon be ready for work again. The corporation is busy putting down cement sidewalks; already four miles have been laid this season, and this will be doubled before the frost sets in. The cost is 9 cents per foot. All outside trades were exceptionally busy. Transportation was very active, both passenger and freight. Banks reported business very good. Wholesale trade is active, as merchants are getting in fall shipments, and are very busy. Retail trade in all branches is very busy. There were no changes in rates of wages or hours of labour. Labour in all branches appears to be well employed with the possible exception of painters, who have recently organized, and whose wages have changed very favourably to them. Builders' labourers have also during this month asked for an increase from 20 to 25 cents per hour; their request has been readily granted for the same.

Condition of Local Industries.

Agriculture.—Farmers in general report the work of harvesting very active, but there is a great scarcity of men, as help of this class at this season leaves for the Northwest in large numbers. About 100 left here during August on harvesting excursions.

Lumbering.—Business is running to full capacity and saw logs are being rumbled through the river in large numbers.

Manufacturing.— In most shops manufacturing is not so active as in previous months, excepting shops manufacturing farm implements, which were exceptionally busy.

Mining.—A great many tests and surveys are being made in the mineral districts

Railroad construction and employment.—The new line of street railway is completed and will be formally opened by September 1. The new branch line of thirty-eight miles running from Burketon to Bobcaygeon is just completed, and will be a great boon to the district through which it passes.

Other Industries.—It is estimated that many as 1,000 people from other parts, not including residents, spend the summer months in and around Peterborough. The J. J. Turner tent and awning dealers are very busy just now getting ready for fall trade.

Condition of Particular Trades.

Building trades.—Bricklayers and masons were very busy; wages are 35 cents for masons, and 42 cents for bricklayers. Carpenters and joiners keep busy, with no change in rates of wages, which are 22 1-2 to 30 cents per hour. Lathers and plasterers, painters and paperhangers, and plumbers keep busy. Gas and steamfitters, especially the former, have been very busy replacing pipes with others of larger dimensions in all parts of the town. Stonecutters were fairly busy in three monumental shops; also on the Y.W.C.A. building, which requires cut stone for arches over openings and foundations. Builders' labourers were very busy.

Metal, engineering and shipbuilding trades.—Iron moulders, iron workers and helpers, and coremakers were slack, except in implement shops, which are fairly busy. Machinists and engineers were not very busy. Steam engineers, electrical workers and linemen, and all brass workers in all branches were very active. Blacksmiths and horseshoers reported work very good. Boiler makers were not so active. Sheet metal workers were very active. Bicycle workers experienced a dull month and tool sharpeners were slack. Jewellers reported business for the month exceptionally good.

Woodworkers and furnishing trades.—Woodworkers, upholsterers, varnishers and polishers reported very favourably, but wood carvers were not busily employed. Carriage and wagon makers were very active in some shops, and extensive repairing is being done to the cars of the old street railway. Pattern makers and coopers were very slack.

Printing and allied trades.—Printing in all departments is fairly active for this season of the year and from now on will become more so.

Clothing trades.—Journeymen tailors are not very active just now, and garment workers are slack. Hat makers are becoming more active on fall trade. Boot and shoe workers report trade fairly good.

Food and tobacco preparation.—Bakers, confectioners, butchers and meat cutters were very busy. Ice handlers were also busy. Cigarmakers are doing an average trade.

Leather trades.—All branches are doing a fairly good wholesale and retail trade.

Miscellaneous.—Barbers are doing a good business. Broom makers were busy. Clerks and stenographers were fairly active, delivery employees, furriers and hotel and restaurant employees were busy. Laundry workers and dye workers were all doing a fairly good business.

Transport.—Railway men in all departments were very active. The tourist business has been heavy, and there have been extensive importations for manufacturing purposes; fuel and coal is also being handled in large quantities here just now. Steamboat hands were very busy. Street railway employees in all probability will be active after September 1. Cab drivers, carters, teamsters and expressmen are all well employed.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, La Crosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Oakville, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

WAS GREAT LIBERAL

Death of Rt. Hon. Sir William Vernon Harcourt.

THE NEWS WAS UNEXPECTED

End Came Suddenly At His Country Seat At Nuneham Park On Saturday—One of Few Left Who Received Their Political Training At the Hands of Gladstone and Disraeli.

London, Oct. 3.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt died very suddenly Saturday morning, at Nuneham Park, near Oxford, the country seat which he recently inherited from his nephew. Only his wife, a daughter of the late John Lothrop Motley, the historian, and former American minister to Great Britain, was with him. When Sir William went to bed Friday night, he seemed to be fairly well, though he had been suffering from a slight chill. Saturday morning when he was called he replied cheerily: "In a short time." Later a servant entered the room and found Sir William lying dead on his bed. His son, Lewis Vernon Harcourt, member of Parliament for the Rossendale Division of Lancashire, was hastily summoned from London.

Among all classes in the United Kingdom, regardless of party, the unexpected news caused a sensation and genuine regret. The announcement in March last of his intention of retiring had prepared the public for Sir William's eventual disappearance from the active arena of political strife, but there had been no indication that his constitution had been impaired by nearly 40 years of fierce Parliamentary strife.

The physicians say Sir William died of heart failure during sleep. The fact that the heart was weak had been known to the physicians and the family for some time.

Funeral On Thursday.

The remains of the late Sir Vernon Harcourt will be buried at Nuneham on Thursday.

King Edward has telegraphed as follows from Balmoral to the widow of the statesman: "Allow me to express my deepest sympathy in the sad loss you have sustained. I have lost an old and valued friend in your dear husband. (Signed.) Edward."

Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, sent the following from Washington: "Deep sorrow and sympathy."

As late as last Friday Sir William wrote a long letter to his son and various copies, showing an unabated interest in public affairs.

Something of a Great Man.

The Right Hon. Sir William George Granville Venables Vernon-Harcourt was the second son of the late Rev. W. Vernon-Harcourt of Nuneham Park, Oxford, and Matilda Mary, daughter of the late Colonel W. Gooch, and was born on Oct. 14, 1827. Educated at Trinity College, Cambridge, he graduated with first-class honors in the classical tripos, and was called to the Bar of the Inner Temple in 1854. He became Q.C. in 1866, and three years later was appointed Whewell professor of international law at Cambridge.

It was during these early years that he largely contributed to various journals, and wrote remarkable series of letters to The Times, over the signature of Historicus, which were published in book form in 1863. In 1868 he entered Parliament, sitting as member for Oxford till the general election of 1880, when he was defeated by Mr. Hall. A seat was found for him through the voluntary resignation of Samuel Plimsoll, the well-known advocate of seamen, who had been returned for Derby, and Sir William represented that constituency till 1895, when he again sustained defeat. West Monmouthshire came to the rescue, and that seat he retained for the remainder of his life.

Official Recognition.

Sir William's outstanding ability rapidly gained him official recognition. He was appointed solicitor-general and knighted in 1873, but his tenure of the post was not of long duration, it coming to a close in the following year by the defeat of the Liberal ministry under Gladstone. That great statesman then retired from the leadership, which passed to the Marquis of Hartington. However, the public worship regulation bill brought the sulking Achilles from his tent, and he strenuously opposed it in Parliament. Sir William Harcourt supported the bill, and there were some sharp passages-at-arms between the grand old man and his somewhat bumptious solicitor-general. It was in one of these word combats that Gladstone referred to Sir William Harcourt as not yet having sown all his Parliamentary wild oats and ironically remarked that when the debates were over he would possibly have acquired some knowledge of ecclesiastical law.

Although Sir William Harcourt had not been a very ardent supporter of Mr. Gladstone, he became Home Secretary in the Liberal Government of 1880, and during his regime passed various acts of importance to British interests. That was the time, too, of the dynamite outrages, in regard to which he took a firm stand, his Explosives Act having been passed in the shortest time on record. As champion of law and order, he had some stiff struggles with the Parnellites, and his somewhat bitter humor did not tend to soften the rancor of Irish controversy. During these years, however, he established his right to be ranked among the ablest and most effective of the Liberal leaders.

Loyal to Gladstone.

In 1886 he became Chancellor of the Exchequer, a post he again held in 1892-95, acting throughout as Mr. Gladstone's loyal and devoted lieutenant. But although a keen party fighter, of a somewhat swashbuckler type, he failed to impress his hearers or the country with the idea that his course was actuated by sincere conviction. Indeed, he occupied very much the position held by Benjamin Disraeli, in his earlier days, and, like that inscrutable statesman, he possessed in no small degree the gift of phrase-making. He it was who coined the phrase, "stewing in Parnellite juice," a simile often quoted against him in the home rule controversy.

When Gladstone adopted home rule, Sir William Harcourt followed him, but his action was thought to be dictated more by party expediency than on principle. In 1894 he introduced and carried his memorable budget, equalizing death rates on Two Harcourt M M M real and personal property—a measure that has since proved of inestimable benefit to the country's revenue. Mr. Gladstone finally retired in the same year, and was succeeded by Lord Rosebery, who was credited as having been the great statesman's choice. This is now known to have been an erroneous impression, as Mr. Gladstone was prepared to name Lord Spencer, had his counsel been asked. Lord Rosebery's position was not a happy one. He and Sir William Harcourt differed on the main lines of the party's policy, and the latter became more and more deeply imbued with the idea of those who opposed Liberal Imperialism. The differences were again and again patched up, but the crisis came at last, and Sir William's local veto bill was one of the main causes of his own defeat at Derby and of the party rout.

Sir William Harcourt's interest in Parliamentary affairs was now on the wane, and in 1898 he retired from the counsels of the Liberal party. During 1899 and 1900, he offered strenuous resistance to the financial proposals of the Unionist Government, and to their Transvaal policy, and severely criticized the conduct of the war. Between 1898 and 1900 he contributed many letters to The Times against the Ritualistic party in the Church of England, but their influence was much discredited by his attitude toward disestablishment.

Keen Debater.

As a Parliamentarian, Sir William Harcourt had few superiors. He was a keen and powerful debater, and the possessor of a vein of broad and caustic humor, which he drew from with admirable readiness, and worked to the full. To the last, his speeches were listened to with interest, although not infrequently they smelt of the lamp. It was his invariable practice to write these out in full, a fact which, on one occasion, drew a somewhat weak gibe from Mr. Chamberlain, who remarked that "we don't all find time to write out our speeches."

Sir William was on intimate terms with many of the most distinguished ornaments of the Victorian age. He was a wit and a raconteur, and many of his bon mots found their way into publicity. He is said on one occasion to have rather disturbed the serenity of Lord Tennyson, who had been descanting on the pleasures of a smoke in the early morning, by murmuring something about "the earliest pipe of half-awakened birds." Sir William was twice married—first to Therese, daughter of T. H. Lister, and second, to Elizabeth, daughter of J. L. Motley, historian, and widow of J. P. Ives. He leaves a son, Lewis Vernon Harcourt, also in Parliament, with whom his relations were of an unusually tender and affectionate character. The Imperial Parliament will feel the loss of this distinguished member, who has done much to maintain its dignity and best traditions, and with him one of its most striking figures has passed away forever.

PREMIER IN QUEBEC

Sir Wilfrid May Possibly Come to Ontario Last of Week.

MR. GRAHAM'S APPOINTMENT

Dr. Benjamin Russell Appointed a Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia—Hon. D. A. MacKinnon Appointed to Succeed Hon. F. A. McIntyre As Lieutenant-Governor of P.E.I.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier leaves this morning for Quebec, and will be in that city for a couple of days. Sir Wilfrid will address his constituents in Quebec East on the evening of Wednesday next. There is a probability that he will proceed afterwards to Ontario, leaving on Friday. It is said Hon. W. S. Fielding may accompany him. Hon. Chas. Hyman left Saturday night for London to arrange for the conduct of the campaign in Western Ontario.

Returning Officers.

The list of returning officers for Ontario had not been completed Saturday night, but the returning officers in the other Provinces have been selected and the writs are going out rapidly.

Mr. Graham's Appointment.

Mr. George P. Graham, M.P.P., Brockville, has been appointed to take charge of the eastern districts, comprising all the constituencies in eastern Ontario as far west as the Peterboroughs and Northumberlands, inclusive, and as far north as the Renfrews for the Liberals. To-day he establishes his headquarters at 48 Sparks street, where he will be located until the close of the election. Mr. A. G. Farrell of Smith's Falls, will act as his secretary. Liberal candidates and officers of Liberal associations throughout the Province of Ontario desiring political literature or speakers should apply to the Central Liberal Bureau, 24 Victoria street, Toronto.

Dr. Russell a Judge.

Dr. Benjamin Russell, K.C., D.C.L., ex-M.P., has been appointed a puisne Judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia. Dr. Rubsell sat for two terms in the Federal Parliament, first as member for Halifax, and afterwards as representative for Hants. He was very popular with his fellow-members, who greatly admired his acumen and skill as a speaker. His criticism of Lieut.-Colonel Sam Hughes towards the end of the last session of Parliament is regarded as a masterpiece of satire.

A New Governor.

Prince Edward Island has been given a new Governor. Hon. P. A. McIntyre has occupied the position ever since May 23rd, 1899, but is now succeeded by Hon. Donald Alexander MacKinnon, who represented Queen's East, P.E.I., in the last Parliament. The new Governor is a man of genial disposition, and aided by his charming wife will make Government House, Charlottetown, even more popular than it was under the late incumbent, Mr. MacKinnon did not often speak in the Dominion House, but whenever he took the floor was heard to advantage. He was an untiring worker on behalf of his constituency, and will be greatly missed from the House of Commons. Hon. Mr. MacKinnon is the youngest of the Provincial Governors, being only in his 42nd year.

The ages of the other heads of Provincial Executives are as follows: Hon. Wm. Mortimer Clark, Ontario, 68; Sir Louis A. Jette, Quebec, 68; Hon. A. G. Jones, Nova Scotia, 80; Hon. Jabez B. Snowball, New Brunswick, 67; Sir Henri Joly, British Columbia, 75; Sir D. H. McMillan, Manitoba, 58; Hon. A. E. Forget, N. W. Territories, 58.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

John Cowan has accepted the Liberal nomination in East Lambton.

Jailer Boston, Governor of Middlesex county jail, has resigned. He is Liberal candidate in North Middlesex.

Campbell Lane, K.C., has been selected by the Conservatives to do battle against R. Bickerdike in St. Lawrence Ward, Montreal.

DEMURS AT PLEA OF GUILTY.

Extraordinary Case Came Before Judge Macbeth On Saturday

London, Oct. 3.—An extraordinary case came before Judge Macbeth Saturday morning. James Keshago of the Caradoc Reserve, was brought in under commitment by Squire Lockwood, charged by Joseph French, an Indian living in Strathroy, with stealing a grey mare and buggy from his premises. Horse-stealing is a serious offence, and the punishment for it may run as high as six or seven years. Nevertheless, Keshago pleaded guilty and did not seem to trouble about the consequences.

His Honor said that the evidence taken by the Squire was not sufficient to convict. By degrees, for Keshago volunteered no information on his own account, a story very different from that of a thief was elicited. It appeared that French had bought the horse from the prisoner, and still owed him $8 on the deal. Keshago had grown impatient for his money, and last Saturday he went to French's house and said he was going to take the horse back. Finally a compromise was made between the two by which Keshago was to keep the horse until Monday. French evidently repented of his agreement, and then had his creditor arrested.

The case will be continued on Wednesday morning.

Dock strike at Marseilles is settled.

SPLENDID OPENING OF MR. HALL'S CAMPAIGN.

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held Saturday Night in Committee Rooms.

BRIGHT LIBERAL PROSPECTS

Hon. Mr. Stratton in His Address Shows How Peterborough has Prospered Under Liberal Rule—Mr. Hall's Ringing Speech —The Town Officers.

A FEW PLANKS IN HALL'S PLATFORM.

Consistent support of the Liberal Government and its progressive policy, qualified by an independent attitude upon points affecting national interests and especially the interests of Peterborough.

A firm, steady, unswerving, ever-present, persistent interest in the material advantage and advancement of Peterborough town and county.

Trent Valley Canal completion, first, last and always, with all the national and local advantages such completion will bring.

A fiscal policy which will bring prosperity to all classes, help manufacturing industries and give the widest measure of employment to the working man.

A new trans-continental railway, which will develop new markets for the commerce and manufactures of Peterborough and Older Ontario.

An earnest fight and striving for every local improvement that can be to the advantage of Peterborough.

The devotion of every energy to the faithful discharge of the duty of giving live and effective representation, such as a live and growing town like Peterborough demands.

The election campaign of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate for West Peterborough, started last Saturday night, and it requires no stretching of the imagination to describe the opening meeting of the campaign as being gratifyingly successful, and a happy augury of the success of Mr. Hall at the polls on November 3rd, next. The first meeting was held in the Committee rooms on Simcoe street and despite the fact that it was Saturday night, and many men busily engaged the room was filled, many having to stand, a pleasing contrast to the Conservative meeting in the afternoon when there was a mere handful present. That the "Union Jack" is in no danger of falling into disrepute at the hands of the Liberals was given ample evidence to Saturday night in the Liberal Rooms when the British emblem was seen displayed from all parts of the rooms, and the Mail and Empire's silly slogan, "Keep both hands on the Union Jack" is little required here. The Committee Rooms are cheery and their very appearance is one that suggests victory. Over the platform at the front of the downstairs room is a large portrait of the Premier with the words, "Canada's Premier," on a streamer behind it, while hung around the room are catchy mottoes such as 'Vote for Hall and Laurier," "Laurier, the farmers' friend," "A revenue tariff, more factories more employees" and "More protection for Labour."

AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

The opening meeting on Saturday night was a most enthusiastic one, and the Liberals are entering into the campaign with a vim which cannot help but result successfully.

The chairman of the meeting Saturday night was Mr. Geo. Elliott, and the first business was the election of a chairman and secretary of the town committee, the election resulting as follows:—

Chairman—Mr. J. J. Hartley.

Secretary—Mr. R. Kerr.

The chairman for the different ward committees were also elected as follows:—

No. One Ward—Mr. W. White.

No. Two Ward—Mr. A. J. McClellan.

No. Three Ward—Mr. A. McFarlane.

No. Four Ward—Mr. V. Eastwood.

No. Five Ward—Mr. W. Scott.

To-night the different ward committees will be formed, and the chairmen will be at the committee rooms for this purpose.

PETERBOROUGH IS PROSPEROUS.

Hon. J. R. Stratton, who was present at the meeting, gave an inspiring address, pointing out, and producing proof to show that during the term of Liberal rule the people of Peterborough had been prosperous and the town as a town had prospered, beyond what had ever been expected or hoped, and the seeds of progress sown under Liberal rule would continue to bear fruit even in the future.

Mr. Stratton expressed his pleasure at being present at this the first meeting of the campaign, which he felt sure would terminate in the election of Mr. Hall. He was also pleased to see such a large number present. At the first meeting in his first campaign in 1896, when the riding of West Peterborough had been redeemed to the Liberal party there were not nearly as many present as he saw before him then, and he felt sure that this meeting was only what we might expect during the whole progress of the campaign, and on the evening of polling day it would be found that Mr. Hall had been elected by a handsome majority. (Applause.) Parliament has been dissolved, and the Liberal party is going to the country to ask for a renewal of the confidence reposed in them when they were elected to office in 1896, and returned again in 1900. During these eight years the constituency has been represented in Parliament by an opponent of the Government, but now he thought it was time that a Government supporter should be sent to Ottawa, one who will be in a better position to represent this riding, and one who will be able to secure for the people what they need. Mr. Hall was just such a man, and there was no doubt in his mind that he would be the future representative of West Peterborough.

PESSIMISTIC STORIES DISCREDITED.

In 1896 when the last general elections were being held the opponents of the Government raised a great hue and cry against the Liberals, and said that if they were elected the industries of the country would be destroyed, and the workingmen would be in a less prosperous condition, and unfortunately some of the latter listened to those cries and voted against the Liberal candidates. But the prophecies of these pessimists turned out to be false prophecies, and Canada has never been as prosperous as she has been continuously under Liberal rule. (Applause.) This condition of things was brought about by having men in power who understood the requirements of the country, and framed laws calculated to develop the industries already here and to create conditions which induce others to be established, at the same time advancing the interests of the manufacturers, the employees and the farmer.

GREAT BUSINESS EXPANSION.

Let us see how the pessimists' prophecies were fulfilled as far as Peterborough is concerned. The Canadian General Electric Works employ double the number of men they did in 1896, and the speaker said he was safe in making the assertion that there are one-third more buildings at that great plant now than there were in 1896, and the condition of the workmen employed there is improved in proportion.

The Canadian Cordage Works, employing 200 hands, with an investment of $500,000 is a new concern not in existence in 1896.

The American Cereal Company had in the interval established works here employing 500 hands, and the speaker said that he knew whereof he spoke when he said that before Mr. Hall had completed his five years' term in Parliament, (applause) the present buildings of the Cereal Company would be seen to be but the beginning of a mighty industry. This concern would not have been here but for conditions created by the Liberal Government.

The Peterborough Lock and Manufacturing Company is more prosperous than ever before in its history. Arrangements are now being made for the erection of new buildings to provide for increased output, and to accommodate an increased number of workmen, leaving the present plant open for the housing of another industry.

The power development on the Otonabee River had also taken place. The Canadian General Electric Company had since 1896 secured the water power at Nassau, and, instead of importing coal for the generation of power, now generate their own electrical energy. The Cereal Company have also secured a power of their own, and have spent nearly a million dollars in the development of the Cereal works, including new dam and power. The Otonabee Power Company have entered the field, supplying power for domestic and commercial uses, and the result is that prices for electric light and power have been greatly reduced, and at the present time Peterborough has cheaper electrical power than any other place in Canada.

The Colonial Weaving Company, a new industry, and the first of its kind in Canada, has been established and the business of the company is rapidly growing.

The Colonial Ink Company, another new industry, employing, it is true, a limited number of hands, but rapidly growing, has been established.

The "underground" street railway has been revived and put into operation, and is now one of the evidences of the progressive condition of the town.

A wedding also took place nearly a year ago, and Ashburnham, becoming tired of standing still, for so many years, decided to become annexed to the town, and the result is that we now have without doubt the most progressive and wide-awake town in the country.

The McDonald sawmill has been rebuilt, and is now turning out a greater quantity of product than ever before, and in addition a planing mill and a box factory has also been erected and is now in operation.

The Dickson Company has erected a large sawmill across the river on the Point, and it, too, is doing an immense business.

The Central Milling Company built, and put in operation, a large flour mill, and is paying large dividends to the farmer shareholders.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum has now in course of construction, a new 100-barrel flour mill.

The Canadian Ultimator Company has been established in Peterborough.

The Trent Valley Canal has not been kept dangling before the people during the term of Liberal rule, but there has been steady, continuous work on it, and he was safe in saying that since 1896 there had been more actual work done on the canal than there had been during the whole forty years before. (Applause.) Mr. Hall has made the early completion of the canal a plank in his platform, and he knew that Mr. Hall would carry out the pledges he had made.

Other industries in Peterborough that had made additions to their premises to provide for increased and increasing business were: the Wm. Hamilton Works, B. F. Ackerman & Son, Matthews Packing Works, Green's Foundry and Pump Works, and others, while J. J. Turner & Sons had erected the largest and best mail and tent factory in Canada. The Peterborough Cement Roofing Company had been established, as well at the Taylor Cement Tile and Brick Manufactory.

In 1896 it was almost impossible to sell property in Peterborough, while to-day there is a good demand and property can be sold at remunerative prices.

The population of the town in 1896 was 10,000; now it is nearly 14,000.

Mr. Stratton said that in his capacity of Provincial Secretary, he travelled around the country a good deal, and he had not seen a city yet, except Toronto, London and Hamilton, which made as good a showing in every way as Peterborough, which assertion was greeted with ringing cheers.

There are at the present time from 150 to 175 new houses in course of construction in Peterborough.

Since 1896 the United States had passed through two periods of business depression, but in Canada no depression whatever had been experienced, and during the next ten or fifteen years Canada is bound to be prosperous. Every working man has better wages than he had in 1896, and every working man has the full dinner pail.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will open up 4,000 miles of new country from Moncton to the Pacific Coast, giving access to millions of acres of new lands, rich in fertile soil and mineral wealth, which must remain closed until the advent of a railway. The settlers are going into the new country at such a rapid rate that it is impossible to get surveyors enough to survey the new lands to receive the settlers.

The Government has shown its interest in the steel industry of the country to the extent of encouraging it by giving a bounty sufficient to enable the industry to exist until it could be put upon a firm basis, and the result is that to-day there is one steel rail mill turning out 600 tons of rails a day, and in future all the rails required for the new railways which will be built, will be manufactured in Canada, by Canadian workmen, spending their money in Canada.

During the eight years since the Liberals have been in power they have produced surpluses amounting to $58,400,000, that of last year amounting to $16,000,000; $7,500,000 has been used to reduce the National debt, which during the Conservative period was increased by $118,000,000, and $9,000,000 have been expended in public buildings and much needed public works.

In the face of the record of the Laurier Government, there is no doubt that the Liberal party will be returned to power at the coming elections. Mr. Hall is a supporter of Laurier, but not a blind follower, and will support his party only in matters in which, in his opinion, the interests of his constituents will be advanced. Mr. Hall is a faithful supporter of the town, and is a man who has the courage of his convictions, and is not easily discouraged. Mr. Stratton believed that the candidate would be the right man in the right place, and was determined to do all he could personally to secure his election, which he felt sure, would be accomplished.

Mr. Stratton's address was heartily applauded.

MR HALL'S SPLENDID ADDRESS.

Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal Candidate was the next speaker, and his words showed that he is entering upon the campaign with a determination to win. He expressed his pleasure at seeing so many of his supporters present at his first meeting, and said that with the united work of the rank and file of the Liberal party he felt confident of his ability to win back West Peterborough. (Great applause.)

The Liberals in this contest, he said, were entering upon the contest under much more favourable circumstances than prevailed in former contests. The townships of Harvey, Galway and Cavendish had been brought back to the riding in which they belonged. It was absurd that these townships should have been in Peterborough county for municipal purposes and scattered over two different ridings for Dominion purposes.

OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO PETERBOROUGH.

The matter that is of vital importance to Peterborough is the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, and this he would do his best to secure after his election. In connection with his association with the power company he had talked with a great many manufacturers and while this town can offer cheap power, the question of shipping facilities is one in which Peterborough is deficient. But all this would be changed by the completion of the Canal. The Canal would also enable the citizens of Peterborough to secure cheaper coal and on this item alone he believed $15,000 per year could be saved to the town.

What he would endeavour to do first would be to get the southern end completed first, so that Peterborough's position at any rate would be secure.

Another important matter to the county was the condition of some of the wharves on the inland waters. The attention of the Government had never been called to the need of a wharf at Burleigh, but the matter was mentioned to him, and he at once took the matter up at Ottawa, with the result that a sum was placed in the estimates sufficient to build this much needed wharf.

A NEW $100,000 ARMOURY.

Then the Government had decided to erect a new armoury to cost $100,000 at Peterborough. This building would be a finer structure than is at present constructed in any town of the size of Peterborough, and will be similar to the London armoury. The post office would also be enlarged and improved to meet the needs of a growing town like Peterborough. These things all go to show why it would be to the advantage of Peterborough electors to support the Liberal Candidate.

Mr. Hall did not propose to keep the gentlemen late on Saturday night, but he would have opportunities later to discuss these matters with the electors. Mr. Hall's address was punctuated by hearty applause and cheers, which showed that he was the popular candidate.

No further speaking took place at that meeting, which for the first meeting of the campaign was a most successful one, and Mr. Hall's campaign has started out in a way which bespeaks victory.

CHIEF SECRETARY'S LETTER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — The statement of Mr. M. T. Butcher, which appeared in your issue of the 29th September, is not complete, and therefore we feel it necessary to enlighten the Peterborough public as to some of the facts of the case not included in the statement.

While it is not necessary to go into all the circumstances which led to the removal of Mr. M. T. Butcher from the office of treasurer of the Peterborough corps, we desire to affirm that in accordance with Salvation Army regulations, he was repeatedly given every opportunity to appeal against his suspension.

Had Mr. M. T. Butcher availed himself of these opportunities and appealed, his request would have been dealt with, but he refused, stating he had "no charges to make against any one, nor any protests." After examining the books Territorial Headquarters is of the opinion that Mr. M. T. Butcher is under a misapprehension, and we believe he will soon come to the same conclusion.

Yours faithfully,
CLEMENT T. JACOBS,
Chief Secretary of the Salvation Army in Canada.

JOE THOMPSON WAS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

On Three Serious Charges — Other Police Court Cases.

Jos. Thompson appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning to answer to three charges of a most serious nature. The first was a robber, the second of carrying nitro-glycerene, an explosive substance, and the third of carrying a revolver on his person. It will be remembered that on Monday, Sept. 19th, the prisoner entered the house of Mr. L. A. Halley, 394 Aylmer street, and helped himself, to several articles there and was found drunk in the woodshed. Evidence was taken in all three charges this morning and he was committed for trial at the next Court of Competent Jurisdiction. The prisoner had evidently visited the Lock Works previous to his entering Mr. Halley's house, for among the articles found on him was a screw-driver with "T. Fortye" on it, some papers belonging to the Lock Works, a tobacco pouch and pipe-cleaner, which had been taken from Mr. Fortye's pocket on the Monday morning sometime before 9 and 11 o'clock.

The prisoner had no lawyer but cross-questioned several of the witnesses but to little avail as there was no doubt as to the true facts of the case. Mr. J. Fife, Science Master of the Collegiate was present and certified that he had examined a bottle which prisoner claimed was "medicine" and found it to contain about five ounces of nitro-glycerine, a most explosive substance.

A drunk and disorderly was fined $2 for his pains.

Andrew Dobbin and John McManus were each fined $2 and $2.60 costs for being disorderly on Sept. 28th. Neither appeared in Court.

A dog tag case was settled by the defendant paying $2 and $2.60 costs.

MR. HUGH WADDELL CONVENTION'S CHOICE

Was Nominated as a Conservative Candidate at Saturday's Convention.

Mr. Jas. Kendry Refuses to Accept the Nomination—A Meeting Devoid of Enthusiasm.

Large posters, conspicuously placed around the town, and other parts of the riding of West Peterborough, announced the fact that on Saturday, October 1st, a convention of the Liberal-Conservatives of the riding would be held to nominate a candidate to represent the party in the approaching Federal elections, and in response to the invitation conveyed by these posters, less than sixty-five persons — to be explicit, sixty-one, outside the representatives of the press present, and the gentlemen who occupied seats on the platform—gathered at Bradburn's opera house on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of placing a candidate in the field against the Liberal nominee, Mr. R. R. Hall.

The meeting was called for two o'clock, but at that hour there was hardly a quorum present, and it was 2.30 before the meeting opened, the chairman being Lt.-Col. Miller, vice-president, in the absence of Mr. Bradburn, the president of the Association.

There were on the platform, beside the chairman, Messrs. Jas. Kendry, James Stevenson, G. W. Fitzgerald, J. H. Burnham, Chas. Dunn, T. McCamus, W. S. Robinson, R. E. Layfield and Dr. Coughlan.

Mr. James Kendry, who has represented this constituency at Ottawa during the last two parliaments, although offered the nomination, on Saturday afternoon, refused that honour, saying that he found it impossible to again be the standard bearer of the Conservative party, although he gave no reason for declinining the nomination. This announcement caused distinct disappointment to the great majority of those present, and the meeting was, to a great extent, void of any enthusiasm.

Mr. Hugh Waddell was nominated by Mr. Kendry, and as there were no other names submitted, Mr. Waddell was given the nomination.

Short addresses were given by Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, Dr. Coughlan, and Mr. R. E. Layfield, in all of which regret was expressed that Mr. Kendry would not accept the nomination.

A resolution expressing confidence in, and appreciation of, Mr. R. L. Borden, was moved by Mr. Paul Costello, and seconded by Mr. Thos. McCamus, and adopted, amid the usual cheers, as was also a similar one to Mr. J. P. Whitney, moved by Lieut.-Col. Miller and seconded by Mr. R. E. Layfield. Both were adopted by the meeting.

Mr. Waddell was not present at the meeting, but when the nomination was tendered him after its close, he accepted it, and will be the Conservative candidate at the election which will take place just one month from to-day.

The chairman in opening the meeting said that it had been called for the purpose of selecting a candidate to represent the Conservative party in the coming Dominion elections, and called for nominations.

Mr. J. H. Burnham at once arose, and nominated Mr. Jas. Kendry, as the candidate. Mr. Kendry, he said, had been elected twice by good majorities, and he had found that in going through the riding Mr. Kendry was looked upon with favour by the Conservatives.

Mr. R. E. Layfield, in seconding the nomination, said that he could fully reiterate all the good things said of Mr. Kendry by the nominator, and hoped Mr. Kendry would accept the nomination.

MR. KENDRY REFUSES NOMINATION.

The chairman called for further nominations, and as there was no response, Mr. Kendry addressed the gathering, saying that while he thanked very heartily his nominator and seconder, he found it impossible to accept the nomination which had been offered him. He regretted this fact, but it was impossible for him to accede to the wishes of the former speakers in this respect. Mr. Kendry did not specify the reasons that made the acceptance of the nomination impossible, but nominated Mr. Hugh Waddell, who, he said, was a well known man, and he believed that no better man than Mr. Waddell could be found in the riding of West Peterborough. Referring to the argument that might be raised against Mr. Waddell that he was not a speaker, Mr. Kendry said that it was not essential to be a speaker to succeed. He thought that any man might consider it an honour to be the candidate of the party in West Peterborough. He said that he declined the nomination with great reluctance, but thought that Mr. Waddell would prove a better man than he could be.

The nomination was seconded by Mr. Paul Costello.

Mr. Harry Phelan at this point rose and said that he wished to renominate Mr. Kendry, and in making this nomination he believed that he was voicing the sentiments of the Conservatives of West Peterborough in pressing for the renomination. Mr. Kendry again speaking, said that he wished to be understood, it was impossible for him to accept the nomination.

MR WADDELL'S NOMINATION.

No other name was presented to the meeting and Mr. Waddell was nominated by a standing vote, amid the cheers of the gathering.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, who was called upon for an address, said that he thought that men such as Mr. Dennistoun should be willing to take the platform and address the electors on the relative policies of the two parties, but since they had not seen fit to do so he had consented to give a short address. He referred to an editorial article in the Globe on Friday in which the remark was made that fortunately the two leaders were men of high ideals, and said that these were words which would find echo in the heart of every man in the riding of West Peterborough. He thought it was necessary to elect men against the characters of whom nothing could be said. He paid a high tribute to the character of Mr. Hugh Waddell, and said that in South Monaghan where he had lived his lifetime, he was loved by his neighbours. He said that he had nothing to say against Mr. Hall, who was the Liberal candidate. He hoped the electors would inform themselves as to the standing of the two men and then decide for themselves. The speaker said that he considered Mr. Borden, whom he had met in Port Hope for the first time, a man of high ideals and one of the finest men he had ever met. Mr. Waddell had required the greatest persuasion to induce him to accept the nomination for the riding. Referrring to the broad question of policy he said that the Liberals had stolen the Conservative policy in part, but not being able to recognize a fiscal policy they had neglected to take it all and had not given "adequate protection" to the industries of the Dominion.

MR. DENNISTOUN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun was the next speaker, and said that it was a matter of regret that Mr. Kendry had not been in a position to accept the nomination, but as he knew from close association with him in business that it was utterly impossible for him to accept it, and he felt that there was only one man to take Mr. Kendry's place, and he believed that Mr. Waddell by reason of his having greater time to devote to the affairs of his office, would be even a better man than Mr. Kendry in this respect. He referred to the G.T.P.R. policy, and said that this was sufficient in itself to defeat the Government. He defended the policy of Mr. Borden. He spoke of the Dundonald incident, and said that the Scotchmen would resent being designated as "foreigners" as they were by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, though he admitted that that remark was a slip of the tongue. The speaker placed his services at the disposal of the committee.

Dr. Coughlin was the next speaker and said that he could not express an opinion on the work of the convention as he knew little of the affairs of West Peterborough. He thought that Mr. Waddell, who, however, was not very well known to him, would make a good representative. He had always heard him highly spoken of and thought the party here should work for his success. He critized the G.T.P. policy of the Government, and quoted words of Mr. Borden in its condemnation. He hoped the Conservative party would not forget the services rendered to it by Mr. Kendry and urged all present to work for the success of Mr. Waddell.

Mr. R. E. Layfield gave a campaign speech, urging the energetic entering upon of the campaign, which was now upon them, and presented resolutions which were adopted.

Mr. A. P. Poussette moved that a committee be appointed to draw up a resolution tendering to Mr. Kendry the appreciation of the party for his services. The motion was carried, and after cheers for the King, Mr. Borden, Mr. Waddell, Mr. Kendry and the chairman, the meeting closed.

FURTHER EXPLANATION.

The substance of the trouble on hand is this: I, as corps treasurer, saw the Salvation Army band finances not being properly looked after, and jointly with the corps secretary, desired to examine the books and accounts of the band, or have them examined by some competent person. The outcome of this, is my present position. As I am not fighting for personal rights, I do not for one moment wish to protest against my being expelled from office and soldiership. I said I would not judge T.H.Q., and now do not wish to regard the honoured Chief Secretary anything different from what I have always done, that is, as a trustworthy, conscientious man of God. I am quite satisfied to believe that T. H. Q. does not know all the facts of the case. In my opinion T.H.Q. has made a serious mistake, as a little kindly consultation of all the parties concerned, could have settled the matter as best it could be settled, long ago, in a few hours time. I have no other desire in contending for the rights of my comrades and fellow-citizens, but that the work of the Army here may be a greater blessing, and God's kingdom extended. I hope this will be sufficient explanation, and thus end discussion through the press.

M. T. BUTCHER,
Late corps treasurer.

KEEP A LIVE TOWN ALIVE.

A prominent local Conservative this morning in conversation with the Examiner, in regard to the present political situation, expressed himself in a way which, doubtless, represents the unexpressed, but firmly entertained, sentiments of many citizens, who place the solid advantage of live representation before mere political triumph. He said he was a Conservative at heart, but he was willing to forget that so far as to prefer the benefit of the town. He would rather see Mr. Hall elected than any other man, straight Tory or independent, who could not promise to serve the town as well. "Why," said he, "he's a hustler, and if elected, will be a friend at court worth having. Look at what he has already done. He has been instrumental in saving $10,000 to the citizens in connection with a Collegiate Institute site. A town like Peterborough needs a man who can hustle, and get things done for the town."

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The present situation in local political circles, is largely due to the course of Mr. Kendry in retiring from active political life, and declining to again be a candidate. At the same time he is not responsible for the results and created complications and embarrassments following a course which he had every right to take. There is a limit to the sacrifices which a citizen should be required to make for his party. Mr. Kendry has served his party well, and it is doubtless the fault of circumstances, and not of his inclination, that he is unable, with deference to the demands of his private affairs, to aspire to continue in the capacity he has occupied for the past eight years. If others in his party are not prepared to assume a responsibility which Mr. Kendry has been compelled, by the legitimate demands of business, to lay aside, it is not his fault.

DEVOTES HIS LIFE TO PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENT OF HUMAN RACE.

Sir William Ramsay, the Discoverer of New Elements—The Future of Chemistry—Some Problems It Will Attack in the Future for the Well-Being of the People—Solving Sewage Problem.

Of Sir Wm. Ramsay, the famous chemist, who has been presiding at the annual meeting of the Society of Chemical Industry in session at New York, The Tribune of that city says: Sir William Ramsay's title to the profound admiration of scientific men does not rest alone on his unique demonstration of the possibility of transmutation. He has long been known for other important work. He has filled the chair of chemistry in University College, London, for seventeen years. He shared with Lord Rayleigh the distinction of discovering a previously unknown constituent of the air—argon—and subsequently took the leading part in the detection of several others. The existence of one of these he was bold enough to predict before it was found. At the Toronto meeting of the British Association for the advancement of Science, in 1897, he discussed the relationship between argon and another element of which he was the discoverer, helium, and declared that still a third one, whose atomic weight and traits he described, must eventually be found. Then he went to work to find it, and succeeded! Such a forecast had never before been verified. The achievement bore testimony to the sagacity of Sir William, and may be said to have strengthened confidence in the soundness of a law laid down by the Russian chemist, Mendelijeff. This related to the mathematical ratio between the atomic weights of the members of certain groups of elements. Owing to their disinclination to combine with other elements, no way has yet been found to utilise neon (the missing link), krypton, xenon, argon or notium, but it is doubtful if any one man ever identified so great a number of new elements.

"What is the future of chemistry?" Sir William was asked.

"It is difficult to prophesy," replied the scientist. "Investigations and discoveries of recent years indicate that the elements have been undergoing atomic changes. One of the most important developments may be from radium. Who can tell? So far radium has been found of little practical use except in the cure of disease. Its great cost has been in the way of any great development, for a grain is now worth about $1,500. I do not see any signs at present that it will become more abundant. Everything seems to indicate that it is to be found associated with other substances, from which it can be separated only by the hardest kind of work.

"There is an American mineral, carnolite, which may prove a source of radium. It is found associated with thorium and uranium. Uranium is used in coloring glass and china and thorium in the manufacture of the mantles used in illuminating.

"I do not anticipate that a mine of radium will ever be found, but if the element were ever found in sufficient quantities and could be furnished at any reasonable cost it could be used to great advantage. The energy evolved from a pound of radium, for instance, would be equal to that evolved from the explosion of 250 tons of dynamite. Radium is capable of doing much work. If a small quantity of radium-bromide is dissolved in water it will decompose the fluid into its constituent gases and continue to do so without any further attention.

"Chemistry may do much for the advancement of the human race in the years to come," continued the scientist. "It will show, possibly, how new alloys of greater tensile strength than those which we now have may be obtained. They would be employed in bridge building, perhaps, and in mechanical arts. The cheapening of the processes of making iron and steal has long engaged the attention of chemists, and I doubt not that further improvements could be made. Chemicals of all kinds by means of improved processes could be cheapened in cost.

"It is not improbable that some day foods may be artificially prepared. Fischer is making substances not unlike the white of egg. It may be that such studies will result in the preparation from substances which are now regarded as wastes and by products."

Speaking of the way in which his time was employed in London, Sir William said that much of the day was given to teaching and to research work. He believes in conducting experiments in the presence of his students, even when involved processes are employed, in order that their interest may be stimulated.

"I am connected with several boards and commissions also," he continued. "Under my direction I have a separate laboratory with six assistants where we are endeavoring to find some means for the disposition of the water that leaves Lake Victoria at Ripon Falls not half ever reaches the White Nile. In flood time this wastage of water in the swamps of the Bahr-el-Gebel is immaterial, but in the dry season it involves incalculable loss to Egypt, whose sole dependence for water is upon the Nile.

To obviate this state of things two courses are open. The first is so to improve the channel of the Bahr-el-Gebel as to stop the "spillings" of the stream and prevent the accumulations of "sudd" which block the river to navigation and disperse a great proportion of its current.

The other course—and the one that is evidently dearest to Sir William Garstin's heart—is to cut a new channel for the Bahr-el-Gebel from Bor to the junction of the Sobat with the White Nile, just below Lake No. By means of regulations at the head of the cutting the volume of water passing to the White Nile could be made constant. The summer flow would be undiminished by wastage, and in floodtime the surplus water would, as at present, waste itself in inundations on either side of the natural channel. The complement to this project would be the building of regulators at the Ripon Falls and at the head of Lake Albert, where the Victoria Nile after passing the Murchison Falls, becomes the Bahr-el-Gebel.

The work, which is estimated to cost some $27,500,000, would be cheaper and more effectual than the less heroic course of dredging and "training" the channel of the Bahr-el-Gebel; but its feasibility is not certain, for the levels of the two hundred odd miles of country lying between Bor and the confluence of the Sobat have not been accurately ascertained, and upon that factor everything must depend. But Lord Cromer thinks so well of the scheme that he has sanctioned an expenditure of $120,000 in the next year to make the necessary surveys, and the experience of Sir William Garstin in such matters must be considered when the superficial difficulties of the problem are under consideration.

Lord Salisbury once advised his countrymen to study their Imperial Geography on large scale maps, and it is only by reference to such maps that the magnitude of Sir William Garstin's project can be realised. From Alexandria to the northern shore of the Victoria Nyanza is, as the crew flies, 2,000 miles, or a third of the distance from the equator to the pole. The inland sea, from which it takes its rise, is as large as Scotland, and the amount of water which it discharges daily into the Victoria Nile is little short of 11,000,000,000 gallons. It is only fifty years since the explorations of Speke and Grant revealed to the world the source of the Nile, and now that source is brought so much within the sphere of civilisation that its waters are to be tamed by sluice and dam.

The enormous increase to the fertility and revenues of Egypt and the Soudan which the fulfilment of these schemes would bring about is emphasized by Lord Cromer, who holds them out as "the ideal" at which Egyptian Government should aim. The principal obstacle to their realisation is, in spite of the enormous distances and vast forces involved, not of an engineering, but of a financial character. Though Sir William Garstin is confident of the feasibility of constructing regulators at the outfall of the Central African lakes and of diverting such a stream as the Bahr-el-Gebel into a new channel, if the levels are favorable, Lord Cromer is not so certain when Egypt will be able to launch upon such an expedition. But the scheme, or some modification of it, is certain of ultimate realisation. No more eloquent commentary upon it could be found than in the words with which Sir William Garstin concludes the report of his investigation of the Upper Nile.

"To rescue," he says, "the Upper Nile from the marshes in which it has lost more than half its volume; to control and regulate the great Equatorial lakes, making them add to the flow of the river at will; to cause the waters of the Blue Nile to rise and irrigate the fertile tracts through which they pass; to secure to Egypt a constant and sufficient supply for the entire area between the cataracts and the Mediterranean; to free the country from the ever present danger of a disastrous flood—these are tasks worthy of comparison with any previously recorded in the world's history."

Precautionary Treatment.

The Dutch peasant lives with canals all about him and reaches his cottage by way of a drawbridge. Perhaps it is in the blood of the Dutch child, says a writer in M. A. P., not to fall into a canal. At all events the Dutch mother never appears to anticipate such a possibility.

One can imagine the average English or American mother trying to bring up a family in a house surrounded by canals. She would never have a moment's peace until the children were in bed. But then the mere sight of a canal to the English child suggests the delights of a sudden and unexpected bath.

An Englishman inquired of a Dutchwoman, "Does a Dutch child ever by any chance fall into a canal?"

"Yes," she replied, "cases have been known."

"Don't you do anything for it?" continued the questioner.

"Oh, yes," she answered. "We haul them out again."

"But what I mean is," explained the Englishman, "don't you do anything to prevent their falling in—to save them from falling in again?"

"Yes," she answered, "we spank them."

Calculating the Distance of a Storm.

Although lightning and thunder occur always simultaneously an interval of shorter or longer duration is usually observed between these two phenomena, which is due to the fact that sound travels only at the rate of 1,100 feet per second, while the passage of light is almost instantaneous. Based upon this fact, it is an easy matter to tell, at least approximately, how many miles a thunderstorm is away. A normal pulse will beat one stroke to the second, and by counting the pulse beats during the interval of the lightning and the thunder the lapse of seconds is arrived at and consequently the number of feet, which can be reduced to miles.

For example, if thirty seconds elapse between the flash of the lightning and the crash of thunder the storm center is at a distance of 33,000 feet or about six and one-half miles. An almost accurate calculation can be made by using a watch with a minute dial.

MINERAL WOOL.

A Valuable Product From What Was Once Regarded as Waste.

Mineral wool is a soft substance consisting of a mass of very fine mineral fibers, which interlace one another in every direction and thus form an endless number of minute air cells. It is made quite simply, by directing a blast of steam against a stream of molten slag. Some of the best is made from blast furnace slag, an admirable illustration of the value of what was once regarded as a waste product.

The slag is melted in a large cupola, and as it trickles out of the tap hole it meets a high pressure steam jet which blows it in fleecy clouds into the storage room provided for it. The heavier wool naturally settles down first, while the lighter portions are blown further along by the force of the steam, and so the material naturally sorts itself.

Mineral wool is fireproof and may be used as a sound deadener between the floors of buildings; it also serves as a nonconducting covering for cold storage chambers and for pipes. For this last purpose the wool that is made from sandstone is best, for it contains no sulphur, which, when moisture is present, is a corroding agent.

THE BAGPIPES.

They Were Used by the Early Greeks, Romans and Egyptians.

Bagpipes, mentioned in Jeremiah xlviii, 36, "Mine heart shall sound for Moab like pipes; like pipes for the men of Kir-heres," and elsewhere in Scripture, were used also by the early Egyptians.

Both Greeks and Romans knew the instrument, for a coin of Nero shows upon one side the tibia utricularis, a bag with two reeds and nine pipes. Procopius also, who wrote about 550 A. D., asserts that Roman soldiers sometimes marched to the sound of the bagpipes, and it is not impossible that they introduced them into the British islands.

The earliest, more modern reference to them is in an Irish MS. of 1150, and an Irish illuminated MS. of 1390 depicts a pig playing on the bagpipes. The Scottish highlanders were the first and only people to use the great war pipe, as the highland regiments still do, but, in spite of Sir Walter Scott's assertion, it is very doubtful whether they charged at Bannockburn to the "skirl" of the pipes.—London Answers.

The Weariest Old Man.

When we become old we want to get off the streets. We always sympathize with the old men who have nothing to do, who are not wanted anywhere and who have no place to go. When we become old and useless we want a place of our own to go to, a place that is absolutely our own and that we can manage as we please. We hope it will be a little place where we can potter with fruits and flowers, vegetables and chickens, and keep busy. We don't want to give people opportunity to show neglect nor idle time in which to see visions of the grim monster. Old men who loiter about the streets, it always seems to us, make a mistake.

I'M GOING TO NEED IN MY BUSINESS AS A

HIS LITTLE MASCOT

By BELLE MANNATHS

Copyright, 1904, by Belle Manatha

Bradley paused at the door of Miss Kane's studio, listened a moment to the sound of smoothly struck chords and then gave an apologetic knock. The music ceased and the door was opened by Miss Kane, teacher of vocal music.

"You know better," she said forbiddingly.

"Yes," he said with penitent air, "but I am not a visitor. I came on professional business, really," and walked on into the room."

"Do you want your voice tried?" she asked sarcastically.

"No. I don't want you to score another point against me, but I called to see you in regard to your pupil, the little girl Patti. I understand she is to make her debut at the charity concert tomorrow night. I want to write her up."

"Oh!" she exclaimed, interested, but still skeptical. "And since when did the city editor himself take to writing 'In a Minor Strain' column?"

"Miss Fleming is ill," he replied, "and we are all helping her out. I volunteered to take this part of her work. I thought, Miss Kane," he said eagerly, "that it would be to your advantage and to that of the child to get satisfactory press notices, and I will write whatever you wish."

"Thank you very much, Mr. Bradley," she replied, her little air of reserve melting for the once. "I shall be very glad if you will do so."

"Now, what kind of a voice has she?"

"High soprano. Her voice is perfectly placed. When I discovered her pure soprano I heard her first in a school—I had her come to the studio. I sounded low C on the piano and asked her to sing that note. She did, with perfect attack and pitch. Then she kept on with the successive tones and half tones until we came to B flat. I began to tremble, for there begins the middle register, the stumbling block of nearly all singers, but the right quality came into her voice—that imperceptible shading of the chest tones as they emerge into the smooth waters of the soprano's realm. The tones kept coming clearly, sweetly and with a silvery ring until I didn't dare take her any farther."

"I suppose it's all right," said Bradley, with a perplexed sigh, "but it's all Greek to me. If her voice was perfect by nature why are you giving her lessons?"

"I have made her voice stronger and more flexible; have taught her phrasing and enunciation."

"I think you had better write a little sketch of her personality and voice and I will publish it."

There came a light rap at the door, and a slender little wisp of a girl with big brown eyes and golden hair came into the studio.

"This, Mr. Bradley, is my little song bird, Louise Harvey."

Bradley was very fond of children. He shook hands with the little songstress and, turning to Miss Kane, said:

"Is it possible that this microscopic child can sing so gloriously as I have heard it intimated?"

The little girl drew herself up with a suspicion of hauteur.

"I am in my teens!" she protested.

"That does give one an old feeling," he said, with a laugh. "I haven't forgotten the first day I could say so proudly, 'I am in my teens.'"

"Have you been out of them long?" Miss Kane could not forbear asking.

The bright eyes of Louise sparkled with appreciative mirth.

"Miss Louise, you mustn't make fun of me. I have the power to make or mar public personages. I am going to put your picture in the paper tonight, and the day after tomorrow I shall tell how well you can sing."

"Thank you," said the little girl simply. "But I must go now. I came to return this music, Miss Kane."

"I will go with you," said Bradley. "We will stop at the florist's and order some flowers for you to carry at the concert."

Louise flushed with pleasure as she left the room in company with Bradley.

"I like Miss Kane. She is lovely to me," she confided when they were out on the street.

"I wish she would be lovely to me," he said ruefully.

"Is she mad at you?" asked Louise ingenuously.

"Yes, music mad. But unfortunately I can only appreciate music from a ragtime standpoint, so I can't creep into the circle of devotees Miss Kane draws around herself."

"Why don't you jump in?" asked Louise.

He stopped abruptly and looked reflectively at her.

"That's a very good idea, Miss Louise. Thank you."

When they reached the florist's and Louise had selected the roses he was to send to her on the morrow, Bradley said:

"Now I will make my first jump and send Miss Kane some roses too."

"Send her violets," replied the little girl earnestly. "They are her favorite flower."

"Thank you again, Miss Louise. You are certainly my mascot."

He ordered a huge bunch of violets to be sent to Miss Kane on the evening following and left his card to accompany them.

When Beryl Kane was dressing for the concert a box from the florist's was brought to her. A little thrill of pleasure went through her as she lifted the cover and saw the violets; another when she read the card.

"I thought," she mused, "that he held me in disdain as 'one of that musical crowd' who are so uninteresting to him. He addresses such curt, cynical remarks to me when we meet. I always begin to get a retort ready as soon as I see him approach. I wonder how he came to send me these! I suppose because he was giving Lou some."

She sighed as she finished her toilet. Her carriage stopped at the home of her little pupil, and Louise, radiant with excitement and pleasure, came out, carrying her roses.

"You got the violets Mr. Bradley sent you, didn't you?" asked the young girl as she took her seat beside Miss Kane. "I must tell you what he said about you. He said you were music mad and you didn't care for him because he wasn't musical and he could never get into your circle, and I told him to jump in."

Beryl listened to this voluble confidence with the feeling that she ought to check or reprove the little tale bearer, but she didn't. She felt still another little thrill and thought what a lovely night it was. If only Louise would do her best!

Louise did. She came out upon the stage clad in the white robes of a chorister, her fair childish face brilliant with excitement and expectancy. Her eager, searching eyes caught sight of Bradley in one of the boxes. She flushed happily while the dimples came and went. The prelude to her number ended, Bradley, the crowd, every one, vanished from her thoughts. She forgot herself in the grand music of the "Ave Maria," and she surpassed in its delivery the highest hopes of her teacher.

Then followed a wild ecstasy of applause from an enthusiastic audience, and she reappeared, this time attired in a pretty white frock. She sang "Home, Sweet Home," into the hearts of her hearers. Applause, calls, recalls and flowers followed.

When the excitement had subsided and the next number was on Bradley found his way behind the scenes.

"Miss Louise," he said, bowing low to the happy little girl, "when you are a great prima donna don't forget that I gave you your first flowers."

"May I thank you for my violets?" said a soft voice behind him.

He turned, and his face glowed with pleasure when he saw Miss Kane was carrying his flowers. He noted how happy she looked, but attributed the fact to the success her pupil had scored.

"Even I know that Miss Louise made a hit. Every one is wild over her singing, and they say she is the perfect exponent of your teaching."

"Then my ambition is satisfied musically," she replied. "I wanted to be recognized as a successful teacher."

"And have you any ambitions other than music?"

"Why, of course," she laughed. "Music is only a part of my life."

"Every one has an aim," said Louise precociously. "Mine is to be a prima donna, Miss Kane's to be a teacher. What is yours, Mr. Bradley?"

"To make a scoop," replied Beryl.

"That is only a 'part of my life,'" he quoted. "I have another, a great aim and hope."

"What is it?" asked Louise artlessly.

"I am going to tell Miss Kane some time if she will let me. Then I will tell you."

Some one called Louise away just then.

"May I come and see you soon—tomorrow night—Miss Kane?" he asked in vibrant voice.

"Yes," she replied softly, screening her face with the violets.

"I always thought you were bored by people who were not musical," he said.

"And I always thought," she retorted, "that you were bored by people who were musical."

"You were mistaken."

"So were you."

Louise ran to them.

"Our carriage is here, Miss Kane. Are we going home now?"

"Certainly not," replied Bradley quickly. "Prima donnas always have a supper after they sing. I am going to take you to one now, and Miss Kane will chaperon us."

"Oh, oh!" cried Lou ecstatically. "This is my loveliest night!"

"And mine," declared Bradley emphatically.

"And mine," echoed Beryl softly.

Sing While at Work.

"They say the man whose soul wakes not to music is dead indeed," said the man on the lookout for odd things, "and the average working negro in this great southland of ours seems to be a pretty fair example of those who have 'waked,' if his fondness for venting his feelings in music is to be taken as a criterion. Did you ever see a gang of street laborers at work that some one or more of them were not calling out to an original theme a story anent the things good to a darky's eyes? They seem to fit the very measure of motion, whethgr it be the swing of a hammer or pick or the heaving of some weighty object. I saw a gang at their labor the other day, and the ditty they enunciated held me interested until I had learned the very rhythm, if not the dialect, myself. These two fellows told their trouble and desire along this line:

"'Have yer got a good dog?'

"'Can he catch any coons?'

"'Just take him and try him.'

"Repeating the grunt with every stroke. To the white man this might look like wasted energy, but somehow the negro seems to do more and do it better with a musical incentive."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Beyond Settlement.

Molly—What makes you so haughty when you meet George? Why don't you make up with him? Polly—Because I should have to demand an explanation, and I can't remember what it is I'm supposed to be offended about.

A Manly Man.

He—You say you like a manly man. What is your idea of a manly man? She—Well, for instance, one who doesn't stay and stay and stay just because he knows the girl isn't strong enough to throw him out.

Society's Pleasures.

Since the magnificent times of the Roman empire there has never been a period when people have been so overfed, overamused and overstimulated as in the imperial London of today.

Probably Not.

"Is Pinkleby a manicure artist?"

"I don't know. Why?"

"I just saw him and he told me that he had charge of a hundred hands at his place of business."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

KEEPING WELL.

It Is Better and More Economical Than Getting Well.

I have often been horrified by finding people at Carlsbad or Marienbad or some other of these severe water cures who had come there simply on their own initiative and without any medical advice. This is really tampering with one's constitution.

I am coming to the conclusion in recent years that it is better to trust to air and to exercise than to waters for the renewal of the physical system. Since I have taken to golf I find so much improvement in my health that I no longer pine, as I used to do, for the water cure. But there again every man must judge for himself. If a man has too profound a love for the pleasures of the table it is almost a necessity for him to go to one of those places where the system seems to get a thoroughly complete washout.

But if a man be of moderate appetite and be able to keep himself well under control even when temptation is great, then he has no reason for going to Homburg or Carlsbad or Marienbad. He had better seek good mountain air, play golf and keep out of doors.—London M. A. P.

OUR FINGER NAILS.

Method by Which They Are Formed and How They Grow.

The nail is a special modification of the cuticle, the superficial cells being harder, more horny and more firmly adherent to each other than in the proper skin. The deep layer of the skin is peculiarly modified to form the bed of the nail, is highly vascular, and is studded with almost parallel ridges, the true skin overlapping the sides and root of the nail, which fits into the groove, as a watch glass into its rim. The surfaces of all these ridges are covered with growing cells which, as they flatten and change into horn, form one solid curved plate, the nail.

Nails grow both in thickness and length. The increase in thickness is caused by the formation of nerve cells on the bed of the nail; the increase in length, through the formation of new folds at the hinder part of the bed. The nail, thus constantly receiving additions from below and from behind, is slowly pushed forward over its bed till it projects beyond the end of the finger and is cut off at intervals or worn away.

A Curious Oath.

The following curious oath was until recently administered in the courts of the Isle of Man: "By this book and by the holy contents thereof and by the wonderful works that God has miraculously wrought in heaven above and in the earth beneath in six days and seven nights I do swear that I will, without respect of favor or friendship, love or gain, consanguinity or affinity, envy or malice, execute the laws of this isle justly between our sovereign lord the king and his subjects within this isle and between party and party as indifferently as the herring's backbone doth lie in the middle of the fish."

The Value of a Name.

Nelson, a thriving little English town, is a living instance of the value of a name. Not long after the battle of Trafalgar some tinker, tailor or other person established a tiny wayside inn and called it after the naval hero. There was nobody on the spot from whom to expect custom, but the road led to and from populous districts. Travelers stopped at the place, and presently a cottage or two began to rise, then more of them, and the name of the public house answered for the whole. That was the nucleus of the present town. Now 40,000 people live around the site which the old innkeeper chose and called after the name of his hero.

Passing Counterfeits.

Johnny—Say, papa, passing counterfeit money is unlawful, isn't it? Papa—Yes. Johnny—Well, papa, if a man was walking along the street and saw a ten dollar counterfeit bill upon the sidewalk and did not pick it up wouldn't he be guilty of passing counterfeit money and couldn't he be arrested and put in jail? Papa—More likely the lunatic asylum. Now you may go to bed, my son.

Method in Her Madness.

Clarissa—Why, you silly thing! What are you putting your damp hands out on the window sill for? You'll get them all rough and red. Annabel—Yes, I know. But Mr. de Million thinks that every woman ought to do all sorts of housework, and I'm getting my hands ready to show off tonight.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS AT LAKEFIELD FAIR

Peterborough Firms Who Made Displays at Lakefield.

Grafton's Clothing — Simplex Cream Separator—Lang and Maher.

There were fewer inside special exhibits at the Lakefield Fair on Friday than for some years, but the following are worthy of special mention:

GRAFTON'S HIGH-GRADE CLOTHING.

The visitor's attention was drawn to the well-displayed exhibit of Messrs. Grafton & Co., of Peterborough. Everyone who passed through the building could not fail to see it, and admire it, as it occupied the prominent space near the entrance to grounds. It was a representative display of up-to-date styles of men and boys' ready-to-wear high-grade garments, men's overcoats, rain coats and suits, and boy's apparel. The great feature of Grafton's advertising is the reliability behind every statement; and in their own spacious building on George street, Peterborough, their stock is beyond question the finest they have ever made, and without doubt the largest. The garments will be found of the very latest, in fact the only competition they will have will be from the most exclusively custom tailors. Grafton & Co. own and operate a great chain of large stores throughout Canada, enabling them to purchase the cloths and material for manufacturing in immense quantities for spot cash at prices impossible to other dealers. Every garment sold by them is manufactured by them in their own large factory at Dundas, so that the customer is buying direct from the maker closer to cost of production than is possible for him to do from any other Canadian concern. The exhibit was effectively arranged under the superintendence of Mr. Herb. Conway, assisted by Peterborough's popular decorator, Mr. Alf. Kingscote, tent, sail and awning maker. Mr. Robt. Howland, the firm's agile advertising man, showed good judgment in placing the signs and advertising matter. Along the main street, on the fences and buildings of the show grounds, and the precincts of the Fair, the large coloured litographs of the firm were prominently displayed. This firm offered three special prizes for the best teams of general purpose horses in harness and wagon, which brought out quite a number of close contestants.

THE "SIMPLEX" CREAM SEPARATOR.

The local agent, Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of the firm of White & Gillespie, grocers and dairy supply men, Peterborough, and Mr. Chapin, the expert travelling agent for the "Simplex" Link Blade Cream Separator, made the only exhibition of the kind at the Fair. Farmers and their wives crowded around this exhibit to see the prominent features of the machine as it was operated by its representatives. The readers of the Examiner in this section are so well informed of the merits of the "Simplex" that no further description is necessary. It is important, however, to bear in mind that Messrs. White & Gillespie, the local agents, are prepared to negotiate for the purchase of a "Simplex" Separator on very advantageous terms. Call and see them at their store on George street, with a rear entrance off the market square.

LANG & MAHER.

Bright and early, the aggressive advertising scouts of the new Peterborough Clothing Firm, Messrs. Lang & Maher, struck the village. Indications led one to believe that they had encamped, for strategetic reasons, close to the northern defences of the line of attack aimed at by the early risers from Petersburgvitz in order to outflank their main position. Their tactics were singularly successful, for the first thing that met the gaze of the early six o'clock toilers along the village roads were the flashing pictorial sign boards of "Lang & Maher, the New Clothiers of Peterborough." These decorated the prominent corners and fences, almost covered the entire front of the Fair building, and an attempt had been made to placard the entire Fair grounds. Such enterprise and get-there alertness could not fail to produce good advertising results, and it is doubtful if there was a single inhabitant of Lakefield, or visitor at the Fair, who did not have Lang & Maher's name indelibly stamped in their minds during this exhibition.

Mr. Jos. Maher led the attack, and carried the news into the citadel, reinforced by a number of "Garchian," who gave the widest publicity to "The Daylight Store," No. 409-411 George street, Peterborough, with the doorplate. Many of the visitors to the Fair took away with them a handy little souvenir of Lang & Maher's in the shape of an aluminum pocket comb, in a neat leatherette case, the firm's name being stamped in gilt letters thereon. This convenient novelty is given away free to all customers of this store. Very pretty illustrated blotting pads were also given away, and were eagerly sought after.

GREAT VICTORY FOR PETERBORO'

Argonauts of Toronto Defeated in Opening Rugby Game.

THE SCORE WAS 19 TO 2

Locals' Fine Showing in First Senior O. R. F. U. Match—A Splendid Contest—Capt. Crowley the Star.

'Twas a glorious victory. The Peterborough Rugby Club took their first stride towards the O. R. F. U. senior championship on Saturday afternoon by defeating the famous Argonauts of Toronto at the Driving Park by a score of 19-2. It was the first senior rugby game ever played here and the result was most gratifying and encouraging. There had been doubt in the minds of many as to whether an intermediate team could step into the higher class and make a respectable showing, but those who were of this opinion and who saw Saturday's game have different views now and though our boys may not carry off the championship, they are going to make the team which beats them play pretty hard ball.

The game was played before only a fairly large crowd of spectators, not nearly as many as should have attended. But those who were there, got more than their quarter's worth for a prettier game to witness has not been played in Peterborough in years. The play was full of open work with plenty of kicking and running, which always makes a game interesting. There was a stiff north wind blowing nearly diagonally across the field and proving a material advantage to the team kicking with it. Otherwise the weather conditions were very desirable for rugby.

For the first game of the season the locals showed up in excellent form. They were minus Simpson, and when this fact became known, many of the supporters of the team were very dubious as to the outcome of the contest as he was considered the mainstay of the back division. But the team agreeably surprised the spectators by their splendid work, both on the wing line and on the defence. The wings are as good as any in the business while the backs did very creditable work. The halves relied greatly upon kicking and this is what won the game combined with fast following up by the wings. Almost every point was secured by a long punt and a tackle behind the line. The wings held their opponents well and outside of the third quarter, the visitors very seldom got through effectively. They followed up very speedily and tackled in splendid form. The material for a champion team is there alright.

To Captain Crowley is due a great deal of credit for the victory of the team. He was certainly the star of the field, playing a magnificent game, while his generalship was of the best, keeping the team working all the time along the most effective lines possible. His punting was superb, while he frequently got away with a run for a good gain. Ford at full-back played a capital game and made but few mistakes. Shaw at left half made his first appearance on a local gridiron and created a most favourable impression. He is a fine punt, a good dodger and a sure tackle. His only weakness is a slight tendency to fumble which will be overcome with practice. Morgan at right half had not a great deal to do, but he was always in his place and was a most useful player. He kicks well and is a fine tackle Gillespie at quarter played his first game in an O.R.F.U. series and deserves great credit for his plucky work. He handled the ball cleanly and passed accurately to the halves. Burnham at snap was a source of great strength to the wing line. He is a fine player and his tackling could hardly be better. Hurtubise was as effective as ever, and when he got going it was next to impossible to stop him. As a tackle and a blocker, he is great. Meagher and Rickey did splendid work and were always alert in following up and bringing their opponents to earth. Cameron, the lightest man on the wing line, played a star game, and frequently buckled the line for gains. Craig's tackling was always noticeable and in fact in this department the wing line was especially strong. Dillon played the first half and did good work. He retired at half-time with Balfour. The team is a good one and their chances to win this district at least are roseate.

The Argonauts were weakened by the absence of a couple of regular defence and as many wing men, but the team was by no means a weak one. The wings were fast and strong and the defence caught well as a rule though they could not punt as effectively as the local halves. Trimmer at quarter was always conspicuous and his punting, especially in the last half, was good. Grant, Boyd and Climie were always prominent. McArthur had a busy day at full back, in handling the long punts, but wherever possible he got out of difficulty. The Argos frequently had the ball near the locals' line but at critical moments the Peterboros showed their superiority and prevented scores.

The teams were:—

FIRST QUARTER—5-0.

Argonauts won the toss and elected to kick with the wind. The play at the start was fairly even with exchange of punts by the backs. In about eight minutes' time Crowley punted well down the field to McArthur who was tackled by Meagher near the line. A scrimmage took place and Hurtubise went over for a touch down which Ford failed to convert. Score, 5-0.

Crowley got the ball at kick off and ran 20 yards. McGillivray kicked well up the field to Ford who fumbled and a scrimmage took place near the line. Things looked dangerous, but Crowley bucked the line for 5 yards and an offside gave the locals 15 yards more. The ball was near the centre when quarter time was called.

SECOND QUARTER—10-0.

Ford made a pretty return of the kick off. The ball went out of touch about 40 yards from the Argos' line and Crowley kicked over the dead line. Score, 6-0.

Grant got the ball and started a run but was brought to earth by Craig. Crowley kicked over the line but McGillvray returned into touch. Again Crowley kicked over; McArthur secured and passed to Climie who was tackled for a rouge. Score, 7-0.

In two minutes' time Ford kicked into touch-in-goal and the score board read, Peterborough, 8; Argonauts, 0.

The locals kept pegging away, the kicking of the backs being very effective. Shaw punted over the line to McArthur who was brought down by Rickey for another rouge. Score, 9-0.

An exchange of punts opened the play again and. Crowley punted to Grant, who was brought down by Meagher's nice tackle. A Peterborough offside gave the visitors ten yards. Climie made a pretty run for fifteen yards, but was shoved into touch. Cameron was doing splendid work and Crowley frequently bucked the line for gains. Grant gained ten yards but was brought down by Shaw. Crowley's kick was blocked, but Ford caught the pigskin and relieved the pressure by a punt. Rickey was put off for five minutes. The ball was on the Argos' 25 yard line when Crowley kicked over to McArthur who was brought down by Shaw for a rouge. Half time was then called and Balfour and Dillon went off at this period, the former having dislocated his shoulder-bone. Score, 10-0.

THIRD QUARTER—10-1.

The Argos did their only scoring in this quarter. The Argos' kick off went to Ford who was tackled near the goal-line. McGillivray kicked well over and Ford was brought down by a rouge before he could run or kick. Score, 10-1.

The ball went out of touch and Trimmer secured but was brought down by Cameron's fine tackle. Trimmer again secured and kicked into touch-in-goal. Score, 10-2.

Burnham got the leather for a nice run and Trimmer kicked well up the field to Ford, who gained five yards. Rickey and Shaw each worked in pretty runs. Crowley kicked well up the field and Cameron downed Grant before he could run. The ball was near the Argonauts' goal. A couple of fumbles lost the locals ten yards. Burnham stole the ball and Shaw secured and made one of the prettiest runs of the day for a ten yard gain. The three-quarter time was called.

FOURTH QUARTER—19-2.

Crowley made a beautiful kick off, the ball going to McArthur, who was downed by Craig for a safety touch. Score, 13-2.

Rickey made a nice run and passed to Hurtubise who carried the ball (and incidentally, six or eight men on his back) near the goal line. Crowley kicked well over the line and Burnham dropped on the oval for a touch down. Ford missed the kick. Score, 17-2.

Crowley was doing some great punting and again the leather sailed over the line and Meagher was there to tackle McArthur and a rouge resulted. Score, 18-2.

McGillivray started a nice run but came in contact with Shaw. Rickey went off. Shaw made a fine punt and Craig tackled Grant just behind the line for another rouge. Score, 19-2.

Peterboro's wings blocked several dangerous looking punts. Crowley got in the longest run of the day, but was bought down by the 25 yard line. The Argos began to press matters and Trimmer kicked well up the field where a scrimmage took place about five yards from the locals' goal line. Crowley relieved by a long punt, but the ball again came back for an Argonaut scrimmage, but an offside spoiled their scoring chances. Time was called with the ball near the locals' line and Peterborough had won their first game in the senior O.R.F.U. series.

The League Executive at a meeting held here formally awarded the game to Bobcaygeon on account of the protest being sustained, and the standing of the two clubs is now a tie for first place. The Executive ordered the tie to be played off in Lindsay on Thursday, October 6th at 2 p. m. Wm. T. Burke, of Lindsay, will umpire the game.

PRETTY LITTLE KEENE. AS A RURAL KLONDYKE.

Reunion of its Moneyed Citizens to the Village Improvement Movements.

On Saturday an unusual scene was presented. The Village Improvement Association carries out a good deal of its work by voluntary labour of its public-spirited citizens. On Saturday four of Keene's solid citizens were seen working, without wage, on the streets of the village, pick and shovel in hand. These four represented the possession of wealth amounting to $250,000—a quartette worth a quarter of a million. There is, perhaps, more money per head in Keene—if distributed—than in any village, town or city in the province.

OBITUARY.

Death of an Old and Highly Respected Otonabee Settler.

On Friday, the 30th ulto, at the old homestead, Rice Lake, there passed from earth one of the oldest settlers of Otonabee, Mr. Wm. Foley, at the age of ninety years. His death was due to an accident which took place on Sunday last. He took the wrong door, the one leading to the hall. He fell a distance of about twelve feet, and although no bones were broken, died from the effects of the fall.

His death was truly that of the just. Fortified by the last sacraments, blessed with all the special graces, Holy Church reserves for the strength and consolation of faithful children at this supreme moment, his soul went in peace and hope to meet its Creator.

The deceased was born ninety years ago in the City of Cork, Ireland, and came to this country in 1834 with his parents settling on Foley's Point, the following year, coming to the present farm, the Foley homestead.

In 1849 Mr. Foley married Mary Kylie who predeceased him in February last. He leaves to mourn his loss six daughters, Rev. Sr. St. Emilie, Villa Marie Academy, New York, Rev. Sr. St. Edmond, Brockville, Ont., both of the congregational order of Sisters. Mrs. John Ryan, Peterborough, Misses Milly, Carrie and Annie at home, three sons, Edmond, James and William. A loving father, a faithful friend, Mr. Foley's death will leave an aching void in many hearts, especially in those of his own family, to whom he was bound by strong and tender ties. May his soul rest in peace.

Mantle Styles

A Very Important Feature

"40 Years Experience Hasn't Caught Us Napping."

Our Mantles will be found as heretofore, to have the styles that are demanded, the effects that good dressers and dress authorities deem correct.

True, some new fad or fancy is cropping up every day, but these "gingerbread" styles are not "business builders." A style wants a little confirmation before it takes with the Canadian people.

As soon as such new styles have the confidence of proper Coat authorities you will find them in our Department—we leave ourselves open for such additions.

Over 40 years of mantle buying should teach us where and when and on "what authority" to buy Mantles.

JAPANESE WERE ANNIHILATED

Russian Sorties Against Positions Held by Kanagawas.

Japanese Force Decimated Numbered 4,000—Small Outpost Fights Reported from Vicinity of Mukden—Russian Admirality Incredulous Over Report That Bayan Reached Hanehan Bay Near Shanghai.

London, Oct. 4.—The Daily Telegraph's Nagasaki correspondent, cabling under date of Sept. 25, says: "Terrible artillery conflicts are adding to the horrors of the situation at Port Arthur. On Sept. 22 and 23 the Russians made sorties against position held by the Kanagawa regiment and desperate fighting ensued.

"The Japanese force was practically annihilated, only one non-commissioned officer and eleven men remained alive out of the 4,000 who went into the engagement. The Japanese tunnel into Port Arthur was completed on Sept. 24, and was immediately used. The result is unknown."

The Standard's Tokio correspondent reports that at a conference of bankers it was decided to issue immediately a third domestic war loan at $40,000,000, completing the loans for the current fiscal year.

Small Outpost Fights.

Small outpost fights constitute the sum of the activities reported from the vicinity of Mukden. The Japanese blockade of Port Arthur is so effective that Gen. Stoessel has been unable to inform the War Office at St. Petersburg of the situation. The report of the arrival of the Russian armored cruiser Bayan of the Port Arthur squadron at Hanchau Bay, near Shanghai, has no official confirmation.

Admiralty Doesn't Believe It.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 4.—The Admiralty expresses incredulity at the report that a Russian warship, believed to be the armored cruiser Bayan, has arrived at Hanchau Bay, near Shanghai.

The reports circulated abroad during the last few days that the Emperor had received most pessimistic reports from Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel are denied. On the contrary, the feeling about Port Arthur is more hopeful, owing to the failure of the besiegers to make headway.

Fighting At Port Arthur.

Che Foo, Oct. 4.—A private letter received here yesterday from Port Arthur, dated Sept. 23, gives further details of the fighting from Sept. 19 to Sept. 22. The attack began with a heavy bombardment directed against nearly all the Russian outposts and many of the forts. The shelling of the redoubts protecting the water supply of Port Arthur was tremendous. Nightfall, Sept. 19, found the waterworks redoubts reduced to mere heaps of debris. The garrisons of the redoubts thereupon retreated safely to the main fortifications, under the cover of the darkness.

Bombardment and Assault.

At 4 o'clock the same afternoon, Sept. 19, the Japanese assault on "High Hill" began. The Japanese plan of attack never varied. First a bombardment and then an assault, and when repulsed a bombardment again and then another assault. The desperate determination of the Japanese to capture this position amounted to fanaticism, their efforts never ceasing during four days. One battalion of Japanese having retreated into a valley, were exposed to the Russian sharpnel fire and were almost annihilated.

She's Going Home.

Constantinople, Oct. 4.—The Russian volunteer fleet steamer Nijni Novgorod has passed the Bosphorus, homeward bound.

Peace Conference.

Boston, Oct. 4.—Secretary John Hay, representing the United States, spoke the words of welcome yesterday afternoon to the delegates to the International Peace Congress, which assembled in Tremont Temple for the first formal meeting of the thirteenth annual convention. Secretary Hay traced briefly the war history of the United States, and pointed out that the country's greatest men had been warm advocates of peace. He agreed with Tolstoi that religion is the remedy for war.

Another Peace Conference.

London, Oct. 4.—Sir Thomas Barclay, who has been prominently identified with the movement for establishing amity between nations, informed the Associated Press yesterday that the Government had under consideration the calling of another conference to extend the scope of The Hague convention prior to President Roosevelt's recent announcement of his desire to take action in that direction. "There is thus little difficulty," Sir Thomas said, "about the adoption of the proposal of President Roosevelt, and there is a possibility of either the American and German Governments calling a conference jointly, or one may give way to the other."

—The annual meeting of the Shareholders of the Central Milling Company will be held on Tuesday, October 11th in the Foresters' Hall, to receive reports, elect directors and transact general business.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION IN REGULAR SESSION.

Monthly Meeting Yesterday Morning—The Business Transacted.

The Ministerial Association met yesterday morning. The members present were:—Rev. Messrs. J. C. Davidson, Dr. Torrance, Dr. Crothers, A. H. Brace, J. G. Potter, J. A. Wilson, W. Bennett, W. J. Jolliffe and J. G. Lewis.

Rev. Dr. Crothers was extended a most hearty welcome in joining the association.

Arrangements were made for holding the annual Bible Society meeting in George Street church on Wednesday, October 26th. Acting on a suggestion from the Lord's Day Alliance provision was made for a union mass meeting of all the Young People's Societies to be held during this month in the interest of the work of the Alliance and to be addressed by Rev. T. Albert Moore, the assistant secretary of the Alliance.

A resolution which has been under careful consideration bearing on political conditions was adopted and is to be prepared for publication.

Rev. J. G. Potter's paper on "A day's work of a city Minister" proved most interesting, showing among other things that with so many public meetings to attend it is not possible to meet the call of pastoral visitation.

It was followed by discussion. The following arrangements were made for school visitation on Friday, October 7: East Ward, Rev. Messrs. W. J. Jolliffe and Dr. Torrance. Barnado Ave., Rev. Messrs. J. C. Davidson and J. A. Wilson.

The meeting then adjourned.

PETERBOROUGH MAN MARRIED IN TORONTO.

Mr. Orville B. Shortly Married to Miss Mabel Louise Howe.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Louise Howe, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Etna D. Howe, to Orville B. Shortly of Peterborough, took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Charles street, Toronto, the Rev. John Neill, D. D., officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore white liberty satin; the yoke latticed and caught with seed pearls, having a deep berthe of point lace, the panelled skirt opening over an accordian pleated chiffon petticoat mounted on taffeta, the veil being held in place by a piece of maiden hair fern. A pearl and diamond pin was worn, and a beautiful shower of roses and marguerites carried. The matron of honour, Mrs. W. Fraser, sister of the bride, wore pale green silk chiffon over silk of the same kind, and a large white hat with plumes. Her bouquet was pink roses and ferns. She also wore a dainty gold and pearl pin, the gift of the groom. Mr. Arthur G. Piper was the best man. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held. The house was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and roses. Six of the bride's intimate friends assisted in the tea room, the Misses Carrier, Easson, Haworth, Millichamp, Wheeler and Wright, all in dainty light gowns. Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Shortly left for the West, the going-away dress of the latter being of dark green broadcloth, with pretty coat of military style opening over a dainty white satin blouse, hat of red chinelle and tulle. They will return to Toronto for a few days before taking up their future home in the East. — Globe.

"JUST BEEN TO TOWN TO GET THE SEASON'S SUPPLY OF THE THINGS I'M GOING TO NEED IN MY BUSINESS AS A CANADIAN FARMER."

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me.

"Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy.

"Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—MRS. B. A. SMASHING PARTY TRADITIONS.

It is a frequent subject of remark, that Mr. Borden, the chief leader of the Conservative party in Canada, is starring Ontario alone, unaccompanied by loyal lieutenants, and that, apart from the perfunctory local enthusiasm at his points of visit, there is a palpable apathy in the Conservative ranks. There is a cause for this. The high and dry, dyed-in-the-wool Conservatives, those who still proudly speak of their party as the "party of gentlemen," are incensed at Mr. Borden's bidding for the Socialist vote in Manitoba and British Columbia. What is the mission of "Toryism," they ask, if it is not to combat the radical and revolutionary doctrines preached by these people; and how can he justify his action in practically making an alliance with them that is bound some day to prove exceedingly embarrassing?

Government ownership and operation of railways is about the last thing that would have occurred to the Conservative party under its former leaders; in fact, those leaders, and many still living, have spoken, with authority, in condemnation of the principle, after their observation of, and experience with, the Intercolonial. Such stalwart Conservatives as Sir Charles Tupper, Dr. Sproule, Senator Wood, and Senator Drummond, one of the foremost men in the Canadian business world, have condemned, and do condemn, the revolutionary (from a Conservative standpoint) principle adopted as a pis aller attitude of policy in fault of a better, repeatedly want out of their way to denounce it, and spoke with the authority of men who had had experience of the Intercolonial.

Apart from the condemnation of his policy by great dead and living Conservatives, no very strong arguments come to Mr. Borden's aid. The fact that Government ownership exists elsewhere proves nothing—certainly does not prove that it is adapted to our social, political and moral climate. In Germany and other European countries the State owns and operates the railways in part for military reasons. In Australia the States owns and operates them in order to ensure the speedy development of the country, but, through the official reports are satisfactory enough, the facts recently brought out by outsiders show that the policy conduces to extravagance, inefficiency and corruption—to a condition of things, in short, familiar to ourselves in connection with the Intercolonial. Sixty years ago the British Parliament took power to purchase all the railways after a period of 21 years, but no one seriously advocates such a step today, the results of State operation on the Continent having demonstrated that, allowing for all its imperfections, company ownership and operation is preferable in the public interest. In the United States our Socialist friends desire to see the railways and everything else nationalized, so that society may be resolved in the end into a vast ...ling arrangement whereby the ... shall maintain the weak and ... thrifty support the improvident. But as in England, so in the States, the temper of the Anglo-Saxon race is not favourable to such experiments, and the acquisition of the railways by Government is advocated by few outside the diminishing Populist party and the Socialists proper.

How many Canadians familiar with the history of the Intercolonial would care to see that road carried to the Pacific? What would be the consequence to the farmers and others constituting the bulk of the population, who are and would continue to be served by company lines? Would they not have to pay commercial rates on their own produce together with extra taxes to make up the loss arising from the political or electioneering rates granted to the settlers along this transcontinental road? Mr. Borden ignored the interests of this multitude and listened only to the shrill cry of Mr. Maclean of the Toronto World, whose mission is to save mankind by patent cure-alls that come to him in his dreams.

A Stumbling Block Statesman.

THE COUNTRY.—"Don't want to discourage yeh from takin' an interest in this here railway of ours, Mr. Borden, but I'd jist like to intimate thet ef yeh don't gee up a bit an' git off'n the track ye're goin' t' git knocked higher'n a kite before long."

PERNINENT POINTS FROM LAURIER'S SPEECH.

Culled From his Statesmanlike Address at Sorel, P. Q.

"I thank Providence that He has made us His instruments to give these favours to the people. But I ask especially those Conservatives who may be here, if the fact that Providence is with us is any reason why the people should be against us?"

"This policy of amity, of conciliation, I put into practice as soon as I had in my hands the destinies of the country. If the country is prosperous to-day it is due to the adoption of this policy."

"When we reformed the tarift in 1897, it was done after a preliminary investigation, and it is the intention of the Government to have another investigation to find what are the needs of the country, and to prepare legislation in accordance therewith."

"I introduced the preference policy, and I am ready to defend it; you have already secured the profits of it. We gave the British preference because we want British trade. Great Britain is our best market."

"Are you going to continue that policy? On that point the answer is easy. It has been before the country for two years. It was given, not in Ottawa, or in Canada, but in the heart of the Empire at London, at the Colonial Conference, when I declared to the Empire that I and my colleagues of the Government were ready to make a trade treaty."

"These thousands of settlers (in the Northwest,) must have all the supplies of modern civilization as well as the materials for their work. Who is to supply all this? We naturally wish that it should be the manufacturers of Canada, and no. the manufacturers of the United States. We want them to buy their supplies here, to ship their products out through our country, and get their supplies in the same way."

"I am getting old at the rate of twelve months every year, but I believe I will live long enough to see that railway built and to see the merchandise of Asia and Europe passing and repassing along it, as well as the trade of Canada."

"The future of our country is immense. If ever I had confidence in my country, and God knows I always did, if ever I had faith in my own country, it is since I began to study this plan for the new railway."

"It (the G.T.P.) will, of course, cost money, but I will show you that we have made such a bargain with the Grand Trunk that it will really not cost the country anything. We will borrow this money at three per cent., build the road and lease it to the Grand Trunk for three per cent., practically taking the money out of one pocket and putting it into the other."

"I admit that a part of this road should be built by the Government, but I am opposed to its operation by the Government, as experience has shown that a railway administered by the Government is neither satisfactory nor able to make proper returns."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Borden told a reporter that he would continue his lone-handed ...ling campaign till election day, or "till I drop." While one sympathises personally with Mr. Borden, it may be remarked that not he, but the electors, will do the dropping.

President Roosevelt of the United States proposes a rally of the nations at the Hague to formulate an agreement to cease firing, that is to put an end to wars. Teddy's expressed intention not to budge an inch in the Alaskan boundary matter no matter what a just award might decide, rather unfits him for taking the lead in a peace arrangement. The Czar went into the peace business, apparently to mask his endeavour to steal Manchuria and smash Japan. Has Teddy any such game in view?

Hon. Mr. Foster is the prophet of "splendid isolation." He towers head and shoulders above the common ruck of politicians, as he is the sole and only modern counterpart of Noah's dove — no place to rest his political foot — no constituency in the wide Dominion that will have him. Mr. Tarte seems to be in the same boat with Mr. Foster, but a deck or two above him. Mr. Tarte revolted in the open, while Mr. Foster betrayed his leader and colleagues, knifing him in the dark, and breaking into mutiny when the ship-master saw breakers ahead. Mr. Tarte showed an itching to get his hand on the tiller when the ship was serenely sailing along en plein mer. He was gently lowered over the side, and politically marooned.

CHARGES REDUCED FOR FRUIT CARRIAGE

Railways Make Some Concessions to Fruit Shippers'.

It will be announced in the October issue of the Horticulturalist, that as a result of the evidence given recently before the railway commission, by representatives of the fruit interests the railway company have voluntarily made some material concessions. A reduction has been made in the rate of mixed car lots of fruit, from the principal shipping districts to the larger centres of distribution, such as Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, and Winnipeg. A special rate for on-half car lots, 10,000 lbs or over, has also been made. In addition the flat rate for icing cars, destined for Manitoba, has been abolished, and hereafter shippers will only be charged for the actual amount of ice supplied.

THE APPLE CROP WILL BE SMALL

Prices Should be Higher Than Buyers' are Now Offering.

While these concessions are by no means all that the fruit interests asked for, they are, however, considered to be a considerable measure of relief to a very serious situation.

As a result of reports received from all parts of the Province, the Canadian Horticulturist will announce in its October issue that the apple crop of the Province this year is not nearly as large as last, and that the same is true throughout the United States generally. There is little reason for the bearish reports of buyers concerning the large crops. While there is a little amount of poor fruit throughout Ontario, the general quality is good, and growers should realize better prices than are being offered. For No. 1 and No. 2 which is good, growers should not accept less than 75 cents to $1.00 per barrel on the tree, where considerable quantities of fruit can be given the buyer. Reports received by the Horticulturist show that buyers are offering from 25 to 75 cents per barrel for fruit.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR PETERBOROUGH ATHLETE

Fred McGrath Won Honours at Toronto on Saturday.

Fred McGrath brought honours to the local Y.M.C.A. at Toronto on Saturday, when he captured the 440 yards race at the first annual meet of the Canadian Association Athletic League. The League was brought into being by the united efforts of all the Y.M.C.A. of Canada and its existence promises to be a most successful one. The meet on Saturday was held on the Varsity field and was in every way a great success. The best of entries was a large one including the best athletes from Hamilton, Ottawa, Montreal, Acton, Toronto Central Y.M.C.A., Toronto West End Y.M.C.A., Toronto University, Orillia, Belfontain and from other places. The West End Y.M.C.A. captured the Benman Shield, to be held for one year by the Y.M.C.A. making the highest number of points; it was presented by Mr. John Penman, of Paris. The five mile road race was won by the Toronto Central Y.M.C.A. team.

Peterborough had but one entry, McGrath, who ran in the quarter-mile race. There were 13 entries and all well known runners. McGrath won easily, leading Fairly, of Toronto University, who took second place, by 25 yards. The race was run against a head wind and the time was consequently not so fast as would otherwise have been the case. The time was 54 seconds. McGrath is to be congratulated upon winning this, the only event he entered, against some very fast competitors. It is another case of a triumph for the Y.M.C.A. athletes.

Mr. Percy K. Holmes, physical director of the local Y.M.C.A. accompanied Mr. McGrath to Toronto.

Stuart Acheson, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church here, last Saturday. It appears that the deceased went to see a new building, the model of a new manse, that was being built for him at West Hope, N.D., and when standing on the stairs, 6 feet from the floor, the temporary step suddenly gave way, and Mr. Acheson fell into the cellar, receiving such injuries that he died on Monday, Sept. 26, five days after the accident. Estimates by the best experts run from 50,000,000 to 55,000,000. With wheat bringing 80 cents to $1 a bushel the farmer must regard this as a very prosperous season."

A Change of Route.

Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—The party of locating engineers on the G.T.P. survey, who were running a line about 160 miles north of Lake Nepigon, found it necessary owing to the physical and topographical condition to throw their line one hundred miles south of the route they desired. The height of land between Lake Superior and James Bay takes a sharp bend to the north, as it passes behind Lake Nepigon and it looks as if the G.T.P. line must cross this summit twice in a short distance.

Homestead Up in Smoke.

Guelph, Oct. 4.—Prof. Zavitz, O. A.C., received a telegram yesterday morning stating that his old homestead at Coldstream, Middlesex, had been burned to the ground. The family settled there in 1863, and the buildings were the best in the country. They alone were worth $5,000, outside of the contents. A spark from an engine when cutting for silo was the cause. Mr. Zavitz left this afternoon for Coldstream.

He was sentenced to four months in the Central Prison.

Home Rule Not Dead.

London, Oct. 4.—(C. A. P.)—John Dillon, M. P., in addressing a gathering of Nationalists at Sligo, said, "nobody in England thinks home rule is dead; if they did I should advise them to turn their eyes across the Atlantic and watch the triumphant progress of the leader of the Irish party, courted and welcomed by all the leaders of the great political parties in the United States. When he passed on into loyal Canada, which used always to be quoted by Chamberlain when she sent a contingent to fight the Boers, yet we saw in Montreal last week the Attorney-General of Canada, a good Irishman, coming to the meeting and taking his seat on the platform at the side of Mr. Redmond and telling Mr. Redmond he had been charged by the Cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier to convey to the Irish party the full sympathy of the Canadian Cabinet in our demand for Irish liberty—(applause)—that did not look very much like a dying cause."

Would Have Been a Peer.

London, Oct. 4.—The St. James' Gazette says it is understood that the late Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, who twice refused a peerage, eventually accepted the honor and would have been gazetted Baron Malwood in the next birthday honor list. "Fate," the paper adds, "has rendered the event impossible, but it is deemed probable that a barony following the procedure on the death of W. H. Smith (who was Minister of War in Lord Salisbury's Cabinets of 1885 and 1886), will nevertheless be conferred on Lady Harcourt."

$100 Went Astray.

London, Oct. 4.—On Friday evening last a certain young lady who holds a position as clerk in one of the stores here, deposited a roll of bills under a pillow in her bedroom at her boarding house, for safe keeping. Her precaution had not escaped the attention of some person evidently aware of her possession of the money, and when she awakened in the morning the money was gone. It contained over $100. The theft was reported to the police, who are now working on the case.

MINISTERIAL RESOLUTIONS

Regarding Political Morality Passed by Ministerial Association.

Claimed to Embody Results of Mature and Careful Consideration of Subjects Dealt With.

The following propositions passed yesterday at the meeting of the Ministerial Association, are to-day given out for publication. They have been under consideration for months, and publication has been deferred until the present, as being an opportune time;

In view of the near approach of the General Election, we, the members of the Ministerial Association of the town of Peterborough, feel that it is a part of our duty, as teachers of religion and and as citizens in public positions to urge upon all voters in our community that they more carefully consider their rights and responsibilities in reference to the exercise of the franchise.

1st—It is important that every voter should clearly understand that he is entrusted with a definite part in the government of the country and the direction of its affairs.

2nd—By virtue of this position the voter is asked, as a patriotic citizen, to express his deliberate opinion at the polls as to the men most fitted to administer the affairs of the Country and as to the policy to be adopted for its interests.

3rd—But should an elector sell his vote, which is thus entrusted to him as the expression of his own deliberate opinion, it is clear that he is guilty of disloyalty to his Country as well as of an act of definite sin.

4th—Furthermore, any citizen, who by direct or indirect means, bribes his fellow citizen to sell his vote is guilty of still greater disloyalty and sin, as the guilt of the tempter is necessarily greater than that of the tempted.

5th—We appeal to our fellow ministers of the Gospel throughout the Country to join in a general effort to free our beloved land from political immortality and to lead our people to a higher and nobler conception of citizenship.

On behalf of the Association,
J. C. DAVIDSON, M.A.
President.
J. G. LEWIS, B. A.,
Secretary.

Peterborough, October 2, 1904.

In reference to the above it may be stated, that after receiving their final form, the resolutions were unanimously passed by a standing vote of the meeting. Among those who contributed to the work of preparation and share in the responsibility, are the Rev. Jonathan Bastow, M.A., now of Renfrew, and Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., (president of the Bay of Quinte Conference,) who has lately removed to Belleville. The resolutions were adopted at a full meeting of the Association, representing the four Protestant communions of Peterborough, the only absentee being Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, who signified his assent and co-operation. Rev. George Warren, (Anglican), and Rev. T. W. Leggott, (Methodist,) of Lakefield, having considered the resolutions, have expressed their entire agreement with them, and desire to be associated with the Peterborough ministers in issuing them. The members of the Association fully recognize how very simple and elementary these propositions are, but in view of their apparently wide non-acceptance, in view of the importance to the country of a clear understanding of responsibility on the part of voters, and, since it seems to be felt that sufficient admonition and guidance have not come from the pulpit on these important matters, the Association has determined to publish even these simple expressions of their convictions, believing that their evident truth will commend them to all.—Com.

Laurier and the Larger Canada

LAURIER TO VISIT PETERBOROUGH

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Accompanying Colleagues Here on October 20th.

Will Address Mass Meeting in the Brock Street Rink on Above Date.

The Examiner has the pleasure of announcing that Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of the Dominion, will address a mass meeting of the electors in the Brock street rink on Thursday evening, October 20th. This is an event that will attract universal interest, for Sir Wilfrid occupies so high a position in the Empire, and in Canada, is of such magnetic eloquence, both as to matter and manner of his addresses that even those politically opposed to him, as well as those who admire his person and policy, and are in political sympathy with him, will throng to hear his address upon national affairs. Everybody knows of Sir Wilfrid's masterful oratory, and his speech upon the great issues of the day, will be an illuminating deliverance, an inspiration to his friends and supporters, and an educational experience for the general electorate, and will demonstrate that not only the national dignity and national self-respect, but the material interests and progress of Canada, will be maintained, and advanced, by a continuation of the great trust reposed for two parliaments in Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues.

Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate for West Peterborough, and Mr. John Finlay, the Liberal candidate for the East, are fortunate in securing, to speak on their behalf, the presence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is naturally in demand in all parts of the Dominion. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visit will afford him an opportunity of contrasting the position and importance of Peterborough on his last previous visit — 1896 — with the bustling, busy Peterborough of to-day, with its numerous new industries and old industries enlarged. He and his accompanying colleagues, will also see the importance to such a great manufacturing centre, of pushing to completion the Trent Valley Canal.

"SECOND CITIZEN" ENDORSES SUGGESTION

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I read with interest the letter which appeared in your columns suggesting that the bust exhibited amongst the works of Miss Wallis should be purchased and retained in town. We have not many Canadians who have so distinguished themselves as to be recognized as true artists in such centres of art as London and Paris. No other Canadian woman has so far as I know, attained the distinction that has been awarded to Miss Wallis, of having her works in marble accepted by the Royal Academy and by the Paris Salon. Her native town might well show its appreciation by securing, if possible, one of her works.

How is this to be done? I can only make a suggestion. It appears to me that no more graceful compliment could be paid to Miss Wallis than that the women of Peterborough should determine to purchase this work themselves, and to make the subscription as general as possible, by limiting the amount of any one subscription to a small sum.

If this suggestion meets with a response, a committee might be appointed to take the matter in charge.

Yours truly,
SECOND CITIZEN.

ENQUIRER PROPOUNDS A PROPOSITION.

A Complaint Against the Action of the Town Water Commissioners.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Almost a year ago the ratepayers on Smith street, from Water street to the Black Bridge, petitioned that the Waterworks be run along that route. The answer received was that the taxes received was not sufficient to pay the interest on the money necessary to do so. But after a year they decided to run the Main from Water to Harvey, thereby ignoring the voice of almost two-thirds of the petitioners.

Now, Mr. Editor, if the taxes received from Water street to the Black Bridge, was not sufficient to pay the interest on the money expended how is it that the taxes from Water to Harvey street is sufficient this distance comprising only five petitioners.

Could you give us some light on the subject? It certainly seems to me like "making flesh of one and flesh of another". We certainly intend to investigate it thoroughly.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, believe,
Respectfully,
ENQUIRER.

MARRIED.

HAMILTON—WIFE. — At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Jos. Fife, Smith Township, on Monday, September 26th, 1904, by Rev. J. W. Bennes, Mr. George Hamilton, of Deore, to Miss Agnes Smith.

THE CORE OF THE MATTER.

The managing director of the Dominion Oilcloth Company, of Montreal, which has established the first linoleum factory in Canada and the largest in the world, explains its origin thus:—

"We have gone into this linoleum business because we found that the North-west wanted linoleum, and because we have an absolute faith in the future of the Great North-west of Canada."

There is a whole volume of eloquence—the text for a pungent political sermon—the core of the matter—in this brief declaration. It shows first how the development of the Great West will benefit the manufacturers of Eastern Canada, and furnish a new market of an importance in direct ratio to the extent of this development.

If we can plant two million settlers in the North-west we have a market for the manufactured goods of the east as important as Ontario and more so, for the settlers in a new country will be better customers, for they want everything required in the furnishing of the home and the equipment of the farm—from a knife and fork to a piano, and from a hoe to a harvester. Every new settler creates a new demand on every industry in Canada. Multiply him by the million and we have busier manufacturing establishments and more work for more workmen. Get the Grand Trunk Pacific going, opening up new lands for settlement and we shall have to "hustle" to supply the demand, and the hard times that are hovering over the United States will not strike Canada, or at least strike it with less deadly force. The hundred millions or more of borrowed capital which will be expended in the construction of the railway will also have a sensible influence in perpetuating prosperous conditions, providing employment and stimulating demands for the products of the farm, shop and factory. An infant in business can see the benefit that will come from both the construction and operation of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

With the importance of this transcontinental highway demonstrated, the attitude of hostility of Mr. Borden and the Conservative leaders to it, is difficult to understand. It is difficult to understand the mental attitude of a prominent local Conservative at the nomination convention on Saturday, declaring that the proposal to build the Grand Trunk Pacific was sufficient of itself to defeat the Government. This from a man who defended and approved the building of the C.P.R. under conditions of extravagant expenditure and cost to the country, which, however, in spite of this has amply justified itself. What the C.P.R. has done in developing the West will be done in double measure by the building of the G.T.P. Canada is now forging ahead, and its progress will be retarded unless the exacting transportation need represented by the Grand Trunk Pacific is met as it is being and will be met by the Laurier Government who have faith in the resources of Canada and willing to take enterprising steps to develop them.

Here are full warrant and justification for constructing the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, without taking into account the work it will do in moving the wheat of the North-west, and in this respect alone, is a national necessity. It stands to reason that the settler in the North-west will depend for his prosperity upon the extent of the facilities for getting his wheat and other farm products to the market, and the facilities for receiving his needed supplies of manufactured products and merchandise from Eastern Canada. The Grand Trunk Pacific railway will afford excellent facilities in this connection, and its building and operation will not only help the Western settler, and if he invades new regions traversed by the line, be indespensable to him, but it will also help every working man employed in any factory in the Dominion, and every merchant dealing in supplies and keep the wheels of industry moving with accelerated speed, and furnish additional evidence of the benefit of the policy of the Liberal Government, whose administration from the day of its beginning, eight years ago, has been followed by progress and prosperity such as Canada never had before.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

A Gorgeous Novelty.

Guy Bros.' Minstrels present this season a grand spectacular first part, that creates a genuine sensation wherever seen. It is entitled "His Majesty's Battleship Victoria," or the "Jack Tars Ashore." Arranged by Geo. R. Guy with special scenery and ingenious electrical effects, magnificent uniforms and military drills; it is a spectacle dazzlingly brilliant and not soon to be forgotten. The battleship at anchor, the lighthouse with its gleaming lights, the ocean silvery under a full moon, the sailors with their songs, dances and stick drills, the entrance of the commanding officer who joins them for an evening of pleasure, and the marvellous transformation in scenery and costumes, from sailors to soldiers in camp, combine to make this the most splendid and gorgeous achievement in the annals of modern minstrelsy.

BUSY SCENE AT LIBERAL ROOMS.

Mr. Hall's Committees Getting Down to Active Work.

The Liberal Committee Rooms on Simcoe street, last night were the scene of busy activity. The committees for the different wards were organized and got down to work.

There was great enthusiasm shown, and the supporters of Mr. Hall are entering into the campaign with a spirit worthy of the cause. A series of meetings are being arranged, and the campaign from now on will be conducted with vigour.

TO-NIGHT'S CAUCUS WILL DECIDE IT.

Meeting of Conservatives Will be Held to Consider Political Situation.

A caucus of the leading local Conservatives will be held to-night, and it is learned on good authority that the chief business will be to decide whether or not a candidate will be placed in opposition to Mr. Hall, the Liberal nominee.

A BUSY DAY AT POLICE COURT.

Several Cases Before the Magistrate This Morning.

Two Assault Cases Dismissed--Boy Burglars Dealt With.

There were a number of cases and lots of interest at the Police Court this morning. The Court room was crowded with onlookers, with witnesses and with defendants who numbered altogether sixteen. There were all sizes, from boys of 10 years of age upwards. There were Englishmen, Frenchmen and German Jews connected in the cases which occupied the attention of the court for a period of two hours. Some of the charges were very serious and others were very trivial. Some of the witnesses smiled, others cried and others became very wrathy and altogether a warm time resulted.

The first case saw eleven boys, ranging from 10 to 14 years, stretched in front of the prisoners' box to answer for their alleged misdeeds. The charge against them was of throwing stones on Saturday.

"Are you guilty or not guilty?" said the Magistrate.

Exactly eleven times did the answer of "Not guilty" rend the air.

The complainant then took her place in the witness box. She lived on Patterson street and had been several times troubled with bad boys who threw stones and other missiles at her house. She could swear that she recognised three of the boys as being among the party which was throwing on Saturday and she was certain that they all had a hand in it. She produced some chestnuts which were thrown into the house. Another witness was called and stated that the stone throwing had occurred frequently.

The little defendants were given an opportunity to make a statement in the witness box in answer to the charge. Some of them were so diminitive that only the tops of their heads were visible, but they whispered something to the effect that they had done nothing amiss. The first five had clearing statements. One was out getting hickory nuts all day, another was working, a third had to hoe potatoes, another saw the rugby game and another was some place else. They were dispatched to a portion of the court room as "innocents." The next two youths, however, the smallest of the tribe, acknowledged that they were in the vicinity of the plaintiff's house on Saturday afternoon. One of them threw a chestnut in the air and the other boys with him tried to hit it. Accidentally one or two of the chestnuts hit the complainant's house, and there was the whole story. They were not in the habit of throwing at the house and if it were hit, it was a case of accident. The remaining four boys knew nothing of the affair.

The Magistrate gave the boys some good advice, and pointed out that there was no doubt but that the complainant had been annoyed by the action of the boys in the neighbourhood, and hoped that there would be no more complaints, or the matter would be more thoroughly investigated. The boys were all discharged.

William Taylor was charged with assault. It seems that last Saturday he entered the office of the Houdrie pea factory and stated his desire and intention to "lick the manager," as a witness put it. The defendant had no business in the office, and was asked to make himself "scarce." But he refused, and rushed at the manager with the intention to "lick" him. But the manager's brother interfered and no scrap resulted. The case was dismissed, as it was shown that the defendant did not come within striking distance of complainant, and consequently could do no berm. The plaintiff was a Frenchman and the services of an interpreter were required in taking his evidence. Mr. S. T. Medd appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. F. D. Kerr for the defence.

Oscar Laster, aged ten years, charged Howard Innis, aged eleven, with assaulting him. The father of the plaintiff was the first witness and gave a weird account of the manner in which his son had been abused. Three times had the defendant assaulted the boy. He had forbidden his boy to fight, but gave him instructions to tell him, the father, of his troubles, and he would go to the parents of his assailant and settle the affair. On the occasion in question he had heard his son crying, and going to the door saw the defendant pounding him in an effort to take a whip which his son had. The father chased the defendant but could not catch him. The father admitted to the defendant's counsel, Mr. Medd, that he once captured the boy and struck him.

"Do you run after all the boys?" said Mr. Medd.

"Yes; all that give me trouble—and I'd run after you too, if necessary," replied the witness, his ire ascending.

The defendant claimed that the plaintiff called him names, which led to the mix-up. It was evidently just a case of children's quarrels, which are constantly occurring, and the Magistrate discharged the case.

The three boys, Joseph Hobbins, Herbert Cooney and Fred Hubble, who a week ago broke into the Peterborough Hardware Company's store and stole a considerable sum of money, appeared before the Magistrate this morning after having been remanded to jail for a week.

Hobbins elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty. Judgment was reserved for a week in his case.

Hubble was committed for trial at the next Court of Competent Jurisdiction.

There were two charges against Hobbins and judgment was received in both cases for a week.

LOCAL BOARD HAD STORMY MEETING.

Did Property Committee Spent too Much Money on School Repairs?

Some Board Members Thought so and Expressed Their Opinion —The New Boiler Question—Last Evening's Regular Meeting.

The Board of Education met last evening in regular session when one of the liveliest and most heated discussions which have been heard in the Board for many a day took place. The discussion arose from the objection made by a certain member to the manner in which money was being expended by the Board, which in his opinion conducted its business upon altogether too loose principles.

All the members of the Board were present as follows:—Messrs. J. J. Hartley, chairman; J. Stevenson, R. Fair, W. H. Hill, Dr. Burnham, P. Hamilton, V. Eastwood, W. Pringle, H. Morgan, H. P. Kennedy, R. B. Rogers, L. M. Hayes, F. J. Jameson, W. G. Ferguson, J. Crane, J. J. McBain.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

In reference to the letter from the town Solicitor, which was referred to us, your committee recommended that the council be requested to submit a by-law for $30,000 for the purpose of purchasing new heating apparatus for the Central Public School.

Your committee would further recommend that hereafter all work such as painting, etc., about the school properties be done by contract and tenders asked for instead of day labour.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. FAIR,
Chairman.

The report was received and adopted.

Mr. Stevenson asked if Mr. Fair had anything to say about the report or any explanation about the items contained in it.

Mr. Fair said that the items had been certified to by the chairmen of the committees.

Mr. Stevenson said some of the accounts were altogether too high and needed to be explained; he thought the Board should look into them. It was in his opinion an absolutely absurd statement of accounts—the most absurd which he had ever seen. Men had been hired to do painting, who had been idle a considerable portion of the time, but still were getting $2.25 a day. Every man worked just as he pleased, and when he pleased. The painting itself had cost nearly $2000 already, and where were the results? The committee, said Mr. Stevenson, very seldom met, and the affairs of the Board were loosely managed. He claimed that the chairman of the Property Committee ordered work as it came along and by day labour, which was not right, as the Board could see. Already there had been heavy accounts for painting, about $800, and now another one comes from Duncan & Doupe for $475. Regarding the new boiler at the Central School, Mr. Stevenson said it was not necessary, as the old one had been satisfactorily repaired, but he could not get the Board to believe it. It had been repaired for about $85, and to-day was standing a test of 100 lbs. He had gone over the accounts carefully, and it was the most extraordinary statement of accounts he had ever seen. The painting had already cost an enormous sum, and, for all he knew, there were more large bills to follow. "Is this sort of thing to go on forever?" concluded Mr. Stevenson very forcibly.

Mr. McBain thought Mr. Stevenson was taking a somewhat extreme view, but nevertheless there was a good deal in what he had said. He did not think that the Finance Committee should pass accounts just because the chairman of the Property Committee said they were all right, but that the Board should look into the matter. The business of the Board was conducted along very loose lines, the loosest he had ever witnessed in fact, and they would not think of running their private business in such a slipshod manner. Men should not be hired without consideration of their worth as workmen. Not long ago he was passing the South Ward School, when he saw four men sitting by a fence. When questioned, they said they were painting the fence, and were working by the day for the School Board. In regard to the question of the new boiler, Mr. McBain said that he was chairman of the Property Committee when the former boiler was bought, and that it was one of the best that could be secured at that time. The price asked was $850, but this was thought to be a little too high, and an agreement was finally reached whereby the boiler was bought for $300, and the old one was taken by the contractor. The boiler had been used for about ten years, and with moderate care it should have lasted for a considerably longer period. He saw the boiler the day after it had been fixed up, with two new tubes and rivets, and it was now practically as good as new. He was certainly of the opinion that the accounts could stand reduction. He also said that the Property Committee did not known to whom the old boiler should belong. The Board believed it belonged to them, but it turned out differently. This should not have been the case; the matter should have been definitely settled. He said the chairman of the Property Committee should have known to whom it belonged.

Mr. Fair said he had called the Finance Committee together for a special meeting, instead of having them meet before a regular meeting, and that only three were present, the chairman, Mr. Stevenson and himself. The accounts were then all taken up, and were found to be certified to by the chairmen of the committees. He concluded that they had been discussed in committee, and that to take any other step than to recommend their payment would be a want of confidence in the chairmen of the committees. The Finance Committee decided that they did not favour the manner in which the painting had been done, and consequently brought in a recommendation than in future it be done by contract and that tenders be asked for, instead of day labour. He thought that any blame should go to the committees, as the Finance Committee had done all in their power. The accounts were gone over with Mr. Hartley, who had knowledge regarding painters and their wages, and the only fault found was that there was no contract let.

Mr. Morgan complained about a fence which was supposed to have been painted in the East Ward school. He said the work was done by a farmer with a whitewash brush, and was a very poor job. He thought the business of the Board lay too much with seven or eight members, and consequently there was no necessity of a Board of seventeen members.

The chairman replied in strong terms to Dr. Morgan, stating that no insinuation should be thrown on any member of the Board, and if a member were absent it were his fault and if a member had nothing to say in reference to any action taken, it was because he was not present, but should have been.

Mr. Eastwood, chairman of the Property Committee, was the next to speak. With regard to the work of installing a new heating apparatus at the Central School, he said that the work done was recommended by the Board in April. As regards the heating plant he said that Mr. Stevenson had persistently lied about him and spread broadcast false reports, and had done so without the least hesitation, simply because of private reasons. Mr. Eastwood said he had paid no attention to his statements, and would continue to follow the same course. Regarding the letting of the contract, he said the matter had been brought before the Property Committee, there being present Messrs. Kennedy, Ferguson, Jameson, Hartly and Rogers, when the recommendation was passed and all were unanimous in letting the contract to Mr. Adam Hall. As to the question which was raised by Mr. McBain, as to whether or not the old material should belong to the Board or to the contractor, Mr. Eastwood said that the matter was brought up at the committee meeting, and tenders were asked for, but that the matter was settled between the Board and contractor when he was out of town. Regarding the boiler which Mr. McBain said was still good, he stated that Mr. Main, a gentleman whose opinion was considered of much value, stated before several members of the Property Committee that the boiler was unfit for use, and that it could not be repaired to give satisfaction. When he stated that it was bad, what could be done? Furthermore it was not proper to say anthing that would cast reflections on Messrs. Duncan & Doupe, L. A. Halley, Adam Hall, W. J. Henry. They were ratepayers, and good honest citizens, as much so as any on the Board, and there was no occasion to brand them as dishonest and of stealing money from the Board. They were just as reliable as those on the Board, and were as much interested in the schools as the members of the Board. He did not believe that the heating contract would ever have had to be let if a proper system had been installed in the first place, but the thing had been done on a cheap scale. Now they had a system which he believed would give every satisfaction.

Mr. Stevenson asked why men were employed who did not work more than half their time, but drew their

THE WATER SUPPLY

Causes Port Arthur Russians to Make Desperate Efforts.

TO RETAKE LOST POSITIONS

Another Projected Sortie By the Port Arthur Squadron—Naval Battle Reported—Jap Gunboat Reported Sunk By a Mine—First Jap Train At Liaoyang—Their Transportation Problem Solved.

Tokio, Oct. 3.—The Russians are desperately endeavoring to retake their lost positions, including Fort Kuropathin, in the hope of restoring the water supply of Port Arthur. They have repeatedly assaulted the Japanese, after shelling from neighboring forts and batteries. The Japanese continue to hold the positions. Both sides are said to have suffered severely.

The newly mounted heavy Japanese guns command the entire harbor. The position of the remnant of the Russian Port Arthur fleet is precarious.

Advices from Manchuria are to the effect that the Japanese and Russian outposts and scouts continue in close contact south, southeast and east of Mukden. Skirmishes are occuring daily and aggressive general action is expected soon.

It is rumored that a Japanese gunboat struck a mine and sank south of the Liaotung peninsula. A portion of the crew reached an island and were rescued. The name of the gunboat is unknown. The Navy Department does not deny the report, but says the department lacks confirmation of it.

Fights of Sept. 28 and 29.

Chee Foo, Oct 3.—Severe fighting, the Russians being the aggressors, occurred on Sept. 28 and 29, on the west shore of Liaotung promontory, near Pigeon Bay, according to a report brought by Chinese who left Port Arthur on Sept. 30. The Russians already apparently are attempting to capture the heavy guns which the Japanese have mounted in that vicinity. The Russians are in considerable force, and they made several sorties, dragging field artillery with them. They were unsuccessful, however.

Battle At Port Arthur.

London, Oct. 3.—In connection with rumors of another projected sortie of the Port Arthur squadron, a Shanghai despatch reports that a Russian warship was expected to arrive at Woosung last night. Russians there having chartered a tender to meet her.

According to a Japanese correspondent in The Morning Post, such a sally would only be attempted in the last extremity, and only when the surrender of the garrison could no longer be postponed. Because the waterworks are in the hands of the besiegers and the shore water condensing apparatus has been ruined by the Japanese shell fire, the correspondent adds, the garrison is dependent upon the condensers of the fleet for fresh water.

Shanghai despatches to The Standard and The Daily Telegraph are to the effect that a naval battle has been fought off Port Arthur. Neither of these reports have been confirmed, the correspondents say.

The Chronicle's Liaotung correspondent says there was a truce Saturday at Port Arthur to bury the dead. Russian and Japanese officers, he says, exchanged greetings after which the bombardment was re-commenced with its old vigor.

There is little difference in the relative positions of the opposing forces.

The Standard's correspondent with the Japanese army says that progress is making with the field railway from Antung, which will eventually join with the line at Liaoyang. Its completion, he says, will double the Japanese lines of communication.

Japanese Railway.

General Oku's headquarters in the field, Oct. 2, 4 p.m., via Fusan, Oct. 3.—The first Japanese train arrived at Liaoyang. The gauge of the railway has been changed from Dalny to Newchwang. A regular schedule of trains will be established in a few days. Engines and cars have been brought from Japan. The completion of the railway removes the entire problem of the transportation of supplies and ammunition to the Japanese forces in the field. To-day's train brought a quantity of ammunition, telegraph and railway supplies.

Kuropatkin May Attack Oyama.

London, Oct. 3.—Kuropatkin may have decided to take the offensive and to march south from Mukden to attack Oyama, instead of retreating to Tieling to fight a defensive battle. This is the veiled intimation coming from St. Petersburg last night. In St. Petersburg it is admitted that an important movement by Kuropatkin's forces is in progress, but the War Office maintains an attitude of the strictest reserve.

It is believed that a general engagement will take place near Tie Pass, and that General Kuropatkin is holding Mukden and positions along the Hun River to check the Japanese advance temporarily. Snow has fallen in the mountains east of Mukden and there has been frost in the valleys.

Where Russ Forces Are.

The correspondent of The Times, who has just returned from the front, telegraphing from Tokio, says the Russians have two divisions on the Hun River, four divisions at Mukden, and that the remainder of the army is concentrated at Tie Pass, which they are fortifying. The three Japanese armies, the correspondent adds, occupy a front extending for twenty miles north of Liaoyang in their original order.

VICTORIA STATUE AT WINNIPEG.

Unveiled By Premier Roblin On Saturday in Presence of Large Crowd.

Winnipeg, Oct. 3.—The unveiling of the statue of her late Majesty Queen Victoria was an impressive ceremony Saturday afternoon. The whole garrison of Winnipeg turned out and formed three sides of a square around the memorial in front of the main entrance to the Parliament Buildings, and seven companies of the public school cadets also took part in the function. A large crowd gathered to witness the ceremony.

Promptly at 4 p. m. Lieut.-Governor MacMillan, with Lady MacMillan and members of the Provincial Government, took their place on the platform. Sir Daniel made a short and fitting address, setting forth the great qualities of the Queen and the debt that the Empire as a whole and Canada in particular owed to her wisdom and sound judgment in more than one national crisis.

The formal ceremony was then performed by Premier Roblin, and was accompanied by a royal salute of 21 guns.

The statue itself is a worthy memorial. It represents Victoria seated on a throne and probably surpasses in merit any statue in Canada, being executed by the famous English sculptor, Mr. Frampton, R.A. It is 14 feet in height, and the pedestal is 20 feet high.

HAPPIEST MAN IN UNCLE SAM'S NAVY.

"I am the happiest man in Uncle Sam's Navy. I must have got the piles from always sitting on the guns, for I have to get on them to clean them, as I am first-class gunner's mate in the after turret.

"I could not do any work when I had the piles, my shipmates did it for me. I certainly was in a bad condition; to-day there is no man aboard the ship in better condition than I am, and I can certainly thank Pyramid Pile Cure for the world of good it has done me. I used so many different medicines and spent lots of money until I used this remedy; it is the only one of the whole lot that did me any good.

"The first box nearly cured me, and I don't think I ever felt happier in my life, that I thought I got the real stuff at last. To make sure of a cure I used a number of boxes, also two boxes of Pyramid Pills and one and one-half boxes of Pyramid Ointment, and I still have four boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure left, that I keep in case I meet anyone that is a sufferer of piles. I thank Pyramid Pile Cure a million times." Julius A. Koester, U. S. Flagship Kearsarge.

The wonderful cures effected by this remedy are subject for remark among members of the medical profession everywhere. A little book describing the causes and cure of piles is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and we advise every sufferer to write for it. It is a singular fact that one out of every four suffers from this distressing complaint, and another peculiar feature is that it is no respecter of persons, attacking both those of high and of low degree, the labourer and the millionaire, the scrubwoman and the lady of fashion. We have pleasure in recommending Pyramid Pile Cure to all such, as it possesses merit, and since it is sold by all druggists generally for the low price of fifty cents a package a prompt and speedy cure is easily within the reach of everyone.

NINE DEATHS AGAINST HIM.

Charge Entered Against Norman Atkinson At Richmond.

Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 3.—Norman Atkinson, ex-conductor on the G.T.R., was placed under arrest Saturday night at his home in Melbourne, and is now in jail at Sherbrooke, charged with having been responsible for the deaths of the nine persons who were killed on Aug. 31, at Richmond, when the train of which Conductor Atkinson had charge ran past the station, contrary to orders, and collided with the Island Pond-Montreal train, about a mile below the station. Atkinson returned to his father's home at Melbourne on Thursday. He will be indicted before the grand jury of the Court of King's Bench, which opens in Sherbrooke to-day.

Announcement Premature.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—Major Currie, president of the Northern Iron and Steel Co., was seen last night with reference to the report from New York that the United States Steel Co. had purchased a controlling interest in the Canadian Company. He said: "Any statement to the effect that the Collingwood Company has been purchased for control or otherwise by the United States Steel Co. is entirely prevaricative. The control of the Northern Iron and Steel Co. has not been sold or transferred yet to anybody and will not be except on advantageous terms to the stockholders. A prominent official of one of the large American steel companies, after examining the plant at Collingwood, asked us to name a figure for the control. I am not at liberty to give his name at present, as negotiations are only in a preliminary stage."

Fear Foul Play.

He has not been seen or heard of since. Provincial Detective Campau of Windsor, is unable to find any trace of him. It is not known that Laframnois had any money with him, but his wife and friends fear that he has met with foul play.

Dock Strike Settled.

Marseilles, Oct. 3.—The prolonged strike of the workmen and others engaged in the maritime interests was closed by the signing of an agreement by the dock laborers and the companies employing them regulating the conditions of employment. Work will be resumed to-day. Trouble is, however, expected from some of the minority.

Baby Badly Burned.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—On Saturday Baby Florence Dill of 3 Drummond place came to the front doorstep of her home, and sat down clad only in her flannelette nightdress, to pull on her shoe. A little lad living next door was playing with matches, and, having ignited one, he threw it at the little girl. It stuck to the nightgown and in an instant the child was enveloped in flames. Her mother wrapped her in a rug and the flames were extinguished, but not before severe burns had been inflicted. She may die.

All the More Annoying.

EX-PREMIER WATSON'S VIEW.

John Burns, Labor M.P., Not Thanked For His Suggestion.

London, Oct. 3.—Ex-Premier Watson of Australia, replying to messages sent by John Burns, M.P., and Richard Bell, M.P., asking the Australian workingmen to oppose Mr. Chamberlain's proposals, says it is desirable to preserve the bond between the colonies and the motherland by means of reciprocal trade relations. Mr. Watson admits the wisdom of leaving the ultimate decision to the British people.

Hon. Alfred Deakin, ex-Federal Premier, commenting on the messages, says Mr. Burns repeats the fables of importers instead of paying attention to the views of Australian supporters of a preference. It was never intended that the mother country should give something for nothing.

Mr. Hutchison, a labor member of the Federal Parliament, speaking in the Trades Hall, Melbourne, supported preferential trade provided it did not injure Australian manufacturers.

Found Dying in Guelph.

Guelph, Oct 3.—Almost famished and with nothing but an old coat to protect him from the cold, a young lad who gives the name of George Bradley, was found in the old stables at the rear of the power house Friday evening about 6 o'clock. For four days the poor fellow was without food, and his condition was serious. He was taken care of by city officials, and the Humane Society, and removed to the General Hospital, where every attention is being given him. Bradley is about 16 years of age and claims that his parents are dead. He says that he left Winnipeg some weeks ago for Brantford, where he had an uncle. The relief officer will assist him in making Brantford.

Eddie McClure Injured.

Millions of Ladybirds.

The Grimsby district is invaded by huge swarms of ladybirds, such as have never before been known. On Sunday, it is stated, millions of these little insects blackened the sky and fell on foot passengers in great numbers, proving a great annoyance. In the country, particularly on the Humber bank, every tree, plant and shrub was literally covered. As many as 341 were counted on one plant. To walk on the tow paths was to cause wholesale slaughter at every step, whilst the little things covered one's clothes and almost blinded one in their flight.—Newcastle Daily Chronicle.

Pandora Range

Meals on Time.

If a dinner should be cooked with a light fire by a certain hour you can use a light fire and absolutely depend upon the Pandora to cook it by that time—no need to waste fuel to keep up a hot fire "just to make sure." And the same accuracy can be depended upon if a strong fire is necessary.

The hot-air flues force all the heat around the oven twice and directly under every pot-hole, which means that every atom of heat is used for cooking and only the smoke goes up the chimney.

The Pandora range is entirely new and is equipped with every latest feature for easy management, quick cooking, fuel economy and for lessening kitchen troubles generally.

WANTS CONFERENCE

With Representatives of Self-Governing Colonies.

PREMIER BALFOUR'S ADDRESS

Declares to Scottish Conservatives That He Has Nothing to Alter in the Sheffield Policy—Does Not Think Protection Best Under Existing Circumstances—Could Not Remain Leader If Adopted.

Edinburgh, Oct. 4.—(C.A.P.)—Premier Balfour opened the autumn campaign here last night as the guest of the Conservative Club. He first seconded a motion of condolence with Lady Harcourt and the members of her family and paid a tribute to the late baronet.

In replying to the toast, "Our Guest," Mr. Balfour said that as this was his first speech of the autumn campaign, he desired to be explicit on one or two essential points. In the first place, he said, the leader of the Irish party had given wide currency, in America, to the view that in the next Parliament the Irish members would hold the balance of power. So far as the Unionists were concerned, no bargaining would occur. The Unionists were not for sale. Regarding the fiscal policy, Mr. Balfour said he had nothing to alter in what is known as the Sheffield policy.

Mr. Balfour said he was no protectionists, he was one of those who thought protection was not the best policy under existing circumstances. It was not a policy that he recommended directly or indirectly either to his colleagues or to the country and he did not think he could remain the leader of his party if protection were adopted.

Referring to the colonies, he said the question of the colonies more than any other requires consideration by the party and the country which shall take it out of the region of mere platform controversy and put it in the very first place in the view of every citizen of these islands. It was surely wrong that we should now be using voluntarily or involuntarily those imperial sentiments as they exist in our great self-governing colonies as counters in the political game.

Referring to Lord Rosebery's saying that Mr. Borden said he went in for Mr. Chamberlain's policy, and that Mr. Borden said it because it annoyed the Government, Mr. Balfour said Lord Rosebery ought to know what motives would move a leader of an opposition as he had long experience. Premier Balfour did not believe it possible, consistently with our duty, as head of the Empire to leave the question in doubt. As it now stands we have got to a point where the only way of moving out of the impass we now find ourselves in is a conference with the self-governing colonies and India. Representatives of the colonies and ourselves should meet in order to talk out the subject in the freest possible manner without being bound by special views or special instructions.

Whether Mr. Chamberlain's estimate of colonial opinion was right or wrong, Mr. Balfour entirely agreed with Mr. Chamberlain that a point should be reached where the only way out was to have a free conference with the self-governing colonies and India. Mr. Balfour strongly recommended that course to the Unionist party and said he believed such a conference might do much good.

He did not think they could induce the colonies to join in a conference unless they have right to appeal to the irrespective electorates as to any scheme which may be hammered out. If they claim that liberty, as he was sure they will, that liberty of necessity must be equally claimed by us.

British Press On Speech.

The Daily Mail says Premier Balfour's speech is of importance from the distinction it draws between Mr. Balfour's individual opinion and his duty as leader of the party. The section which Mr. Chamberlain has still to convert were of opinion that if the colonies expressed themselves strongly in favor of a change in the fiscal relations between the mother country and the colonies he might take a step forward.

The Daily Telegraph says the proposition of Mr. Balfour marks a great advance in the progress towards Imperial unity.

The Standard says Mr. Balfour's speech was even more significant for what it repudiated than for what it advocated.

The Times thinks the whole problem is to arrange commercial agreements on terms advantageous to both parties. If that problem is solved by rival and even hostile States in the face of the keenest jealousies and the most complicated commercial conditions why should it be insolvable by the component parts of the British Empire. When all are anxious for its solution the logical course, as we pointed out before to-day, would have been for the nation to accept the fundamentol principle as the colonies have done and then negotiate

Steamer Aground.

Some days will be needed to make necessary repairs.

Woman Vote Will Be Heavy.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Women of the west this year will figure in the Presidential campaign as they never have figured before, and, according to despatches from Denver, Salt Lake City and Cheyenne, Wyo., their vote will be the heaviest.

Mr. Hugh Waddell, the Conservative candidate nominated on Saturday at Peterboro, has withdrawn from the contest.

Quebec, Oct. 4.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada, will arrive in this city to-day on business connected with the general election.

About 40 M.P.P.'s have already accepted the invitation to the Temiskaming Railway trip. About half the members at least are expected to go next Monday. The excursionists will return the following Thursday.

Hon. W. S. Fielding opened his campaign at Amherst, N.S., Monday night, where he, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Messrs. Charles Marcil and H. J. Logan addressed one of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in that town.

Puts It Inland.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—In view of the immense strategic importance of uninterrupted communication by wireless telegraphy at all times between Canada and Great Britain, the Marconi Company has decided that the station near Glace Bay should be located in a less exposed position than is at present the case, was the statement made yesterday by J. D. Oppe, vice-president of the Marconi Company, on his arrival in the city of New York. A site some distance inland, he added, has already been secured and Mr. Marconi will take the opportunity offered by the removal of the station for incorporating a number of improvements.

Wong Bing Deported.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 4.—U. S. Commissioner Gray yesterday ordered the deportation of Wong Bing, a Chinaman, unlawfully residing in the United States, it is alleged. Wong Bing conducted a store at Brockville, Ont., for many years, and it is said is a naturalized British subject. Representations were made to the Commissioner that the Dominion Government would permit Wong Bing to re-enter Canada on his certificate, but the Commissioner finds no authority for deporting Chinamen to Canada, and rules that he must go back to China. Appeal will be taken on the point of the Chinaman's British citizenship.

From Hudson Bay.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 4.—The French steamer Stoord, from Hudson Bay, has arrived here. She reports that the winter is rapidly settling in, and that an ice pack packed Hudson Strait on Aug. 12. There had been frequent snow storms before Sept. 8. The temperature at that time was never above 35 degrees. The Canadian cruiser Neptune was sighted on Sept. 10, proceeding west through the Straits.

Canada and Natal.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Canadian trade with Natal is growing at a satisfactory rate. In 1902 it announced to $81,205. The following year it had increased to $1,037,705, and for the first six months of the present fiscal year it amounted to $408,542.

THE FARMER FAILS

In health just as does the city-man, and he fails commonly from the same cause, "stomach trouble." The farm is a wholesome place to live; the farmer's life is a healthy life; but no external advantages can overcome the effects of a diseased stomach. When the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased, the food eaten is imperfectly digested and assimilated, and the consequent loss of nutrition results in physical debility.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food. It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

"I used ten bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Townsend, Broadwater Co., Montana. "Words fail to tell how thankful I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctors could do me no good. I got down in weight to one hundred and twenty-five pounds and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh nearly one hundred and sixty and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicine to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicines."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose, therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

The secret of the excellent baking and roasting qualities of the Imperial Oxford oven is found in the diffusive flue — an improvement which no other range possesses.

This flue draws fresh air from the floor, superheats it and delivers it into the top of the oven through perforations which diffuse it evenly to front, sides and back. This gives a uniform heat throughout the oven, resulting in uniformly cooked food.

When your oven is at baking heat block up the inlet and you will find the temperature of the oven will drop immediately, just like an ordinary range, unless the fire is stirred and more fuel added.

PROTESTED GAME TO BE PLAYED THURSDAY

T. A. S. and Bobcaygeon Will Meet to Decide Kawartha League Championship.

Although protesting against the injustice of the Executive's decision, the T.A.S. baseball team will go to Lindsay on Thursday to play off with Bobcaygeon for the League championship. The Executive, at a meeting held last week, at which the T.A.S. team was unrepresented decided that the game played with Bobcaygeon should be awarded to the latter, because of the fact that W. Grady had played one game with the Midland League team. The T.A.S. in their defence say that Mr. Grady was assured when he consented to play the game that it was simply an exhibition game, and therefore did not consider that he was violating a rule of the Kawartha League by playing in the game with the Midland League team.

It now appears that he was mistaken in this belief, and as a consequence the game will have to be played over again. The team will go up to Lindsay on the noon train Thursday to play the protested game over with Bobcaygeon.

RUGBY.

The seniors are asked to turn out to practice at 7 o'clock to-night at the Exhibition grounds.

Fitzpatrick, Walker, Laing, Hodgson, Mulhern, Sawers, Cranfield, Gilbert, Roddy, R. Cameron, Pedlar, Adamson, Thornton, Hooke, F. Craig, Canliff, Green, Walkey, J. O'Briens, Kelly, Quinlan. The above juniors and as many others as possible are requested to attend practice to-night and Thursday night at 7 p. m. so as to get in shape for the game with Trinity College School here on Saturday, October 8th.

The Argonauts say they are not at all down hearted over their defeat here on Saturday and are still confident of winning the district. They expect to be strengthened by the addition of Ardagh, Hamber, "Chummy" Hill, Russell, Wilson and others for next Saturday's game with the Torontos.

SPRINTING

Dave Belland expresses to the Examiner his willingness to run A. J. Burns for 1-4 or 1-2 mile any day the latter may decide upon this week.

The Schneider Cup, emblematic of the 100 yards championship of the town will probably be put up for competition this week, when the present holder, Mr. T. McGrath will be called upon to defend it.

A statement was made in the Toronto papers yesterday to the effect that a protest had been entered against Fred. McGrath who won the quarter mile championship at the C. A. A. U. meet in Toronto on Saturday. The Examiner made inquiry into the matter and as far as can be learned the protest will have but little weight. It seems that about a year ago, McGrath went to Montreal and captured several first prizes at a meet there. The runners from Montreal got the idea that he was a professional and when he entered at Toronto, the Montreal sprinters entered a protest. They apparently have no grounds for the protest and an affidavit for McGrath will be all that is required to settle the difficulty.

Mr. A. J. Burns and G. R. Harrison have both gone into training for their 5 mile handicap road race, which takes place on October 22nd, over the Lakefield road. Everything points to the greatest race of the season as both men are experienced runners and confident of winning.

BASEBALL.

The Galt Reformer has the following to say of a Peterborough boy:—

Fred Flaherty left for Peterborough yesterday without any blare of trumpets or brass band accompaniment, which has led one of the fans to suggest that some recognition should be given his splendid work this year. The imported baseball player as a rule is an undesirable citizen. Our own experience in by gone years has taught us that and our lesson has been emphasized by the experiences of Berlin and Waterloo this year. Flaherty not only played great ball but he did something of much more value to himself and his club. On and off the field he was a gentleman.

The Lindsay Post, is of course, greatly elated over the victory of the baseball team and tries to take some rude jibes at Peterborough. But we don't mind them in the least. Just consider where they come from.

Brantford's proposed hockey teams will necessarily require some Paris players, and the Paris people and press are sore. The Star-Transcript says:— Brantford's team for 1904-5 so far as organized last week was composed of the following Paris players:—Billy Taylor, Duff Adams, Roy Brown and James Rousell. Yesterday another late Paris player was announced, "Texas" Gilliard. We may expect in a near issue to read of the following stars being picked up:—Tommy Mauer, Pete Layden, Kaiser Kuhlman or Sandy Stewart. Brantford is great in purely local playing and amateur (?) sports. But such reaching out to the four quarters of the globe for good players from any little burg is steadily killing the game from a genuine amateur standpoint.

Those desiring to accompany the T.A.S. ball team to Lindsay on Thursday to witness the final game in the Kawartha League between the T. A. S. and Bobcaygeon will be allowed a special rate. Thelocals are still in good shape and are confident of victory.

Last night the Executive of the Guild Baseball League met in the Y.M.C.A. to wind up the business of the year. The secretary was instructed to officially notify the teams winning the trophies of the League. A financial statement was presented giving the receipts and expenditures and showing that there remained a fair balance in the treasury.

HOCKEY.

The Toronto News in an article reviewing the hockey situation concluded it as follows:—"In speaking of one of the prominent officers of the O.H.A., he said that the association would certainly take up the alleged charges of receiving money against all players of the Canadian, and it is likely that each and every man who wants to play hockey will be asked to prove himself an amateur. This is not likely to be the only turn-over in the O.H.A., for after the re-instatements made last season there will be some explanations asked at the annual meeting.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Any young men under twenty years of age desiring to become associated with the Silver Star Club are requested to apply to Mr. Harry Kingscote. A room has been secured and the prospects for the club, of which the membership will be limited to 30, are very bright.

To-morrow the annual cross country run of the Public School pupils will take place. The start will be made at 4.30 p.m., at the corner of Murray and Water streets and in the race there are three objective points. The runners must cross the bridge and the creek on McDonel street, recross the creek on the Smith street bridge and go to the starting point via the corner of Smith and Water streets. The race is open to all pupils in the school.

full pay. He was surprised that Mr. Eastwood did not know better than to let things go on as they had. He, (the speaker) had told the Board time and again that the old boiler could be repaired, and save a great expense, but Mr. Eastwood gave his version of the situation, and the Board fell in with its. They acted in what he considered a most foolish manner, and now must pay for it.

Mr. Hill thought it should be really known to whom the boiler did belong to. The agreement was not at the meeting before the contract was let, but it was understood by the members that the old material should belong to the Board. He thought Mr. Eastwood was wrong when he said he was out of town at the time of the meeting referred to. He understood that in the lower flat of the school the new system was not working satisfactorily, the upstairs registering 85 degrees and the lower 65 degrees.

Mr. Eastwood said he was out of town when the definite matter regarding the ownership of the material was decided and the contract signed.

The chairman said that after the contract was let, tenders were called for the sale of the old material. Mr. Hall objected, stating that he should have the material. The solicitor of the Board was spoken to, and he said the material belonged to the contractor.

Mr. Hill thought that the specifications were never submitted to the Board.

Mr. Eastwood said they were before the Board when the contract was closed.

After some further discussion, the chairman called the meeting to order and further business was proceeded with.

SUPERVISION COMMITTEE.

To Chairman and members of the Board of Education:—

Gentlemen,—Your Supervision Committee begs leave to report that the matter referred to it at the last regular meeting have been disposed of as follows:—

The over crowding of some of the junior classes in the Smith Central School has been relieved for the present by Inspector Walker rearranging the several classes.

At Principal Fessenden's suggestion combined seats and desks are to be placed in the last rows of those rooms in the Collegiate Institute which are crowded. This will answer the purpose for the present.

Two typewriters, a Remington and an Underwood, with desks have been purchased for the Collegiate Institute.

While the congestion has been temporarily relieved at the South Central School, your committee feels that steps should be taken to provide increased accommodation, as nearly all the classes are entirely too large.

We would also recommend that these schools not having sewage connection especially the West Ward School be connected as soon as possible.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. PRINGLE,
Chairman.

The report was then adopted as read.

Mr. Pringle reported that in reference to the text books, and supplies, every child in every school with two exceptions, had paid for their books. In one of these cases it was not possible to do so, and in the other there was an absolute refusal to do so, the parents objecting to the principle of the plan, and not simply to the amount to be paid.

Mr. Hill, moved, seconded by Mr. Kennedy, that the latter case be referred to the Supervision Committee, with power to take legal proceedings.

BUILDING COMMITTEE.

To the Chairman and members of the Board of Education:—

Gentlemen,—Your Committee begs leave to report regarding the site and plans for new Collegiate Institute as follows:—

First—Regarding Site.

Your committee and the committee appointed by the town council together with Mr. R. R. Hall have been successful in carrying out the arrangements as outlined in our previous report, which was passed by this Board at our meeting held June 6th, namely, to purchase the Separate School ground for the sum of $30,000, $10,000 to be paid by the Dominion Government, $10,000 by the town council for the site for the new Armouries and $10,000 by the Board of Education.

Your committee immediately upon the decision of the Dominion Government to contribute $10,000 met and passed a resolution forwarding the same to the town council, asking them to take prompt action in completing the purchase of the Separate School grounds and having conveyed to the Board of Education, Lots No. 2 and 4, 5 and 6, west of George street and south of McDonel street of said grounds as agreed upon at the joint meeting held in Ottawa September 26th.

It has been further arranged by your committee that the building now known as the Separate School become the property of this Board and your committee recommend that the buildings be left standing till the completion of the new Collegiate Institute and then be disposed of as the Board of Education may desire.

Second—Regarding Plans.

At the first meeting of your committee held May 19th, the plans, which had been prepared and submitted to your Board and which were exhibited to the public before passing a by-law for the raising of $50,000 for the new Collegiate, were laid before us and we deemed it advisable before spending this amount of public moneies to ask for competitive plans, and as your committee estimated that $38,000 of the appropriation would be all that would be available for the erection of the building we asked for plans in keeping with this sum.

Three sets of plans were submitted, one from Hamilton and two from local architects. The latter two were considered worthy of consideration and have been marked A and B, and are now presented to this Board with a recommendation from your committee for the acceptance of plans A with certain changes which your committee may recommend.

It is only fair to say that your committee on account of the decision of the Dominion Government to erect new and expensive armouries on the same grounds deemed it advisable to consult with the Government architect as to the style of architecture to be used in the erection of the said armouries and to have the plan of the new Collegiate Institute as much in harmony as possible with the armouries. This we have done in recommending plans A, and we would also recommend that architect of plans B, be paid the sum of $100.

Your committee recommend that they be authorized to have the architect prepare working plans and specifications as soon as possible and lay the same before the Provincial Inspector for his criticisms and suggestions as to any changes deemed advisable, and also that your committee be empowered to visit together with the architect some of the most modern and up-to-date Collegiate Institutes before having plans and specifications tendered on. It is also recommended that in preparing specifications pressed brick be used as the outside finish.

We further recommend that if this report be adopted your committee be empowered after having plans completed to advertise for tenders for the erection of the same and to have all details in connection therewith carried out at the earliest possible date and lay before this Board for the acceptance of the same, all of which is respectfully submitted.

H. P. KENNEDY,
Chairman of the Building Committee.

A RESOLUTION.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Mr. Fair, that Mrs. Fralick's resignation be accepted, to take place at once, and that the vacancy be filled as early as possible by the Committee on Appointments.—Carried.

WANTS TO RESIGN.

Mr. McPherson, of the Collegiate Institute staff, addressed the Board. He stated that owing to the overcrowded condition of the schools in Toronto, a number of additional teachers were desired there. He had been offered a position there which would prove much more advantageous than his present position, as the salary was greatly in advance. He asked that his resignation from the local teaching staff be considered by the Board, and that he be allowed to leave as soon as convenient.

Upon motion of Mr. Pringle, seconded by Mr. Hayes the matter was referred to the Committee on Appointments with power to act.

FIELD DAY.

Mr. Fife, science master of the Collegiate Institute, addressed the Board in reference to the Field Day of sports to be held in connection with the Institute, and solicited a grant to go towards purchasing prizes. Upon motion of Mr. McBain seconded by Mr. Hayes, the sum of $25 was granted for this purpose.

The Board then adjourned.

There was a very fair attendance, and the two papers by the Misses Sarah Booth and Estella Blackburn went squarely into the subject and were full of inspiration. About a dozen members gave messages directly to the point from the Scriptures. A reading entitled "Greater Love" was given by the pastor, which greatly interested the young people. Next Monday Deacon T. G. Gillespie will introduce the subject of "Helping one Another."—Com.

PRETTY WEDDING IN NORTH MONAGHAN.

Miss Evelyn Giles Married to Mr. Enos Podger.

A pretty wedding took place this morning at 11 o'clock at Fair View, the residence of Mr. Josephus Giles, North Monaghan, when his daughter Evelyn was united in marriage to Mr. Enos Podger. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Legott, of Lakefield, in the presence of a number of friends of the bride and groom. The bride was tastefully attired in a fawn suit trimmed with white silk and chiffon and was attended by Miss Erminia Giles, sister of the bride, while the groom was supported by Mr. W. G. Tucker, of New Liskeard. The bride received many useful and handsome presents. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left on the 2 o'clock train for Toronto, Belleville and to their new home in Deseronto.

CHURCH CHIMES.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

Good congregations gathered at both services in All Saints' church on Sunday, the rector, Rev. W. Major, preaching at both services. In the morning his subject was "Leaves", and he showed how they resembled the human life. At the evening service the sermon was on the "Miraculous Draught of Fishes" and he explained the fact that it was "At His Word" that this and many other miracles were performed.

At the service Master Herbert Mowat sang very acceptably "The Holy City" in a clear voice and with excellent enunciation. Mrs. Mowat accompanied him and closed the service playing the closing hymn and the voluntary.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST.

The pastor, Rev. Dr. Grothers, preached at both services Sunday, that of the evening being on "The Young Man Leaving Home," in which some good advice was given to the young men. At the morning service Mrs. McCall sang "Not Half has ever been told," while at the evening service, a duet, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," was effectively sung by Miss Irene Grey and Miss Bertha Parnell, and Mr. G. W. Mulligan sang "Can a boy Forget his mother?"

THE POWERS WILL LIKELY INTERVENE

If Japanese Agitation in China Precipitates Disorders.

ARE JAPS ON DEFENSIVE?

Berlin Newspaper Man at Mukden Says So in Message to His Paper—Nothing Officially Definite by Either Side—Sakharoff Tells of Recent Minor Successes of the Russians—Frequent Fighting.

London, Oct. 5.—Frequent fighting between Japanese advance guards and Cossacks on the south front of Gen. Kuropatkin's army, reported in despatches to the Russian War Office, is regarded as indicative of the near approach of a general forward movement by the forces of Field Marshal Oyama, but Colonel Goedke, The Berlin Tageblatt's correspondent in the Far East, telegraphs from Mukden that the Japanese are apparently no longer advancing, but are preparing for defensive operations. It is estimated that since the battle of Liaoyang 40,000 of the guards stationed in Western Russia have been ordered to the Far East. No word has been received as to the condition of affairs at Port Arthur.

Japs and the Chinese.

Reports have reached here from official sources that many Japanese have appeared recently in the big centres of northern China and they have begun an agitation, the result of which it is feared may precipitate disorders in the case of Russian successes in Manchuria, which might lead to the intervention of the powers. It is said here that Russia is anxious to avoid such intervention.

Dispersed the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Gen. Sakharoff, dated Oct. 3: "At dawn of Oct. 1 a squadron of Japanese cavalry twice attempted to break through the line of advance posts of Cossacks of the guard in the district between Khuanhuasdia and Fengtiapu. Both attempts were unsuccessful. Two sotnias of cavalry reinforced the advance posts and the Japanese dispersed.

Russian Cavalry Furious.

"Toward noon the same day one battalion of the Japanese advance guard with two or three squadrons of cavalry renewed the offensive movement against a regiment of Cossacks. The firing lasted until nightfall. Gen. Mistchenke sent reinforcements to the aid of the Cossacks, and towards evening the enemy was repulsed at all points, the whole line retreating toward Siallonkhetzy, pursued by our cavalry.

Took Japs Prisoners.

"One Russian patrol dispersed two Japanese patrols in the vicinity of Tchjantan on the right bank of the Hun River, taking three Japanese prisoners.

"Another Russian patrol sent in an easterly direction discovered Tawanghau Pass occupied by 200 Chinese bandits commanded by Japanese officers. During the reconnaissance, one Cossack was killed."

ROUTED RUSSIAN HORSEMEN.

Japanese Retired After Inflicting Loss Upon Enemy.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—The following official report has been issued:

"The Manchurian headquarters reports by telegraph that a body of scouts sent by our advance detachment on Oct. 2, consisting of a company of infantry and a troop of cavalry, attacked and routed a detachment of the enemy's cavalry, sixty strong, occupying Paohsingtun, 13 miles north of Liaoyung and nine miles west of the Mukden road. While further reconnoitring in the vicinity a force of Russian cavalry 880 strong attacked the Japanese scouts. After fighting for some time the Japanese retreated. The enemy's loss was about thirty. We sustained no casualties. The state of affairs at the front of our army remains unchanged."

Only Fifty Miles to Be Completed.

Tokio, Oct. 5.—Two hundred and twenty-two miles of the Seoul-Fusan Railway have been laid, leaving fifty miles for completion. The Seoul-Wiju Railway is progressing rapidly as also is the De Colville line from Kiu-Lien-Cheng to Feng-Wang-Cheng, whence it will be prolonged next spring to Liaoyang.

No Cause For Alarm.

Pekin, Oct. 5.—Further information regarding the unrest in the northwestern part of Shantung Province is of a reassuring nature. The British Legation is of the opinion that there is no cause for anxiety.

THE CONGRESS FOR PEACE.

Hopes Expressed For Many Treaties of Arbitration.

Boston, Oct. 5.—At the first formal meeting of the Peace Congress, Edwin D. Mead of Boston, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the American Peace Society. In responding, Robert Treat Paine, the president-elect, expressed the hope that treaties of arbitration would soon be consummated between America and England. America and Germany, and America and France, indeed, between all nations of the world.

The report of the International Peace Bureau of 1903, stated that the society had on several occasions attempted to induce Russia and Japan to have recourse to a friendly solution of the conflict. The moment might not be far off when the belligerents would listen to the voice of reason. Should the intervention of the powers be rejected it might be necessary to use coercion and an efficacious means would be to close their exchequers to new war loans. No action was taken yesterday on the report.

A memorial signed by 634 citizens of Australia was presented, setting forth the horrors of war and hoping that peace would ultimately prevail. The convention will meet again today.

Undergoing Hardships.

London, Oct. 5.—Despatches from the Lhassa expedition state that the Chinese amban signed the Anglo-Thibetan treaty without having received the necessary permission from the Chinese Government. The expedition, these advices say, is undergoing great hardships in its march towards India.

Canadian Exhibits.

London, Oct. 5.—(C.A.P.)—The display of Canadian fruits and vegetables at the dairy show attracts much attention. The statue of King Edward, made entirely of compressed maple sugar, excited admiration.

Bought a Volcano.

Mexico City, Oct. 5.—The final papers of the transfer of Mount Popocatepetl have been signed by New York parties for the acquisition of the volcano and its immense sulphur deposits.

ADJOURNED MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERY

Interesting Session at Millbrook Yesterday.

Rev. Principal Gordon's Address—An Important Resolution.

The Presbytery of Peterborough held the adjourned meeting in Millbrook yesterday at two o'clock. The Rev. W. L. Atkinson, B.A., moderator, occupied the chair. The Rev. J. G. Potter reported his visit to Lakehurst and Rockcraft last Sunday, and made special reference to the excellent work done by Mr. S. H. Pickup, student-in-charge, and to the deep interest the people have in the church work.

The Rev. Mr. Skene, of Baltimore, reported his visit to Knoxville and Oakhill, referring to the apparent prosperity, and suggesting a re-arrangement of congregational connection.

The resignaton of the Rev. J. W. McIntosh was next considered. Mr. McIntosh gave reason why he sought release from his congregation. He referred to the pleasant relation existing between pastor and people, his enjoyment while a resident of South Monaghan and the very cordial relationship with the Presbytery of Peterborough.

Mr. D. Armstrong and Mr. Larmour, elders of the Centerville congregation, spoke in the warmest terms of their attachment to Mr. McIntosh and of the profound sense of loss that all had been led to sustain through the departure of one who had worked so faithfully and the congregation would all join in extending to him their best wishes and prayers for his future.

It was moved and seconded that his resignation be accepted to take place after Sunday, Oct. 9th, and the Rev. James Ross was appointed to declare the pulpit vacant on Oct. 16.

A number of members of the Presbytery expressed their appreciation of the friendship and service of Mr. McIntosh.

The moderator then introduced the Rev. Principal Gordon, whose presence in the Presbytery meeting gave them all much pleasure.

Principal Gordon expressed his delight in being present to lay before the Presbytery the claims of the University. Queens was in existence before the disruption of 1843. At that time the College was supported by the Auld Kirk section, until the union in 1875, when the Theological Department received the support of the united church. The Arts Department being maintained by private beneficience.

Different successful attempts were made to raise endowments which has greatly increased the efficiency of the College so that the number of students had stedily increased until now they had 875 already enrolled.

Some few years ago it was proposed to nationalize the University because when Queen's was doing a patriotic work and was developing a peculiar type of education for Eastern Ontario, it was felt by all that she was entitled to some financial consideration at the hands of the Government. This of course was denied her on the ground that Queen's was a denominational institution. Progress was being made towards naturalization and concurrently with the consideration of the matter by the Government, the General Assembly meeting at Vancouver most unanimously decided that Queen's should not be given up by the church. The Rev. Dr. Armstrong and John Charlton, M.P., being among the most ardent promoters of the University retention. The General Assembly at St. John last June ratified its former decision and promised to raise the endowment necessary to efficiently equip the University.

Principal Gordon emphasized the fact that while Queen's would have church connection, a fact that had been most heartily eulogized by friends of all denominations in Kingston, yet its aim and spirit was natural. Everyone had recognized that the Presbyterian church in Canada stood for more than sect or church name. No one could look upon the great work accomplished in the West without feeling that she was possessed of a great national spirit while had a practical regard for the welfare of Canada. Among the trustees of the University were to be found an Anglican, a Baptist and a Methodist, who were very proud of the University.

Principal Gordon then explained how the Presbytery could assist in raising the endowment. He was anxious to have professorships, lectureships and fellowships established in departments of college work now inadequately served, and the university authorities were extending to all donors the privilege given in the past. All persons contributing $100 would be given the privilege of sending to the university a student who would be free from class fees for four years. Those giving $500 would have the privilege during the donor's life time.

At the close of Principal Gordon's address Rev. Dr. Torrance moved the following resolution, which was seconded and unanimously agreed upon:

"That this Presbytery have heard with much interest the statement of Principal Gordon regarding the relation of Queen's University to the church, and the proposed additional endowment of the University. In view of the action taken by the General Assembly in regard to the relations of the University to the church, and in view of the resolution of the General Assembly commending to Presbyteries and congregations the movement to raise the necessary additional endowment to Queen's University, the Presbytery agrees to use all diligence to promote this movement within its bounds, and in order the more effectively to promote this work, the Presbytery appoints a committee to act with those of its number upon the General Assembly's committee, in taking such steps as may seem to them suitable for calling forth the active cooperation and general support of all the congregations of the Presbytery."

In this connection Rev. J. G. Potter suggested that the Presbytery should follow the example of other Presbyteries in establishing a Professorship or Lectureship to the memory of some one who had been prominent in the development of the church's interests in the past, and moved, seconded by Rev. Dr. Torrance, and most heartily agreed to, "That the Presbytery of Peterborough endow a professorship in Queen's University, to be called 'The John Morrice Roger, Professorship."

Mr. Potter referred to the very extensive work accomplished by the late Rev. J. M. Roger, before and after the disruption movement in 1843 and 1844, of his untiring zeal in the building up of St. Andrew's and St. Paul's churches, of his travels throughout the Presbytery from Verulam township to Belleville, and the abiding interest he had ever taken in the extension of the church.

Dr. Torrance remarked that no man stood out more prominently in the history of the Christian church in this whole section of country than did Rev. John Morrice Roger.

The canvas for the funds will be made during the next month, and it is generally expected that a general interest will be evoked.

AN OLD RESIDENT PASSED INTO REST

Mr. Bernard McDonald Died at the Ripe Age of 78 Years.

Another of the oldest citizens of the town of Peterborough has passed away. OBITUARY.

Death at Cobourg of a Lady With Peterborough Connections.

The following from the Cobourg World of Sept. 30th, refers to the death of the mother of Mr. W. H. Gordon, a former resident of Peterborough, now of Innisfail, Alberta, who at one time conducted a grocery business on the corner of George and Brock streets:—

An esteemed woman has passed to her reward in the person of Mrs. John Gordon. Deceased's maiden name was Jane Blair and she was born at Columbus in Durham County. When grown to womanhood she became the wife of Mr. John Gordon and with her husband resided for a time at Orono. Afterwards they moved to Baltimore, where they resided for about 20 years and made many warm and staunch friends. Mr. Gordon conducted a general store there and officiated as postmaster with much acceptance for a number of years. Soon after Mr. Gordon's death in August of 1902 the family came to Cobourg and have made their home here since. Mrs. Gordon was a faithful Christian woman, a kind neighbour and friend and her demise has caused much sorrow to many hearts. Some two years ago she was seized with a paralytic stroke while walking from her residence in the west end down street. She only partially recovered from this and a little over a week before her death had a second attack of the same dread malady. Her recovery even then was not despaired of until Sunday, when she lost the power of speech and lay in a partially conscious condition until death relieved her on the following Tuesday.

The funeral took place from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. N. Dell, West King street, with whom she had been residing for some time, on Thursday week to the Methodist burying ground in Baltimore, where all that was mortal was laid to rest. Rev. Wm. Beattie conducted the service. Rev. H. T. Lewis was present also and led in prayer. Mrs. Gordon leaves three sons and one daughter, viz., Mr. W. H. Gordon, Innisfail, Alta., Mr. John Gordon, Mr. Chas. Gordon, and Mrs. Norman Dell.

Among those who attended the funeral from a distance were, Mr. John Blair and Mrs. Frank Blair, Brooklin; Mrs. Jeffrey, Mr. James Bishop and Mr. Robert Bishop, Oshawa.

A FAMILY REMEDY.

Peruna in Use in Thousands of Homes.

Ex-Governor Isaac Sharp.

Isaac Sharp, ex-Governor of Kansas, in a letter from 1227 I street, N. E. Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can earnestly recommend your Peruna as an excellent tonic. Its reputation as a cure for catarrh is firmly established by my friends, who have been benefited by its use, and the public should know its great curative qualities."—Isaac Sharp.

Congressman H. Henry Powers writes from Morrisville, Vt.:

"Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1904.

THE EAST PETERBOROUGH LIBERAL CANIDATE.

Mr. John Finlay, the Liberal candidate in East Peterborough, issues an address to the electors, which will be found in the columns of the Weekly Examiner. In his address Mr. Finlay fully and forcibly presents the grounds upon which he claims the franchise of the electors as a supporter of the Laurier Government. He points out, to begin with, that never before since Canada was a Dominion, has there been so long an unbroken "spell" of good times as during the eight years the present Government has been in power, which he rightly attributes as one of the main causes, to the general and financial policy of the Laurier Administration.

The influx of American and British settlers into the Northwest, an excellent thrifty class, with means to start a new life in a new country, is another influence. The investment of such large sums works for the best interests of the whole country, and is almost solely due to the energetically applied policy of Hon. Mr. Sifton and his associates. A vigorously applied immigration policy is, as Mr. Finlay says, "one of the mainstays of our young Dominion," for population, of the right sort, is one of our greatest needs — to create new markets for the commerce and manufactures of older Canada."

A tariff adjustment that assisted manufacturers by cheapening raw materials, has resulted in our manufacturing industries enjoying a degree of prosperity and activity never before known, and, consequently, giving more and better paid employployment to the workmen engaged in them. Mr. Finlay is himself a manufacturer, and in his own interests, as well as those of the great bulk of manufacturers of the Dominion, he favours a continuation of a rational tariff policy, that has been attended with such results.

Mr. Finlay recognizes the part played in promoting national prosperity by liberal expenditures on public works, especially the improvement of the St. Lawrence and Welland Canals and, naturally, he desires that further prosperity should flow from the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, a completion he will work for, and urge, as not only a national benefit, but a big boon to Peterborough town and county, and the district at large.

Mr. Finlay endorses the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway as the "greatest" transportation route ever projected in America, and sets forth the immense National advantages it will confer in building up the West, and contributing to the prosperity of Eastern Canada. He makes a good point in showing that the interest of the company lies in paying promptly the interest of three per cent on the cost of the Eastern Division to be built by the Government, without endangering the efficiency of the Western Section to be built by itself. In close connection with this enterprise, and in connection with the commendable energy of the C. P. R., in improving its line, is to be noted the development of the steel rails industry, which, through the public spirited policy of the Ontario Government, has been established in Ontario, and which has just closed a contract with the C.P.R. for 10,000 tons of steel rails.

Under the Liberal Government, with a lowered customs tariff, the increased prosperity of the people has resulted in an increase of revenue, the surplus revenue for seven years of Liberal rule reaching the enormous total of $58,400,072, the present year's surplus being $16,500,000, of which $7,500,000 is applied to the reduction of the national debt. This year's surplus in fifty years, if placed at compound interest, will repay the country for its total outlay on the transcontinental railway.

Under these considerations, Mr. Finlay is justified in pledging himself as a supporter of the Liberal Government, and can reasonably from every elector interested in the up-building and progress of Canada, his support in placing him in Parliament.

It is not alone on the grounds of the Government he supports that Mr. Finlay can lay claim to the franchise of the electors of East Peterborough. Personally, he is well qualified as a representative. He has had a large and useful experience as a municipal legislator. In his business relations he has kept in close touch with the farming element, of which the East Riding is so largely composed, and has a good knowledge of their needs, and an active sympathy with everything that can conduce to their prosperity. He will make a good representative, and we much mistake the good sense and loyalty to their own interests if the electors of East Peterborough do not place Mr. Finlay at the head of the poll on November 3rd.

Vote for Finlay, and Laurier and the Larger Canada.

A WOBBLY RAILWAY POLICY.

In regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Borden, the Opposition leader, made a spasmodic plunge at the close of the session into the depths of Government ownership, but he failed to carry his party with him. The Toronto News which favours state railway ownership regretfully acknowledges this. And why should it not be true. Mr. Borden himself submitted three policies after having started, when the Government first submitted the Grand Trunk Pacific proposition to Parliament, with the initial declaration that a second transcontinental line was unnecessary. First, he advocated the extension of the Intercolonial to Georgian Bay, the leasing of the Canadian Pacific system to Winnipeg, and the subsidizing of the Grand Trunk to the Pacific; second, the extension of the Intercolonial to Winnipeg, the survey of the north country between Winnipeg and Quebec with a view to future lines of railway, and the construction and control of lines west of Winnipeg by the Dominion; and, third, Government ownership of the transcontinental railway by a route not definitely specified. When to this three-fold policy are added the schemes propounded by other members of the party and the party organs, of which the most simple is the plan of subsidizing the Grand Trunk from North Bay to the Pacific coast, it will excite little surprise that Mr. Borden cannot carry his party with him on his railway policy, not because they are unwilling to follow his lead but they can't see where he would take them. If his first two policies were bad, what assurance have they that he will not have a new transcontinental railway policy before election day.

LIBERAL TARRIFF FOSTERS NEW INDUSTRIES.

Under the Liberal tariff thousands of new industries have sprung up and are flourishing. The present tariff rate brings a splendid revenue though it is considerably lower than the Conservative tariff rate of 1896. Under the present tariff a factory has been established to bleach the gray cotton, which we now bring ready bleached from the Old Country. Thus it is hoped that high grade cottons "made in Canada" will largely replace the fine lawns imported from the Old Country at the rate of $200,000 worth per month. A tariff which permits the establishment of such and other factories, and furnishes employment to Canadian operatives, represents "adequate protection," and it is to the interests of the people to oppose a change which would have an unsettling effect upon industrial and commercial conditions.

Keep both hands on tariff stability.

Forward Canada!

Canada, Laurier and Progress.

A majority of sixty for Laurier in the next House.

In eighteen years the Conservatives piled on more public debt at the rate of six and a half million dollars per year. The Liberals reduced it a million dollars in seven years. Which Government was economical and prudent?

In the last six years under Conservative rule the total of the liabilities in connection with business failures was $54,843,164. The like liabilities for seven years under the first seven years of Liberal rule, amounted to only $12,293,876, an improvement of $12,549,288. Which period was the growing time?

The introductory portion of the second volume of the fourth census shows that in the census year—1901—there was invested in agriculture, dairying, forest production and fisheries, the large sum of $2,349,717,057—nearly two and a half billion dollars.

In the eighteen years under Conservative rule the foreign trade of Canada increased sixty-nine millions of dollars. In seven years under Liberal rule the foreign trade of Canada increased two hundred and eighty-eight millions of dollars. Which was the growing time? Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmeisler, La Crosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigestion and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K. Ralston, Oadilles, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

Misses Flo. and Clara McNicholl ,of Norwood, have been the guests of Mrs. P. McNicholl for the past few days.

A very serious accident occurred last Wednesday at the west end of the town, when a horse, which was running away took it into his head to run into the blacksmith shop. At the time two lillte daughters of Mr. H. Morrison were playing in front of the shop, and not seeing the horse had the misfortune to be knocked down by the animal in its flight. The younger one was the most seriously hurt, not being out of bed since, while the eldest was only slightly bruised and is now able to run arouud. Possibly if people would watch their horses a little more closely such things would not happen.

Mr. John LaPage, formerly of town now of Toronto, is renewing old acquaintances in town.

Mrs. H. Boyce and children left for a short visit to her home in Trenton on Saturday last.

Miss Annie Bryans and Miss Annie Donuley spent a few days in Peterborough last week visiting friends.

Mr. Wm. Cooper and Mr. E. J. Murphy went to Norwood on Monday to attend the meeting in regard to the nomination of the Conservative member for the Dominion election which is to be held the third of next month.

What might have proved a very serious accident happened Monday afternoon at five o'clock, when Mr. Proctor McGinnis, of Cordova, who has been working on the staff of Mr. Tomlison, contractor at the C.P.R. slopes, by having a number of heavy timbers fall on him. While the men were taking down the structure so as to rebuild it, he was walking underneath with a barrow of cement, when without any warning the timbers gave way on account of their being in a very decayed condition. Three of the heaviest fell, striking him on the back, causing total paralises for some time. He was taken to the doctor's where prompt attention was given him, and although it may be some time before he will be able to be out, it is thought he will get over the injuries. A couple of other men working along side of him were also struck by small pieces of timber, but with no serious results.

Messrs. A. Long, E. Dexsee, N. Lloyd, W. Shaw and B. Ivy of Campbellford, spent Sunday in town.

A concert will be given in the Presbyterian church in the near future and a very pleasant programme is being arranged. The main attraction will be the illustrated songs and moving pictures given by Mr. J. Stubbs of Peterborough, who has just returned from the old country with additional views. Everyone enjoyed his entertainment when he was here before, and a big crowd is expected when he returns again.

Mr. Wesley Davidson left on Saturday for a short visit to Montreal.

Mr. George Easterbrook of Tweed, spent Sunday in town.

Miss Violet Smith has been ill for the past few days.

Mr. P. Ford spent Saturday in Tweed renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. Jos. Campbell and Mr. C. Timmerman left for a short visit to friends in Treaton.

It is about time that the last ball games of the league had the ties played off, as the weather is getting so cold that the boys will not be able to look a ball in the face, much less think of catching one. If they keep putting it off they will have the game played around Christmas.

Mr. Harry Andrews of town, spent Sunday at his home in Norwood.

Mr. W. O'Brien of Millbrook, had secured a situation as tin smith with the firm of Phillips Bros., hardware.

Miss L. Garrison of Belleville, who has been the guest of Miss Carrie Barlow, for the past week, or so, returned to her home on Monday.

A pigeon shooting club is being organized by a number of the sports in town, which will likely be a success by the way the people are joining it.

Mr. H. T. Andrews' new building will be finished in about two weeks when Mr. Claude Williams will move his shop, and W. Wiles his harness store.

Lad Did Thieving.

Galt, Oct. 4.—Within the last six weeks there has been much petty thieving done in and around Galt. As a result the police have been working overtime in an effort to locate the thief. Chief German quietly took up the cases, and that he worked effectively, is demonstrated by the fact that on Saturday night he arrested a 16-year-old boy named Lawrence Smith, who lives on Bruce street, and Smith has confessed to seven charges. He has been remanded for sentence.

THE RAILWAY ISSUE

Main Plank in Mr. R. L. Borden's Speech in Toronto.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

Prominence Given to Provincial Issues and Fear Expressed That the "Machine" Will Be Active—"Laurier and the Large United States"—Hon. G. E. Foster On the Minnie M. —Mr. Whitney.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—Provincial and Dominion issues had almost equal prominence at the Conservative demonstration in Massey Hall last night, at which Mr. R. L. Borden was the chief speaker. The Opposition leader was given a characteristically enthusiastic welcome from his party admirers. The hall was comfortably filled, and at no time crowded, there being about 4,000 people present.

Some New Features.

Mr. Borden's speech was largely a restatement of his previous utterances, interspersed with new features. He replied to the Liberal motto, "Laurier and the Larger Canada," by quoting the Alaskan award, and saying it should be "Laurier and the Larger United States." Some of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Sorel utterances also were criticised, and in connection with the railway question, besides speaking at length on public ownership, (which he made his main plank), Mr. Borden complained that the Grand Trunk still retained Engineer Kyle, who had said they must go to the United States to get brains for their engineering work. His concluding remarks were designed to show the awful effects of an alliance between Ross and Laurier with the "machine" in the coming contest.

Foster Rediviens.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, who was given a hearty reception, criticized Hon. J. M. Gibson for not having prevented the trip, or, failing that, prosecuted the promoters of the Minnie M. journey to Michipicoten.

Mr. J. P. Whitney hinted at approaches regarding a coalition Government when he said he could have been a member of the Ontario Government at any time during the last two years. He referred to Premier Ross as a "political thimble-rigger."

Music and Mottoes.

The band of the 48th Highlanders played from 7 to 8, and evoked a good deal of enthusiasm. The Union Jack was the popular material for decoration. The pipe organ above the stage was covered with flags and white and yellow draperies, surmounted by a bust of Sir John Macdonald. Among the mottoes were the following: "A Government-owned Railway, Not a Railway-owned Government," "What we Want We'll Make," "Welcome to Our Leader," "Home Markets for Our Farmers," "Canada for the Canadians" and "Protect Labor and Industry."

THE CORRECT VOTERS' LIST.

The Municipal Lists Are Not to Be Relied Upon.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—The municipal voters lists are not to be relied on in connection with the Dominion election campaign. They only form the basis of the official lists, on which the issue will be fought out on Nov. 3rd. The municipal lists as printed are only proofs before revision and not the final lists. The lists as printed only in very rare cases contain the final corrections made by the County Court Judges, which, however, must appear in the official lists. The lists upon which the Dominion battle will be fought are those which "on the sixtieth day next preceding the day fixed for nomination were in force, or were last in force, for the purpose of Provincial elections," and are prepared as follows: When the lists for any municipality are finally revised and certified to, the Clerk of the municipality sends a copy of such lists to the Clerk of the Peace (usually in Ontario the County Crown Attorney), and retains a copy himself. These lists are never printed either by the Clerk of the municipality, the Municipal Council or the Clerk of the Peace. The Clerk of the Peace sends them to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, who, in turn, transmits them to the King's Printer, by whom they are printed either in Ottawa or elsewhere. When the writs are issued the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery sends to each returning officer sufficient of these lists to supply the deputy returning officers throughout the riding.

Liberal Engagements.

Hon. William Paterson will accompany Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his tour through Ontario.

Hon. Clifford Sifton leaves for Manitoba on Friday. He will speak in Winnipeg and Brandon next week.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine and Senator Cloran were in the city last night. They spoke at the Liberal Convention at Vankleek Hill and go on to the Pontiac Convention at Campbell's Bay to-day.

Following are the dates of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's meetings in Ontario: Hamilton, Monday, Oct. 10; Guelph, Wednesday, Oct. 12; Toronto, Friday, Oct. 14; Chatham, Saturday, Oct. 15; Lucknow, Monday, Oct. 17; Orillia, Wednesday, Oct. 19; Peterboro, Thursday, Oct. 20; Cornwall, Friday, Oct. 21.

Toronto Conservatives "Wavering."

Toronto, Oct. 5.—Another turn of the political kaleidoscope has given a new arrangement of candidates on the Conservative side for the city constituencies. Confidence in the ability of Hon. Geo. E. Foster to carry the North has been for some days of the "wavering" variety, and yesterday the "tip" among those in the inner ring was Foster for the West, Clarke for the South and Osler for the Centre. This would leave the North vacant for Mr. Kemp should he not succeed in holding the East. Mr. Brock's positive announcement that he would not again be a candidate in the Centre indicates that a definite understanding has been arrived at regarding that constituency, and that the candidate selected is satisfactory to him. Controller Loudon stated positively yesterday that Mr. E. B. Osler would run in the Centre, and this statement lends color to the latest "tip." The question where Mr. Clarke will run will not probably be definitely settled until his return to the city, which will be earlier than expected, as a despatch announces that his tour in the Maritime Provinces had been cut unexpectedly short.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Lisgar Conservatives met at Manitou Tuesday and nominated W. A. Donald for the Commons.

Hon. J. I. Tarte has made up his mind to enter the Federal contest, and will be a candidate in St. Mary's, Montreal.

Hon. F. R. Latchford has announced that so many desired to withdraw from the Temiskaming trip, on account of political engagements, that it is declared off for the present.

At the convention of Conservatives of the south riding of Oxford, held at Mt. Elgin Tuesday, John C. Henderson of Norwich was nominated for the Dominion election to oppose Mr. Schell, the Liberal nominee.

L. L. Bland of the township of Kincardine, ex-warden of the county, was unanimously nominated as the Liberal-Conservative candidate for the riding of North Bruce at the approaching Federal elections at Tara Tuesday.

The Liberals of Prescott County met at Vankleek Hill Tuesday to nominate a candidate. There were five names placed before the convention. Edmond Proulx, barrister, L'Orignal, son of the late member, got the nomination.

Rodolphe Forget of Montreal has definitely accepted the Conservative candidature in Charlevoix, and it is stated that Hon. William Macpherson, president of the Molsons Bank, will be the Opposition standard-bearer in West Quebec against Mr. Power.

A. F. MacLaren, Conservative candidate for North Perth in the Dominion election, has announced that he would accept the challenge of his opponent, J. P. Mabee, K. C., Liberal candidate, to debate at a public meeting the Grand Trunk Pacific question. The date has not yet been fixed.

The announcement of his appointment to the Dominion Cabinet without portfolio was made at London Tuesday to A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., who has been engaged at the fall assizes. Mr. Aylesworth refused to discuss his appointment. Mr. Aylesworth left for Toronto in company with Hon. Mr. Hyman during the afternoon. Mr. Aylesworth is 50 years of age.

Congress of Tuberculosis.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—Preventive legislation was the subject which opened the discussion at the second day's session of the international congress of tuberculosis. The speakers told of ways and means that might be enforced thru legislation for the prevention of the infection and spread of consumption, and dealt with legislation compelling state and national governments to closely inspect not only public buildings and vehicles of transportation, but also tenement districts and schools. It was also advanced that beneficial results would be attained by the segregation of the tubercular insane. Dr. E. J. Barrick of Toronto spoke.

He was employed as driver of the horse that was used to hoist bricks and mortar to a chimney that is being erected. The bucket knocked two bricks off the top of the chimney, and they fell 40 feet on to the unfortunate man's head, so it is supposed, for no one saw the mishap. He was killed instantly. The dead man was about 25 years of age. He was married only last Labor Day. George Smith, another workman who was on a scaffold at the time of the accident, got excited and fell on his head ten feet to a cement floor. He had to be taken to the City Hospital.

This completes the Alaska telegraph system, which has been under construction for the past three years.

GREAT CRY AND LITTLE WOOL.

Our Evening Contemporary's Unfounded Indignation.

Alleged Affront to Mr. Waddell a Nightmare Dream.

Last evening the Review worked itself into a fine froth of indignation over what it falsely describes, as "the old tricks of the Examiner," making the Examiner responsible for a despatch from Peterborough, which appeared in a Toronto daily, "charging that Mr. Waddell accused the Conservative party of intriguing, etc."

The Review is in the first place, utterly wrong – the Examiner had nothing to do with sending the despatch in question, in spite of the Review's own direct charge, and the charge of the alleged correspondent. In the second place, no despatch making charges respecting Mr. Waddell was sent to the Toronto daily in question.

The correspondent of the paper being known to the Examiner, he was applied to for an explanation. He says he sent no despatch containing such a reference to Mr. Waddell. He referred to the copy of his despatch, and found that it contained these words.

"certain Conservative politicians. They are charged on what is considered good grounds, while ostensibly dealing with Mr. Waddell in good faith, etc."

The despatch read thus, as any one who will consult the manuscript of it now on file in the C. P. R. Telegraph Office, can see for himself.

It appeared in printed form, by some error, or hurried or careless editing, in a way which Mr. Waddell has a right to complain of, but which was never sent by the Peterborough correspondent. The same despatch appeared, as it was written, in the Montreal Herald, with only the change of address, as any one who consults that paper of Monday can see.

A great fuss has been made over what the correspondent of the Toronto daily did not do. The Examiner has been unjustly accused, and the Review owes the amende honorable. The Examiner has only the kindliest feelings of respect for Mr. Waddell, and has not written a word, and would be sorry to write, one disparaging word of him.

STREET CAR STRUCK FARMER'S VEHICLE

Narrow Escape From Serious Accident Last Evening.

What might have proved a very serious if not fatal accident occurred about ten o'clock last evening at the corner of George and Hunter streets. Mr. George McMahon, of Otonabee, was driving east on Hunter street at a fair rate of speed. His horse became frightened at a car going south on George street and dashed across the track in front of the on-coming car which struck the carriage smashing it badly and sending the driver several feet into the air. Fortunately he alighted on his feet and escaped uninjured. There have been several narrow escapes from similar accidents of late.

ORGANIST SERVICES HIGHLY APPRECIATED

Address and Presentation to Miss Lily O'Brien of Douro.

An address and presentation was made last Wednesday evening to Miss Lily O'Brien, who for the past 12 years has been the organist of St. Joseph's church, Douro. Her services were at all times most efficient and were greatly appreciated by the choir and congregation, who regret very much that that in future she will reside in Peterborough. The address was read by Mr. B. Leahy, and the presentation of a beautiful silver tea set was made by Miss L. Ward. The address read as follows:

Miss Lily O'Brien

Dear Friend,—It is with feelings of deepest regret, that we realize that you are so soon to leave us.

We are glad you are not going far from us, and that we shall still have many opportunities of meeting, and keeping unbroken, that chain of friendship that has bound us together, through so many joys and sorrows.

To-night we have come to your home, to present to you this token of our appreciation for you whilst a member of our choir. Though a mere child on assuming the arduous position of organist, you were faithful and jealous, and brought the choir to a state of efficiency worthy of the highest praise, and reflecting great credit upon your efforts.

May your future years be long, and crowned with God's choicest blessings, is the wish of your friends of Douro.

Signed on behalf of the choir.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Moher, Miss L. Ward, Miss Maggie Sullivan, Miss Lena Walsh, Miss Teresa Towns, Mr. Redmond Cary, Mr. Bart Leahy, Mrs. R. Allen, Mrs. J. J. Allen, Mrs. W. O'Brien, Mrs. E. Tochill, Mrs. W. Moher, Miss M. Young, Miss B. O'Connor, Miss M. Hayes, Miss E. R. Allen, Mr. P. Sweeney, Mr. F. Leahy.

Miss O'Brien made a suitable reply, expressing her regret at leaving so many friends, and referring to the many pleasant hours spent in association with the members of the choir.

ST. PAUL'S YOUNG MEN OPEN THE SEASON

Highly Successful Meeting to Reorganize for the Season's Work.

The opening meeting of St. Paul's Young Men's Guild held last evening was a splendid success. The attendance was large and the interest manifested was great.

The business part of the meeting was conducted in the lecture room of the church, Mr. Ross Cameron, the President, in the chair. The election of officers resulted as follows:—

Hon. Presidents, Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. J. A. Wilson.

Hon. Vice-President, Mr. J. C. Shook (Representing the church session.)

President, A. P. MacLean.

Vice-President, R. F. McWilliams.

Cor. Secretary, C. Ross Cameron.

Rec. Secretary, W. Graham Ferguson.

Treasurer, Reg. T. Thompson.

Councillors, J. H. Connal, M. Rosenberg, D. Davidson, W. J. Stacey, A. Gillespie, J. Dawson, F. Howson, H. Walker.

The retiring President in a neat speech then introduced Mr. MacLean, the new President, and advocated the chair in his favour. The second part of the evening's programme was carried out in the school room, where the Ladies' Aid Society of the church had in their usual efficient manner, prepared refreshments for the Guild. Five large tables were completely filled with the Guildsmen, and ample justice was done to the good things thereon.

The feature of the evening was an address by Rev. Principal Gordon, of Queen's University, Kingston, who was present during part of the evening.

The address dealt principally with the affairs of Queen's University. Principal Gordon was delighted with the strength of the Guild. The rest of the programme included solos by Messrs. Homer Heard and John Lawrence, readings by Mr. C. N. Brown, and speeches by the newly elected President and Vice-Presidents. Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev J. A. Wilson were both present throughout the evening.

Votes of thanks to the ladies who had so admirably looked after the social arrangements, and also to those who had in other ways assisted in the programme, were passed, and the very enjoyable evening closed with the doxology and benediction.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Catharine Sullivan and Mr. Albert Nolan, of Douro.

A very pretty wedding took place in Douro on Tuesday, October 4th, when Miss Catharine Sullivan, daughter of the late Dennis Sullivan, was married to Albert Nolan. St. Joseph's Church where Mass was celebrated at 9 a. m., by the Rev. Father Kelly, never looked more beautiful and was filled by a large and interested congregation. Mrs. Martin McManus led the bride to the altar where she was attended by Miss Catharine Shea. The groom was supported by Mr. James Hanrahan. The wedding march was played by the organist, Miss Sullivan, and "Mother, dear, oh, pray for me" was beautifully rendered by the choir.

After Mass the wedding party accompanied by many friends repaired to the handsome residence of Mr. Martin McManus, where everybody sat down to a delightful dejeuner.

Afterwards the bride held an informal reception when she was offered the congratulations of friends and well wishes.

The young couple intend taking up their residence in the neighborhood of Lakefield and the prayer of everybody in Douro is that they will live long and die happy.

PRICE OF TORONTO BREAD SOARS TOO.

City Baker's now get one Cent More per Loaf Than Peterborough.

Recent Raise in Price Here was Warranted—Scarcity of Wheat the Cause.

Peterborough bakers are not the only ones who have increased the price of bread. An item in yesterday's Globe gives the information that the bakers in Toronto have increased the price there too. The article says:—

Yesterday the retail price of bread was increased one cent a three-pound loaf, bringing the cost of the small of one and half pounds loaf up to six cents. The bakers say that the high United States surplus for export this year is much less than formerly, the Ontario yield is only about half the normal, and there is still some certainty as to the size of the Manitoba crop. These conditions, combined with the demand from Europe, have caused the jump in the price of wheat, and of course that has affected flour prices. The bakers say that they are now paying $3.60 a barrel for flour, which is $1.00 more than the price prevailing this time last year. The future price of bread, add, will naturally depend upon the price of wheat.

It will thus be seen that bread in Peterborough is still cheaper than the same article in Toronto, for ever since the raise in price here the one and one-half pound loaf sells at only five cents, as compared with six cents in Toronto, and in the three pound size, the one most generally sold, the difference is still two cents in favour of the local bakeries.

It would seem, too, that the belief of the Toronto bakers in that there is no immediate prospects of a decrease in price, since the raise has been caused by the shortage in the wheat crops, and of course this condition, in any case, must continue until after another harvest. Those consumers of bread, who have accepted with not very good grace the increase in the price of bread, will now see that the conditions which the local bakers gave as being responsible for the increase, were real, not imaginary, and moreover, that the bakers in other places were increasing their prices to much greater extents than the Peterborough bakers.

Some additional information on this question is supplied by the Toronto Star, in which a report of an interview with Mr. John Turnbull, manager for the Nasmith Comany is given:—

"Wheat," and he smiled philosophically, "is away up in Q. This time last year we could buy flour at $4, just $1.50 a barrel less than we are paying now. The Manitoba crop is not what it was last year, and as for the Ontario yield, it is just about half the normal. The growth was stopped by frost, so, as a result, the Ontario flour costs us as much as the Manitoba brand. Ordinarily Ontario flour is fifty cents less, but it is not so now."

"It's the disparity between this year's yield and last responsible for the advance in Manitoba wheat and flour?"

"The main cause is to be found in the European markets. Europe must have wheat, and the States will not export more than a fraction of last year's millions of bushels. It is clear, then, that the cereal goes up in price, away up."

"Do you fear any great difficulty in obtaining all the flour you will need?"

"No, but the price is likely to soar still higher. If it does, well, you know what will happen?"

"Bread will climb another notch or two?"

"Exactly. Why, in several places at the present time bread is retailed at twelve cents."

"Bread took a jump a year ago, did it not?"

"Yes. Wages were a prime factor, and ever since wheat and flour have had an upward tendency."

"Are you using new flour?"

"It is being milled now. We were lucky enough or bright enough to buy flour at a little under $5.00. In short, we do what we can for our customers' interests and our own."

"How high will Toronto bread go?"

The question was hard to answer, as it all depended on wheat vagaries. If wheat continued on the run, flour and bread could not lag far behind. The future was about the only source of definite information, and that wasn't telling just now.

THE LIBERAL CANIDATE.

Recent events in local political circles have left Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate, as the only party candidate in the field. The Conservatives have, so far, brought out no candidate. That they have thought proper to nominate no candidate is a matter perfectly within their own right. It cannot be imputed to the party as a fault that eligible candidates were not in a position, in relation to their private and business interests, to enter upon the large task of contesting a wide riding like West Peterborough. Whether or not a Conservative candidate will be placed in the field in the near future, the fact remains that Mr. R. R. Hall is at the present moment the only legitimate party candidate in the field.

Under these circumstances it behooves the electors of West Peterborough, and, especially, of the town of Peterborough, to take into most serious consideration what course they can best take in exercising their franchises in order to serve the best interests of the town and county. With the party element eliminated, as it is at present, the electors are left free to exercise an unbiassed judgment, unrestrained by considerations of party loyalty; and the representation of West Peterborough becomes a pure matter of business.

Every citizen of Peterborough, town and county, desires above all things, to see the town forge ahead, and maintain the pleasant pace of prosperity it now is taking. An important element in the present crisis of the history of Peterborough in securing these considerations, is the friendly attitude of a progressive and public-spirited government, and as governments in all countries, and at all times, with the multiplicity of demands that engage their attention, need the spur of local members, it follows that the next necessary element is a representative supporting, and enjoying, the confidence of the Government.

Such a representative is found in Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate, who, in addition to this item of qualification, possesses the other qualifications to make him a live, "hustling" representative, such as a live, "hustling" town needs. He is brimful of energy and enterprise, and has a splendid business capacity. He is an untiring worker, and of an energy and determination and persistence in securing what he wants, that will not take "No" for an answer, and will be discouraged by nothing short of impossibility. If, as a representative, he attempts to obtain some Government advantage for the town or county to which it is justly entitled, the Government will be given no rest till the thing desired is obtained. The business interests of the town, the interests of its progress demand such a representative and the fact that he may not personally be agreeable to some persons does not affect his capacity for usefulness to the town and county, nor weaken his claims to the support of all those who wish to see the town continue to forge ahead.

Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate is a young man in the prime of life, thirty-nine years of age, of robust health and able to stand any amount of hard work, of which he has never shown himself afraid, as shown by his busy life in Peterborough, for the past sixteen years he has resided and done business here. He is well acquainted with the riding at large and well thought of among the farming community as shown in part by his being invited to formally open, as he is doing today, the Agricultural Exhibition in Harvey Township. He is practically a native of the county, his father and mother having been formerly of the township of Smith. During the sixteen years he has been a resident of the town he has shown a commendable public spirit and his business capacity and energy have been shown by his success in promoting important new industries which have conferred large benefits and added sensibly to the industrial importance of Peterborough. An example or two will show this.

In 1900 Mr. Hall was the prominent factor in the organization of the Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company, which is now one of Peterborough's largest and most flourishing industries with a paid up capital of over $500,000 and employing 200 hands.

At the same time Mr. Hall was chiefly instrumental in the organisation of the Otonabee Power Company which has a paid up capital of $150,000. This Company has been the means of reducing the cost of lighting of the town of Peterborough by over $25,000 per year. Over eight hundred citizens now use electric light in their homes at a very moderate price who did not use it at the time the Otonabee Power Company was inaugurated. This Company has been able, to supply, and is now supplying power for manufacturing purposes to the Cordage Company at $10 per horse power, making it the cheapest electrical contract ever made on this continent. And the Company has still a surplus of 600 horse power available for the supply of new manufacturing establishments desiring to locate in Peterborough and in search of cheap power, which can be offered at a cheaper rate than by any town or city in Canada. The very existence of a competetive electric company is credited with enabling the Town Council in their negotiations with the Street Railway Company to save $14,000 in the present street lighting contract.

During the present year Mr. Hall has had a chief share in organizing the Colonial Weaving Company, with a paid up capital of $20,000. The Company is arranging for new buildings 60 x 200 feet with accessory buildings. This Company has manufactured the first woven labels in Canada. Heretofore these labels which are extensively used by manufacturers of boots and shoes, clothing and white wear, throughout Canada, have all been made in the Old Country and the United States. Now goods "made in Canada" will bear labels "made in Canada," through the persistent energy of Mr. R. R. Hall.

To show that his restless business energy must have play it may be mentioned that during the past year Mr. Hall organised the Big Bend Lumber Company in British Columbia, with a paid up capital of over $250,000, which has one of the best equipped lumber mills in the Pacific Province. Mr. Hall is also a director of the Canadian Oil Company, with a paid up capital of over one million. Mr. Hall was connected with this company since it was known as the Grant-Hamilton Oil Company, and had only $10,000 paid up capital, and gave valuable assistance in its organization. Now its board of directors comprise some of the leading business men in different parts of Canada.

Many may say that these things are not very great things, but they serve to show that Mr. Hall is public spirited, enterprising, and of excellent business capacity, and untiring energy. What he has done, has been in the interests of the upbuilding of Peterborough, where his interests lie, and whose advance and progress will benefit him, together with all our citizens.

Mr. Hall's activity, and energetic employment of his influence with the Government as a candidate, give a foretaste of his usefulness as a representative with larger authority, and added influence. He has been active in urging Peterborough's claims for local improvements, and a prominent local Conservative points out his work in securing the Government appropriation of $10,000 towards the purchase price of the Collegiate Institute site as a direct saving to the people of $10,000. A minor matter, perhaps, but one showing that Mr. Hall's attention is not devoted solely to Peterborough, is the fact that he met the need for a new wharf at Burleigh by influencing the Government to place a sum in the estimates for the building of the wharf.

Mr. Hall is a candidate who, as a representative can induce a Government that does things, to do things for Peterborough town and county.

Supporting and voting for Hall is a plain, straight, business proposition for the electors.

Vote for Hall and more prosperous Peterborough.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

AN "INDEPENDANT" CANDIDATE

This morning's Morning Times contains the address of Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who announces himself as a candidate. As a candidate he represents nobody but himself and his personal ambition. To make his identity more certain it may be mentioned that he is the same R. F. McWilliams who was a candidate for the Liberal nomination in January last, who agreed before the convention to abide by its decision who moved that Mr. Hall's nomination be made unanimous and pledged himself to use his best efforts to promote Mr. Hall's election.

WOMAN'S PLACE.

She Is the Inventor of All Primitive Human Industries—Also the First Discoverer of Nature's Bounties.

To arrive at the real story of human development and differentiations it is necessary to go back to the beginning of things. We can, however, only judge what the original man was by studying him among the remnants of primitive races wherever they are to be found on the globe. What the original man was he, as nearly as may be, is to-day. A flood of light was thrown on the original conditions of the race by that remark of an Australian savage to a British scientist.

"Men," said the native, "spear fish and hunt; women do all the rest."

Among the primitive tribes all man's time was taken up with fighting either his own kind or the scarcely more wild animals. Woman did the rest—that is to say, it is woman and nobody else who invented every one of the industries necessary to the feeding, clothing and sheltering of the race. Relics of implements from the most ancient times and stone

Professor Otis T. Mason of the United States Department of Ethnology has written a paper giving the evidence that proves woman to be the founder of all the industries of peace and progress.

The race found out as the birds find out that grains are good for food. While her man were away engaged in their normal occupation of fighting, woman went into the woods or upon the grassy plains and gathered those nuts and grains that trial had proved to be palatable and nourishing. Trial had proved these nuts and grains to be coated with a husk or shell that did not taste good. Woman thereupon cracked them with stones or rubbed them together to remove the husk. By and by woman found these grains could be raised from seeds in ever increasing quantities that could be kept ready to hand and save her time and trouble. Very good. Thereafter annually woman planted these seeds and tended them and produced a crop. Thus was the occupation of the farmer established.

To this day country woman in many places go through the fields gathering "greens" for their families, quite unconscious that they are only following perhaps in the literal footsteps of their primitive female ancestors of mayhap a million years ago.

By and by, after the use of fire was discovered, it was found that grains tasted better to the masculine palate if they were roasted. Even then it did not matter to woman. So they were cooked, and woman was the original baker. One step more. Again, as always, trial proved these grains tasted better if they were ground fine and mixed into a pulp before baking. Accordingly woman pulverised the grains upon stone till they formed a meal that could be made into dough. Thus woman was the original miller, the inventor of grain grinding.

Man, whose business was fighting and hunting, brought a wild beast to the cave where his womankind were and laid it down. The women had already found that skins kept their children warm, so they rubbed stones together till they produced in one an edge sufficiently sharp to divide the skin of the slain beast from its flesh. They so divided it; they discovered ways to tan and make it soft and pleasant to the feel. Thus was woman the first leather maker.

Woman found that the outside covering of certain animals was of a kind that when twisted together made a long string—in other words, it was wool. She twisted threads and pushed them in and out, over and under one another into a fabric that could be made into clothing for her family. Thus she invented the art of spinning and weaving. How the primitive woman spun and wove may be seen to-day among some of the remnants of Indian tribes. By and by woman found, too, that certain grasses and the products of some other plants could be in like manner spun and woven. And it should not be forgotten that it was woman—a Chinese Empress, away back in Old Testament times—who invented and perfected the silk industry.

Yet again woman found she could punch holes in the clothing skins and push a long thin thong through these holes in and out and fasten the ends of it. Hence the art of sewing and the invention of needles.

One need not go further. It is a scientifically established fact that woman is the founder of human industries and of the arts of peace. When man fought himself all out, grown bold, fierce and aggressive through ages of conflict, he simply turned against woman herself, by nature a creature of peace, and took from her own work that she had invented, drove her out and declared it was "men's work."

London, Oct. 4.—Cattle are steady at 8¼c to 12¼c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9¼c per lb. Sheep, 10¾c to 11½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock at the city market were 75 loads, composed of 1300 cattle, 808 hogs, 1579 sheep and lambs, with 57 calves and 15 horses.

Trade in export cattle at this market is dead. None were offered and none were apparently wanted. W. H. Dean bought 7 export cows at $3.25 to $3.50 per cwt., and this was the only quotation reported.

Trade in butchers' cattle was slow, with prices easier. There are too many light half-fat butchers' heifers being brought forward as well as too many worn-out cows. There was probably a load all told of picked lots of cattle, that sold for a higher price than $4.25 per cwt. We heard of one dealer, after searching the market over, that bought about a dozen butchers' cattle of choice quality, weighing 1050 to 1107 lbs. each, at $4.30 to $4.40 per cwt.

Choice picked lots of butchers' sold at $4.30 to $4.40 per cwt.; picked lots, weighing 900 to 1000 lbs. each, at $4 to $4.25; loads of good at $3.75 to $4; medium at $3.50 to $3.65; common at $3 to $3.40; rough and inferior at $2 to $2.75.

Prices for feeders were easier, choice breedy steers, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, sold at $3.60 to $3.80 per cwt. Distillery bulls sold at $2.50 to $3.12½ per cwt., with few at the latter price.

Deliveries were plentiful, especially of the common eastern quality. Prices ranged from $2 to $2.75 per cwt., with the bulk going at $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt.

Only a limited number was offered, and these were generally of poor to medium quality, selling at $30 to $45 each.

Prices for veal calves were steady at $3.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

Receipts of sheep and lambs were moderate. Lambs sold at $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt.; sheep at $3.50 to $3.75 per cwt. for ewes, and $2.75 to $3 for bucks.

Receipts were not large. Prices are firmer at $5.25 for selects and $5 for lights and fats.

East Buffalo, Oct. 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 400 head; steady; prime steers, $5.25 to $5.30; shipping, $4.50 to $5; butchers', $3.75 to $4.65; heifers, $3 to $4.35; cows, $2.50 to $4; bulls, $2.25 to $4; stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $3.65.

Hogs—Receipts, 2300 head; active; 5c to 10c higher; heavy and mixed, $6.25 to $6.35; yorkers, $6.20 to $6.30; pigs, $5.50 to $5.60; roughs, $5.25 to $5.35; stags, $4 to $4.75; dairies and grassers, $5.75 to $6.10.

New York, Oct. 4.—Beeves—Receipts, 706; feeling steady; dressed beef in fair demand at 6¼c to 9¼c per pound for native sides; 5¼c to 6¼c for Texas beef. Calves—Receipts, 261; veals, steady to firm; grassers, slow; veals, $4 to $6.50; westerns, $3.50 to $4.50; grassers, nominal; dressed calves, firm; city dressed veals, 7c to 13c per pound; country dressed, 6c to 11c; dressed grassers, $4 to $5.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 1036 head; eight and a half cars on sale; feeling firm; sheep, $2.50 to $4; choice, $4.25; lambs, $5.37½ to $6.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Campbellford, Ont., Oct. 4.—At the cheese board meeting, 1220 were boarded. Magrath bought 520 at 9 15-16c; balance refused 9¾c.

Delicious Young Carrots.

The French manner of cooking may young carrots is delicious, says Table Talk. Boil them until tender, then cut into halves lengthwise. Melt some butter in a hot spider. When the butter bubbles lay in the carrots and sprinkle with some sugar, salt, pepper and finely chopped parsley. Fry them until the edges become crisp and brown.

Lyonnaise carrots are made in the same way, only cooking some finely chopped onion in the butter before adding the vegetable.

To make creamed carrots put in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter, and when it is melted stir in one tablespoonful of flour. Gradually add to this one cupful of rich milk and season with salt and pepper. Cut the boiled carrots into cubes or with a small scoop into balls and stir them into the creamed sauce. When hot, turn them into a heated dish and sprinkle chopped parsley over them and serve.

Household Brevities.

A little sweet spirits of niter in the bath or water for washing the hands is said to entirely overcome odors of perspiration.

To remove mildew from leather rub with vaseline till it is well absorbed, then rub and polish with a dry cloth.

The biliousness sometimes resulting from the use of eggs may be prevented in great part by sprinkling a few drops of lemon juice upon them.

A French chintz, with pink roses and buds rioting over a groundwork of lavender, is the pretty wall hanging of a cottage.

A mayonnaise of fish, or even plain boiled fish served cold with a sauce, pleases many in warm weather.

Keep the dust brushed from the walls, the ceiling, doors, windows and moldings. Use a clean piece of flannel tacked about a broom and make your stroke a downward one on the walls.

Spencer's Love Affair.

Herbert Spencer never married. When he was twenty years old he had something like a tender affair, and he tells about it in his autobiography. The young lady's affections had already been placed elsewhere, and she was only playing with the budding philosopher. One day her "young man" called, and they all went out for a walk. Spencer says: "She, taking his arm, looked over her shoulder smilingly and rather mischievously to see what effect was produced on me, there being an evident suspicion that I should not be pleased. The revelation was not agreeable to me, but still it did not give me a shock of a serious kind."

HATCHING BY HEAT.

The Principle of Incubation Has Been Used For Ages.

The ancient Egyptians from time immemorial have hatched large quantities of eggs by artificial warmth, applied through peculiar but simple ovens.

Bonnemain, in 1777, was the first in more recent times to put the process upon a sound commercial footing. He communicated to the Academy of Sciences an interesting fact he had noticed upon the method chickens used to break their shells, and for some time before the revolution he furnished the Parisian markets with poultry at a time of the year when farmers ceased to supply it.

His apparatus was founded upon the principle of the circulation of hot water through a series of connected pipes, a novelty which was afterward applied to the warming of buildings. Water saucers were placed in the egg drawers to keep up the necessary moisture, and twenty eggs were inserted daily for twenty days, when the first brood appeared. In 1825 D'Arcet obtained chickens by hatching eggs in the warm water baths of Vichy.

Modern incubators are essentially water baths, with an automatic regulator to keep the temperature to 40 degrees C.

Fungus Slippers.

Before the discovery of lucifer matches a large hoof shaped fungus growing on the trunks of trees was used throughout northern Europe for making amadou or tinder. The thick, brown, woody flesh of the same fungus, cut into slices and beaten until it assumes the appearance of felt, is used at the present day in Germany for the manufacture of chest protectors, caps, purses, bedroom slippers and various other articles.

One Exception.

"Papa, is the hand that rocks the cradle the one that rules the world?"

"That's what I've heard."

"Well, I know one that don't."

"Who is it?"

"Nurse. She wanted to go downtown, and mamma told her she'd fire her if she went and wouldn't give her no recommendation."

A Chronic Habit.

"No," said the man who had recently made his fourth pilgrimage to the matrimonial altar; "I can't say that marriage is a failure."

"Of course not," rejoined his bachelor friend. "With you it is merely a habit."

Then He Went.

Father (at head of stairs)—Ethel, what time is it? Ethel (in drawing room)—It's a quarter past 10, father. Father—All right. Don't forget to start the clock again after the young man goes out to get his breakfast.

An Anxious Query.

A certain New York restaurant has become famous for its high prices. At the entrance a man just leaving, having paid his bill, was recently overheard to ask the waiter, "I say—do you charge anything for going out?"

Generously Thoughtful.

Ragson Tatters—Say, boss, gimme the price of a meal. I'm nearly starved. Stingiman—Can't do it, me poor fellow, but the next man you ask may, so here's a toothpick.—Exchange.

LEADERS OF THE IRISH

MISSION OF JOHN E. REDMOND AND HIS ASSOCIATES IN AMERICA.

Moral and Material Support From This Country and the United States for Their Campaign at Home Desired—Reforms in the Direction of Home Rule Expected—Redmond Now Leads a United Party.

The visit to America of John E. Redmond and his associates of the Irish party in the British Parliament is thought by the sympathisers of the movement to mark a new step in the progress of Ireland toward Home Rule. Mr. Redmond is now the leader of a reunited Irish Party. The differences which for some years after the death of Charles Stewart Parnell caused divisions in the Irish forces in Parliament and prevented effective work in behalf of Irish reforms have been thrust aside. Unity having been effected once again, and a general election being not far away, the time is thought to be opportune for a campaign of education in America which may result in both moral and material support in this country and the United States for the Irish leaders who are carrying forward the battle at home. The delegation which has come over with this purpose in view is composed, in addition to Mr. Redmond, of Patrick O'Brien, Captain A. C. Donelan and Conor O'Kelly, all, like Mr. Redmond, members of Parliament. The immediate object of their visit was to attend the recent convention in New York of the United Irish League of America. The American branch of the United Irish league was organised three years ago by William O'Brien, M.P., and has since given much moral and material assistance to the movement for Irish reforms.

With the close of this convention the Irish leaders started upon a tour of Canada and the United States to address meetings in behalf of the Irish cause and educate public sentiment on the present status of the Irish question and the reforms sought in Parliament. In outlining the situation as it exists to-day Mr. Redmond said:

"I have been anxious to come here at this time because of the election which is impending at home and which must give to the Irish party a power that will place it in a commanding position. We need the sympathy of the people on this side of the water; we need their moral support. The present Government is doomed. It is certain that it is only a question of months or perhaps only weeks when it will have to face a general election. Mr. Chamberlain, who broke up the Liberal party, has broken up the Unionists, and there is no doubt that an election will result in the defeat of the Government. Out of this defeat will come the extra power that Ireland needs. With eighty-five votes in the Imperial Parliament Ireland will be able to swing as it likes. She will control the House of Commons and with those votes will be able to purchase the freedom that belongs to her and her people. The signs point to our getting something in the direction of Home Rule.

"When our opportunity comes I want the party to be strong financially, and I have come here for the purpose of asking the auxiliaries of the movement to aid in getting together a fund that will enable us to carry all the seats to which we are entitled in Ireland. The land purchase bill is working well, but slowly. Say fifteen years from now the whole of the land in Ireland will have changed hands, with some exceptions. There will be some landlords who will not give up their buildings, who will not sell and who will have to be compelled to do so. There are some defects in the bill, but in time they will be remedied."

The leader of the Irish party is a man of magnetism and strong personality in every way. He is tall, muscular and sturdy, with wavy black hair and lustrous grey eyes. He was born in 1856 in the famous county of Wexford, his father, William Archer Redmond, having been one of the landed gentry of the place and a representative of his borough in the British Parliament for many years. Mr. Redmond was educated at Dublin University and on leaving it entered the Bar, becoming one of the most successful of its junior members. The young Irish landlord was elected to Parliament, and, attaching himself to the land movement then agitating the country, he separated from his class and took up the cause of the peasantry. His patriotism and forensic abilities soon drew him into prominence in the movement. When the division came in the Irish party on the fall of Parnell, he sided with the faction that remained with the former leader.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

A beautiful Georgia lady, Vice-President of the East End Palmetto Club, of Savannah, and prominent society there, relates the following experience: "You certainly have produced the finest medicine for suffering women that is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. Felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (after I had tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and found no relief). I had little faith in the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your 'Prescription' I was like a different woman. New life and vitality seemed to come with each succeeding day, until, in a few weeks, I was in fine health, and a happy, hearty woman. My boy is now two years old, and, thanks to your splendid medicine, I am enjoying perfect health. If at any time I feel tired or in need of a tonic, a few doses of your 'Favorite Prescription' recuperate me at once. My address is No. 518 Jones Street, East, Savannah, Ga.

A ROMAN FIASCO.

The Colossal Show That Was Planned by Symmachus.

Symmachus, last of the great nobles of Rome, who, blinded by tradition, thought to revive the glories of his beloved city by reviving its shame, graphically describes the anxieties of the preparations for one of these colossal shows, on which he is said to have spent what would be about £80,000 of our money. He began a year in advance. Horses, bears, lions, Scotch dogs, crocodiles, chariot drivers, hunters, actors and the best gladiators were recruited from all parts. But when the time drew near nothing was ready. Only a few of the animals had come, and these were half dead of hunger and fatigue. The bears had not arrived and there was no news of the lions. At the eleventh hour the crocodiles reached Rome, but they refused to eat and had to be killed all at once in order that they might not die of hunger. It was even worse with the gladiators who were intended to provide, as in all these beast shows, the crowning entertainment. Twenty-nine of the Saxon captives, whom Symmachus had chosen on account of the well known valor of their race, strangled one another in prison rather than fight to the death for the amusement of their conquerors. And Symmachus, with all his real elevation of mind, was moved to nothing but disgust by their sublime choice! Rome in her greatest days had gloried in these shows. How could a man be a patriot who set his face against customs which followed the Roman eagles round the world? How many times since then has patriotism been held to require the extinction of moral sense?—Contemporary Review.

Nature's Beauties.

Character is fed largely through the eye and ear. The thousand voices in nature, of bird and insect and brook, the soughing of the wind through the trees, the scent of flower and meadow, the myriad tints in earth and sky, in ocean and forest, mountain and hill, are just as important for the development of a real man as the education he receives in the schools. If you take no beauty into your life through the eye or the ear your nature will be hard, joiceless, unattractive.—Success.

The Horsefly.

The horsefly is the most cruel and bloodthirsty of the entire fly family. He is armed with a most formidable weapon, which consists of four lancets so sharp and strong that they will penetrate leather. He makes his appearance in June. The female is armed with six lancets, with which she bleeds both cattle and horses and even human beings.

BOIL IT DOWN.

Make it short and crisp, and snappy—
Boil it down.
When your brain its coin has minted,
Down the page your pen has sprinted,
If you want your effort printed,

Make your meaning plain; express it
So we'll know, not merely guess it;
Then, my friend, ere you address it,

Skim it well, then skim the skimmings—
Boil it down.
When you're sure 'twould be a sin to

The Point of the Cape of Good Hope.

Cape point, which terminates the mighty headland known as the Cape of Good Hope, consists of a towering promontory of sandstone, which rises from the sea to an altitude of 840 feet. At the base of this stands a big solitary column which is known as Vasco da Gama's pillar. The lighthouse which here illuminates the meeting place of the Atlantic and Indian oceans is one of the most important and most useful of its kind. It is visible from a distance of thirty-six miles. The cliff scenery is wild and sublime, the rocks are magnificent, and the far reaching sea, with the fierce surf beating on the iron bound coast, is impressive. In the water directly beneath the cliff sharks are abundant. A traveler describing the scene says that on the occasion of his visit so numerous were the evil looking monsters that the sight as he descended the cliff was most unpleasant. A slip and a fall into the sea at this point would mean that the unfortunate would be torn instantly limb from limb by the ravening brutes.

Chess and a Battleship.

Admiral Charles E. Clark, who took the battleship Oregon around Cape Horn and into action at Santiago, owed his appointment as commander of that boat to his skill as a chess player. Captain Clark was at San Francisco in command of the gunboat Bennington. When ashore he spent much time in the chess room of the Mechanics' library, where he met some of the best players in the city. When the time came to appoint a man to command the Oregon, a friend of Clark's in the navy department at Washington put his name forward. "You should see that man play chess," said he and went on to describe his intense application and determination, adding, "And that's why I think he can bring the battleship around safely if any one can." Three hours later Clark received orders to assume command of the Oregon and take her at once to Cuban waters.—Argonaut.

The Nimble Paragraph.

It is a most extraordinary thing that some of our most successful novelists cannot turn out a newspaper paragraph to save their lives. In most novels there is some page or other on a supposititious clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the events under narration, and in ninety cases out of a hundred the matter that makes up the "clipping" is most unreal. The truth of the matter is that all the training in the world will not enable a man to write in this manner unless he has been through the mill and had all the nonsense deleted by the remorseless subeditor. Our novelists do not have their manuscript hacked and chopped about by this skillful executioner, and their pseudo newspaper clippings are models of what the real thing is not.—Journalist.

A Queer Italian Custom.

On Aug. 1 of every year the people of Val di Rosa, in Italy, gather in the great square, which is also a threshing floor, and proceed to exorcise the devil for the benefit of their own dreams and for the well being of their vineyards. The most intelligent man in the community is chosen master of ceremonies. A small fire balloon is made ready and to this the master of ceremonies solemnly attaches a puppet representing his Satanic majesty. Amid the shouts of the peasantry the balloon, with the devil attached, is liberated. The good people believe that for the rest of the year the evil one will not disturb their dreams or damage the vintage.

NORMAN DISTRUST.

One Simple Way by Which a Traveler May Disarm It.

The greatest obstacle to agreeable pedestrianism in Normandy is the proverbial Norman distrust. The Norman's distrust of the stranger takes the form of a comical sort of terror of being financially duped, cheated or swindled, not to say robbed—probably because he is himself perpetually engaged in financial duping.

If the tramper does not succeed in disarming by one means or another Norman distrust his tramping life in Normandy will be made a burden to him. Norman distrust can be disarmed, but it cannot be disarmed in an instant, a l'Americaine. It takes time to do it—the Norman is the last person in the world to deliver—and there is no social device to be mentioned in the same breath with drinking for courteously consuming time.

If the tramper asks a simple question at a farmhouse he cannot decently linger—not in Normandy—after his question is answered. If he makes a petty purchase in a store his situation is only a trifle less awkward, since he is morally obliged to retire as soon as the transaction is completed. On the other hand, he has only to order a drink—in this country of cider and applejack every store and nearly every farmhouse sells liquor—to be entitled to sit at a table for as long as he wills it and to talk.—Booklovers' Magazine.

How Fishes Talk.

Fishes undoubtedly communicate with their fellows. Even if they cannot "talk," they have other means of communication that are better adapted to their needs. We know how readily fishes recognise their mates and how quickly brooding fishes repel intruders of their own or other species. Something besides seeing them—perhaps some sense of which we have no conception—may do this. Many fishes communicate with their fellows by means of sounds produced through the medium of their air bladders, by grinding their teeth together and in various other ways.

The sense of touch is highly developed in many fishes and doubtless enables them to communicate. The sense of taste, located all over the skin in some fishes, in the fins in others, and the sense of smell, strongly developed in some forms of submarine life, also must be aids to communication.—St. Nicholas.

Landing in France.

A traveler in France in the early part of the nineteenth century describes his landing at Boulogne by means of a small boat as follows: "The boat rowed toward the nearest shore until it ran aground, which happened in the midst of the breakers. In an instant the boat was surrounded by a throng of women up to their middles and over, who were there to carry us on shore. Not being aware of these maneuvers, we did not throw ourselves into the arms of these sea nymphs so readily as we might have done, whereby those who sat in the stern of the boat were deluged with sea spray."

Ready to Believe It.

Sociable Native—I suppose you know these sand dunes move? That one over there has traveled nearly a quarter of a mile since I've been living here.

Traveler (who had been detained six hours by a railway washout)—Don't doubt it in the least. I can't imagine anything or anybody staying in this town that could possibly get away.

FROST'S

DIAMOND HALL

APSLEY ITEMS.

A very successful concert and social was held in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Apsley on Fair night. A great number who had come in to attend the show remained for the concert so that the attendance was all that could be desired.

The programme of singing, dialogues, and addresses was up to the mark both as to quality and quantity. Rev. Mr. Vail, assistant English Church clergyman, acted as chairman in a very acceptable manner. Mr. Vail has the happy knack of keeping people interested and amused and his short address was listened to with pleasure. The talented young ladies of Apsley assisted by Misses Hall, of Clydesle and Mr. Rowin, Presbyterian student, also helped to make the evening an enjoyable one. After it was over coffee and cake was served for which the greater number remained. A very substantial sum was realised and hearty thanks are due to those of other denominations who were so kind as to help.

On Sunday evening of last week the annual Harvest Festival was held in the English church in Apsley. Rev. Mr. Lord and Rev. Mr. Vail conducted the services. The church was very elaborately and tastefully decorated with fruits and grains for the occasion.

Mrs Marshall and her daughter, Miss Alice, of Parry Sound, who having been visiting with relatives in Chandos and Anstruther, returned home on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. David Weir and family, of Lakehurst, took in the Apsley show this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastland returned recently from a very enjoyable trip to Montreal and other points east.

LATEST SPORT

QUAKER FOOTBALL TEAM'S GOOD RECORD.

Very Successful Season was Experienced by the Club.

Their Record in Midland and City League—Champions of Latter.

The Quaker Football Team intend holding a concert in the near future which will be a fitting climax to the very successful season which this club has enjoyed. The team are champions of the City League and their showing in the Midland League was most creditable one. The team at all times play good fast football and both on and off the field conducted themselves as gentlemen.

In the Midland League the team played six games, winning three, losing two and tying one, scoring eight goals to their opponents' six. In the City League the team won three games and lost one, scoring eleven goals to three of their opponents. The following games were played:—

MIDLAND LEAGUE.

The games were played on the grounds of the first mentioned club:—

May 7—Keene, 1; Quakers, 1.
May 11—Quakers, 3; Caughnawaga, 1.
May 14—Quakers, 2; Harwood, 0.
May 17—Harwood, 0; Quakers, 2.
May 28—Caughnawaga, 2; Quakers, 0.
June 4—Keene defaulted.
June 18—At Tweed—Deseronto, 3; Quakers, 1.

CITY LEAGUE.

June 27—Quakers, 3; Old Country Wanderers, 3.
June 29—Quakers, 3; Y. M. C. A., 0.
July 6—Quakers, 3; O. C. W., 0.
July 11—Quakers, 5; Y. M. C. A., 0.

The members of the team that layed in Midland League and City League games are as follows:—

E. Belleghem, goal.
Jos. Doris and Ben Simpson, backs.
Forwards—W. Graham, centre; J. Guerin and L. Brooks, right wing; C. Fitzgerald, S. Snider and E. Renton, W. Perdue, S .D .Moore.

J. Guerin scored eight goals out of 19 scored by Quakers.

The officers of Quakers' club are as follows:—

A. R. MacDonald, Hon. President.
M. J .Kern, President.
T. J. Grant, 1st Vice-President.
O. C. Callander, 2nd Vice-President.
J. E. Sullivan, Manager.
J. D. Moore, Sec.-Treas.

The Quakers expect to be in the game next season stronger than ever and with a determinationto carry off the Midland League Pennant. The club has been organized but two seasons and have certainly done creditable work. The team reached the semi-finals but was beaten by Deseronto in a very close game, which for the greater portion of the time was in favour of the Quakers, who were very unfortunate in their shooting. It was the general opinion that had they won the match, they would have captured the Stratton Trophy.

Seventeen players figured on the team during the season and all did good work. The defence was particularly strong as will be seen from the fact that, but nine goals were scored all season and three of these were scored in one City League game when the team was greatly crippled. Belleghem in goal was always a hard man to pass, while Doris and Simpson at full back did splendid work all season. On the half-back line, P. Fitzgerald at centre, was the feature and his work in every game was of the best. Mr .Guerin and Parnell also figured in most of the games giving splendid service. Donaldson, McEwan and Patton were also prominent in the games in which they were on the line-up. The forwards were changed from time to time, but are all worthy of commendation for their good work.

Under the management of Mr. J. Sullivan the team has had a most successful season and the prospects for next year are also good.

The study of "First Aid to the Injured" will be taken up this year at the Y.M.C.A. conducted by the Physical Director. No extra charge will be made for this course. 2. The organs of circulation, heart blood-vessels and lungs, and the treatment of hemorrhages.

3. The nervous system. How to deal with insensibility, to treat shock after severe injury, concussion of brain, compression of brain, apoplexy, to distinguish a case of intoxication from that of general insensibility, epilepsy, syncope, hysterical fits, sunstroke, electric shock, convulsions in children, etc.

4. Wounds and injuries of the skin —The treatment of bruises, wounds, frost bite, burns and scalds, snake bites.

5. The respiratory system. — How to practice artifical respiration, how to resuscitate a drowning person, or one who has been made insensible with poisonous gas or smoke.

6. Poisons and poisoning.—How to treat poisons and their antidotes.

7. Injuries of special organs. How to treat foreign body in eye, ear, nose, throat and lungs.

8. Bandaging.—How to tie the different kinds of bandages, and how to apply them.

9. How to carry patients.

10. Stretcher transportation.

This course is prescribed by the St. John Ambulance Association.

At the end of the course an examination will be held on the subject, and those passing satisfactorily will receive a diploma from the Society, which will allow them free access to any place of accident.

This very important class will be held each Saturday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock.

CUTICURA

Soap, Ointment and Pills the World's Greatest Skin Cures.

Complete Treatment for Every Humour, from Pimple to Scrofula.

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

The grandest testimonial that can be offered the Cuticura remedies is their world-wide sale, due to the personal recommendations of those who have used them. From a small beginning in the simplest form, against prejudices and opposition, against monied hosts, countless rivals, and trade indifference, Cuticura remedies have become the greatest curatives of their time, and, in fact, of all time, for nowhere in the history of medicine is to be found another approaching them in popularity and sale. In every clime and with every people they have met with the same reception. The confines of the earth are the only limits to their growth. They have conquered the world.

Cuticura Resolvent, Liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., Sole Proprietors.

Two Weeks' Sale—from Wednesday, October 5th

A GREAT SALE FROM EVERY VIEW-POINT

A sale that involves desirable selling lines We realise the amount of work in preparing for the Xmas trade. Therefore reductions have been made on all Crockery (including Dinner and Tea Sets), Wall Papers, Trunks and Valises. We must clear our second flat—which is now a show room in the above lines—into one where Santa Claus has visited for years. Don't overlook this saving opportunity, as it means dollars saved to you. We were so busy last week we could not get the handbills distributed through the town. They will surprise every one who reads them. Some of our fellow-merchants claim that we must steal the goods, or that they are old stock, in order to make such sweeping underpriced clearances. Pay no attention to any of these stories. Come and see for yourselves.

Laurier and the Larger Canada

Sir Wilfrid Laurier In Brock Street Rink On October 20th

Sir Wilfrid Laurier:
(IN A RECENT SPEECH)

Gentlemen, I do not know how many years Providence has reserved for me. I am not as young as I was. My opponents say that I have many faults. I must admit that I have one which I would like to correct. I am getting old at the rate of twelve months every year, but I believe I will live long enough to see that railway built and to see the merchandise of Asia and Europe passing and repassing along it, as well as the trade of Canada. I hope to see steamers leaving Quebec and Montreal loaded with the products of the Orient and returning again with cargoes for the west to be shipped via Port Simpson to the trading centres of the east. The future of our country is immense. If ever I had confidence in my country, and God knows I always did, if ever I had faith in my own country, it is since I began to study this plan for the new railway.

WEDDING BELLS.

Miss Edith Long, of Apsley, Married to Mr. George Lean.

A quiet wedding ceremony was performed on Wednesday afternoon, at the George street Methodist parsonage, when by Rev. Dr. Crothers, Mr. George Lean of Lakefield, was married to Miss Edith Long, daughter of Mrs. Caleb Long, of Apsley. The bride, who was attended by her cousin, Miss Bella Long, was dressed in a gray ladies' cloth suit, while the bridesmaid was similarly attired. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the residence of Mr. Geo. Long, the uncle of the bride, east ward, where a dainty wedding dinner was served, and the happy couple drove to their future home in Lakefield.

LANG AND MAHER AT KEENE FAIR.

Enterprise of the New "Daylight Clothing Store," of Peterborough.

The new hustling firm of clothiers Lang & Maher, George street, Peterborough, were well represented at Keene, during the Fair. Their advertisers were early in the village, bidding for the trade of Otonabee farmers and their sons. Good publicity was given to their business by large painted bulletins, circulars, fancy lithographed printing and other effective advertising.

Lang & Maher's clothing has already become noted for one thing—it fits all over. The usual defects of sagging collar and stopping shoulders of the coat are not to be seen in their "Sovereign" brand and other high-class styles of clothing. The collar is hand-fitted, stayed and close fitting, the shoulders nicely concaved, and every detain that custom-made garments have are to be seen. Get away with the idea that you can't be fitted with Lang & Maher's fine clothing. They have got out of the beaten path, and got into the way of the clothing maker who has originated something which excels in every respect. Style and economy walk arm in arm at "The Daylight Store," —there's no high ruling prices because the quality is high. The firm claim that you could not get more service if you paid a merchant tailor nearly double their prices.

For men who want to be warm and well dressed, their line of overcoats present strong claims for attention. They have a full and complete range of winter top coats in every material wanted by the up-to-date dresser of to-day, and the goods are as represented or back goes your money. Everything in their store being new, it's a good and reliable store for winter underwear, gloves, hosiery, and gentlemen's outfitting's of every kind. To make a long story short, get a date on with Lang & Maher quick.

GEN. STOESSEL STILL CHEERFUL

Garrison is Heroic, the Wounded Return to the Defence.

NORTHERN OPERATIONS

Unconfirmed Reports of Another Great Naval Fight off Port Arthur and Another Assault on the Fortress.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5th. — General Stoessel, in a despatch from Port Arthur, which was dated September 30, says: "After bloody assaults from the 19th to the 23rd September there has been comparative tranquility around the fortress. On the night of September 23rd, the Japanese after being repulsed by Lieut. Poggorsky, fled in panic. They are now working very actively, and are approaching by a tunnel and entrenchments. The bombardments was maintained both upon the forts and the buildings within the fortress.

"We made sorties frequently, driving back the enemy. The repulse of the last attack was especially due to Lieut. Poggorsky, General Kondratenko, Col. Irman, and Captain Sychaff. The spirit of the troops is heroic. Wounded men are every day returning from the hospitals to the ranks.

"We pray to God for victory and for the health of your Majesty."

Rumor of Great Naval Battle.

London, Oct. 5. — A news agency here late to-night sent out a despatch dated Tokio, October 5th, saying: "It is reported that the Russian squadron made a sortie from Port Arthur to-day, and that a great naval battle occurred." No details are given.

More Assaults.

London, October 6. — The Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent says that on September 24-25, the Japanese made repeated and recklessly brave attempts to capture High Hill at Port Arthur. Owing to the destruction of earth works their advance was completely unprotected, and under the rays of the searchlight the Russian machine guns swept them down in masses. "More troops however came on with fanatical bravery," the correspondent adds, "leaping over the bodies of their dead comrades. Then the Russians emboldened by their success, sortied. The Japanese replied with machine guns. It was the first time the Japanes had been able to entice the Russians from their shelterss, and they worked terrible havoc among them.

Appalling Scene.

"The scene next morning was appaling. The hillside was strewn with mingled Russian and Japanese bodies, some of them gripped with ghastly realism. Boulders were trickling with blood. A brief message was received to-day. It is on torn paper in Chinese and signed by General Stoessel. It states that all had been quiet since the 25th, and that the Japanese again had asked for and were refused a truce to buy their dead. An official Japanese statement admits the repulse and confesses the necessity of a resort to a passive siege. Enteric fever has broken out in the garrison at Port Arthur."

Next Theatre of Operations.

Tokio, Oct. 5, 8 p.m.—It is evident that the country, which is embraced by an irregular triangle, the apex of which is Tie Pass, with the base running from Mukden to Fushan, on the upper reaches of the Hun River, will soon be the theatre of extended and extensive military operations. The Russians are apparently using Tie Pass as their main base, and are constructing a series of defences to shield it from the south and the east. Two roadways approach Tie Pass from the south. One is the main highway from Mukden and the other, which is smaller, starts at Fushan, and winds through a hilly country. Ineteen miles north of ukden is the town of Yilu, the south and eastern approaches to which are sheltered by sharp ridges, offering a natural protection. It is reported here that the Russians are strongly intrenching on these ridges, and are erecting semi-permanent fortifications. The Yilu River, which is shallow and fordable runs through the town.

THE P. O. DEPARTMENT.

It is significant that the Conservatives say very little about the Post Office Department. Their insight tells them that it is a department which now enjoys public confidence in a remarkable degree in consequence of the splendid reforms brought about by Sir William Mulock including a reduction in the cost and an increase in the efficiency and revenue of the service.

The financial results accomplished are exceedingly satisfactory. In 1895 there was a deficit of nearly $800,000. These had always been deficits under the Conservative Government; it was supposed they were inevitable. After Sir William had been in office two years, the balance on the wrong side was cut down to less than $50,000, whereupon he felt justified in trying the experiment of lowering the postage rates, which Sir Charles Tupper said meant throwing away a million dollars. In 1898 mainly through his efforts, the rate on letters between Canada and the United Kingdom was reduced from five to two cents per half-ounce. The year after, the domestic rate on letters in Canada was reduced from three to two cents, as also the rate between Canada and the United States.

Naturally, the revenue fell in consequence but it recovered by 1902 when there was a small surplus on the year's operations. In 1903 the surplus had risen to $300,000, although in addition to the reduction of rates he had all along been paying for the Yukon service, which was not in existence when he entered office, and which from the nature of things involved large outlay with trifling revenue. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, there will doubtless be another surplus of considerable size. The Post Office for the first time in its history, is now a self-sustaining department and something better.

It is contended by the Conservatives, who do not like to admit what is now notorious, that by comparison they made a sorry muddle of Post Office affairs, that the reduction in the rates of postage is not a gain to the farmer and mechanic but only to corporations and merchants who purchase large quantities of stamps in the course of their business. As a matter of fact, the cost of the Post Office Department is now paid for by those who make use of it, and by such people only. But when there were deficits ranging from $650,000 to $800,000, as happened under the Conservatives, these had to be made good by extra taxes on the whole people. Under the present order of things we have, first, lower postage rates, and, secondly, a surplus that goes to reduce the burdens of the taxpayers at large. It is obvious, then, that everybody is profiting by Sir William Mulock's capable management and that of his highly competent deputy, Dr. Coulter.

MR. BORDEN'S UNENDORSED RAILWAY POLICY.

Where is the reputable Conservative journal that endorses Hon. Mr. Borden's policy of government ownership of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway? The Mail and Empire received the proposition in icy silence. The Montreal Gazette, the leading Conservative journal in Quebec, and one of the most ably conducted Conservative journals in the Dominion, rejects it in toto. The only Conservative journal of wide circulation, which endorsed the proposition, was the Toronto World, which has a fad for municipal and government ownership. Nor are the Conservative journals to blame. Mr. Borden has devised three distinct transcontinental railway policies, and the journals have doubtless got them mixed, or, being committed to one of the first two policies, did not think it worth while to grow red in the face over the last new railway policy, which might be changed any fine day.

NO CHANCE FOR JOBBERY.

Doubtless with the milking of the first Canadian Pacific contract in mind, and thinking that others would do as their party had done, some Conservative authorities are throwing out insinuations, or making direct assertions, that the Transcontinental commissioners and the members of the Cabinet, are "manipulating contracts" on the Eastern, of Government, Division of the Grand Trunk Pacific in order "to raise campaign funds and strengthen the Liberal party generally in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces."

That is maliciously, as well as absurdly false. Under the law which is practically the act of 1867, governing the construction of the Intercolonial Railway, the line must be built by tender and contract after the plans and specifications have been duly advertised, and no contract involving an outlay of more than $10,000 can be concluded by the commissioners without the sanction of the Governor-in-Council.

And further as the Grand Trunk Pacific Company, has to pay an annual rental to the Government for the use of the Eastern Section, namely, three per cent on the cost of construction, the company is deeply interested in seeing that the cost of construction shall be kept down to the lowest figure compatible with good workmanship. A high cost of construction, entailing a high rental would, of course, involve high rates, so that the public is as much concerned as the company itself, in an economical construction of the road. To ensure this, section 7 of the agreement of 1903, between the Government and the company, provides that the specifications shall be submitted to, and approved by, the company, before the work is begun, and secondly, that the work shall be subject to the "joint supervision, inspection and acceptance" of the chief engineer of the Government, and the chief engineer of the company, who, in case of dispute, shall call in a third man.

How are the contracts to be "manipulated" under such conditions? Every item of the work must be conducted in a manner that shall satisfy the Grand Trunk Pacific Company and its engineers, who are so profoundly interested in keeping down the expenditure. Value will be had for every dollar paid out, because the company has to pay rental on the basis of total cost.

But does anybody think a Conservative Government would insert such a protecting clause in a contract? Did it do so in the case of the Canadian Pacific?

AN EXPLANATION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The ratepayers of S. S. No. 4, Smith, are complaining of their taxes being raised this year and asking the reason which is as follows.

The County rate for 1904 the same as 1903; the township rate for 1904 the same as 1903; the general statutory school levy the same as 1903. The debenture debt $300 with interest less and consequently the advance in taxes must be credited to the levy of the local school board of S. S. No. 4, Smith.

Yours respectfully,
ED. M. ELLIOTT,
Ex Reeve of Township of Smith.

RAIN COULD NOT SPOIL KEENE FAIR.

Annual Fair of Otonabee Agricultural Society a Success.

Enteries Less Numerous Than Last Year, but of Good Quality—The Entry List.

The elements put up a big fight against the success of the Otonabee Agricultural Society's annual Fair, which was held yesterday at Keene, but, although its success was affected to a certain extent, it was not by any means a failure, and when it is considered that during almost the entire afternoon, a drizzling rain fell, the showing made at the Fair grounds in the afternoon, when seven or eight hundred people were on the grounds, was a remarkably good one, and speaks volumes for the interest which the residents of Otonabee take in the Fair, which is essentially a farmer's exhibition, and out of which any township might well be proud.

The entries this year, by reason of the unfavourable weather, doubtless, were somewhat below what they were last year, the total number of entries this year being 745, against 936 in 1903. Had the weather yesterday been fine, the Fair this year would have been far ahead of any previous year, both in point of attendance and number of entries.

At noon the rain was simply coming down in torrents, and many who had fully intended to attend the Fair were prevented from doing so, and during the whole afternoon showers fell at frequent intervals, interfering greatly with the programme of races, and with the comfort of the visitors in taking in the outside exhibits of the Fair.

The stock exhibit, notwithstanding the fact that it was not nearly as large as it would have been had the weather been fine, was excellent, and some first class animals were shown, particularly in roadster horses, of which there was a large number, the competition in this class being very keen. In agricultural horses, both light and heavy, there were also a good number of entries, while in cattle the grades predominated, with Durhams and the beef varieties next in point of numbers. A comparatively small showing of the dairy breeds was made.

In swine only two breeds were represented, the Tamworths and the Yorkshires, showing that the bacon hog is growing in popularity among breeders over the heavy animals of the past.

In the building devoted to the display of goods and products usually shown under cover, the showing was excellent. The vegetables were not only shown in profusion but the quality was unsurpassed, and the same might be said, with equal truth, of the fruit and grain, while the section devoted to ladies' work was during the whole afternoon visited by scores of ladies, who were loud in their praises of the splendid array of really first-class exhibits in this particular class.

Three good races were on the cards yesterday, a green trot, free for all trot, and a running race.

The races this year were run off with a great deal more satisfaction than in former years, due to the great improvements made in the track since the date of the last Fair. The grounds have been made larger, and a good one third of a mile track has been laid out, and by next year the grounds of the Otonabee Agricultural Society will compare very favourably with those of fairs making much greater pretensions. The track has been made nearly level, and the space inside the ring has been sown with grass, making a decided improvement.

The rain which fell during the day made the track on the lower end very heavy, consequently no very fast time was made in the races.

Captain Harris brought about 200 persons from points on Rice Lake by the steamer North Star, while the Sovereign also carried quite a number.

Peterborough merchants were represented by Messrs. Grafton & Co., who had an exhibit of clothing in the building; Lang & Maher, the latter member of the firm being on the grounds, while numbers of signs conspicuously placed around the grounds caught the eyes of the people, and the Coughlin Monumental Works, Mr. Godfrey Coughlin having charge of a display of photographs of monuments which was in the building.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

GRAFTON & COMPANY'S CLOTHING.

Grafton & Company of Peterborough, were on hand at the Fair, with an exhibit of their clothing, and the portion of the building devoted to this company's exhibit proved an attractive corner for the hundreds of visitors who were on the grounds, and who during at least a part of the day, found it much more pleasant inside the building than on the grounds. As a consequence of this, coupled with the fact that the exhibit in itself was one which was attractive, Grafton & Company's corner was one of the most frequented of any on the grounds.

The firm showed a representative line of ready-to-wear men's and children's clothing, including suits, overcoats and rain-coats, in almost unlimited varieties, and the exhibit gave but a suggestion of the enormous stock of high-grade garments which this firm shows in its store in Peterborough, which is but one of a chain of stores owned and operated by this firm.

From early morning the firm's representatives were on the grounds, and the result of their work was that by the time the crowds began to arrive the fact that Grafton & Company made and sold high-grade garments was proclaimed from scores of signs conspicuously placed on every vantage point on the grounds.

One great advantage possessed by this firm over other clothing firms, is that they manufacture their own grounds in their factory in Dundas, and from there the chain of stores owned by them is supplied. This fact enables the store to sell to much better advantage to their customers, and as a consequence the business of Grafton & Company is gaining rapidly. The exhibit was effectively arranged under the superintendence of Mr. Herb Conway, assisted by Peterborough's popular decorator, Mr. Alf Kingscote, tent, sail and awning maker. Mr. Robert Howland, the firm's agile advertising man, showed good judgment in placing the signs and advertising matter. Along the main street, on the fences and buildings of the show grounds and the precincts of the Fair, the large coloured lithographs of the firm were prominently displayed.

THE ENGLISH ROMANIES

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE NOTED RACE OF GYPSIES.

One of the Most Superstitious Races in the World and Yet for the Most Part Without Any Religion—Honorable Among Themselves—Aristocracy Amongst Gypsies Preserved Yet By a Few Families.

The real Romanies have always been looked upon as a mysterious people. Learned philologists have long disputed the vexed question of the origin, and less instructed folk have alternately feared and despised them. They rank even now among the most superstitious races in the world, and yet they are for the most part a race without a religion. The one aim and object of their lives has always been to get the better of every one they meet who is not a gypsy, and the success which has attended their efforts is proof of their shrewdness and keen insight into character. Except when they have some end to serve they are a proud and reserved people, holding themselves aloof even from other "men of the road." Very few of them can read or write, and yet they are capable of imposing upon people who make considerable pretension to wisdom. Among themselves they are strictly honorable in their dealings; one never hears of a gypsy cheating another member of his tribe. The constancy of the women to the men has often been commented upon, and is the more surprising from the fact that the women often have to do all the hard work and earn money for the men, while the latter spend their days in idleness. Yet the men look upon the women as being superior, in many respects, to themselves, and some of them have a measure of belief in their wives' and mothers' assumed supernatural powers.

Inter-marriage with the house-dwellers has made it difficult to distinguish the real Romany from the sham; but there are still a few families which preserve their racial distinction. A pure-bred Romany "chal" is generally a handsome fellow, and among the Romany "chies" are girls of great beauty and graceful bearing. Such "chals" and "chies" are usually found among the better class of gypsies, known among themselves as "griengroes," or horse-dealers. These "griengroes" are the gypsy aristocracy; they are often well-to-do wanderers, living in smart, comfortably furnished traveling vans, and carrying on extensive dealings at country markets and horse fairs. To this class belonged the Jasper Petulengro of Borrow's "Lavengro," and Panuel and Sinfi Lovell of Mr. Watts-Dunton's "Aylwin."

Like Borrow's Rovers.

At the present time some of the Lees, Stanleys, Hernes and Greys are "griengroes," and it is among the men and women of these families that the best specimens of the genuine gypsy are to be found. Fault was found with Borrow because he described the Romanies as being a superior type of rovers than they were generally supposed to be—he was charged with idealizing a people who were no better than common vagrants. It must be remembered, however—and the fact has already been urged in Borrow's defence—that it was among the "griengroes" that he spent the time he devoted to the study of gypsy life. Descendants of one or two of the families from which he drew his Romany characters are still wandering about the eastern counties, and they may sometimes be seen encamped on a common near the site of his old home. They have no recollection of the Lavengro (word-master) who used to visit their father's tents; but if Borrow could meet some of them he would not find them very different from the men whom he encountered many years ago at Norman Cross and on Norwich Castle Hill.

One can quite understand the attitude formerly adopted by country folk towards the Romany. It was one of hostility, resulting from frequent occasions on which the gypsy had got the better of them in bargaining, and fear owing to the swarthy rover's reputation as a formidable fighting man. At the beginning of the present century some of the most noted pugilists were gypsies, and their descendants have inherited much of their skill at fisticuffs. The life the Romany leads renders him alert and active, and when a quarrel ends in a tussel between a gypsy and a "gorgio," as the Romany calls any one who is not a gypsy, it is generally the "gorgio" who goes under. Almost all the Romany "chals" are admirable horsemen, and some of the older patrons of our horse fairs can remember the days when it was no uncommon thing to see a gypsy riding about a fair ground standing erect upon the back of a horse. They are nimble dancers, too, though gypsy balls are now seldom heard of. One of the Greys, well known in East Anglia, is a skilled clog dancer, and has even carried off prizes in districts where most people are familiar with the "clang of the wooden shoon."

Gypsy Women.

Of the gypsy women much might be written; but Borrow has given us in Mrs. Herne a masterly description of the wrinkled fortune-telling sybil that is convincing in its absolute trueness to life, and now Mr. Watts-Dunton in writing the story of Sinfi Lovell has shown us what the best type of Romany girls are like. From the moment when Aylwin encounters her in the ale-house in the course of his search for Winifred, Sinfi cast a spell upon us, and the fascination of her character increases as we come to know her better. She charms us even more than does Isopel Berners, whom Lavengro taught Haik in the dingle; but Isopel Berners, though a "nomadic woman," was not a real Romany. There is every probability that Sinfi Lovell will remain the one really "living" gypsy girl of English fiction, for although in her Mr. Watts-Dunton has portrayed a Romany "chi," well known in Bohemian circles some years ago, he has embodied in her all that is characteristic of the genuine gypsy girl.

Among the younger gypsies of the present day the old Romany tongue is nearly forgotten; but some of the older men and women can "rokker Romany" almost as well as could old Mrs. Herne and George Borrow himself. Fifty years ago the "griengroes" often employed the strange language of their people when engaged in horse-dealing transactions, finding it useful when they had matters to discuss that were not meant for the ears of the despised "gorgio." One of the oldest gypsy women in East Anglia is supposed to be the most fluent speaker of Romany now alive, and attempts have been made to persuade her to let persons interested in philological studies take down in writing the words she uses and their meaning. But she has no faith in the "gorgios'" protestations that they intend no harm to herself and her people by their anxiety to record her strange saying, and it is only on the infrequent occasions when she is caught off her guard that some smattering is obtained of her curious knowledge. The younger gypsies, as a rule, have no idea that the words used by their parents are anything more than convenient slang; but if assured that they are the relics of ancient eastern tongues, they do not deny the fact, and are content to let the "gorgio" believe what he likes. The Romanies whom Borrow knew called him "Lavengro" because he understood their strange remarks among themselves, but if the rovers of to-day knew as much Romany as their fathers did they would say: "The 'gorgio' thinks he is clever because he reads 'lils;' but the 'choori' Romany knows more than the 'kairengro.' The stranger thinks he is clever because he reads books; but the poor gypsy knows more than the house-dweller."

Death of Dr. Mallory.

Colborne, Oct. 5.—The death occurred here yesterday of Dr. Albert E. Mallory, registrar of East Northumberland, and for many years a prominent figure in Liberal politics. He was elected in 1887 for East Northumberland, was unseated and defeated in the bye-election. He was appointed registrar in 1889. Dr. Mallory was born at Cobourg in February, 1849, educated at Albert College, Belleville, graduated at McGill, and started medical practice at Warkworth, Ont.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by all druggists.

Martins Go For Trial.

Toronto, Oct. 5.—Alexander John Martin and his wife Ethel Martin were yesterday morning committed for trial at the November Assizes on the charge of murdering their infant near Coatsworth's Cut. Press On Balfour's Speech.

London, Oct. 5.—The Morning Post says there can be no doubt whatever as to the results of the conference proposed by Premier Balfour. His announcement of his views is the most important incident in the recent history of the Imperial movement. It carries with it his definite approval of Mr. Chamberlain's policy and makes it possible for every Minister, if he likes, to advocate Mr. Chamberlain's views and pledges the Unionist party to the policy of Imperial consolidation whatever changes in the fiscal policy of the country may be necessary.

France-Spanish Treaty.

Paris, Oct. 5.—The Foreign Office expects the signing of the treaty between France and Spain relative to Morocco within a few days. The agreement will supplement the Anglo-French treaty, whereby France secured paramount authority in Morocco. Head About to Burst From Severe Bilious Attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these Tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Mal-nutrition under many aliases is killing hundreds of thousands every year

Nearly every disease that is prevalent can be traced to improper food. An ill-nourished body is an invitation to disease. If you are eating heat- and fat-producing foods such as butter, white-flour bread, fat meats, etc., you are neglecting the vital elements of your body—the principles which build muscle, bone, brain, tissue and nerves, the elements which resist the attacks of disease.

To be free from sickness you must build up every element in your body.

HALL OPENS THE HARVEY EXHIBITION

Liberal Candidate for West Peterborough at Lakehurst Yesterday.

A Successful Fair—Great Progress of the Country Reviewed—Mr. Hall's Address.

The weather did not smile on the Harvey Township Exhibition, which was held on Wednesday at Lakehurst, but even the rain, which fell heavily at different intervals during the day, did not dampen the ardour of the directors and patrons of the Fair, which, it was the general opinion, was among the best ever held in Harvey. The attendance considering the very unfavourable weather conditions, was large, while the exhibits in every class were splendid. The entry list was fully up to the average in numbers and the quality was of the best. The stock exhibit, especially of horses and colts, was particularly fine, and there is no doubt but that a marked improvement is being shown every year in this respect. The exhibit of colts yesterday would compare favourably with those shown at any of the township fairs. The directors have every reason to be gratified with the success of the Fair and with the improvement that is being shown in the exhibits from year to year.

Mr. Elliott was pleased to see so many present on such a disagreeable day. It showed that the people of the township were interested in their exhibition, and anxious to make it as successful as possible. He referred to the marked improvement in the stock since the inauguration of the exhibition in Harvey, and the present standard reached was one of much excellence. Individual competition had been a prime factor in effecting this improvement in the quality of the stock and in the general exhibits. Mr. Elliott then introduced Mr R. R. Hall, the first speaker.

He then called upon Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate for West Peterborough, to formally open the exhibition. Mr. Hall in his address gave a rapid but clear review of the growth of the agricultural industry in Canada during the past decade. He began by congratulating the President and Secretary of the Society upon the success which had attended their efforts, and upon the large number which was present, showing their interest in the Fair, notwithstanding the unfavourable weather. He further congratulated the people of Harvey upon the splendid show and exhibition they had made of horses and live stock, and drew special attention to the beautiful and artistic work which the ladies of Harvey had on exhibition. Mr. Hall pointed out that the very fact that the Fair was held each year had a marked tendency where one neighbour met in competition with another, to improve the class of horses, cattle and other farm stock, and to stimulate to the most improved and up-to-date methods in farming. The fact that similar results were being adopted in other parts of the county, and, indeed, the country at large, had shown itself in a marked degree in the trade which Canada now enjoys with Great Britain. Continuing, he referred to the importance of improved transportation facilities. The Government was expending millions of dollars to the best advantage in the improvement of canals and railways, so as to furnish the cheapest possible freight rates for all the products of the farm, and to enable the farmers to have their products landed in the British markets in the best possible condition. Cars, containing refrigerators, and sea-going vessels containing cold storage facilities had been given every encouragement. Seventeen ocean going vessels, containing cold storage facilities, had been established in one year, and they had been subsequently increased to thirty. The result had been that during the past seven years, the exports of butter from this country to Great Britain had jumped from one million dollars to seven million dollars, and the butter has been landed in the British markets in such a perfect condition that when compared with the butter produced in other countries the Canadian is labelled "a little better than the best." Canada's exports of cheese during the last seven years had increased from 13 million to 25 million pounds per year. The exports of bacon, hams, and pork has increased during the past seven years from $4,400,000 to over $16,000,000. The exports of eggs had increased during the same time from eight hundred thousand to over one million four hundred thousand and the exports of poultry from $18,000 to over nine times as much.

Mr. Hall emphasised the fact that these satisfactory results showed that Canada was a progressive country, and was taking the lead as one of the great producing powers of the world. He showed that during the last eight years the total trade of Canada had increased from 211 million dollars to 439 million dollars, an increase of 107 per cent. No other country in the world had in the same period of time showed such remarkable development. The only country in the world that approached Canada in the rapid growth of foreign trade was Japan, whose trade had increased during the same time from 133 million dollars to 262 million dollars, being an increase of 97 per cent. He referred particularly to the fact that Japan's total trade was still 117 millions less than that of Canada. This is a fact of which Canadians should be proud, when we consider that Japan is not only holding at bay, but she is driving before her one of the greatest military powers of Europe. We have, the speaker said, a magnificent country, with wonderful resources, and great prosperity and it remained with the Canadian people in every section to be active and alive to opportunities to create wealth, as the good people of Harvey, who have shown commendable spirit and enterprise in the most excellent exhibition they have just held.

SOMETHING OUT OF THE USUAL.

A Second Millinery Opening Event at Miss Delaney's.

Our formal autumn opening of millinery in September was such an unbounded success, that we have arranged for a second opening to continue during the remainder of this week. An inspection of the new displays will reveal still later novelties than those shown last month—new ideas in materials, shapes, trimmings and colour effects. The most beautiful modes in millinery will be on view, representing the ultra fashionable ready-to-wear hats for fall and winter. Especially charming effects by expert designers and millinery artists of New York City, exquisite picture hats from Paris and artistic productions of our own milliners.

We invite every lady in Peterborough and vicinity to visit our show rooms for ideas on Friday and Saturday, especially. We take it for granted that the ladies of Peterborough are willing to appreciate exclusive novelties, as seen at present in the cities, and that their judgment will be that we have the knack of getting together the nicest things at the most popular prices.

The costumes were brilliant and the general effect produced throughout was of a high order. Guy Brothers are always sure of a hearty welcome here.

IMPROVEMENTS AT "GROVE" SCHOOL.

Lakefield Preparatory School more Than Doubled in Size.

Some of the Improvements—Good Work of Best Stove Company—Rev. A. W. MacKenzie's Enterprise.

The "Grove" Preparatory School, at Lakefield, has during the last few months, undergone almost a complete transformation, and now the school is one of the best, if not absolutely so, of its kind in the country. Rev. A. W. MacKenzie, the principal, some months ago recognised that the increasing number of students demanded increased accommodation, and with a view of providing this, and enlarging the scope of the business by securing a wider interest in it, he formed a joint stock company.

This done he proceeded to effect the enlargements necessary and the result is as stated that the school today is a credit to its founder and principal, as well as to the village and county.

Standing upon a prominence overlooking the harbour at Lakefield, and the beautiful bay, the school occupies a commanding position, and from its windows beautiful stretches of land and water are seen.

The work of remodelling the school has not yet been fully completed, but it is practically so, and increased accommodations have been provided the boys attending this excellent institution.

The original building has been more than doubled in size by the new portions that have been added. New dormitories have been added, as well as new class rooms, and the 25 or 30 boys who are at present domiciled there have every comfort and convenience that would be afforded them in any school in the country, with many additional advantages not possessed by other schools of the kind.

That Mr. MacKenzie's school is a success in the work which it has undertaken is evidenced by the fact that there is a steadily increasing attendance, and with the enlarged building, this increase will be more rapid.

In the building, in both the original and new parts, there has been installed a complete new plumbing and heating system of the most improved kind, the work of installation having been done by the Best Stove Company of Peterborough. The work includes an elaborately fitted up bath room with two baths and a four basin porcelain lavatory. That this company has been able to carry out to such perfect satisfaction a contract of such dimensions as that represented by the work in this school, is decidedly to the credit of the firm, and a fact which will doubtless influence other builders when contracts for similar work are to be let.

The installation work for the Best Company was in charge of Mr. Alex. Archibald, and the thoroughness of the work, which is in every respect satisfactory, is a tribute to the care exercised by the superintendent of the contract and to the firm as well. A large lead-lined water tank on the third floor is constructed as a reservoir to supply the house with the water supply, it in turn being fed by the large wind mill located near the house. This tank was also the work of the Best Stove Company.

The wisdom of the course pursued by Mr. MacKenzie in enlarging his school has already been fully proven, and in the future doubtless evidences of that wisdom will increase. The school is one of which the Lakefield people are very proud, and not without reason. Boys from some of the best families in the country are attending the school, and the thoroughness of the training given is in itself the highest recommendation the institution could have.

SAVED HUSBAND'S MONEY AND ELOPED.

A Peterborough Woman Proves Unfaithful to Her Husband.

From Her Husband's Money She Saved Enough to Elope—Another Case of Misplaced Effection.

A day or two ago an elopment took place from Peterborough.

A young couple who had been married for some years, and who have for some time been living in the south end of the town have separated, although on the part of the husband the separation was an involuntary one.

It appears that the husband, who worked in one of the large industrial concerns of the town, is an industrious, hard-working man, and has always been very good to his wife.

But unfortunately the wife did not fully appreciate this kindness on the part of her husband.

For the last six months a young man has been living at this house, and has not, according to the report, paid any board during this time but has been living on his friends. It is said that about two months ago the husband intimated in rather strenuous language that he had kept this young man long enough, and that it was up to him to get out and earn his living, which he then proceeded to do.

It appears, however, that the wife had developed a fondness for the young man, and it was through her mediation that he was allowed to remain as a guest so long.

The culmination of the episode was when the wife with her young gentleman friend departed, taking with them about $300 which the woman had drawn from the bank in the morning, and the four-year-old son. The fact that the husband was so good to his wife, is probably responsible for his deserted condition. For during the time since their marriage, he had been in the habit of giving his wife his entire earnings on pay day, and she saved all she could from them and deposited it in the bank in her own name. It is also said that he trusted her to pay the rent of their little home and that during the last six months it has not been paid, the money going to swell her personal bank account.

When she had saved sufficient money upon which to elope, she quietly drew her savings and on Saturday afternoon, when her trusting husband was out in the country, she with her young man friend and her young son took their departure, going, it is believed to Montreal.

The husband, who is a man against whom not a word can be said, is feeling very badly over the loss of his child, although his wife's unfaithfulness to him has killed the love he once had for her, and if he could secure his child he would be willing to allow his wife to go.

NEW OFFICERS OF LITERARY ASSOCIATION

Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T. A. S. Arranging Programme.

At a meeting held in the T.A.S. hall last evening complete arrangements were made in connection with the Ladies' Literary Association, which has been in the past, a most flourishing branch of the Total Abstinence Society. Membership tickets will be distributed among the members of the committee this evening, so that those desirous of taking advantage of an excellent library, may do so as soon as possible. The work of the Association has been placed in the hands of a very energetic committee and the present indications are that a most successful season is about to be opened. A meeting of the newly appointed committee resulted in the election of the following officers:—

President—Miss Mary Casey.
Secretary—Miss Marion Carveth.
Treasurer—Miss Fannie Holmes.

The first literary evening will be held Friday, Oct. 14th. An essay on "Marion Crawford," will be read by Miss Carveth, Friday, Oct. 28th.

The BEST STOVE CO

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE.

I. is announced, on the authority of the local Conservative organ, the Review, that Mr. James Kendry, who has represented—or at least has sat, for, West Peterborough for two parliamentary terms, has consented to be the Conservative candidate in the present political contest. It is assumed that this declaration is authoritative, b one can't be too sure. No later than last Saturday Mr. Kendry declared his positive, absolute and fixed refusal of the candidature and yesterday we have the announcement of his acceptance of it. How the situation has been affected since Saturday in a way to influence Mr. Kendry's decision, may not be apparent on the surface, but conjecture need not severely overwork itself in suggesting an explanation. But that is now neither here not there. The point is that Mr. Kendry is a factor to be dealt with in the present contest. He will have ample opportunity to give an account of his stewardship during the past eight years, but if he confines himself to a simple statement of the efforts he has made, and the work he has accomplished, as a representative, in the interests of West Peterborough, he will not run the risk of a very severe attack of brain fag. However, if Mr. Kendry's modesty stands in the way of his taking full self-credit for his extensive services the Examiner frankly offers its humble services in setting forth the extent of Mr. Kendry's efforts and accomplishment in advancing the welfare of West Peterborough, and in demonstrating in what manner he has discharged the important trust the electors have reposed in him on two occasions. Mr. Kendry is now public property and his political and representative career and his relations to, and his claims upon, the electorate to which he is appealing, are legitimate subjects of discussion. In this introductory chapter the Examiner will not enter in detail upon this discussion. While due respect will be paid to Mr. Kendry's good qualities which distinguish him as a citizen, the right is reserved to deal with his record as a representative in a spirit of undisguised frankness. While, of Mr. Kendry, as a citizen, very little, if anything, bad can be said, as a representative very little, if anything, good can be said.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

EXQUISITE, IF UNINTENDED, SARCASM.

The Mail and Empire of October 6th says:

"West Peterborough electors will send their old member back to the House of Commons. For a time it looked as if they would not have the opportunity, for Mr. Kendry announced his intention to withdraw from politics and devote himself exclusively to his private business. We are glad to say that this determination has been overcome. Mr. Kendry has yielded to the persuasions of his leader, and has consented to stand once more FOR THE CONSTITUENCY HE HAS SO FAITHFULLY SERVED THE LAST EIGHT YEARS."

KEEP THE BALL A-ROLLING.

The last official act of Lord Minto was to pass sentence upon election workers of thirty days at hard labour. Let Liberal workers in West Peterborough take this to heart, and rally every night to the work of pushing the campaign to victory. With, steady, persistent and well-directed work on the part of Liberals West Peterborough will be politically redeemed, and provided with a representative who will let the world, the town and the county know that West Peterborough is represented at the Capital. For the past eight years Ottawa has not had West Peterborough's post office address. Buckle to the task of giving this long-suffering riding a friend at court.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

THE CAVAN SWAMP DRAINAGE MATTER.

A Deputation Waits Upon the Government in Regard to Additional Aid.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, C.E., Peterborough, Messrs. W. H. Lough, C. McNeil, T. A. Kelly, Cavan, waited upon the Premier and Provincial Secretary on Tuesday, asking that additional aid to the $3,000 already voted be given for the draining of the 3,000 acres lying between North Monaghan and Mount Pleasant.

The Premier stated in reply to the deputation that he felt the Government had generously assisted the owners of the lands to secure their full value by contributing $3,000 of the $11,000, the estimated cost. However, when the work was completed the Government would consider the conditions to see what they might reasonably be expected to do under the circumstances.

TO REGULATE THE NILE

HUGE PLAN INVOLVES NEW CHANNEL COSTING $27,500,000.

Monumental Project Proposed by Sir William Garstin, Engineer—Has Indorsement of Lord Cromer—Plan Is to Cut New Route From Bahr-el-Ghazal to Avoid Swamp—Surveys of the Line Are Authorized.

On no subject can the Englishman "think Imperially" with more satisfaction to himself than on the achievements of British rule in Egypt, says Black and White. Never, surely, has the mission of Empire been of more unchallenged beneficence or more unselfish inspiration. When we assumed responsibility for the Government of Egypt by crushing the rebellion of Arabi Pacha there were those who shook their heads at what they regarded as the repression of a "subject nation rightly struggling to be free." But few would care to deny to-day that the motto of "Egypt for the Egyptains," which Arabi inscribed on his standard, could not have been fulfilled as faithfully by the revolutionary patriot as it has been by the alien invader who drove him to exile.

The promotion of the welfare of Egypt has become to this country not merely a national duty, but almost a national hobby. Our attitude to this land of ancient wrong that we have taken under our protection has been rather like that of the philanthropist toward the waif that he has reclaimed. The pride in its advancement is commensurate with the solicitude which has brought that advancement about, and every additional benefit conferred is only an incentive to further beneficence.

Witness the monumental scheme for extending the irrigation of Egypt and the Soudan, which Lord Cromer has just presented in the unexciting form of an official Blue Book. It is only two years ago since the great Assuan dam was completed, and already an even greater work is in contemplation, of which the smallest part is the raising of the dam already constructed.

The plan to which Lord Cromer lends his authority is that of regulating the outflow of the Nile and its source in Central Africa and of insuring Egypt a more constant measure of the fertilizing flood by "training" the current of the stream through several hundred miles of its course.

The most sluggish imagination can hardly fail to be stirred by a magnitude of such a project, which, it is estimated, would bring 800,000 additional acres under cultivation, while converting 750,000 acres from basin into perennial irrigation. The exposition of the scheme is contained in a report from Sir William Garstin, head of the Department of Public Works in Egypt, and even for those to whom its engineering problems are incomprehensible this affords much fascinating reading.

Sir William has spent five years in studying the basin of the Upper Nile, and from his observation of what may be called the phenomena of Nilitic floods this scheme, which would occupy at least fifteen years in completion, has been born.

It is divided into two parts—the regulation of the Blue Nile for the better irrigation of the Eastern Soudan and the regulation of the White Nile for the benefit of Egypt, but it is the latter part which presents the more startling features, and which, if proved feasible, would be undertaken in the immediate future.

The confluence of the White and Blue Niles takes place at Khartoum, SIR WM. GARSTIN, G.C.M.G.

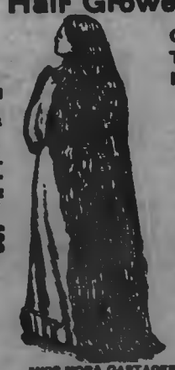
midway in the course of 3,800 miles which Egypt's great artery runs between its source at the Victoria Nyanza and its outflow in the Mediterranean. The tortuous character of that course may be gathered from the fact that it increases by half the distance which would be traversed by the river if it flowed in a straight line. As far as the 10th degree of north latitude the Nile is easily navigable, but at Lake No, where the White Nile becomes the Bahr-el-Gebel, and where the junction of the Bahr-el-Ghazal and the Bahr-el-Zara takes place, difficulty begins.

From Lake No to Bor, a distance of two hundred and twenty miles, the channel is choked with "sudd," and the surrounding country is converted tion of sewage. The rivers of England are fast becoming polluted and the problem is with us a more serious one than it is in this country. Our rivers are insufficient for the purpose of carrying off the waste. The process we now have under consideration is that of septic tank filtration. The sewage is passed through a series of filters which remove the bacteria, and the liquid which is obtained is innocuous and may be discharged into the streams without causing any ill effects."

In the conclusion of his address, given before the Society of Chemical Industry, he quoted from an Oriental sage sentiment which those who know him best say represents his own ideal.

"The imperative duty of man," runs the quotation, "is to sacrifice his private interest for the public good. Selfishness forbids co-operation and without co-operation there cannot be any great achievement."

7 Sutherland Sisters Hair Grower



GREW THIS HAIR

Testimonial No. 422.

MISS NORA GASTAGER
2106 Centre Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

When the scalp throws off either dandruff or a greasy substance, it is an evidence of scalp disease, and no time should be lost in correcting it. You certainly would not hesitate to take treatment were you to look at this matter through a magnifying glass. When highly magnified it resembles a working mass of insects. These creatures absorb the nutriment or life-sap of the scalp causing the scalp to become dry and feverish, resulting in the loss of hair and finally baldness. Seven Sutherland Sisters' Hair Grower and Scalp Cleaner works wonders in all such cases. It thoroughly eradicates all trace of scalp bacteria and makes the hair grow naturally long, strong and beautiful. One 50-cent bottle is enough to show you that it will do all this and even more. NOW at all druggists, two sizes, 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

HOW TO BE BEAUTIFUL

Munyon Points the Way to Beauty as Well as Comfort.

This is the season when a good soap is not only a necessity, but a luxury. For little ones and people of delicate skins, or anyone who is subject to hives, rash, pimples or any skin eruptions, I most earnestly recommend my Witch Hazel Soap. It not only thoroughly cleanses the skin, but puts every pore into healthy action. It removes all bad odors and gives the skin life and glow. It is the finest and purest toilet soap made.

As a shampoo it is superior to anything that has yet been offered.

After the bath use my Witch Hazel Talcum Powder, which is the purest and most satisfactory talcum powder ever produced. The perfume is delicate and delightful.

I have also prepared a witch hazel face and skin cream for those who desire skin food and complexion beautifier.

For sale wherever the best toilet preparations are in demand.

Where the Liver or Stomach is out of order or the Blood is impure, I most earnestly advise the use of my Paw-Paw Laxative Liver Pills. They will soon clear up the complexion, driving out impurities of the blood. They do not gripe, they do not weaken.

Try them. If you are not satisfied, I will refund your money.

Odd Australian Animals.

Australia produces those lowest of the quadrupeds, the duck billed water mole and the echidna, or Australian porcupine ant eater. They, along with the kangaroos, may be described as the groundlings of the mammalian family, for in respect of their structure they are of a much lower grade than, say, a dog or a cat. This inferiority is seen not only in the brain, but in many other details of their bodily anatomy.

In zoological circles the prevalent opinion is that this mole is a link between birds on the one hand and mammals on the other. These "lowest" quadrupeds lay eggs like birds, the young being subsequently hatched from the eggs, whereas in the kangaroos and all higher mammals the young are born alive and nourished by means of milk.

The Parisian Cafe Caricaturist.

Among other Parisian types described by a recent observer is the cafe caricaturist. "He is a youth with a pale face and very long hair. He looks the type of the bohemian and he is. He offers to draw caricatures for 50 centimes (10 cents). His luncheon is frequently a myth, nor is he always sure of his dinner. But, no matter what the state of his finances, he will have his absinth, to which he adds but little water. The cafe caricaturist is invariably an 'artist who has not succeeded.' He has either been at the Beaux Arts or has studied under some famous painter. Somehow or other he has come to grief and has swelled the ranks of those whom fortune has disinherited."

The Servant Problem.

"What has been the greatest difficulty with which you have had to contend, Mrs. Kinder, in your struggle with the servant girl problem?"

"Preventing the good ones getting married."

The poor people of Barbadoes subsist principally on sugar cane, sweet potatoes and flying fish.

The Paradise of Umbrellas.

Surakarta is the paradise of umbrellas. They are carried proudly over the heads of every official and every nobleman, but invariably are shut at the approach of a person of higher rank, and inside the kraton no umbrella may be carried open except that of the emperor himself. The umbrella is the crown, the wand of office, the outward sign of rank and distinction. There are umbrellas of gold inside and out for the emperor, of gold outside only for the empress, with a stripe of yellow satin for the emperor's brothers, with a wider stripe of the same material for his illegitimate brothers, of white silk with a narrow gold stripe for the illegitimate sons of the legitimate brothers, and so on ad infinitum. Every official, every military officer, exhibits his rank in his umbrella, which is invariably held from behind by an attendant whenever he leaves his house in sunshine or cloudy weather. There is an official guide book to the umbrella labyrinth of Surakarta which contains not less than 300 various designs in all imaginable colors and ornamentation.—Century.

Calvary Clover.

Calvary clover, a flower strangely symbolic of the principles of Christianity, flourishes in Palestine. Calvary clover leaves, like those of other clovers, are trefoil, embodying the doctrine of the Trinity, the central truth of Christianity. Soon after the plant begins to appear above the ground a deep spot of redlike blood appears upon each division of the leaf, but this disappears after a few weeks.

During the day the tiny leaflets form themselves into the shape of a cross, and as the sun sinks to rest the leaves again fold together, it has been suggested, as if in prayer. In due time the blossom becomes a small yellow flower and then a spiral pod covered with thorns. In ripening the flowers interlace, and in their peculiar positions many persons think they can detect the outline of a crown. Tradition says that it is good fortune to plant the seed of the Calvary clover on Good Friday.

Insulting.

"If old Skynner doesn't take back what he said to me this morning I'll be hanged if I'll work for him any more."

"Insulting, was he?"

"I should say so. He said he thought he could get along without me."

Not Contracting.

"Do you think Johnnie is contracting bad habits at school?" asked Mrs. Caution of her husband.

"No, dear, I don't; I think he is expanding them," was the reply.

Distressed.

"Madam, will you officiate at our church fair?"

"Dear me, I never did a dishonest thing in my life."

Perhaps one reason people go late to church is that they don't have to go early to get a seat.—Atchison Globe.

EGZEMA ON LEG FOR TEN YEARS

Would Scratch Till the Blood Flowed—Entirely Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states:—"I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when scratched the blood would come. The doctors could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left.

My little girl two years old, has also been cured of Eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to be."

[illegible] to King Leopold at all, but very [illegible] took his sentence calmly.

OUR NEW GOVERNOR.

Chief Upon Whom High Hopes in Breast of London Times.

The London Times says: The new Governor-General of Canada is no stranger to Canada and the Canadians. Twice at least he has visited the Dominion; and, as it happens, he is brother-in-law of the very successful out-going Governor, Lord Minto. It may be added without indiscretion that no small part of Lord Minto's well-deserved popularity is due to his wife, Lord Grey's sister, who early won the hearts of the Canadians by her kindness and their admiration by the beauty of her skating. Whether the new Governor-General or the ladies of his family share this last accomplishment we cannot say; but it is easy to understand that a nation of skaters, like the Canadians, thinks all the better of its chiefs for possessing it. As to Lord Grey's more serious qualifications, he has shown his interest in colonial work in a very practical way. In 1896-97 he was administrator of Rhodesia, taking the post at the critical moment which followed the Jameson raid; and since his return he has been a director of the British South Africa Company. Of course, the problems to be solved in Rhodesia are not the same as those which arise in a country like Canada, which has been settled for more than a century; but there are, nevertheless, certain analogies. The pioneer work of Rhodesia bears some relation to the work that has to be done in the great uncultivated regions of the Northwest, though the one stretches away towards the tropics and the other towards the Pole. It will count for at least something that the representative of the sovereign in Canada has had a hand in the actual working of a vast region lately opened to the energies of Englishmen. As to the problems nearer at hand, the problems which are common to town life all over the world, Lord Grey may claim to have felt a life long interest in them. He has long been a public man, though not a party man. From the early movement in church reform to the more recent one in favor of the Public House Trust, many—perhaps too many—causes have attracted him, and at some of them he has worked hard. Nobody ever did much without enthusiasm of some kind; and Lord Grey's has always been in the right direction, and has been supported by an advocacy that always attracted sympathy.

Under the steadying influence of a great responsibility, Lord Grey may be trusted to concentrate his activities upon the right objects. In that case, we may expect for him a success not inferior to that which has attended his brother-in-law, Lord Minto. He combines two essential qualities—those of an earnest belief in the Empire and of an eminently conciliatory temper. He will hold the balance even between parties, and will also, we doubt not, be able to maintain with firmness the position that a Governor-General of Canada, as the representative of the Crown, is bound to maintain. He will be liked and respected by French-Canadians and by English, Roman Catholics and by Protestants. Moreover, he will maintain cordial relations with the United States, which he knows well; while at the same time he will know how to treat those petulent demonstrations of a separatist spirit which now and then, in a few obscure quarters, claim a certain notice. Moreover, his African experiences will lead him to look with sympathy upon those movements of expansion towards the Northwest, which are such an important feature of modern Canadian life. He has what the professed politician lacks, the gift of imagination; he realizes the greatness of Canada's future and the possibilities that await development. Regions as large as states ready for the plow; vast rivers and vast forests are asking to be made serviceable to man. Much has been done of late years to develop Canada as a field for British emigrants, and no Canadian problem will appeal more strongly than this to the mind of Lord Grey. If he can succeed in carrying this movement still further, and in making it more systematic and thorough, his tenure of his high post will become memorable in the history of the Dominion and of the Empire.

One for the Judge.

A sarcastic lawyer, during the trial of a case, made use of the expression, "Cast not your pearls before swine."

Subsequently, as he arose to make the argument, the judge facetiously remarked:

"Be careful, Mr. S——, not to cast your pearls before swine."

"Don't be alarmed, m'lud, I am about to address the jury, not the court," was the reply of the barrister.

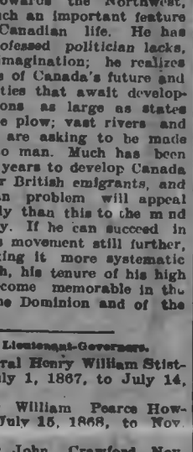
AT THE TOP.



It is a laudable ambition to reach the top of the ladder of success. But many a man who reaches the topmost rung finds his position a torment instead of a triumph. He has sacrificed his health to success.

A man can succeed and be strong if he heeds Nature's warnings. When there is indigestion, loss of appetite, ringing in the ears, dizziness, spots before the eyes or palpitation of the heart; any or all of these symptoms point to weakness and loss of nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to turn to.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Rosters Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not for a long time bear any solid food in my stomach; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep nor follow my occupation. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

THE FRENCH DINNER.

It Is Not Only a Meal, but an Entertainment as Well.

Generally speaking, the table of the American is provided for the purpose of feeding; for the Frenchman it is for the purpose of refreshment, says Flora McDonald Thompson in Harper's Bazar.

"It must nourish—yes, but of equal necessity it must please, please the mind also as the body—and there must be provided, too, diversion and repose. Thus is cooking an art with the French people, and a meal, whether of the rich man or of the poor peasant, is one of his finest ceremonies. The employees of Paris business houses are allowed from one to two hours for the midday meal, and it is an unwritten law of the French household that the servants shall have at least an hour for dejeuner and for dinner alike, during which time they are not to be called, except for grave reason, but are left free to seat themselves at table in the kitchen, where, even in very humble kitchens, they tuck their napkins under their chins and laugh and talk while eating and drinking, so enjoying a degree of leisure nearly unknown among all classes of Americans.

"As a rule, the Paris business man takes his midday meal in the bosom of his family. This is deemed such an important feature of domestic economy that the whole scheme of living is adjusted to that end; and one finds families of wealth and social distinction housed throughout the business sections in order thus to make it possible that the hour or two allotted to dejeuner may be spent by the man in his home."

An Enormous Sundial.

A curious phenomenon is reported in the columns of a geographical publication. It is a large promontory in the Aegean sea, known as Hayon Horoo, which extends 2,000 feet above the level of the water. As the sun swings around, the shadow of this mountain touches one by one a circle of islands separated by regular intervals, which act as hour marks. It is the largest sundial in the world.

TO FLY TO TORONTO.

Former Professor of Ridley College, St. Kitts, Discovers Bird's Secret.

Mr. J. R. d'Almeida, of St. Catharines, formerly a professor at Ridley College, is completing the manufacture there of a flying machine which he hopes confidently will fly. Mr. d'Almeida has been devoting all his spare time since January in perfecting his invention. His idea is to imitate the flying of a bird, and his invention consists mostly in a huge pair of wings just like those of a bird. The machine is built of light but stout bamboo, made to resemble a bird. The operator will take his position on a little platform, placed at the exact point where a perfect balance is secured. The wings, made of bamboo and silk canvas of beautifully fine and durable texture are fashioned on the exact model of a bird's wing.

"I have discovered the secret of the bird's wing," said Mr. d'Almeida, "and that is the secret which those who have experimented before me have missed. The wings of my airship are perfect copies of those of a bird. I have studied birds' wings for years, and the discovery which I have incorporated in these wings, and which makes me so sanguine of success, came to me like a flash while I was at work. It is so very simple that I am amazed that no one has discovered it before, and it is so momentous that the whole future of aerial flight will, I am satisfied, depend upon it."

Each of the two wings has an area of 84 feet, and they are worked by a most ingenious, but strikingly simple, system of levers, which are regulated by pressure of the operator's foot. Each lever is so constructed that half a pound pressure suffices to raise the wings. Each wing being the exact model of a bird's, their motions will be precisely those of a bird's wings in flight. So very closely has Mr d'Almeida followed nature that the wings of his machine possess in certain parts the rigidity and in others the flexibility found in the wings of birds. By using the feet as the motive power the inventor claims that he secures the greatest possible power that the human body is capable of exerting, while the hands are left free to manipulate the tail. This also is copied from nature, and is designed to aid greatly in propelling the machine. It will also serve as the rudder.

Mr. d'Almeida expects to be able to make his trial trip in a few days, and then he will start for St. Louis. There at the World's Fair he will claim the $100,000 prize offered for a machine which will enable a man to fly. He has made a special study of the aerial navigation problem, and has also examined the machines made by Pilcher, the English experimentalist, who succeeded in raising himself into the air for a considerable height. He has also seen the models of Lilienthal, the German, who also succeeded in making short aerial trips.

Last week Mr. d'Almeida moved his machine from the old bank building on St. Paul street, where he had been working on it all along, to Collier's Hill, in the eastern part of the city. From Collier's Hill he expects to first try his wings. He is very confident of success, and he has a lot of friends who seem to be just as confident as he is. Before starting for St. Louis, Mr. d'Almeida intends to take two or three trips across Lake Ontario to Toronto.

Gilbert Parker as a Poet.

In Sir Gilbert Parker's new romance, "A Ladder of Swords," occur several poems which, though printed between quotations, were written by the author himself. There are the sailor's chantey on page 34, a lilting drinking-song on page 66, the fool's songs on pages 102, 178, 179 and 265, and the songs on pages 222 and 257. Sir Gilbert published a volume of poems some years ago, entitled "A Lover's Diary." Following is one of the songs sung by Queen Elizabeth's fool in "A Ladder of Swords:"

"Who would lie down and close his eyes
While yet the lark sings o'er the dale?
Who would to Love make no replies,
Nor drink the nut-brown ale,
While throbs the pulse, and full's the purse
And all the world's for sale?

"Though wintry blasts may prove unkind,
When winter's past we do forget;
Love's breast in summer time is kind,
And all's well while life's with us yet—
Hey, ho, now the lark is mating,
Life's sweet wages are in waiting!"

ANIMALS WITH HANDS.

How the Kangaroos Use Their Forefeet in Eating.

Kangaroos use their hands very readily to hold food in and to put it into their mouths. As their fore legs are so short that they have to browse in a stooping position, they seem pleased when able to secure a large bunch of cabbage or other vegetable provender and to hold it in their hands to eat. Sometimes the young kangaroo, looking out of its mother's pouch, catches one or two of the leaves which the old one drops, and the pair may be seen each nibbling at the salad held in their hands, one, so to speak, "one floor" above the other. The slow, deliberate clasping and unclasping of a chameleon's feet look like the movements which the hands of a sleep walker might make were he trying to creep downstairs. The chameleon's are almost deformed hands, yet they have a superficial resemblance to the feet of parrots, which more than other birds use their feet for many of the purposes of a hand when feeding. To see many of the smaller rodents—ground squirrels, prairie dogs and marmots—hold food, usually in both paws, is to learn a lesson in the dexterous use of hands without thumbs. Nothing more readily suggests the momentary impression that a pretty little monkey is "a man and a brother" than when he stretches out his neat little palm, fingers and thumb, and, with all the movements proper to the civilized mode of greeting, insists on shaking hands.

The Stormiest Region Known.

The waters of Cape Horn have never been unvisited by storms for more than a week or two at a stretch within the memory of man. Standing on the outpost of the world, Cape Horn is the meeting place of ocean currents of very different temperatures, from the icy cold waters of the antarctic drift to the warmth of the Brazilian and Peruvian return currents. The prevailing winds are from the northwest and west, and these, coming from the warm regions of the Pacific, condense into fogs which the sailors call "Cape Horn blankets" and which are the sure forerunners of storms. The extremely low levels to which the glaciers of Tierra del Fuego descend, the perpetual congelation of the subsoil, the meeting of conflicting winds of very different temperatures, are all direct or indirect causes combining to make this the most constantly stormy region of the world.

Pocket Mirrors For Men.

"Pocket mirrors for men?" repeated a wholesale notion man in response to an inquiry. "We sell hundreds of them every year. You will find them for sale on street corner stands and in some barber shops. I don't know who buys them. I can't even say I ever saw a man use a pocket mirror. But I know they are in constant demand in the trade. You can buy a very good one, metal, for 10 or 15 cents retail. Oval shaped, flat mirrors for the vest pocket, made of celluloid, with a cover to protect the glass, cost 25 cents each."

HANDICAP ATHLETIC MEET AT OVAL

The Y.M.C.A. amateur handicap athletic meet will be held at the Oval Saturday, October 8th at 2.30 p. m.

This will be almost entirely a meet for inexperienced men.

The object is to awaken an interest in athletics and get the fellows out and to work. It is quite evident that there is some good material in the Association to work upon and we expect that after a season's training we will be able to turn out some hustlers.

The events will be as follows:—

For Seniors.—100 yards dash, 220 yard run, 1-4 mile run, 1-2 mile run, 1 mile mile run, 3 mile run, running high jump, running broad jump; hop, step and jump, shot put.

DEVELOPING CANADIAN WEST.

Great Work of Deputy Minister Smart, Now in Detroit.

Thousands of U. S. Farmer's Attracted to the Prairies by Dominion's Liberal Immigration Policy.

The following tribute by a "Yankee" paper which would naturally resent the depopulation of the United States by a departure of the Canadian Government, is paid Hon. Mr. Sifton and his department for his energetic work in the interests of the Canadian West, and it is pretty confidently assured that his work from that source will not be over estimated.

James A. Stewart, the Canadian deputy Minister of the Interior and prominent in the building of towns and cities on the western prairies of the Dominion, is in Detroit with Chief Canadian Immigration Agent M. V. McInnis, to "rest up" after a long session of parliament, by personally inspecting the United States end of that tremendous human mechanism by which hundreds of thousands of good American farmers are being attracted to the free homesteads of the Canadian west, and which has sands out as one of the most monumental achievements of the party to which Mr. Smart and his chief, the minister of the interior, Hon. Clifford Sifton, belong. He is accompanied by W. J. White, Canadian Immigration Inspector.

While Mr. Smart's visit has no political significance, it emphasizes the zeal with which he and Minister Sifton are pursuing the policy of filling up the Canadian west as much as possible with the most intellectual class of citizens they can secure, and it is ascertained that with the deputy's visit will begin a still more enthusiastic campaign for settlers in the United States.

"There are two countries on earth that should live in absolute amity—Canada and the United States," says Mr. Smart. "Canada is bound to become one of the most powerful and most resourceful countries in the world, and it would be a calamity too great to even think of if her people, not speaking of her Government, were not upon the friendliest terms with her southern neighbor. And the more intimate we become in our personal associations, the closer and stronger will be our bonds of friendship.

YANKEES MAKE GOOD CITIZENS.

"To-day there are thousands of people from the United States in western Canada who are good and loyal citizens They vote and they hold government offices, they work for the good of their community and for Canada in general."

When Clifford Sifton became minister of the interior, seven years ago, he had a great dream of transforming the millions of acres of unpopulated land in Western Canada into a great country. To help him he needed a man. And if he had searched the country over he could not have found a better man than James A. Smart, a former mayor of Brandon, and then a member of the provincial government of Manitoba. Patriotic, aggressive and absolutely unconquerable by adversity, this man took hold with his chief, and the great scheme for the colonization of western Canada, colosal in magnitude, was born.

As a result, 150,000 new farmers took up free homesteads in the Canadian west last year. This year there will be more than 200,000, and it is expected that 50,000 people from the United States will take advantage of the opportunities offered by the Dominion government.

INDUCEMENTS TO SETTLERS.

In the United States the great human mechanism for transplanting American farmers to Canadian soil could hardly be improved upon, though Mr. Smart believes in constantly keeping his eyes upon it. It consists of more than 300 men scattered throughout the country. The base of this army is in Ottawa, where Clifford Sifton and James A. Smart superintend operations. Not an opportunity is lost by these men. They know that it takes exceptionally bright prospects to induce a man to go into a new country, and they give them. The government gives every man 160 acres of land, and wherever there are seven children it will build a school. It offers other inducements and lives up to them. This integrity develops good citizens, and no one knows this better than Deputy Minister Smart. The hundreds of agents are told to spread these things. They lecture, give out literature, induce parties to go up and investigate and help settlers off when they are ready to start. And at the other end, a couple of thousand miles away, are other agents to make the settlers at home, and lend them aid in settling when they arrive.

"ALIENS" PROGRESSIVE.

"This treatment is too good for aliens," has been the cry of those opposed to the Government. But it has not proved so. These "aliens" will raise millions more bushels of wheat this year than last, it is estimated. When one-fourth of Western Canada is filled, these same "aliens" will raise 512,000,000 bushels, sufficient to feed 50,000,000 Canadians. And now they are becoming so important a factor that two new trans-continental railroads the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific, are to be built, and 40,000 men will be given work for several years. It is Slifford Sifton and James A Smart who are making all these great roads a realization by filling up the Canadian west with people. It is the indomitable deputy and his chief who are building up the western cities of 10,000 and 15,000 inhabitants, and making the "aliens" the backbone of "greater Canada."

BEST IMMIGRANTS SOUGHT.

"And these aliens are not all from the United States. The tremendous scheme of Smart and chief involves half of Europe. There the campaign is for the very best class of immigrants. At one time an interest was taken in the Doukhobors. They were strong, healthy people, and it was believed they would develop into good citizens. So an experiment was made by home-steading a large colony of them. The disastrous results that followed redoubled the caution of the nation-builders, and now nearly all European immigrants are sought in England, Ireland, Scotland and Germany.

In the face of the vast achievements of himself and Mr. Sifton, Deputy Minister Smart considers his work but just begun. There are still 171,000,000 acres available in western Canada, enough for the building up of a great nation in itself. Where there are now towns of 10,000 and 15,000 inhabitants, Mr. Smart expects to see great cities within a comparatively few years. The work is the man's life, and his one ambition is to advance Canada's growth and greatness.

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE TO KEEP UP.

HALE'S STORY IS FLATLY DENIED.

He Says the North Renfrew Election Cost $40,000.

Claims in Suit Brought Against Him for Livery Bill That Government Guaranteed His Expenses.

Pembroke, Oct. 7.—(Toronto News Special, Oct. 6.)—"A bomb has exploded in the Liberal camp in North Renfrew. The district that was the scene of the long drawn out vacancy, the bitter bye-election and the subsequent protest and resignation of Mr. E. A. Dunlop, the Conservative member for the Provincial House, is again agitated.

"Capt. J. Lorne Hale, the defeated Liberal candidate, has come out with the assertion that the contest for the Liberals cost about $40,000. His personal expenses amounted to $10,000, which sum he has paid. The balance, he says, Hon. James Stratton and Mr. James Vance, the Liberal organizer, promised that they would pay.

"This disclosure was made as the result of an action taken by Ringrose Brothers against Mr. Hale for $1,088 livery bill. Mr. Hale had paid what he considered his own personal livery bill, and when a second bill came in he told Ringrose Bros. to look to the Liberal organization at Toronto for payment. Instead, Ringrose Bros., through their solicitor, sued Mr. Hale.

"In his examination for discovery Mr. Hale stated that the arrangement, as stated above, was made with him when he visited Toronto and promised to accept the nomination.

Spent $10,000 Himself.

In answer to the question, how much his personal expenses were, Mr. Hale, in his examination, said $10,000. Outside of this, he said, all expenses were to be paid by the Ontario Government.

"Whom do you mean by the Ontario Government?" was asked.

"Hon. James Stratton," was the answer.

"Did he say that these other expenses would be paid by them?"

"Yes, he did."

"Then you claim that this bill is none of your incurring at all?" "I do," was the answer.

"To The News after his examination Captain Hale stated that he considers that he is being most unfairly treated. In addition to the livery bill on which he is sued, he says there are $8,000 other unpaid bills which were not contracted by him or by the local association. All the bills of the association and his own personal ones he paid promptly, but in view of the explicit promises which he says were made to him by Hon. Mr. Stratton and Mr. James Vance, he does not think he should be called on to pay any more.

"He is considerably indignant at the fact that the accounts have been unpaid, as it injures his reputation to a very large extent. When the arrangement was made to drop the protest against Dunlop and have him resign it was intimated in The News that going on with the case and the counter case of personal charges against Hale would have resulted in Mr. Hale making disclosures not desired by the Liberal party. Apparently those disclosures have been brought about in another way."

Mr. Stratton's Statement.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—Upon being interviewed, the Hon. Mr. Stratton gave out the following statement yesterday:

"I gave no moneys to Mr. Hale in connection with his election, nor to anyone for him, nor did I make any promise to him, other than that I had no doubt that should he accept the nomination the party would assist him with his expenses, meaning, of course, his legitimate expenses. He was speaking of the cost of an election. I do not know what assistance, if any, he received from the party, nor do I know what the cost of his campaign was. I had no conversation with Mr. Vance regarding any expenses in connection with the campaign, nor had Mr. Hale any conversation with me in the presence of Mr. Vance. The cost of the election as given by Mr. Hale, if the statement as reported is correct, would appear on the face of it to be most absurd. I addressed four meetings in North Renfrew at the request of the committee and do not know anything about the costs or conduct of the campaign."

Mr. Vance's Denial.

James Vance, Liberal organizer, was seen with reference to Mr. Hale's statement. He said:

"All I've got to say is this: Of course I can only speak for myself, but I never discussed with Mr. Hale what his election expenses would be, or who should pay them. I never discussed the matter with him in any shape or form, and do not know anybody who did. I never promised him anything, either directly or indirectly, with regard to his election, and I cannot understand why Mr. Hale should make such a statement."

To those who knew Mr. Hale's connection with the North Renfrew election contest in which he was defeated it was evident that his conduct made it appear as if he was in the hands of the Conservatives. He did not appear at all at the meeting addressed by Premier Ross at Pembrooke. His coquetting with the Conservative candidate during the campaign on suspiciously familiar terms, gives additional colour to the assumption that his efforts as a Liberal candidate were not what could be expected of a man in that relation. His general conduct from the moment he accepted the nomination was of a peculiar character. His arrangement with Mr. Dunlop the Conservative member, as to the abandonment of the petition against the latter's return with other circumstances stated, combine to place his bona fides as a Liberal candidate under reasonable suspicion. Under the circumstances it is to be said that Mr. Hale is expecting a good deal from the Liberal party in requiring that bills like those in question should be paid by any one but himself.

If the Liberal party were as lavish in the expenditure of funds for party purposes as their opponents freely charge them with being, if there was any obligation incurred or any engagement entered into such as Mr. Hale declares was made, is it not reasonable to assume that the bills in question would have been paid to avoid what Mr. Hale evidently intends to be, and would be if the facts were as he states, a damaging exposure? As it is, Mr. Hale's version of the facts simply shows that the Liberal party is not paying election bills improperly incurred.

HALE'S DENIAL.

The Toronto World, Conservative, Friday, Oct. 7th, has the following:—The World wired Lorne Hale, Pembroke, yesterday afternoon as follows:—"The News prints a story that you, on oath to-day declared your election expenses were $40,000, that you paid $10,000, and that Stratton and Vance promised to pay $30,000. Is it correct?—The Toronto World."

To this telegram J. Lorne Hale replied thus:—

"Pembroke, Oct. 6.

"The story as reported is absolutely false.

"Lorne Hale."

Lawyer—You have taken your oath and I want you to answer each of my questions honestly.

Witness—Yes, sir.

Lawyer—What is your occupation?

Witness—I am a driver.

Lawyer—Do you drive a wagon?

Witness—No, sir; I do not.

Lawyer—Now be careful and remember that you are on your oath. You admit that you are a driver; now, honestly, don't you drive a wagon?

Witness—No, sir; I drive a horse.

Struck By a Train.

Simcoe, Oct. 7.—A north-bound freight train on the Port Dover branch of the Grand Trunk struck Charles Wilder, about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wilder was walking in the same direction and evidently did not hear the train approaching. He was on a bridge when the train struck him and was thrown some distance into the water. He was taken out of the water by the train crew and does not appear to be badly hurt, beyond a sprained back.

Young Endeavorers Convention.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—The largest and most enthusiastic concourse of Christian Endeavorers seen in Toronto for some years was that which gathered in Massey Hall last night. The meeting was the first open one in the three days' convention of the Provincial Endeavorers now in progress, and last night over 3,000 of the members and adherents of the society assembled. The chair was occupied by Rev. Alexander Esler, the Ontario president. Several addresses were delivered.

Killed Himself in Jail.

Simcoe, Oct. 7.—George Cousins of Courtland, who was placed in Simcoe jail Wednesday evening, and who was held for examination as to his sanity, committed suicide during the night by hanging himself to the door of his cell with his suspenders. He had been dead some hours when found yesterday morning by Jailer Butler.

For Libelling Mr. Commee.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—The Superior Printing Co. of Port Arthur has asked the court to dismiss, for want of prosecution, the suit of James Commee, M.P.P., for damages for alleged libel. The case, they say, should have been ready for trial last June. The application was adjourned until Tuesday.

Another Shotgun Accident.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 7.—At Ardea yesterday an Englishman named Davison was fatally wounded. He was employed on the farm of James Matthews and while handling a shotgun accidentally discharged it. The entire contents entered his stomach, inflicting wounds from which his recovery is hopeless.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine yesterday denied that political influence had been exercised on Capt. Salmon, Commissioner of Wrecks, at Montreal.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick, and needs motherly advice, ask her to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., who will give her advice free, from a source of knowledge which is unequalled in the country. Do not hesitate about stating details which one may not like to talk about, and which are essential for a full understanding of the case.

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N. J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."

How Mrs. Pinkham Helped Fannie Kumpe.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it is my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The pains in my back and womb have all left me, and my menstrual trouble is corrected. I am very thankful for the good advice you gave me, and I shall recommend your medicine to all who suffer from female weakness." — MISS FANNIE KUMPE, 1923 Chester St., Little Rock, Ark. (Dec. 16, 1900.)

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, nervous prostration, and all forms of woman's special ills.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

MISLEADING CAMPARISONS.

The Mail and Empire has taken to publishing black letter miniatures of campaign sheets, and as this is done on its editorial page these productions are naturally misleading.

On Thursday the reduced campaign sheet dealt with promise and performance, giving alleged quotations from the speeches of Liberal leaders to show the promises made in regard to economy and figures to show the performance of these promises. Let us take the quoted "promise" of Sir Richard Cartwright as printed by the organ:—

"I say that it is a disgrace and a shame to the governments that have been entrusted with our affairs that they come down and ask for an expenditure of $23,300,000 a year for Federal purposes."—Sir Richard Cartwright, 1896.

The Mail and Empire, then points out that the Conservative expenditure in 1895 was $42,872,333, while the expenditure in 1903 was $81,700,000.

Extravagance and economy are relative terms. If a farmer spends a thousand dollars upon new farm buildings when his cash is low and his bank account many dollars to the bad, with possibly a mortgage on the old buildings, that might be called extravagance. If he has a good fat bank account and has a thousand and much more, to spend on new buildings it will be economy to spend it to protect his garnered crops properly.

In 1896 when Sir Richard Cartwright was speaking, the $33,000,000 of expenditure by the Conservatives was extravagance because they hadn't the money to spend — there was a deficit that year of $519,981.

The expenditure in 1903 of 81 millions mentioned by the the Mail (it was in reality only 51 millions) was economy, because we had the money to spend, and the expenditure was needed for proper national purposes. We had the money to spend, for the receipts were 68 millions, which with an expenditure of 51 odd millions left a surplus of 14 millions odd.

The Liberal Government to have been as extravagant in 1903 as were the Conservatives in 1896 would have had to expend 66 1-2 millions instead of 51 millions.

Now if it could be shown that the large additional expenditure was made by imposing additional burdens of taxation upon the people then there would be just ground for fault finding, but the fact is that the increased expenditure becomes economy when, as is the fact, it is stated that the increased expenditure necessitated by the great development and progress of the country has been met without increasing the taxation, without imposing additional burdens upon the people. On the contrary the rate of customs taxation, the largest source of revenue, has been and is considerably lower, postage rates are one-third smaller, and so slight has been the addition to the public debt that it is now $3 less per head than in 1896.

THE PARTY WHICH LOOKS BACKWARD.

The wheat has begun to flow over the railways eastward from Winnipeg. The next few weeks will demonstrate the ability of the Canadian Pacific to handle its traffic. If they pass without a blockade, the railway will merit congratulations. —Toronto News.

Commenting upon this the Ottawa Citizen says:

The fact will also further discount the alleged necessity of that eastern section of the G. T. P., which the Government is intent on building, not for its intrinsic value, but as a testimony of esteem to Quebec.

This is the way that organs of a party that looks backward, can be expected to talk. We must not build a railway, which will serve an unserved section of the great Northwest, which in ten years will raise more wheat than is now moved by the C. P. R. Owing to the vigorous immigration policy of the Liberal Government, the west is rapidly filling up. In four years railway companies have sold lands of the value of $27,000,000. Last year 130,000 new settlers entered the country. At this rate, which will increase in large ratio, how long will it be before the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the Canadian Northern, will have their capacity taxed to move the grain of the Northwest to the seaboard. What will it avail to have the grain reach Port Arthur or Fort William, if it can't get to an ocean port in order to reach Great Britain? To talk of the "alleged necessity" of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is to talk treason to the highest interests of this country, a lamentable unfaith in the extent and value of our resources, a want of confidence in the future of Canada. The Citizen reflects the pessimism and unfaith of its leader, who opposes the building of a new transcontinental railway, if not by direct means, then by side-tracking it by the advocacy of an impracticable scheme, another word for indefinite and disastrous delay.

HON. A. B. AYLESWORTH.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has many capable men in his Cabinet, but he has not neglected the opportunity of calling Mr. A. B. Aylesworth into the Ministry at the earliest moment when this eminent member of the bar could be induced to enter public life. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier formed his Cabinet, he called to him successful public men from nearly all the Provinces. He believes that it requires a Cabinet of able men to give the country an efficient Administration, and at the present time, in the person of Mr. Aylesworth, he secures the assistance of one of the outstanding men of the day.

That Mr. Aylesworth will speedily take a conspicuous place in Parliament there is, the Toronto Star thinks, every reason to believe, so thorough-going is he in the mastery of every question to which he applies himself.

LAURIER'S LIEUTENANTS

It's said that our Ontario Conservative friends don't share in Laurier's luck regarding stalwart followers.

Mr. Borden is not able to boast of much surplus available Cabinet timber and the supply is not rapidly growing.

The very time that lucky Laurier brought that distinguished and able man, Aylesworth, into his Cabinet, Mr. W. R. Brock, of Toronto, one of the great business men "behind Mr. Borden," has decided that he is too busy to go to Ottawa. Mr. Brock has decided to enter the Toronto City Council for fifteen or twenty years to qualify him for a Cabinet position when Mr. Borden shall have gained power.

By the way, is it not possible — if precedent counts—that, if Mr. Brock finds a Toronto constituency with two 'Grits" in the field, the demands of his business may adjust themselves to the situation, and his courage adjust itself to the task of contesting a "safe riding."

WHY SO CHARY?

This political round, Conservative candidates don't show any ravenous desire to become candidates. The present candidate in West Peterborough didn't have to be held back by two or three strong men, and in thoroughgoing "Tory" Toronto Conservative members seem to be dodging around to see who can get the safest riding. Nobody else wants North Toronto, so they put Mr. Foster in it. Everybody recommended everybody else for South Toronto, and everybody, (except Mr. Brock, who is out altogether) wants West Toronto. Can it be that Toronto shows dangerously Liberal inclinations in this fight? Are they so cautious, so anxious for a safe seat, that they won't 'get into the game," till the dice is loaded in their favour?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail!

Mr. Borden says he will speak "till he drops." The date of the drop is Nov. 3rd.

The people of Canada won't be any more anxious for owuership of Mr. Borden, than for ownership of the railway.

Peterborough has grown with good Government and good times. Keep it growing and keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

Which is the better, high prosperity with a moderate tariff, or high protection without prosperity? Hadn't we better hold what we have? Hadn't we better

Settlement with lightning rapidity! Canada had 130,000 new settlers last year. Such a record was never known. The settlement of the West means prosperity to the East.

Conservative organs and orators not content with attacking Laurier are attacking the dictionary and trying to prove that "volunteer" military service means the same as "compulsory" service.

Lennox County gives Sir Wilfrid an Aylesworth — he was born at Newburg — and the electors of Lennox have given Mr. Borden a Uriah Wilson, an Al man as to personal character, but hardly of Cabinet calibre.

The Toronto News says: — "We cannot think that in his policy of state ownership (of railways) Mr. Borden has been energetically seconded by the Conservative press or by his supporters generally." Should say not. Those who haven't repudiated it outright, approve it with the fluent eloquence of the proverbial dumb oyster.

FLOWER, FRUIT AND HONEY SHOW.

A novel method of advertising the Provincial Fruit, Flower and Honey Show, which will be held in Toronto, November 15-19, has been devised. The fruit growers and florists interested have decided to give apples and flowers free to every person who attends the exhibition on two days of the show. It is expected this will greatly increase the attendance and add greatly to the interest taken in the exhibition.

The fruit growers are, with the idea of increasing the demand for fruit, arranging to distribute free of cost, neatly gotten up booklets containing numerous receipts for the cooking, preserving, etc., of all varieties of fruit, such as apples, pears, peaches, plums and grapes.

Much the same line of work is being followed by the Bee Keepers. Everything possible is being done to make the show of as great educational value as possible. It is expected it will be a strong revival, in its way, to the big winter fair at Guelph.

Portuguese Slaughtered.

Lisbon, Oct. 6.—The Minister of Marine announced in the Chamber yesterday that a detachment of Portuguese troops belonging to a column operating in Portuguese West Africa against the Cuanhamas was surprised by the tribesmen while crossing the Cunene River. Disarm the Powers.

Boston, Oct. 7.—The arrest and subsequent reduction of military naval armaments throughout the world was called for yesterday at the session of the International Peace Congress, when resolutions were adopted expressing the opinion that the first task the world's new convention, suggested by President Roosevelt, should take up was the gradual disarmament of the powers.

BURIED AT NUNEHAM.

Funeral of Sir William Vernon-Harcourt Simple and Private.

London, Oct. 7.—The remains of Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, who died on Saturday, were buried in the family vault at Nuneham, Oxford, yesterday afternoon, with the utmost simplicity and privacy. Only the family and tenantry were present. Simultaneously a memorial service was held at St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, where representatives of King Edward and the Prince of Wales were among the immense congregation, which included the Foreign Ambassadors and Ministers, Cabinet Ministers and personal and political colleagues of the deceased statesman.

Guilty of Murder.

Sandwich, Oct. 7.—Edward Slaughter is on trial for his life, charged with the murder of John Rudden, a Maidstone farmer, whom he is alleged to have struck over the head with a billiard cue, in Wade Hill's Road House, on the Tecumseh road, on the night of Oct. 26 of last year. The prosecution claims this caused his death on Nov. 28 following. The prisoner appeared in a cheerful mood as he faced the jury Thursday and listened to the charge against him. S. H. Biggs of Toronto, acted as Crown prosecutor, D. P. Davis of Amherstburg, appeared for the defence. The defence sought to show that Rudden's death was due to typhoid fever, of which he had shown symptoms. The jury pronounced him guilty.

Ticklish Question Side-Tracked.

Boston, Oct. 7.—During the business session of the House of Deputies a debate was escaped over the lynching problem in the South. Senator J. H. Stotenburg of New Albany, Ind., presented resolutions condemning lynching, and requesting that the church give expression to a denunciation of the crime. The house voted to refer the matter to a special committee. The delegates from most of the southern dioceses were against having the question aired at this time. A resolution was carried providing for a commission to consider the question.

Killed With His Own Revolver.

Lethbridge, N.W.T., Oct. 7.—At 6.30 yesterday morning, A. J. Smith, merchant of this place, shot himself with a revolver. He purchased the weapon Wednesday, stating at the time he intended shooting some cats which were infesting his cellar. While descending the stairway from his bedroom a shot was heard by the members of his household. He immediately afterwards walked into his room, told his wife that he had met with an accident, sat down in a chair and expired.

EXCITING KITE EXPERIMENT.

But the Actor Alighted on Roof and Escaped Without Injury.

Two military kites attached by steel wire to a winch were sent up at an exhibition in England, and, the wind being strong, a man named Baker decided to go up on a third and larger kite, made of light canvas, with bamboo and hickory wood framework. To this was attached a cane seat, in which the man sat. The large kite went up easily along the wire, but at an altitude of 200 feet was blown to pieces. Baker and the wreck were left dangling on the wire. Deprived of the suspending power of the large kite and with the weight of the man depending on them, the two smaller kites and the whole apparatus began rapidly to fall. The men at the winch worked in the wire as fast as possible, but the "scout" and the kites came down at an alarming rate, and at one time Baker turned a somersault. He alighted on the roof of a villa and escaped without injury.

Medicine As a Profession.

The profession of medicine is a path to fortune only for the few. This fact, says a writer in The British Medical Journal, should be clearly recognized by all who think of adopting it as a career. It has the great advantage, however, that no practitioner who is willing and able to work need starve. Such tragedies are from time to time revealed when an inquest raises the curtain that shrouds the life of a briefless barrister are practically unknown among members of the medical profession. The generations of men follow each other like leaves. The eternal sea of birth and death ebbs and flows unceasingly, and wherever birth or death is taking place there is a sphere for the exercise of the knowledge and skill which are the means of livelihood of the medical practitioner. There are but few who become what a business man would consider rich by the exercise of their profession, but all should be able to earn, say, from £400 to £500 a year. The pecuniary disadvantages of medicine as a profession are the prolongation and costliness of the period of training, and the more or less lengthy time of waiting after qualification before anything like an average income is received. Then the working expenses, including house, carriage, and what may be called professional equipment are so heavy in proportion to the gross income of a man in active practice, that the chances of being able to save, even to the extent of the return of the original capital, are in perhaps the majority of cases slight; while reasonable provision for old age, after family expenses are paid, is too often impossible. It is the chief glory of the medical profession, however, that its standard of success is not the amount of money earned, but the amount of good done to our fellow man, and the quantity of new truths added to the sum of knowledge.

NOMINATIONS ON THURSDAY

Mr. Aylesworth's Candidature in the County of Durham—Enthusiastic Meeting For Hon. Mr. Sifton—Mr. Borden Makes a New Explanation—Messrs. Zimmerman and Eastwood Will Run in Hamilton.

Bowmanville, Oct. 7.—The Executive Committee of Durham County Liberals met at Beaconsfield, the home of Mr. Robert Beith, M.P., yesterday afternoon. Every municipality was represented except the Township of Manvers. Dr. L. B. Powers presided. After a full explanation of the matter from Mr. Beith and several members had expressed their views on the political situation in Durham county, it was moved by Mr. A. A. Powers, Vice-President for Clarke, seconded by Mr. Henry Elson, Vice-President for Caven, and resolved, "That we, the members of the Executive Committee of the Liberal Association for Durham county, having heard the explanations offered by Mr. Robert Beith for desiring to withdraw as candidate for the House of Commons for this county in the pending contest in favor of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., of Toronto, and while sincerely regretting the cause that makes it necessary for Mr. Beith to retire, owing to the present critical condition of his health, are in fullest accord with the proposal made by him to Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, and shall consider it a very great honor and satisfaction to have a Cabinet Minister representing this historic county, and especially a gentleman of such prominent ability as a statesman and a jurist."

The resolution was unanimously adopted. The Liberal convention for the county has been called for Monday afternoon next, to meet in the Music Hall Newcastle, at 1.30 o'clock, when Mr. Aylesworth is expected to be present to deliver his initial speech of the campaign.

In a message received by Dr. Powers from Mr. Aylesworth he says: "If the Liberals of Durham honored me with a unanimous nomination I would accept it with gratification and great pride."

Mr. Beith was quite unwell yesterday.

Nominated For Two Seats.

Montreal, Oct. 7.—Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, Solicitor-General, was nominated yesterday at the Liberal convention held at Belaircourt, to contest Nicolet against George Ball.

Mr. Lemieux will also run in Gaspe, where in 1900 he had a majority of 1,362. In Gaspe the election, if a candidate is nominated against Mr. Lemieux, will be held on Dec. 8.

Mr. Sifton's Nomination.

Brandon, Oct. 7.—An enthusiastic meeting of the friends and supporters of Hon. Clifford Sifton was held at the Liberal Club rooms last evening. The rooms were filled to their utmost capacity, and the gathering was one that showed most conclusively that once more it is Sifton for Brandon. The meeting elected delegates to attend the convention to be held on the 12th. The work of organizing committees was then proceeded with. Short speeches were made by a number of those present, all expressing their confidence in the Hon. Minister of the Interior, and it was unanimously decided that Hon. Mr. Sifton represent the Liberal party for Brandon at the coming election.

Borden's New Explanation.

Wingham, Oct. 7.—"Cash and guarantee to the extent of $150,000,000" was the way in which Mr. R. L. Borden referred to the country's obligations in respect of the Grand Trunk Pacific in addressing the electors of East Huron yesterday. Deviating from his recent phrase, "Cash and Credit," Mr. Borden repeated largely his other arguments on this question. Mr. Borden's visit to Wingham was briefer than any in his tour, a late train and an early departure for Toronto, in order to reach Dunnville to-day, cutting his stay to an hour and a half all told.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Peter Christie has accepted the Conservative nomination for South Ontario.

S. W. W. Pickup (Liberal) of Granville Ferry, was nominated for Annapolis County Thursday.

John S. Wells, Liberal-Conservative, was unanimously nominated in Guysboro, N.S., Thursday.

Mr. C. Piche was chosen as the Liberal candidate for St. Mary's division of Montreal on Thursday night.

Hamilton Liberals Thursday night nominated Adam Zimmerman in West Hamilton, and Ald. J. M. Eastwood in East Hamilton.

At Mitchell Thursday the South Perth Conservatives selected Dr. M. Steele of Tavistock, to contest the riding for the Commons.

At a largely attended meeting in Morrisburg Thursday night, Dr. T. F. Chamberlain, late Provincial Inspector of Prisons, accepted the Liberal nomination for the Commons for Dundas County.

At the convention of the independent labor party of Cape Breton, held at Glace Bay, N.S., Thursday night, Stephen B. McNeil, miner, was nominated as the candidate of the independent labor party in the coming Dominion election.

North Toronto Conservatives nominated the Hon. George E. Foster on Thursday night to contest the riding in the present campaign in their behalf. All the other nominees retired in his favor, and the convention was enthusiastically unanimous.

BARTLETT'S CONFESSION.

Deputy-Minister McKellar Implicated—A Plea For Mercy—Mr. McKellar Absolutely Denies the Story.

Winnipeg, Oct. 7.—Melvin Bartlett, accused of unlawfully appropriating funds belonging to the Local Government while he was employed as clerk in the Agriculture Department, sprung a sensation in Magistrate McKenzie's court when he came up for trial yesterday morning, in the nature of a letter addressed to the Premier of Manitoba, which contained accusations implicating Hugh McKellar, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, in speculations and charging that McKellar had instigated them and had full knowledge of what was going on, and had shared equally in the proceeds.

Bartlett said he had entered the Government service in 1892 on the death of his father, who preceded Mr. McKellar in office, at a salary of $35 per month, which was increased to $50 four months later. He pleaded his youth, domestic responsibilities and Mr. McKellar's prompting in extenuation of his crime, and asked for the mercy of the Government. Bartlett was remanded for sentence until Monday.

Deputy Minister McKellar, when seen after the trial, made the following statement: "There is not a word of truth in any of the charges that Bartlett has made against me. The whole charge is false from beginning to end."

Premier Roblin, when asked if further investigation would be made, refused to express an opinion.

Chamberlain and Balfour.

London, Oct. 7.—(C. A. P.)—The Daily Chronicle says what Chamberlain proposes we know with the utmost precision; what Balfour proposes we have never yet been told except in the most vague and general terms.

The Daily News has no sympathy either with Mr. Balfour or Mr. Chamberlain in the quarrel which is slowly developing. They are both enemies of free trade and of the peace of the British Empire. They are both sailing pirate ships under false colors.

An Australian cable says the Australian newspapers generally welcome the idea of a conference but doubt whether there can be any practical result until the attitude of the British public is made known through the medium of a general election.

Archdeacon Worrell Is Bishop.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 7.—The much-debated question as to the legality of the election of Archdeacon Worrell of Kingston to the Bishopric of Nova Scotia is settled. The committee of the Diocesan Synod, which has been looking into the matter, and which was empowered to take the matter to the courts if necessary, has reported that the election was legal, one member of the Synod having come before them and testified that he was present but did not vote. This gives Worrell the necessary majority.

Skull Crushed By Lamp.

Kingston, Oct. 7.—While Arthur Murray, aged 13, son of W. Murray, auctioneer, was adjusting the range light on Barriefield commons, he was badly injured Wednesday night. The cable broke and the heavy lamp fell upon his head, causing a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain. The lad is in the hospital in a serious condition.

Port Arthur Naval Battle Not Confirmed, Though It Is Inferable That the Russian Fleet May Have Come Out—Significant Orders to Seamen of Baltic Fleet—A Long War.

Mukden, Oct. 7.—Something unusual is in the wind. A great bustle is now noticeable. The streets are thronged with hurrying crowds and innumerable carts and pack mules.

Brisbane, Queensland, Oct. 7.—It is reported that two Russian warships are cruising off Thursday Island.

Britain On Guard.

Melbourne, Victoria, Oct. 7.—Admiral Fanshawe, commanding the Australian squadron, has ordered the warships Pylades and Cadmus to proceed to Torres Strait to warn the Russian warships, reported to have been seen cruising off Thursday Island, against committing any breach of international law.

Scouts Are Busy.

Mukden, Oct. 7.—The main forces of both armies remain quiet, but the scouts are active. On Tuesday a Cossack detachment had a short but sharp brush with some Japanese dragoons near the Ventai mines. The Japanese lost four men killed and had two captured. They then fled.

Quiet At Port Arthur.

London, Oct. 7.—No confirmation has reached London of the reported naval fight off Port Arthur, a story to which effect was sent out by a news agency here, and it is supposed that the firing heard at Che Foo, which was reported by the same agency, could only have been from Japanese warships chasing blockade runners. The latest Che Foo despatch to The Daily Telegraph, dated ten o'clock on the night on which the fighting was reported to have occurred (Wednesday), says: "Port Arthur is quiet. The Russians are busy repairing forts. The municipality has undertaken to control the flour trade, and as a result the price is enormously reduced, merchants having previously sold it at exorbitant figures. The band still plays twice weekly."

Fleet Left Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 7.—While the Admiralty claims to have no knowledge of the Port Arthur squadron, it is inferrable from the way in which the report that such an event had transpired has been received that definite confirmation would not come as a surprise. The Associated Press is informed that no direct orders have been sent to Admiral Wiren to break through the blockading fleet, but it is tacitly admitted that the admiral has discretionary powers to leave Port Arthur should the situation demand or conditions be propituous. In naval circles it is pointed out that Wednesday morning the conditions might have been favorable for a sortie.

Orders were issued to-day to all seamen belonging to the battleship Orel and the cruisers Oleg, Zomtchug and Izumrud to rejoin their vessels at Cronstadt immediately. It is believed that this presages the sailing of these vessels to-morrow for Reval, where Emperor Nicholas will review the whole Pacific squadron.

LONG WAR PREDICTED.

Count Okuma Warns the Japanese What to Expect.

Tokio, Oct. 7.—In addressing the members of the united clearing house of Tokio yesterday, Count Okuma, leader of the Progressive party, warned the people to prepare for a long war, the date of the termination of which it was now impossible to foretell. He said that for a two-years' war, including the loans which had been already placed and the expenses consequent upon the war at its termination, would total one billion dollars, which would make the per capita share amount to twenty dollars.

Count Okuma said that corruption appeared to pervade the military, political and financial departments of the Russian Government, and that this corruption had almost reached a climax which threatened a revolution. The speaker declared that the weakness of the Russians gave the Japanese many victories.

Despite her weakness, Count Okuma said, Russia possessed immense resources, and had tremendous advantages in the size of her population and the greatness of her wealth, and it would be necessary for the Japanese to make heavy sacrifices in order to attain success. He predicted that the war would cost Russia from one and one-half billion to two billion dollars, and said it would be impossible to raise loans or increase the taxes in Russia, because the limit had been reached.

The Count predicted that it would be necessary for the Japanese Government to borrow $250,000,000 next year, and added that if $75,000,000 were secured abroad the country must face a depreciation in the value of its securities.

Count Okuma urged the nation to carefully husband its strength and resources and expressed the fullest confidence in the ultimate victory of Japanese arms.

"MOCK BANQUET" TO RETIRING OFFICERS.

Successful Meeting of George Street Young Men's Guild.

The Elections of Officers—Some of the Toasts Proposed—Prospects for Coming Year.

Last night the Young Men's Guild of George street church held one of the most successful meetings in the history of the Guild. The attendance was good, and the interest displayed by the young men present was an indication of the future success of the organization.

The principal business was the election of officers, nominations for which were held two weeks ago. The election resulted as follows:—

Hon. President—Rev. Dr. Crothers.
Hon. Vice-Presidents—Messrs. A. W. Cressman, E. H. Dobbin, J. Jeffries and A. E. Dixon.
President—M. J. Hutchinson.
Vice-President—Geo. Robertson.
Secretary—J. W. Wood.
Treasurer—R. Dobbin.
Reporter—S. S. Moore.
Critic—H. R. H. Kenner.

After the election of officers a "Mock Banquet" to the retiring officers was proceeded with, and proved very interesting as well as instructive and beneficial. The "Mock" part of the banquet was in the refreshment line, nothing to eat being provided, but the toasts were proposed and responded to as would be done in an ordinary banquet, the object being to provide the young men with opportunities under familiar surroundings for public speaking, and the result of the experiment proved most satisfactory.

Mr. H. R. H. Kenner acted as toastmaster and filled the duties of that position with marked acceptability.

The first toast honoured was that to the King, proposed by the toastmaster, who spoke of the prominent place which Canada, by reason of a chain of events, beginning with the Jubilee of 1897, has attained to in the eyes of the British Empire. He referred to the as yet unrealized possibilities of Canada as a nation, and said that she was to-day the brightest gem in Britain's crown. The Empire was fortunate in having a ruler with such tact as King Edward, and he might well be counted among the great monarchs of the world, one who would promote peace and harmony. The toast was loyally honoured and was followed by one to "The retiring officers," proposed by Mr. Geo. Robertson, who referred to the energy displayed by the officers during the past year, and said that any success which the Guild had attained was largely due to the faithful and well-directed efforts of those who had held the offices. Brief but suitable replies on behalf of the officers retiring were made by Mr. W. B. Warne, the retiring president and Mr. Galley, retiring treasurer. Both of these gentlemen have filled their respective offices since the organization of the Guild two years ago.

The toast to "The Church" was proposed by Mr. L. Turner, who made a brilliant little speech, in the course of which he said that the Methodist church was essentially a young man's church, and he believed that its rapid growth was due largely to the fact that special attention had always been paid by the church to young men, and he predicted that its future success and growth would very largely depend upon the amount of attention it paid in the future to the young man.

Rev. Dr. Crothers responded, and also emphasized the facts mentioned by the proposer of the toast.

The next toast was that proposed by Mr. F. H. Dobbin to "The Sister Guilds," and in proposing the toast he outlined briefly the history of the Guild's growth, going back to the time of the Spanish Armada, when the work of providing the ships which took part in that great fight was done by guilds. He considered that to-day societies represented by the guilds were a necessary part of the church. It was impossible for the churches, by reason of the complex conditions of society, to reach and influence all classes of the people, and the Young Men's Guilds had done a great work in interesting and benefitting the young men, many of whom but for the Guild, would not be identified with the church in any way.

Replies to this toast were made by Messrs. J. W. Wood, A. Mann and J. Middleton, the former referring to the fact that Peterborough was a town of Guilds, St. Andrew's being the first to be instituted in Canada, and following its lead, many more were now in successful operation, and doing good work.

Mr. J. Jefferies proposed the toast to "The Baseball Team," and Mr. Ross Dobbin, the manager, responded. "The Ladies," was proposed by Mr. S. S. Moore, and after being honoured was responded to in the usual way.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, in proposing the toast to "The Press," made a very thoughful address, saying that the function of the newspaper was to (1) report news, and (2) to comment upon it. In the former very often great discretion was necessary, in deciding just what to publish, and what not to publish. Speaking of the latter, the speaker thought that as a general thing the newspapers of the present day did not live up to their opportunities, and that the editorial column was often, instead of commenting on news, devoted to the discussion of politics, generally of a decidedly partisan character and, as a consequence, the editorial columns of the newspaper were not read as widely as they would otherwise be.

Responses to this toast were made by Mr. Dobbin, Mr. Dredge and the Examiner representative.

Mr. Kenner, responding to the toast to "The Chairman," proposed by Mr. Armstrong, as critic gave a short address, in which some good advice was given, and some helpful suggestions made.

The meeting was a decidedly interesting one, and the intention of the Guild is to during the winter months hold meetings which will be interesting to young men.

PETERBORO' BOY'S SUCCESS OUT WEST.

Mr. J. W. Hilborn Managing Director of Balgonie Milling Company.

Western Prospects are Good—People People There Want the Railway.

Peterborough boys have a faculty for turning up on top wherever they may be, and when one of the young men leaves town it is a pretty safe bet that before long he will be heard of as being at the head of something. Some four months ago Mr. J. W. Hilborn, a Peterborough boy, left here for the West, and that he has followed out the traditions of other Peterborough boys in making a success is evidenced by the fact that he came back to town on Wednesday night, the managing director of the Balgonie Milling Company, of Balgonie, Assa. Balgonie is a little town about eighteen miles west of Regina, the capital of the Northwest Territories, and is a representative western town. It has a population of only about 300, but is the centre of a splendid farming community, a fact, the truth of which is attested to by the presence of six large elevators at that point.

Mr. Hilborn has spent the last two months in that town, and during that time has organized the company of which he is now the managing director. Recognizing the need of a flour mill to serve the requirements of a good and constantly increasing local market, he decided to engage in the milling business, in which business he is a practical man, and he interested a number of local capitalists in the project, with the result that a company was formed, and the foundation for a 125 barrel mill is now completed, and the mill itself will be in operation by the close of the winter.

Mr. Hilborn's object in coming east is to purchase machinery for the new mill. The market for the product of the mill will be largely local, but an exporting business will also be done.

The milling industry in the west is a growing one, and in every town almost of any importance, mills are either in course of erection or in operation, and the whole west will in a few years be one great flour manufacturing country.

Mr. Hilborn is of the opinion that while the grain this year will be affected by frost, in some places considerably so, up to 50 per cent. perhaps, the farmers will realize equally as much from the crop as in former years, by reason of the higher price of wheat. The farmers are very well satisfied with their returns from this season's crop, and it is a common thing around Indian Head to hear farmers talking about having a crop of 20,000 to 24,000 bushels.

The wheat this year will grade down from No 1 hard, which, however will be somewhat scarce, to feed wheat.

Mr. Hilborn was questioned by the Examiner as to the attitude of the people of the west on the new transcontinental railway plan of the Dominion Government, and, while he was in a part of the country which would not be vitally affected by a new railway, as there is already competing lines serving that section, and consequently a very warm approval of the plan might not be expected, he found that they were unanimous almost in their endorsation of the Government's railway policy.

The west is growing very rapidly, and all the transportation facilities available will be required to serve the needs of the west in a few years, consequently any new line of railway which will be a transcontinental line, and serve as a connecting link between the east and the west, will be welcomed by the people of the west.

Mr. Hilborn tells a story showing the rapidity with which business deals are made in the west. A week ago last Monday a deputation of Balgonie citizens went to Regina to get a bank located at the former town. They first interviewed the manager of the Imperial Bank and stated their case, and the manager of the local branch wired to the general manager asking for instructions. The deputation also wired the general manager, telling him that an immediate action was desired or another bank would locate there. The result was that on Tuesday evening's train from Regina the manager of the Regina branch arrived in Balgonie and the same night a branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada was duly installed and business was being done the same evening.

Mr. Hilborn will go back to the west in a couple of months after he has procured the machinery for his mill.

OFFICERS WERE ALL RE-ELECTED.

Annual Meeting of Historical Society Last Evening.

Report of the Secretary—Substantial Balance on Hand—Additions to the Museum.

The annual meeting of the Historical Society was held last evening in the Y.M.C.A. Parlour. There were present Messrs. Col. Rogers, T. A. S. Hay, J. B. McWilliams, Rach. Hall, J. H. Burnham, E. Elcome and Rev. J. C. Davidson.

Col. Rogers, president, was in the chair. He said that the treasurer, Miss Watt, was in the Old Country at the present time, and thought that the society had every reason to feel gratified with her work and that of her assistant, Mrs. Birdsall, as they had secured subscriptions from 64 members. The committee had appropriated $100 to be used in adding collections to the museum, and Mr. Elcome was undertaking the making up of a case of fish and water fowl which would materially add to the exhibits. The society had expended $160 this year inclusive of the $100 above mentioned, leaving a balance of $237. He hoped that another $100 would be received from the Ontario Government so that another room could be fitted up and the collection of animals made more complete. Birds and animals were already among the exhibits and this year fish were added.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

The secretary read his annual report as follows:—

To the officers and members of the County of Peterborough Historical Society.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen,—As Secretary, I beg to present my seventh annual report, as follows:—

The society has held but few meetings during the year.

The Executive Committee has however, been active.

The President, with the assistance of a few of the members, has purchased much valuable and interesting matter, consisting of the stories of some of our oldest residents, whom they personally interviewed and by interrogations, with the help of a stenographer, have added a store of information to our archieves. The example of our worthy President might be emulated by all members. Every one can help a little and by so doing, carry out the objects of our society.

The society has nominally 41 members but the fees are somewhat in arrears and some means of overcoming this difficulty should be devised, as it is our only revenue.

The museum has been visited during the year by large numbers. The collections have been increased by many valuable additions, among which may be enumerated:—

The large and valuable library and bookcase of the late Richard Birdsall, Esq., besides two cheese boards, four handsomely carved hardwood paddles, dumbbells, etc., presented by Mrs. Birdsall.

Mrs. Hazlett has presented the following equipment and articles, the property of the late T. G. Hazlett, badges and spurs worn by Mr. Hazlett while on the Guard of Honour on the occasion of the visit to Peterborough in 1860, of His Majesty King Edward VII., then Prince of Wales.

Mr. John Anderson presented a collection of coins and metals.

Mrs. W. J. Nesbitt, of Florida, presented a large collection of shells, plants and other natural products, collected by herself for the museum, while on a tour of the Carribean Sea. This later addition to the Florida Room is a further mark of the kindness of Mrs. Nesbitt. The room is now entirely occupied by exhibits presented by this lady.

Messrs. George and J. H. Burnham, presented a large and handsome framed photograph of "Englebourne", Ashburnham, formerly the residence of the late Rev. Mark Burnham.

Mr. R. M. Roy presented a very fine set of photographs of the opening of the Hydraulic Lift Lock and Presentation of New Colours to the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers.

Miss Grundy presented a portrait of the late Isabella Valancey Crawford, Canadian Poetess, for many years a resident of Peterborough.

We have also received maps and reports of the geological survey, Department, Ottawa, and reports from the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., and reports from several Historical Societies of Ontario.

The thanks of the society are due to the donors of those valuable additions to the Museum and Library.

The caretaker, Mrs. Bowland, has shown much zeal and interest in her care of the rooms and exhibits, and has been always courteous and attentive to visitors. I regret to have to say that she has frequently been much annoyed by rude young men and boys who congregate about the premises.

The society was represented at the annual meeting of the Ontario Historical Society, held in June in Windsor, Ontario, by our President, Lieut.-Col. Rogers, who will no doubt, give you an outline of transactions at that meeting. Col. Rogers was elected Vice-President of the Ontario Historical Society at that meeting.

The most important events of an historical nature which have occurred in Peterborough during the past year have been:—

The union of the municipalities of the Town of Peterborough and Village of Ashburnham, which was consummated on the first of January.

The visit on Victoria Day of Major-General the Earl of Dundonald, C. V. O. C. B., on the occasion of the presentation of new colours to the 57th Regiment, Peterborough Rangers, by the ladies of Peterborough.

The old colours which were presented to the regiment in 1868 were deposited in St. John's church by the regiment on the 19th of June and a handsome brass tablet erected beneath them recording their history.

The connecting link between two important sections of the Trent Canal, the Peterborough-Lakefield division, was completed during the early summer months, and the great Hydraulic Lift Lock was formally opened with much ceremony on July 9th by the official visit of a large party of Ministers, Senators, Members of Parliament and officials, in the presence of an immense concourse of people gathered from all parts of the Province. It is gratifying to record this long desired consummation of the hopes of the people of the Midland District and it is of interest to this society that two of its members Messrs R. B. Rogers and W. J. Francis were the engineers who designed and carried out successfully this gigantic undertaking.

The Town of Peterborough this year has enjoyed a phenomenal growth. It is estimated that two hundred and fifty new houses have been erected. The population has increased very considerably by the influx of new residents from other parts of Canada and a large number of immigrants from the old country in addition to natural increases. Work has been plentiful and wages good.

The Peterborough Street Railway after lying dormant for some years, was opened for traffic, under new and able management, on the first of September.

T. A. S. HAY,
Secretary.

It was moved by Rev. Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. McWilliams, that the secretary's report be received and adopted.

The President made a few remarks with reference to the annual meeting of the Provincial Historical Society at Windsor last year. He was a delegate to the meeting which was one of much interest, many very fine papers being read. The site where the meetings were held was somewhat historic, being the first settlement in the west, the French settling there before doing so along Lake Ontario.

Col. Rogers at the meeting read a paper prepared by Mr. J. H. Burnham, which contained Chief Paudash's statement that the Mississaugas a branch of the Ojibwas or Chippewas had conquered this county and taken it from the Mohawks. There had been a difference of opinion on this matter, it having been said that the Mohawks had deserted it and consequently the Mississaugas occupied it without conquest. The claim of Paudash was naturally considered as a somewhat peculiar one; however, it was elaborated by Paudash in detail and subsequently there was discovered in the records at Ottawa the report of Government explorers long ago, conclusively showing Paudash's claim to be a correct one.

The election of officers resulted in all the officers of the past year being re-elected as follows:

Hon. President—His Honour Judge Weller.
President—Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers.
1st. Vice-President—Richard Hall.
2nd Vice-President—J. B. McWilliams.
3rd Vice-President—Mrs. R. Birdsall.
Secretary—T. A. S. Hay.
Treasurer—Miss M. Watt.
Executive Committee—Lt.-Col. E. B Edwards, E. J. Toker, D. Spence, Rev. J. C. Davidson, E. Elcome, J. C. Brown, F. J. Jamieson.
Museum Committee — Dr. Burnham, H. T. Strickland and T. A. S. Hay.
Auditors—F. Brownscombe, J. H. Burnham.

Upon motion it was decided to raise the grant to Mrs. Howland, caretaker of the museum, to $15.

The meeting then adjourned.

PLEASINGLY ENTERTAINED.

Members of St. Luke's Choir, Bible Class and S. S. Teachers, Guests of the Rector.

The members of the choir, the Bible class and the Sunday school teachers, of St. Luke's church, were the guests last night of the Rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, in the Sunday school room, where a very pleasant social hour was spent. Mr. Langfeldt in welcoming his guests, spoke of the faithful work done by those present in their particular organizations, and the loyal support he had had at all times from his people. He expressed his appreciation of Mr. J. J. Turner's jr., services, as teacher of the Bible class, and as his lay reader. The choir was also complimented on its excellent work, and the able leadership of the choir master, Mr. Jos. Legg, who is faithfully assisted by the organist, Mr. J. L. Armstrong. Mr. David Spence, the Sunday school superintendent, was unfortunately prevented from being present, but a large number of the Sunday school teachers attended the social.

Mr. Turner was called upon to say a few words about his work. The choirmaster, Mr. Legg, also spoke, and several other speeches were made.

Mr. Reaston and Mr. Legg delighted the audience with well rendered solos. Mrs. Sawyer, the superintendent of the Mission Band, announced that the Mission Band would contribute $10 for Missions, and Mr. Turner said that his Bible class would contribute $25 for the same cause. Both announcements were enthusiastically received.

Refreshments were served, and a very social time was spent. After a vote of thanks to the Rector, the social came to a close with singing the National Anthem, and the benediction pronounced by the Rector.

SOMETHING OUT OF THE USUAL.

A Second Millinery Opening Event at Miss Delaney's.

Our formal autumn opening of millinery in September was such an unbounded success, that we have arranged for a second opening to continue during the remainder of this week. An inspection of the new displays will reveal still later novelties than those shown last month—new ideas in materials, shapes, trimmings and colour effects. The most beautiful modes in millinery will be on view, representing the ultra fashionable ready-to-wear hats for fall and winter. Especially charming effects by expert designers and millinery artists of New York City, exquisite picture hats from Paris and artistic productions of our own milliners.

APPENDICITIS.

The Most Dreaded Disease of Civilization

is the condition known as appendicitis. Once fully established, nothing will remedy but the cold knife. It has once been thought that this inflammation was caused by seeds or foreign bodies entering the appendix, but this theory is long exploded.

The true cause of appendicitis is sluggishness of the bowels, constipation and the gases which are formed in consequence produce germs known to the scientific physician as the Bacilli Coli Communis. Now to avoid this formation of gas germs, constipation and the resulting inflammation, take Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills, which have been tested in all the various diseases of the stomach, bowels and liver, and found to be the greatest and best preventative remedy known.

You may be very sick at night; Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills make you well in the morning. They will quickly and permanently cure.

Jap Attempt on High Hill Leads to Appalling Bloodshed.

TIE PASS NEXT WAR THEATRE

Unconfirmed Reports of Another Great Naval Fight Off Port Arthur and Another Assault On the Fortress—Gen. Stoessel Reports Jap Losses Between Sept. 19 and 23 At 10,000 Men.

London, Oct. 6.—The Daily Telegraph's Che Foo correspondent says that on Sept. 24 and 25 the Japanese made repeated and recklessly brave attempts to capture High Hill at Port Arthur. Owing to destruction of earthworks their advance was completely unprotected, and under the rays of the searchlight the Russian machine guns swept them down in masses.

"More troops, however, came on with fanatical bravery," the correspondent adds, "leaping over the bodies of their dead comrades. Then the Russians, emboldened by their success, sortied. The Japanese replied with machine guns. It was the first time the Japanese had been able to entice the Russians from their shelters, and they worked terrible havoc among them.

"The scene next morning was appalling. The hillside was strewn with mingled Russian and Japanese bodies, some of them gripped with ghastly realism. Boulders were trickling with blood.

"A brief message was received today. It is in torn paper in Chinese, and signed by Gen. Stoessel. It states that all had been quiet since Sept. 25, and that the Japanese again had asked for and were refused a truce to bury their dead.

"An official Japanese statement admits the repulse and confesses the necessity of a resort to a passive siege.

"Enteric fever has broken out in the garrison at Port Arthur."

RUSSIANS FORTIFYING.

Tie Pass Russian Main Base and What May Be Looked For.

Tokio, Oct. 6.—It is evident that the country, which is embraced by an irregular triangle, the apex of which is Tie Pass, with the base running from Mukden to Fushan, on the upper reaches of the Hun River, will soon be the theatre of extended and extensive military operations.

The Russians are apparently using Tie Pass as their main base and are constructing a series of defences to shield it from the south and the east. Two roadways approach Tie Pass from the south. One is the main highway from Mukden and the other, which is smaller, starts at Fushun and winds through a hilly country. Nineteen miles north of Mukden is the town of Yilu, the south and eastern approaches to which are sheltered by sharp ridges, offering a natural protection. It is reported here that the Russians are strongly intrenching on these ridges and are erecting semi-permanent fortifications. The Yilu River, which is shallow and fordable, runs through the town.

Russians Fortifying High Hill.

The Russians are reported to be fortifying the right bank of the river between Yilu and Tahaitun, fifteen miles to the northward. Several miles of ridges cross the road and it is said that the Russians are erecting works on many of these eminences between Tahaitun and Tie Pass. For some seven miles the country, generally speaking, is flat, although commanding the roadway from the eastward is a hill a thousand metres in height which the Russians are fortifying. A range of hills flanks Tie Pass on the eastward.

The Russians are holding Fushun with a heavy force, and it is believed they are erecting works along the road from that place to Tie Pass.

This defensive work of the Russians and the disposition of their forces strengthens the belief that General Kuropatkin merely intends to retard Field Marshal Oyama in his crossing of the Hun River and to give battle on the ground which he is now hurriedly fortifying.

GREAT NAVAL BATTLE.

Russian Squadron Makes a Sortie From Port Arthur.

London, Oct. 6.—A news agency here late last night sent out a despatch dated Tokio, Oct. 5, saying: "It is reported that the Russian squadron made a sortie from Port Arthur to-day and that a great naval battle occurred." No details are given.

Japs Lost 10,000.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel (commander of the Russian military forces at Port Arthur), says the Japanese losses were 10,000 during the attacks on Port Arthur from Sept. 19 to Sept. 22. He reports that no incident occurred from Sept. 23 to Sept. 30, excepting outpost skirmishing.

Alexieff Recal

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—In the absence of developments at the front, interest at St. Petersburg centres in the disposition to be made of certain improvement, civil and military officers. Rumor has it that Viceroy Alexieff has been reinstated in royal favor, and will upon his return from the Far East become the actual director of Russia's foreign policy. Friends of Gen. Kuropatkin are confident that he will be given at least temporary command of the two Manchurian armies.

CONGRESS OF PEACE.

War Affects the Working Class More Than Any Other.

Boston, Oct. 6.—The International Peace Congress has adopted resolutions calling upon Russia and Japan to end the present war and upon the signatory powers of The Hague Convention to press upon the Governments of Russia and Japan the importance of putting an end to the strife.

Duty of Business Men.

The duties of business men in the cause of attaining universal peace was the subject discussed last night at a public meeting in Tremont Temple.

John Lund, former President of the Norwegian Parliament; Thomas Snape of Liverpool, Walter Bazell of London, George Arnhold of Dresden, and Geo. F. Peabody of New York were among the speakers.

As It Affects Labor.

Every labor union in the city was represented at a workingmen's public mass meeting in Faneuil Hall.

The keynote of the gathering was war affected the working class of the world more than any other class, that working people should band themselves together and insist that war, both industrial and political, should cease.

Samuel Gompers and prominent labor representatives of Great Britain, France, Belgium and Germany spoke.

A set of resolutions adopted endorse the declaration for international peace made by the American Federation of Labor at the Baltimore Congress, in 1887.

INTERESTING FACTS.

For Nearly Every Man, Woman or Child

A short time ago we published an article recommending to our readers the new discovery for the cure of Dyspepsia, called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and the claims then made regarding the wonderful curative properties of the remedy have been abundantly sustained by the facts. People who were cautious about trying new remedies advertised in the newspapers and were finally induced to give Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial were surprised and delighted at the results. In many cases a single package costing but 50 cents at any drug store made a complete cure and in every instance the most beneficial results were reported. From a hundred or more received we have space to publish only a few of the latest, but assure our readers we receive so many commendatory letters that we shall publish each week a fresh list of genuine, unsolicited testimonials and never publish the same one twice.

From James Yemmesaier, La Crosse, Wis.: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing me more good than anything I ever tried and I was so pleased at results that I gave away several boxes to my friends who have also had the same benefits.

From Jacob Anthony, Portmurray, New Jersey: I have taken Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets with the best results. I had Dyspepsia for six years and had taken a great deal of medicine, but the Tablets seem to take right a hold and I feel good. I am a farmer and lime burner and I heartily recommend to everyone who has any trouble with his stomach to use these Tablets.

From Mrs. M. K. West, Preston, Minn.: I have received surprisingly good effects from using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I gave one-half of my last box to a friend who also suffered from indigest on and she had the same good results.

From Mrs. Agnes K Ralston, Cadillac, Mich.: I have been taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I am very much better, and feel very grateful for the great benefit I have received in so short a time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure for all forms of Indigestion. They are not claimed to be a cure-all, but are prepared for stomach troubles only, and physicians and druggists everywhere recommend them to all persons suffering from Nervous Dyspepsia, sour or acid stomach, heartburn, bloating or wind on stomach and similar disorders.

A GLOOMY PICTURE

Mr. Chamberlain's View of British Agricultural Situation.

TERMS WITH THE COLONIES

Endorses Premier Balfour's Suggestion of a Conference With Colonial Representatives, But Wants No Delay in Calling It Together—Fiscal Campaign Again to the Fore—Resolution Endorsing Change.

London, Oct. 6.—Joseph Chamberlain re-opened his fiscal campaign at Luxon, Bedfordshire, last night. He began his speech with an eloquent tribute to the late Sir William Vernon Harcourt. On the fiscal question proposition, Mr. Chamberlain said it was not a party question, but affected every vital interest of the country.

He dwelt at considerable length on the agricultural situation and painted a gloomy picture of present conditions, predicting that there is worse to come. He said agriculture had been crippled and land values had shrunk by hundreds of millions. The capital of farmers, he said, had fallen $1,000,000,000. There are a million less laborers in the country now than there were in 1851, and 13,000,000 people under-fed, while the people of America, Germany and other foreign countries are prosperous and surpassing Great Britain in every line of business. He said to deny existing conditions was impossible, and to ignore them would be criminal.

Mr. Balfour's Speech.

Alluding to Mr. Balfour's Edinburgh speech, Mr. Chamberlain said he did not want the protection of 50 years ago, but he did want to make foreigners pay toll on shipments to the British market, where they competed with British workmen, and unless Great Britain and her colonies worked together there was nothing in sight but disintegration of the Empire.

Mr. Chamberlain said that Mr. Balfour's statement concerning a conference with the colonies marked a distinct advance; but Mr. Balfour should not delay; he should call the conference at once and see what terms could be made with the colonies.

Blemish in Balfour's Proposal.

Mr. Chamberlain saw only one blemish in Mr. Balfour's proposal; it was that the Premier seemed to think it would be necessary, after the conference had arrived at an agreement, to take a second election. Mr. Chamberlain saw no need of such a second plebiscite and foresaw needless and endless trouble if, before the agreement was submitted to the respective Parliaments, they had to wait till every legislator, at home and in the colonies, was re-elected.

Mr. Chamberlain, in closing, predicted that if the fiscal policy be developed along the lines he indicated, then descendants would see a united nation of a hundred million, all carrying it on in all the corners of the globe.

The resolution in favor of a change in the present fiscal system was carried by a large majority, which closed the meeting.

50,000 On Verge of Starvation.

London, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the Manchester City Council yesterday it was announced that owing to the hard times and depression in the cotton industries, between 40,000 and 50,000 people in the poorer parts of the city were practically on the verge of starvation. Similar conditions prevail in London and other large cities of the United Kingdom, where the winter is expected to be one of the hardest in many years for the poorer classes.

LORD ROBERTS' LETTER.

Its Use to Advertise An Emigration Agency Stopped By Famous Soldier.

London, Oct. 6.—(C. A. P.)—Lord Roberts wrote a private letter to Mr. Bunbury, which letter was used by the Courtenay Company to advertise their emigration agency. W. T. R. Preston drew Lord Roberts' attention to the use the letter was being made of, and Lord Roberts requested that its use in such a manner, be stopped. Mr. Bunbury, writing to The Truth, says it was malicious officiousness, and that Mr. Preston seized upon Courtenay's circular as a temporary weapon to attack those who belong to the party of his political opponents.

Capital Stock Increased.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—The twenty-third annual meeting of the C.P.R. was held here at noon yesterday, and was largely attended. The annual report was considered very satisfactory in every respect, and although the earnings did not show up as well as was expected in some quarters, yet it was found very satisfactory when the adverse conditions existing during the year were taken into consideration. Sir William Van Horne, chairman of the board of directors, was in the chair. All the directors of the company were also present. The annual report was adopted and the shareholders also authorized the increase of the capital stock by $25,500,000, making the total of the ordinary capital stocks $110,000,000. The old board of directors were all re-elected.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Motto Cheered to the Echo.

PREMIER SPEAKS AT HOME

Confident of Success, He Offered in Quebec Last a Vigorous Justification of His Policy—Asks Mr. Borden to Define Adequate Protection — G. T. P. Railway Every Inch On Canadian Territory.

Quebec, Oct. 6.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier opened his campaign tour in Jacques Cartier Hall last night. The gathering served to emphasize the firm hold which he has upon the affections of the people of his native Province. It was fitting that the first public appearance of the Premier after the dissolution should be in the riding which for 27 years he has represented in Parliament, to render to his constituents an account of his stewardship, and to again ask a renewal of the confidence placed in him in the days of his political youth; the confidence which has remained unimpaired up to the present.

In a Happy Position.

Sir Wilfrid found himself in the happy position that his wishes had been anticipated, and before he had an opportunity of preferring his request the electors who have so loyally stood by him for so long a period presented him with an address assuring him of their continued support, requesting him to again become their candidate, and trusting him take up the onerous duties of leader of the party in the campaign with perfect confidence that they will, as in the past, do their duty by returning him at the polls.

Confident of Success.

The Premier had spent a busy day receiving reports from every district in the Province and meeting old friends. When he entered Jaaques Cartier Hall last night Sir Wilfrid was inspired with confidence, the reports received from every district in the Province having been indicative of most complete success. His friends were gratified by the evidences so plain and so convincing of his restoration to health, and with the vigor and force of his address. That thousands of people would remain standing closely wedged and unable to move for an hour and a half in order to have an opportunity of hearing him speak, and that thousands more would brave the elements to take part in the demonstration on the streets, is a tribute to the personal magnetism of the Premier and the confidence with which he has inspired his compatriots.

Sir Wilfrid's Motto.

In his address Sir Wilfrid offered a vigorous justification of his policy, and emphasized his determination to rectify the mistake of Sir John Macdonald by securing to the people of Canada in the Grand Trunk Pacific a national transcontinental line every inch on Canadian territory and terminating at Canadian ports. Upon the tariff question he asked Mr. Borden to define "adequate" protection in order that the electors might know what the policy of the Conservative party was. In conclusion, amid a perfect hurricane of cheering, Sir Wilfrid assured the electors that he had received most encouraging reports from every Province; that he would be among them on November 3rd, and that on that day the news flashed over the wires from every portion of the Dominion would be that his motto, "Canada First, Always Canada," had again been triumphantly endorsed by the Canadian people.

Earlier in the evening Sir Wilfrid was the guest of the Club Canadien at a sumptuous banquet served in the new clubrooms in the Auditorium building.

Going for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Don't put yourself in this man's place, but keep a bottle of this remedy in your home. There is nothing so good for Colic, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhoea. It is equally valuable for Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum and has saved the lives of more children than any other medicine in use. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take.

You, or some one of your family, are sure to need this remedy sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly; you will need it quickly. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? Price, 35 cents.

MR. BEITH OFFERS TO RETIRE.

Mr. A. D. Aylesworth Will Probably Run in Durham County.

Bowmanville, Oct. 6.—Mr. Robert Beith, on hearing that Mr. A. D. Aylesworth, K.C., would be taken into the Dominion Cabinet, and would require a constituency, immediately offered to give up all claim on Durham County and retire from the candidacy in his favor. It is understood here that Mr. Beith had an interview with Mr. Aylesworth Wednesday evening, and formally made the proposal to him personally. An emergency meeting of the Executive of the County Liberal Association has been called, to meet in Bowmanville at 2 o'clock to-day, when the members will be requested to concur in the suggestion.

Unite On Railway Issue.

Toronto Junction, Oct. 6.—Two apostles of public ownership, differing somewhat in degree, met last night when Mr. R. L. Borden came to South York to speak in the interests of Mr. W. F. Maclean, the Conservative candidate. The Opposition leader came late, left early, and spoke but an hour. After he had departed Mr. Maclean took the floor, said he would go further than his leader, and declared for public ownership of the whole Grand Trunk System, as well as telephones and other public utilities. The meeting, which was held in Kilburn Hall, was attended by about 700 people, the hall being just filled.

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Peter Christie of Manchester, Ont., has accepted the Conservative nomination in South Ontario.

Conservatives of Quebec Centre nominated Dr. W. A. Verge Wednesday as standard bearer for the party.

The Liberals of the County of Laval Wednesday nominated Camille Paquette as their candidate for the Commons.

The Conservatives of Laprairie-Napierville Wednesday nominated Max Coupal, notary, as their candidate for the Commons.

G. F. Hodgins, merchant of Shawville, was chosen as the Liberal candidate for Pontiac, at their convention at Campbell's Bay, Wednesday.

A. Blumenthal, a prominent Jewish resident, was Wednesday night nominated and accepted as an independent labor candidate in St. Lawrence division of Montreal.

Kingston Conservatives nominated Capt. John Gaskin, ex-mayor and formerly manager of the Montreal Transportation Co., as the candidate in the coming elections.

Hamilton Conservatives held their convention Wednesday. They decided to run Frank C. Bruce in West Hamilton, and Samuel Barker in East Hamilton. Both candidates made short speeches.

The Liberal-Conservatives of the County of Halton met in convention in Milton Wednesday, when David Henderson was again chosen to carry the Conservative standard in the approaching Dominion elections.

James Kendry, who represented West Peterboro in the last Parliament, will be the Conservative candidate again. This was decided yesterday when Mr. Kendry and a number of Peterboro Conservatives saw Mr. Borden at the Albany Club.

Mr. Borden continues his Ontario tour. The following are his dates: Wingham, Oct 6; Dunnville, Oct. 7; Norwood (afternoon), Oct. 8; Peterboro (night), Oct. 8; Picton, Oct. 11; Brickville, Oct. 12; Cornwall, Oct. 13. From Alexandra he opens the Quebec campaign for a week, thence to the Maritime Provinces till the close of the campaign.

At a convention in Mitchell Wednesday afternoon of the South Perth Reform Association, attended by nearly a full representation of delegates, G. H. McIntyre of St. Mary's was chosen as the Liberal candidate for the House of Commons. D. K. Erb, the late member, was nominated, but declined. The names that went to ballot were those of Mr. McIntyre and T. H. Race, editor of The Mitchell Recorder. The vote stood 109 to 33.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrheal drain a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used confidently with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 50 cents in stamps. Send 50 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Grand Jury Brings In a True Bill For Killing and Maiming.

Toronto, Oct. 6.—The Grand Jury yesterday brought in a true bill against the Toronto Railway Co. for maintaining a common nuisance, under the following indictment prepared by County Crown Attorney Drayton:

That the company, without lawful excuse, unlawfully neglected and omitted to take reasonable precaution and care to avoid danger to human life in the operation of their cars upon the streets of Toronto, which were of such a design and without proper and sufficient fenders, guards, brakes and appliances, as would cause danger in human life and by improperly, illegally and negligently maintaining, operating and running their cars, in consequence whereof the lives, safety and health of the public and foot passengers were endangered.

And that the said Toronto Railway Co., in manner aforesaid, unlawfully did commit a common nuisance, thereby endangering the lives, safety, health, property and comfort of the public, and causing grievous bodily injuries to certain individuals, namely, William John Lee, James E. Duggan, Haskin Muckleston, Abel Hasking, David Hall, Florence Dixon, Lorne Millard, Josephine E. Mara, Samuel Brinbain, John Dixon, Immanuel P. Vale, Marion Solomon, Mary Kelly, William Pettigrew, Clarence Matheson, Appollo Churchill, Mary McCabe, John B. Hunter, Anne Kelly, Alexander Ross, Alice Peatty, John Falaideas, Byrel Edna Gordon, Kathleen Cockburn, Nettie Brown and Thomas Kennedy.

The case will not be tried until the next sessions in December.

THE AUDITOR-GENERAL.

Hopes Election Will Place Him in More Comfortable Position.

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—The Auditor-General last night confirmed the report of his withdrawal of his application for superannuation.

"I have decided to leave my case in the hands of the new Parliament," he said, "for I have some hope of enjoying a somewhat more comfortable position, no matter which party is in power. Each member returning, will, I expect, have some instructions from his constituents as to his action on the new audit act, and I will abide by their decision, as I consider the question a non-political one."

Captain Salmon's Charge.

Montreal, Oct. 6.—A sensation was sprung yesterday, when judgment was rendered in the celebrated Canada and Cape Breton enquiry, by Captain Salmon ruling that the entire responsibility of the accident was on the R. and O. Navigation Company, and then stating that, owing to political interference in the case, which delayed the rendering of the judgment, he had resigned his position. He considered that pressure was being brought to bear upon the court by one of the parties concerned, to the prejudice of the other.

Ontario Winners At St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 6.—Ten first prizes were won yesterday at the World's Fair Sheep, Goat and Swine Show by Ontario entries. The winners were: J. C. Ross of Jarvis, T. H. Shore of Blanworth, Hastings Bros. of Cross Hill, J. T. Gibson of Denfield (two first prizes), D. Douglass & Son of Mitchell, Ira Jackson of West Miller, and H. Brethore of Burford. The only other Canadian winning a first prize yesterday was J. A. McGillivray.

BOBCAYGEON WON THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

T. A. S. Defeated in Final Kawartha League Game Yesterday.

After being denied the privilege of defending the protest against them, the T. A. S. baseball team was informed a few days ago that the game played here two weeks ago between Bobcaygeon and the T. A. S. and which was won by the latter, had been thrown out and given to Bobcaygeon. This placed the teams a tie for the championship and the final game was ordered to be played at Lindsay yesterday. The game was won by Bobcaygeon by a score of 8-6.

The day was too cold for baseball but nevertheless the play was snappy and most of the errors were excusable. There was nothing sensational about the play and it was anybody's game from start to finish. The T. A. S. took an early lead and at the end of the third innings were leading by 6-2, but after that they failed to get a man over the pan, though several were left on bases. The winners started the ball rolling in the fifth and made six runs in four innings. There was but very little to choose between the teams, the hitting and fielding being about on a par.

Both pitchers did good work. Quinlan was in good form and it was through no fault of his that victory did not perch on the shoulders of the locals. A little poor support at critical moments proved disastrous. Quinlan did fine work with the ash also, banging out two doubles. In the eighth, he sprained his arm and retired in favour of Parnell who was not batted hard.

The game was witnessed by a fairly large number of spectators including quite a sprinkling of Bobcaygeon supporters.

The teams were:—

T. A. S.—Callaghan, 3 b.; Fitzpatrick, c. f.; Derocher, r. f.; Treanor, 1 b.; Lamremouille, l. f.; Quinlan, p. and 2 b.; Craig, s. s.; Parnell, 2 b. and p.; Fitzgerald, c.

Score by innings:—

Bobcaygeon, ... 011001311—8
T. A. S. ... ... 200000000—2

Left on bases.—T. A. S., 7; Bobcaygeon, 5. Bases on balls.—Quinlan, 1; Cameron, 1. Two base hits.—Johnson, Cameron, Quinlan, 2. Struck out by Quinlan, 5; by Cameron, 5. Umpire, Burke, of Lindsay.

RUGBY.

The Rugby players had a good workou tlast night at the Driving Park.

A Hamilton despatch says:—"Both the senior and junior Tiger teams had practices last evening. Ben Simpson, the ex-Queen's player, was out for the first time and created a splendid impression among the members of the club. He is a valuable acquisition to the team. He is a good punter, a splendid runner, and will strengthen the back division."

Captain Crowley is working hard with his men. Improvement is being shown at every practice.

The Business College challenges the Collegiate Institute to a game of rugby at any date suitable to both teams.

* * *

An interesting game of rugby is promised for to-morrow afternoon when the Peterborough II. team plays the T. A. S. of Port Hope. The line up of the locals will be:—Back, Mulhern; Halves, Walkey, L. Craig, Kelly; quarter, Gillespie; scrap, O'Brien; wings, Fitzpatrick, Thornton, Walker, Hook, Green, Gilbert.

* * *

The Senior O. R. F. U. games scheduled for to-morrow are Victorias at London and Torontos at Argonauts. Both should be close games.

Care of Carving Knives.

Particular care should be taken of carving knives. If they could be kept as sharp as butchers' knives carving would be a simpler matter. A reliable looking butcher remarked once that he never cleansed his knives with water because it ruined the temper of the steel. The knives may be cleansed with soft paper, and if properly used it will make them perfectly clean, but in careless hands this method may prove a very untidy one.

Celery Salad.

Wash and cut up two bunches of celery, put in a salad bowl, sprinkle with salt, pour over mayonnaise dressing to ——, and serve very cold.

Use Lever's Dry Soap (a powder) to wash woolens and flannels,—you'll like it. 47

AS TO CANARY BREEDING.

Some Pointers for Novices That Are Particularly Appropriate.

A few hints to novices in canary-breeding are thus given by H. S. Tibbs, secretary of the Toronto Canary Bird Society:

Very few people have any idea of the innocent pleasure to be derived from this hobby. To anyone contemplating a beginning, I would suggest that they go to a reliable breeder or dealer for their stock. The selection of a pair of birds well suited for mating is only to be made as the result of some experience. For instance, a loose-feathered, long, buff bird should preferably be paired with a close-feathered, short, chubby mate of the Norwich type. In the Yorkshires a slim buff hen with a stouter yellow singer will probably give the best results. In Cinnamons the rule of mating buff and yellow holds good. In Lizards a gold spangle goes best with a silver; and so on.

Having procured your stock early in the spring and your breeding cage, with wire nest, and placed your birds therein—first covering the nest with soft cloth, or flannel—you may expect to find an egg in the course of a week or ten days. When the first egg is laid, remove it carefully from the nest with a spoon and put it away in a safe place, repeating this with the second and third egg as laid (which is usually daily, but sometimes a day will be missed) replacing them in the nest on the evening of the day the third egg is laid. On the fourteenth morning thereafter the young birds will be due. As soon as the young are hatched, it is well to supply the hen with egg-food, made half of hard-boiled egg and half of sweet biscuit, a little hemp may also be given as an incentive to the old birds to feed their young. When ten days old a clean nest should be substituted for the first. In nine days the youngsters should open their eyes and in three weeks they should be ready to leave the nest. Care must be taken at this period to watch the mother, as she is liable to pluck the feathers from the newly-fledged babies to supply material for a nest for another family. If such is the case the youngsters must be removed to the other half of the breeding cage and the door closed. The parents will continue to feed the young through the wires till they are able to care for themselves, and a fresh nest being given to the old pair, they will soon go to housekeeping again.

A little egg food and some crushed seed may be placed in the nursery compartment and the youngsters will soon learn to feed themselves; presently they will be able to crack seed, at which stage they may be considered reared, and removed to another cage by themselves; and gradually the egg food can be stopped, and the young birds will do well until the first moult. This generally takes place from the eighth to the tenth week, and during this period the youngsters will shed all their nest feathers, excepting the flight and tail feathers. All that is necessary is a little care to guard against chills and draughts and to feed a little egg food, some maw and ings with the ordinary seed; and to keep the bath away excepting on a warm, sunny day and not oftener than once a week. In buying seed get the best, it is cheapest in the long run.

A piece of cuttle-fish bone attached to the cage will keep the birds' bills in good order and is good for forming eggshell during the breeding season.

Too frequent bathing is weakening to the birds; draughts between open windows and doors are almost sure death.

April is early enough to pair your birds, there is not so much danger to the unfledged young from sudden cold nights.

An occasional piece of apple or a tender lettuce leaf is wholesome and regarded as a treat.

The above hints are only offered for the assistance of the novice, and not for the experienced breeder, to whom the mysteries of the bird-room are, of course, as an open book.

Postal System Grows.

The accounts for the Postoffice Department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1904, have been completed, and show a net surplus of $304,771, after paying the cost of the service throughout Canada. During the year the salary increases amounted to $235,765.

The number of letters carried through the mails in 1896 was 116,000,000, whereas for the year ending June 30th last the number was 259,000,000, an increase of 143,000,000 letters.

The accounts opened in the savings banks have increased from 126,000 to 168,000, or an increase of 42,000 accounts.

There has been an increase of 1,357 postoffices over the number in force in 1896, whilst the mileage which the mails were carried by land and water in 1904 amounted to 87,199,210 miles, or an increased mileage of 6,647,527 miles over the mileage in existence in 1896. The number of money order and postal note offices increased from 1,310 in 1896 to 12,894 in 1904. Savings banks increased in number from 775 to 961.

In 1896 the total amount of money sent in money orders and postal notes through the Canadian postoffice was $18,081,000; last year it amounted to $32,534,000, an increase of $19,458,000.

A Paper Reminiscence.

The Montreal papers speak in terms of high commendation of a paper manufactured by Mr. Andres of Chambly, from a weed which grows in great profusion in Lower Canada, and is known by the generic name of Gnaphalium, commonly called Cudweed, or Life-Everlasting. It is said the paper may be bleached to whiteness, and used for writing or printing, and that it will come considerably cheaper than paper made from rags. Mr. Andres means to apply for the thousand pounds offered by The London Times for the discovery of the best and cheapest material for the manufacture of paper.—From The Globe of Sept. 25, 1854.

THE "COUNTERBLAST."

Ter-Centenary of the Noted Publication of James VI. and I. Against Tobacco.

This year is the third centenary of the publication of the "Counterblaste of Tobacco," by James VI. and I., and also of his institution of high taxation on that article, a writer in The Glasgow Herald reminds us. James was no foe to wine, and must have quite approved the burden of the old English ballad:

For David told us hath,
Vinum lastificat
Cor hominis.

But he had a strong antipathy to tobacco, and of this one might suspect a cause in his dislike of Sir Walter Raleigh from the passage in his "Counterblaste," where he says "it was neither brought in by the King, great Conquerour, nor learned Doctor of Physicke," but "with the report of a great discovery for a Conquest, from two or three savage men brought in, together with this savage custome." At all events, he denounced tobacco-smoking as "a custome loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmless to the braine, dangerous to the lungs, and, in the blacke stinking fume thereof, nearest resembling the horrible Stigian smoke of the pit that is bottomless." He either prefaced or followed up this invective by a letter dated Oct. 17, 1604, to Thomas Earl of Dorset, High Treasurer of England, telling him to give order that the customs tax on tobacco should henceforth be 6s. 8d. in the pound," over and above the customs of two pence upon the pounde waighte usualllye paide heretofore." A happy time that brief "heretofore" must have been to Elizabethan smokers, and their successors to-day ought to have therefore an extra reason for admiration of Elizabeth; although James, on the other hand, should be the patron saint of all anti-tobaccanists. Yet neither his tax on tobacco, nor all that have followed, have stopped the enormous growth of the consumption of the Indian weed he so detested. In a note to the character of King James at the end of the 50th chapter of his history of England, the late Mr. Gardiner has stated that strangely enough James was defied even in his tomb in Westminster Abbey, where, close to his coffin, has been found a pipe, probably dropped by a workman.

Walked 4,000 Miles.

"I'm the champion yet, for I've never been beaten," was the complacent rejoinder of Mr. Joseph Spencer, or "Old Joe," to give him the epithet he is partial to. "Old Joe," a hale and hearty old man, now verging on his 88th year, for, as he told a London "People" representative, he was born in the midst of the Clee Hills, near Ludlow, Shropshire, as far back as 1817, is yet a pedestrian of no mean powers. At the present moment he is engaged on a 4,000 mile tramp, and when he completes the distance he will, to use his own words, have covered "as many thousand miles as there are weeks in a year." For, marvelous though it may appear, Joe has already seen the back of 48,000 milestones with no other help than "Shank's pony." Old Joe is now in the north of England, and will call at John o' Groat's before he turns his face once more homeward. His journey back lies through Glasgow, and then south for his native county, after which he will turn to the "west countree," and then back for London town. This is Old Joe's "swang song," for he says he is done with walks after this little jaunt round our "right little, tight little isle." He is full of reminiscences of olden times, and recounts a little incident which has quite a flavor of the historic circumstance of Sir Walter Raleigh flinging down his cloak for the virgin queen to cross a muddy spot. "Joe" was near Kensington Gardens one day and the prince consort wished to cross a culvert in course of construction. Alert as ever, Joe seized a plank which was lying near, and on the temporary bridge Albert the Good crossed over, rewarding our pedestrian friend with a gold medal containing his wife's portrait, to-wit, a sovereign. Old Joe prised that sovereign for many years until hard times forced him to send it forth into circulation once more.

11 degrees of frost last night.

Russian Warships Damaged.

Tokio, Oct 8.—It is reported here that the fire of the Japanese land batteries severely damaged four Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur. It is stated that one of the vessels was completely wrecked. The names of none of the ships were given.

A Gale Hinders Operations.

London, Oct. 8.—Continuance of the gale which developed on the China Sea and adjacent waters on Oct. 4 precludes active operations by the Japanese fleet blockading Port Arthur. The British steamer Sishan, with a cargo of cattle and flour from Shanghai for Port Arthur, has been seized by the Japanese off Newchwang. A detachment of the Finland guards has been ordered to leave St. Petersburg for the Far East.

Sounds of Firing Heard.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.—The only reference made to the reported sea fight off Port Arthur is contained in a delayed special despatch from Che Foo, which says that on the night of October 5 the sound of firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur and that searchlights were seen to be working in that vicinity. It is thought there may have been a battle, but no confirmation of the report has been received.

British Steamer Stopped.

The captain of the British steamer Chonan, which was stopped by a Japanese cruiser while on her way to Che Foo from Taku, but was allowed to proceed after her cargo had been examined, has made a protest against the way he was boarded and searched on the high seas.

To Hold Out Nine Months.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.—A special despatch from Mukden, dated Oct. 7, says there have been no changes of importance in the general situation there. The blockade of Port Arthur appears not to have been so effective recently, as a number of messengers have slipped through. The latest advices state that the fortress has sufficient ammunition and provisions to enable the garrison to hold out for nine months.

THE HALE MATTER IN NORTH RENFREW.

All His Bills did not Exceed Six Thousand.

Hale, in His Examination, Did Not, as Reported, Say Anything About $40,000 Being Spent.

Mr. J. H. Burritt, of Pembroke, solicitor for Mr. Lorne Hale, was in Toronto yesterday attending a Masonic meeting. Mr. Burritt, who, by the way, is a Conservative, emphatically denied that Mr. Hale in his examination for discovery had said anything about the expenses of the Liberals in the North Renfrew election amounting to $40,000.

A verbatim report shows no mention of any such sum as $40,000, or any mention of an estimate of what the election cost the Liberals.

A gentleman who took considerable interest in the North Renfrew election told the Globe yesterday that he had the best of reason for knowing that Mr. Hale's expenses did not amount to anything like the sum named by him. 'I had a meeting with Mr. Hale about three months after the election, and he showed me all the bills that he had received in connection with the campaign. These amounted in all to less than $6,000, although I cannot be quite sure of the exact amount. In addition to these he said his personal expenses were about $500, all of which he had paid. I went over the accounts with him, and found a large proportion of them, amounting to fully $2,000, was made up of claims that had no justification at all, such as $20 per day for canvassing, and other loaded-up bills. These we threw out, after deciding that he was not called upon either morally or legally to pay them. Of the balance, Mr. Hale had already met some $1,700 or $1,800, which were included in the official statement of his expenses. This left $2,000 worth of accounts incurred by friends of Mr. Hale, and he told me that he intended to suggest to the party that if they would pay half he would put up the other $1,000. The idea that Mr. Hale spent $10,000 is simply ridiculous."

Popular Men's Meeting.

Mr. Percy K. Holmes, the new physical director, should be greeted by a large audience of men at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at 4 o'clock. His message will be on "Man's Greatest Search." Mr. R. Freund, of Cornwall, Eng., will be the soloist and will assist the Male Choir. You and your friend are invited.

PREMIER LAURIER IN PETERBOROUGH

At the Brock Street Rink, Thursday Evening, Oct. 20th.

Canada's Premier and Premier Orator Will Attract a Great Throng.

The public who desire to hear an eloquent and illuminating address upon the great public issues that bulk so prominently in the public mind and age of Canada to-day, will hear Laurier at the Brock street Rink, on Thursday evening, October 20th. The Premier appears in the interests of the election of Mr. R. R. Hall, the Liberal candidate, whose return for West Peterborough will be in the interests of the riding, and will mark the beginning of an era in which West Peterborough will have a live representative, with inclination and ability to influence a government, that does things, to do things for Peterborough town and county.

At the meeting, special arrangements will be made to accommodate ladies, with reserved seating space.

The electors are invited to see, and hear, the great Liberal leader, who has guided the ship of state on the crest of the waves of prosperity for eight years, and who will on November 3rd be given another popular mandate to preside over the destinies of the larger, and growing, Canada, for another five years.

CONGO FREE STATE

Alleged Cruelties Practiced on Natives Discussed.

KING LEOPOLD ASSAILED

Peace Congress Considers the Mutual Relation of Races and the Menace to the World's Order Through the Exploitation of Weaker Peoples—Distinguished English Speakers and Booker T. Washington.

Boston, Oct. 8.—King Leopold of Belgium was assailed for his policy as sovereign of the Congo Free State, at a public meeting held yesterday in connection with the sessions of the International Peace Congress. This meeting, which was one of the largest of the Congress, had been called to consider the mutual relation of races and the menace to the world's order through the exploitation of weaker peoples.

The attack upon King Leopold was made by E. T. Morel of England, who represented the Congo Reform Association. Mr. Morel charged that the King was personally responsible in a large measure for cruelties practised on the natives of the Congo Free State in the terrific endeavors of monopolistic commercial organizations to obtain from the country all the ivory and rubber possible.

The King was defended by George Herbert Head of Cambridge, England, who submitted that King Leopold had done all possible to stop the cruelties practised, and who also argently asserted that whatever profits came from the trading and development in the Congo did not pass to King Leopold at all, but were expended instead for the development of the Congo State and in public works in Belgium.

Booker T. Washington arraigned the Belgian Government for the alleged outrages in the Congo Free State, declared that he had evidence of abuse and cruelty and said that a state of affairs existed that was a blot upon modern civilization. "I have testimony direct," he said, "from Dr. Shepard and from the lips of Dr. Morrison, a sovereign man, two men who have gone into the Congo Free State to work among their own people, and whose story of sacrifice is one of the dramatic incidents of history. The influence of the civilized world should be felt and should free these people from the barbarities they are now suffering. Their villages have been burned, their people murdered and maimed. Dr Shepard tells me that he has seen with his own eyes eighty-one human hands hung up to dry to be presented to the Belgian authorities to show that the soldiers did their duty."

The convention closed last night.

A GOVERNMENT THAT DOES THINGS.

Critics think it smart to declare that the Government does not cause the sun to shine, the rain to fall or the fruit to ripen. That is true, but we need not concern ourselves about what the Government does not do.

The Government has established cold storage transportation from the farms in Canada to the British markets, making a complete chain from the refrigerator chambers in the creameries and the refrigerator car service to the cold storage warehouses at the chief points of export and the mechanical cold storage chambers on ocean-going steamships. This matter was neglected under Conservative rule, although Australia, New Zealand and the United States had similar services before 1896.

The Government has secured the removal of the cattle quarantine of 90 days in the United States. This embargo put Canadian cattle raisers at a serious disadvantage, and its removal, after negotiations by Mr. Fisher at Washington, resulted in a large increase in Canada's exports of cattle to the United States.

The Government has adopted practical methods in the distribution of agricultural information, so that every farmer can profit immediately by the knowledge gained through costly experiments.

The Government does not cause the fruit to ripen, but it protects the fruit from insect pests, gives information as to the best grades for various localities, provides for storage and transportation methods which insure the highest prices, opens markets for all lines of farm products and relieves the farmer of unnecessary burdens of taxation.

The farmers of Canada do not ask to be "coddled." They know that the man behind the plough is the arbiter of his own fortunes. There are things that the individual, no matter how industrious or far-seeing cannot do for himself, however, and the farmers recognize that since 1896 these things have been better done than ever before.

The condition of rural Canada was never more satisfactory. On every hand farm mortgages are being reduced or wiped off, better buildings are being erected, and modern conveniences provided that make the life of women on the farm far more comfortable than in the past. Why should not the farmers of Canada vote for the Laurier Government?

It is "up to" the farmers to decide between the Liberal policy which means a fair-play-to-all tariff policy—a revenue tariff with incidental protection or the Conservative policy which means a sky high protection policy, in the interests of manufacturers and and gives the farmer and general consumer the heavy end of the load? Keep both hands on Tariff Stability.

WHAT WE HAVE WE'LL HOLD.

Aren't those manufacturers whose business has doubled under the Liberal Government tariff — a revenue tariff, with incidental protection — a little unreasonable in demanding higher duties under a Conservative Government protective tariff. Although they made the people pay much higher prices for their products, yet, with all their protection, as it was then provided, they had hard work to keep the sheriff from their doors, and their employees had a good many undesired holidays.

The Liberal Government revised the tariff, and generally lowered it, so that manufacturers were provided with cheaper raw material, and manufacturers had greater prosperity, paid higher wages, and all without exacting as heavy a toll from consumers. Under the Liberal tariff we have had an overflowing revenue, with such a reasonable measure of incidental protection, that industries have prospered as they have never done before. The elector who is prospering now will not analyse causes too closely. He will be content to know that under a Liberal Government, we have had, and are having, prosperity — busy factories, workmen on full time with high wages. Think it over. Isn't prosperity worth keeping? Isn't it worth while to

Keep both hands on the full dinner pail.

THE SAME IN PETETBOROUG AND EVERYWHERE.

The Montreal Herald has the following instalment of a series of similar articles to show how the manufacturing establishments of Montreal have flourished under the rational, reasonable, Liberal, revenue tariff, with incidental protection.

Under the old tariff the Ames-Holden shoe factory in which the Conservative candidate in St. Antoine is largely interested, was employing about 300 hands.

Under the present tariff it employs 450 hands in Montreal and 200 hands in St. Hyacinthe.

In St. Hyacinthe it has taken over and is running with brilliant success a factory that could not find a market for its products and was standing idle when the Conservatives went out of power.

The Canada Jute Co., which supplies scores of the Industries of Canada with the material for packing their output is to day manufacturing exactly two and one-half times as much as it was in the last year of the Conservative rule.

It is a safe conclusion that the firms that deal with it are packing two and one-half times the quantity of goods that they were packing in 1896.

Think it over. Isn't prosperity worth keeping?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Ottawa Citizen speaks of the Government building the eastern section of the Grand Trunk Pacific "to please Quebec." Why not to please New Brunswick? Why not to please Ontario? That wouldn't serve the Citizen's patriotic purpose of stirring up race antagonism. Laurier brought the national peace and harmony we are now enjoying. The Ottawa Citizen, and other journals of its political stripe, are trying to stir up race discord to serve petty party purposes. A French Canadian is to the Citizen, and many of its confreres, what a red rag to a bull.

Mr. Borden noticed with approval the campaign mottoes which adorned the walls of Massey Hall, Toronto, where he recently spoke. One motto was, "What we want we make," meaning that all things we want shall be made in Canada. But how does that dovetail with the Conservative policy, mutual preference between Great Britain and Canada? How can we have preferential trade, except by giving preference to British manufacturers, which is all the old country has to sell us, and the Conservative policy is to put on a duty that will exclude all imports of manufactured goods. Conservative loyalty to the mother country of this kind is an offer of husks, when we have millions of grain to offer.

STODDARD'S GREAT LECTURES.

An Inexpensive Fireside Trip Around The World.

John L Stoddard, who for years has been known as "King of the Lecture Platform," needs no introduction to the intelligent people of Ontario, thousands of whom have been electrified by his eloquence, instructed by his travel lectures and charmed by the beauty of his pictures. It will interest many readers to learn that they can now obtain the identical lectures delivered by Mr. Stoddard in a complete and uniform edition at a very small cost. This work is in thirteen crown octavo volumes, fully indexed, covering over 40,000 subjects, and containing over 5,000 pages of the matchless Stoddard descriptions and over 5,000 reproductions of the peerless Stoddard views.

This announcement becomes an event of profound interest, of deep literary significance and the very greatest educational importance. The scope of these lectures is world-wide. They constitute a fireside tour around the globe, taken at your own time, in your own way, under the most favourable conditions and with Mr. Stoddard as your travelling companion, telling you what things to see and when to see them, interpreting their meaning and answering your questions about them. You visit every land where is to be found that which is most interesting and most inspiring not only in the architecture and scenery but also in art, literature and in the past and present life of the world. His pages bristle with striking facts, new to most of us, e.g., "Just sixty-seven years after the birth of Christ a daily paper was started in Pekin, and has been running ever since."

Mr. Stoddard's style when his lectures are read, proves a revelation even to those who have heard him many times. His text is a marvel of simplicity, directness, naturalness and vividness, rising in its loftier passages to the sublime, always pleasing and always possessing a certain rhythmic swing like poetry or music.

Travel is expensive. Its costs several hundred dollars to tour one country, many thousands of dollars to tour the world. But the expense of this tour of the world is but a trifle and may be paid at your convenience.

No one who desires to read a most fascinating work or examine the finest products of modern photography, or gain a most complete knowledge of the entire world, its people, their customs, habits, dress and government, its works of art and everything that is interesting, grand or sublime in the whole realm of natural scenery cannot afford to be without this library of travel.

The world may be yours without moving from your fireside, and at the merest bagatelle of expense. One arises from the reading of one of these lectures with the impression not that he has been reading a traveller's tale, but that he has actually travelling himself.

It seems as if he must have heard the tinkle of the waterfall and gazed on the midnight sun in Norway, crossed the glacier in Switzerland, worshipped at the shrine of the past in Athens, sailed up the mysterious Nile and penetrated to the Nikko's sacred grove.

Strive to Be First.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—Another successful day marked the Provincial Christian Endeavor convention. The meeting in Massey Hall last night was well attended, and the addresses by Rev. Principal Caven and Prof. Amos R. Wells of Boston were interesting and instructive. Principal Caven discussed the matter of Sabbath observance. Prof. Wells took as his subject, "Wanted—A Leader," and went on to show the necessity among Endeavorers of a greater willingness to lead.

Jonathan George Acquitted.

Sandwich, Oct. 8.—Jonathan George, the aged colored man, who was accused of murdering Mrs. Eliza Williams, whose dead body was found in her little home on April 5 last, is a free man. He was liberated Thursday night because the court held that the prosecution had failed to establish a case against him. In making their presentment the Grand Jurors took occasion to severely score the roadhouses which are licensed in Essex County. Justice Teetzel agreed with the jury, and said that houses licensed merely for the purpose of selling liquor are a menace to society. He again referred to Wade Hill, in whose hotel John Rudden received his death blow, and suggested that Hill remove to some other county.

Golfer Lyon Honored.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—The winning of the amateur golf championship of America at St. Louis by George S. Lyon received civic recognition yesterday by the presentation to Mr. Lyon of a silver fruit dish with the inscription "Presented to Geo. S. Lyon by the City of Toronto on the occasion of his winning the Olympic Championship at St. Louis, U.S.A., September, 1904." In marked contrast to former civic functions of a similar character the ceremony was held in the quietude of the Mayor's private office.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefitted by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

IN WEST MIDDLESEX

Premier Ross Pays Tribute to Laurier's Statesmanship.

MR. JOHN CHARLTON RETIRES

After 32 Years in Parliament—His Farewell Address to the Liberals of Norfolk —Always Tried to Do His Duty— Hal B. Donly Nominated— Hon. W. A. Charlton Declined.

Mount Brydges, Oct. 8.—Mr. W. S. Calvert, who was during the last Parliament the chief Whip of the party, was yesterday afternoon unanimously renominated for the Commons, by the Liberal Association of West Middlesex, Caradoc Township Hall, in which the meeting was held, was crowded by the representatives of the riding, who, in addition to an excellent address by Mr. Calvert, had the pleasure of listening to a splendid speech by Premier Ross, West Middlesex's member in the Legislature.

Premier Ross' Speech.

The Premier, who spoke with eloquence and vigor, deplored the corruption which recent events had shown had existed in various bye-elections, pointed out what had already been done by the Government in the attempt to suppress such practices, and said that no reasonable suggestion of further reform along this line would be rejected by the Government. He was satisfied the country would show its confidence in the Government in the bye-elections, and declared he had no intention of retiring or resigning until the people of the Province said he must.

No Compact Exists.

When referring, in the latter part of his speech, to Dominion politics, Mr. Ross emphatically denied any compact between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and himself as to political assistance. He paid a glowing tribute to Sir Wilfrid, spoke appreciatively of the abilities displayed by Mr. Calvert, and concluded by predicting the latter's re-election.

Another Gleam of Light.

Dunnville, Oct. 8.—Another gleam of light on Mr. R. L. Borden's railway policy was furnished yesterday, when the Opposition leader, after declaring for a Government "owned and controlled" railway from ocean to ocean, added in a sentence a suggestion that probably the western section could afterwards be operated by the Grand Trunk. This is a phase on which Mr. Borden had hitherto been either silent or inconclusive in his declarations. The meeting yesterday afternoon was in the interests of the Conservative candidate in Haldimand—whoever he may be—but the signs point to the selection of Mr. F. R. Lalor of Dunnville at next Tuesday's convention.

FAREWELL ADDRESS.

Retirement of Mr. John Charlton in Norfolk to Signalized—Hal B. Donly Nominated in His Stead.

Simcoe, Oct. 8.—John Charlton has announced his retirement from politics. The announcement was made yesterday afternoon at the Liberal convention for Norfolk. Mr. Charlton said:

Mr. president and delegates to the Liberal convention of Norfolk,—You have given evidence of your kindness and good-will in honoring me as the Liberal candidate for Norfolk in the pending election. I desire to say that I have at all times received from the electors of North Norfolk respect, affection and good-will. On every occasion I have had the confidence of the electors of North Norfolk, and during all these years I have received from them signal honor. For eight elections I have received a majority of the electors of the old riding. On the first occasion, in 1872, I received a majority of 50, and in 1900 I had the honor of being elected by acclamation. On all of these elections, through the loyalty of my constituents, North Norfolk has stood by me, and I thank you most heartily for your loyalty and devotion.

The Charlton Act.

During my Parliamentary career I have had several bills in my hand which became law. I make mention only of the Charlton Act, which was received by the electors of North Norfolk with almost unanimity, and which also received the sanction of the people of Canada. This act was fought for seven years before it passed.

I have spent much labor and time in behalf of the Lord's Day observance the principal object being a civil law enacted in favor of the toiler, as a boon for Sunday rest. This act was never passed. For ten years I labored in the hope that I might be able to bring this measure into Parliament, but my efforts were unsuccessful, and I felt from the first to the last that from the majority of the members I lost popularity through my efforts.

Friend of Reciprocity.

During all my years as a public man since 1872, I have been an active and zealous friend of reciprocity between Canada and the United States. I publicly demonstrated my view of the reciprocity question in my speech upon the Brown Draft Treaty in 1874. Since that time I have been an advocate of better trade relations. During all of these years I felt sure that the United States did not give Canada fair dical terms, and during at least the last decade both Canada and the United States have failed to understand each other. In 1899 I entered upon, if I may use the term, a propaganda in the United States, and in this way I have been able to influence to a considerable extent American public sentiment. I am now of the opinion that the United States is ready for a reciprocity treaty with Canada, and I hope that Canada will be ready to respond. My opinion with regard to reciprocity is, it should be understood, that there should be free interchange of natural products between both countries; that Canada should have its own tariff, which should be generally upon the present line of duties, and that there shall be no preferential duties between Great Britain and the United States. Preferential duties shall be levied against nations that refuse to receive our natural products free. In the event of our not being able to secure an equitable and proper reciprocity treaty with the United States, then Canada should turn her attention to her own interests, and do all in her power, especially in the United States, to perfect a permanent system that will not permit discrimination fairly from any other countries.

Corruption in Elections.

In the session of 1903 I introduced a bill regarding corrupt practices in elections. This measure was a stringent one, and I believe would have greatly decreased wrong practices. This bill was placed in the hands of a special committee, and after full consideration by the law officers of the Justice Department, as well as by the committee, the bill was reported to the House. Many strong objections were made by many of the members of the House to the measure, and it was decided to lay it over for further consideration. Not being in the House during the session of 1904, except for a few days, I could not again introduce the bill. It was perhaps to be regretted that action had not been taken. However, it is quite probable that a bill of this kind could not receive legislative action until there is a more pronounced and strong feeling among the general electors regarding a change in the law.

Tribute to Laurier.

While I have been an independent Liberal, I have always been loyal to Sir Wilfrid Laurier. I saw in him a striking personality who shone as the first of the colonial Premiers. At his course during the Jubilee in Great Britain I gave him unstinted praise. I have desired to give evidence of my ability to do him service, both in my office as a member of the Joint High Commission; by my duly supporting the policy of constructing a national transcontinental railway; by my efforts against having a premature tariff policy before an ultimate attempt to secure an honorable treaty for reciprocity could be obtained, and many other matters.

Why He Must Retire.

With regard to the present election, it was my intention to have entered upon a vigorous campaign at the close of the session of 1903, and hold many meetings. My intentions were frustrated when I was struck down from strenuous labors, after having first held but three of the meetings I had mapped out. Had this election taken place at the close of another session, perhaps Providence would have enabled me to go on with the contest, but under the present circumstances I cannot proceed with the work of an election campaign. My health will not permit me to make exertions, or to undertake the work of a leader of the riding, and I must retire from the field, and give my exertions and good wishes to the Liberal party of Canada.

Severance Brings Pang.

I desire to express my affection and highest regard for noble old Norfolk and its intelligent and honest constituents. My severance brings a pang that I cannot name, but I feel that my career in the House of Commons is ended. In the thirty-two years of my services in Parliament I have no doubt made mistakes, as all men do, but I have always tried to do my duty. I have led an active life, and have done what I believe has been for the good of Canada. For all the blessings that have crowned my efforts, and given me length of days, I thank Almighty God. I trust we may be blessed individually, as communities, and as a country, by Him who will teach us if we will follow.

Hal B. Donly Nominated.

Hon. A. W. Charlton, H. B. Donly of Simcoe, and C. S. Killmaster of Port Rowan, were nominated, as well as Hon. John Charlton, and the Charltons dropped out. The ballot was favorable to H. B. Donly in the run he made with Mr. Killmaster, and he was unanimously declared Mr. Charlton's successor as the candidate of the party.

A resolution was passed declaring that John Charlton was deserving of a seat in the Senate.

Charged With 25 Burglaries.

Toronto, Oct. 8.—A number of residents in the west and northwest part of the city have been victims of burglars. Yesterday afternoon Detective Duncan made an arrest that it is thought will put a stop to them. There will be about 25 charges laid against the man arrested. He gave his name as Hans Waldheim. He has only been in the city about six months. When searched 100,000 shares of Rossland gold mining stocks, the property of A. H. Greene, and a draft on a New York bank, for $30, issued by the Bank of Hamilton, Dundalk, in favor of F. M. Robinson of Hamilton, were found. He had some pawn tickets, issued by pawn brokers in Buffalo.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

Arnold Forster Says Army Is Not For Sport Or Recreation.

London, Oct. 8.—At Sheffield Thursday night, Arnold Forster, the Secretary for War, said his experience in the War Office had convinced him that the lessons of the Boer war had not yet been learned, and that dangers existed requiring immediate treatment. "We do not want an army," he said, "for sport, for social opportunities or for recreation, but an army which is ready to face a foreign army and defeat it." Under the peculiar circumstances of this country Mr. Forster thought, "we should not gain from conscription those benefits which advocates expected, while we should impose upon ourselves unnecessary burdens."

POLITICS IN A NUTSHELL.

Dr. A. A. Bernard of St. Henri, Montreal, who contested Hochelaga in the Conservative interest in the bye-election, is again in the field.

The Conservatives of South Waterloo met in convention at Galt Friday and the nomination of George A. Clare of Preston was unanimous.

North Toronto Liberals unanimously nominated Mayor Urquhart on Friday night to contest the riding in their interest. Hon. G. E. Foster is his opponent.

Charles Craig, a farmer of Weldon, was nominated at the St. Louis de Langevin convention on Friday, to contest Homboldt in the Conservative interest.

At a Liberal-Conservative convention held in Campbelltown, N. B., Friday afternoon W. Albert Mott was nominated as Conservative candidate for Restigouche County, N.B.

The Conservative convention held in North Simcoe at Stayner Friday nominated Major J. A. Currie of Collingwood to contest the riding in the interests of the Liberal-Conservatives.

A. E. Kemp was unanimously chosen by the Conservatives of East Toronto on Friday night as their candidate in the pending elections. Several nominations were made, but the others all retired.

At Vancouver James McGeer has announced himself as a Liberal candidate in opposition to R. G. MacPherson. Socialists will run Mortimer, so there will be four candidates in Vancouver and a hot fight is anticipated.

Hon. William Paterson left Ottawa on Friday for Brantford. He will attend the Liberal convention there on Monday afternoon, and in the evening will speak at the Liberal meeting at Hamilton. The other speakers will be Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir F. W. Borden and Mr. A. B. Aylesworth. The Prime Minister arrived home from the east Thursday evening. On Monday he will be in Toronto, en route to Hamilton. Hon. Mr. Sifton left Ottawa Friday for the west. He will speak in Winnipeg on Monday and in Brandon on Wednesday. During the remainder of the week he will visit Griswold, Oak Lake, Elkhorn and Virden. The following week Mr. Sifton will go to the Territories.

WHAT SULPHUR DOES

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashione remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any result.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide), and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigour and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver, and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur, were often worse than the disease and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparation of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples, and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists, and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and especially in all forms of skin disease as this remedy."

At any rate, people who are tired of pills and catharties and so-called "blood purifiers," will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

The French Archives.

The archives so magnificently housed in the Hotel de Rohan form one of the most interesting sights of Paris. Here, bound in white calf, thousands of folios contain the history of France, dating from the Capet and Valois kings, all documents being classified under four heads—administrative, historic, legislative and judiciary. Among minor objects of interest not shown to visitors without special permission is the table on which Robespierre, wounded, was placed in the Hotel de Ville on the eve of Thermidor and the inventory of Marie Antoinette's wardrobe, with patterns of her dresses, and also of Mme. Elizabeth's. Insignificant indeed would the collection appear beside that of a fashionable lady of today. In these historic premises, busy as bees, indefatigable searchers are continually at work.—Westminster Gazette.

Baltimore, Ireland.

Baltimore, in Maryland, gets its name from a small and unostentatious fishing village in Ireland. The word Baltimore signifies the "village that grew up about the big house," and the derivation is plain when one sees the ivy covered ruins of the very remarkable big house that was once the stronghold of the O'Driscolls. It is situated upon an imposing height, a sentinel over the numerous little dwellings that have sprung up and increased in the vicinity of its wrecked and deserted life. From the village of Baltimore enormous catches of mackerel are sent to America.—Exchange.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS BEING MADE AT LOCKS

The Work of Repair is Rapidly Progressing.

The Dam Practically Completed—Something About the Changes—A Credit to the Contractor.

To anyone who is interested in public works and in those matters which pertain to the welfare and advancement of our progressive town, a visit to the locks these days will prove to be a source of pleasure. A representative of the Examiner paid a visit to the locks where as is well known extensive repairs and improvements are now underway and the change which was noticed there and which has taken place during the past two months was very marked. The scene was one of activity, there being about 60 men employed in making the changes which will of a certainty prove a benefit and facilitate navigation on the river to no small degree.

The object of the operations at the locks is to deepen the lock to the extent of four feet and install new gates. To accomplish this two coffer dams have been constructed, one at a short distance from each end of the locks On the lower dam a pump engine is working, being conveniently situated out of the way of other operations and the basin of the lock is thus kept dry to permit of the work going on there. This morning a gang of men were engaged in pulling up the planks which constituted the bottom of the lock. These planks have been in place for about 60 years and the manner in which they have been preserved shows that they were cut from the very best of timber. All the timber at the bottom was squared huged white oak, twenty inches square and some of it which was cut off to permit getting the wooden bolts out was perfectly black throughout caused by the long period in which it was in use. The planks were of hewed timber, whip sawed, 25 feet long, 12 to 15 inches wide and five inches thick fastened by wooden bolts and as sound as the day they were laid. The body of the lock is in good repair, but the bottom was not in the same condition. It is not known yet just in what condition the sides of the lock will be beneath the present floor.

After the present wooden bottom has been removed an excavation of six feet will be made after which two feet of concrete will be laid covering an area of 134 feet by 33 feet or over 327 square yards of concrete.

At present two derricks for lifting the old timbers, the clay excavated and for other such purposes, are being erected, one at each end of the locks. It is expected that the excavations will begin next Wednesday.

The new gates have already been constructed and are splendid pieces of sound workmanship. They are ready to be put in place which it is expected will be done by Christmas.

The work on the dam has been practically completed, and the greatest credit is due the contractor, Mr. M. A. McNamara, who has undoubtedly exhibited the greatest care and precision, which, combined with his superior knowledge and ability to superintend such a work has made the work a most complete, and in every way a satisfactory one. Any expert will acknowledge that the construction is first class, in every particular, giving not the slightest cause for complaint.

The work of erecting the concrete piers was done during the navigation season by the building of a coffer dam. The work has been going on for about twelve weeks, which shows that it has been rapidly pushed forward. With the exception of some work to be done to the wooden platform on top of the pier, the work is about complete. A canoe slide will be put in later. Work has also been done in filling in the abutments in connection with the other piers. The dam is now a most complete piece of work, and is generally admired by all.

Above the locks a concrete wharf is being built which, when completed, will furnish a wharf from the locks bridge to the lower end of the locks, a distance of about 200 yards. The new portion extends about 100 yards from the bridge to the closes and about two feet of concrete has been laid. This new wharf will be a great convenience to navigation.

There is still considerable difficult work to be done, but judging from the very efficient work which has already been done, it is safe to say that it will be carried to a successful issue under the direction of such a creditable contractor as Mr. McNamara has already proved himself to be.

The comparison between the manner in which the old lock was constructed and the mode of construction going on at present is very interesting and goes to show what rapid progress has been made along these as along many other lines during the past half century.

This morning there were to be seen four boats, each unloading large cargoes of freight and it was learned that they are as busy at present as at any time of the year. It speaks well for the prosperity and trade of this, as well as other parts of the Dominion at the present time.

Quantity as Well as Quality.

In referring to the special exhibit of the "Simplex" Link-Blade Cream Separator at the Peterborough Industrial Fair, a testimonial was given from Mr. William Moore, in which he says:—"We paid for the Separator with extra quality of butter at 20 cents per pound." The word "quality" should be "quantity, as the quantity, as well as the quality, showed a gratifying improvement.

WHAT IT IS.

The Mucous Membrane and the Important Part it Plays in the Health or Sickness of the Body.

The Mucous Membrane is the inside lining of the body, and of all its vessels and organs. The moment this mucous membrane becomes out of condition, ever so little, illness, follows swiftly, in some form or other.

In ninety-nine cases of a hundred disease has its beginning in some derangement of this Mucous Membrane.

It is very delicate and extremely sensative, and consequently very liable to disease.

If you are not feeling well you may be sure that the Mucous Membrane of some organ is sick and requires immediate treatment.

There is one medicine that is intended to act, and does act, directly and curatively on the Mucous Membrane. It is Dr. Leonhardt's Anti-Pill.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS

Mr. Robert Fair, Will Tomorrow Celebrate His Majority.

Has Been in Business in Peterborough for twenty-one Years—A Short Life History of Mr. Fair.

To-morrow, October 9th, will be the 21st anniversary of the establishment in business in Peterborough of Mr. Robert Fair, proprietor of the Golden Lion, and the Examiner learning of this fact secured an interview with that gentleman on the facts connected with the attaining to his business majority in Peterborough.

On October 9th, 1883, the business of the Golden Lion was bought by Mr. Fair and his partner and the former gentleman has been a proprietor of the business ever since. The growth has been a steady one, and to-day the firm enjoys a greater degree of the public confidence than it has ever enjoyed in the past.

Mr. Fair's business career started in Centreville, in 1870, when he purchased from Mr. Hugh Waddell, the business which the latter had for a number of years conducted at Centreville, and for seven years in addition to conducting the store he was postmaster and township clerk of South Monaghan. Mr. Fair pays a high tribute to his predecessor in business, who took a great interest in his welfare. In the fall of 1883 Mr. Fair formed a partnership with Mr. W. VanEvery, of Port Hope. At that time these gentlemen considered that there was a good opening in Peterborough for a business of this kind, the "Missing Link" was being built on the G.T.R., and the Ontario and Quebec division of the C.P.R. was also under construction.

Mr. Fair and Mr. VanEvery then bought the business of the late Thomas Bradburn, a highly respected and successful merchant of Peterborough, and on October 9th, 1883, the Golden Lion changed hands. The business at that time was in the same premises that it is now, although of course they have been greatly enlarged since then.

In Port Hope a general business was carried on, but on removal to Peterborough the firm decided to on-gage only in the selling of strictly first-class dry goods, which policy has been maintained to the present day.

After three years the partnership was dissolved, and Mr. Fair became the sole proprietor, remaining so until to-day. It might be mentioned in passing that the firm has always paid one hundred cents on the dollar.

To illustrate the growth in the business it may be said that at the beginning twelve or fourteen hands were employed, while to-day there are on the pay-roll fifty-five. The policy of this store in regard to its employees is to select only those persons of fitness and ability, and the result is that there are at present in the store a number of employees who have been with it since the beginning, twenty-one years ago.

The firm had not been here long when the need was felt for larger premises, and consequently additions were made, and again ten years ago larger additions were made, and a safety swift new passenger elevator installed so that the upper stories might be utilized.

Another policy of Mr. Fair has been, and is, to employ experts in the different departments of his business, and to these experts the details are left, the proprietor keeping only a general oversight over the business. The counting house and office is looked after by Miss Bella Thompson, whose ability in this line is well known, and, therefore, needs no comment. The dress goods and silks, and orders for the dress making department, is in charge of Mr. R. H. Elliott, who has as his assistant is Mr. L. Johnston, while the department of ladies' gloves, hosiery, corsets, neckwear, and haberdashery, is in charge of Miss Minnie Logan. Miss Etta Melville and Miss Lily Wesley. Mr. Thos. W. Byam is in charge of the department devoted to wash goods, laces, embroidery, etc. The linens and staples are looked after by Mr. George S. McCartney. Miss Annie Armstroug has charge of the millinery department, an important part of the store. The cloaks, suits, etc., are in charge of Miss Tillie Little, and the dress-making department, in this store one of the most important, is under the direction of Miss Neild, one of the most accomplished artists in her profession in the province. Mr. George S. Browning is head of the department devoted to curtains, carpets and house-furnishings, while the window-dressing and interior decorations are attended to by Mr. Ed. Clarke.

Mr. Fair has been a liberal advertiser during his twenty-one years in business in Peterborough, and for that length of time the advertisement of the Golden Lion has appeared in every issue of the Examiner, always in the same place, and Mr. Fair said he was perfectly satisfied with the results obtained from the use of the Examiner space.

Mr. Fair is a large importer of goods, and some of the European firms are so well satisfied with his business that their representatives call on no other stores in Peterborough.

During the twenty-one years of Mr. Fair's residence in Peterborough, he has taken an active part in public and municipal affairs, and is one of our most public spirited citizens. He is of North of Ireland extraction, his grandparents having settled in Cavan in 1820, coming from County Cavan, Ireland.

Mr. Fair is a popular man with everyone who knows him, and the universal wish will be that he may long continue to prosper, as he has in the past.

PROGRESS OF THE WEST.

Hon. A. G. Blair, Chairman of Railway Commission, Greatly Surprised at Marked Advancement in Evidence.

Hon. A. G. Blair, Chairman of the Railway Commission, recently returned to the capital after an absence, in company with his colleague, Dr. Mills, of nearly two months in the Northwest and British Columbia. "I certainly was very greatly surprised," said Mr. Blair, "at the progress which has been made in the west during the last two years. I saw almost all the towns, with the exception of those off the main line, and all had grown in population and business. There were none that failed to show evidences of prosperity. It goes without saying that Winnipeg's progress has been phenomenal. Some of the officials there told me that no less than 700 new buildings were now in course of erection. One very noteworthy fact is that all the eastern wholesale houses have established branches in Winnipeg. They are not scattered through the city, but whole blocks of them, five or six storied structures of brick or stone, are to be seen, and those previously located are adding to and extending their accommodation. In my opinion there is a great future in store for Winnipeg. It is the conduit through which the business originating in the vast area north of Winnipeg and westward as far as the Rockies must pass. The C. P. R. have acquired the necessary property and are now establishing yards which are claimed to be the largest of any railway in the world, consisting of 70 miles of tracks. They are erecting a new station and an enormous hotel. The sum of their expenditures in Winnipeg amounts to about $8,000,000.

"There has been very marked progress in Regina. The country north of it, which is tributary to the Regina, Qu'Appelle & Long Lake Railway, is absorbing quite a number of settlers. Prince Albert is improving and his excellent prospects of becoming a very fine town. Calgary has grown immensely, and has a very promising future before it. The C. P. R. have made substantial progress with irrigation works in the vicinity of Calgary, which are intended to serve a million and a half of acres. I saw a 55-foot cutting in connection with the main irrigation canal, and the soil was a fine rich loam. How much deeper that rich soil goes I cannot tell. There will be three secondary canals aggregating in distance 115 miles, in addition to the main channel. Then there will be distributing canals, comprising a total length of 900 miles. The area of land to be served by the irrigation works will support, it is computed, a farming population of 250,000 souls.

"Subsidiary to the area watered by the irrigation works are another million and a half of grazing lands of the best quality. I ran up from Calgary to Edmonton. The latter is steadily growing in importance. All along the intervening distance are established towns and settlements that are rapidly growing in importance. There is a numerous settlement of Galicians extending eastward from Edmonton, and comprising perhaps about 15,000 souls. The other settlers speak very highly of them. They are hard working, thrifty, and have a well-to-do appearance. A number of roller mills have been sent into the country north of Edmonton, one of them for the Hudson's Bay Company. I took the trouble when in Winnipeg to inquire of Governor Chipman of the Hudson's Bay Company as to the truth of this statement. He said they had erected a mill at Dunvegan, 1,200 miles northwest of Edmonton, and were grinding wheat raised in the locality and meeting the wants of the people there. That I consider a remarkable fact.

"Between Red Deer and McLeod we noticed from the train thousands of cattle on the ranges. They were simply rolling in fat. The C. P. R. this year transported 60,000 head of cattle from that district alone for exportation to Europe, as compared with 30,000 in the previous season. The ranchmen south of the international boundary line, I am told, when they take their cattle off the ranges have to fatten them on corn for five or six weeks. In the Territories, grazing on the ranges suffices. What impressed us in traveling through British Columbia, was the possibilities of fruit-growing in some sections. Fruits of excellent quality are raised at Yale, and also at Nelson, on Kootenay Lake. At Vernon there are some splendid orchards, including those of the Earl of Aberdeen. All along the Okanagan Lake orchards are strung out where pears, apples, peaches, plums and grapes are grown. The growth of business in British Columbia is perhaps not quite so pronounced as in the Northwest, but still there are very considerable evidences of prosperity. We gathered the impression that British Columbia, by means of its lumber, minerals, fish and fruits, has a great outlook in store for it.

"In the west we heard a great many complaints of discrimination in railway rates in favor of some localities as compared with others. We have taken a good deal of evidence on that subject, but I would not care to express any opinion with respect to the complaints at the present stage. During my stay in the west I talked with a number of grain men from the republic to the south, and they seemed to think the price of wheat would be maintained, in fact, some of them thought it would go as high as $1.50 or $2.00."

Saw Five Sovereigns Reign.

Mrs. Drew died recently at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ferriman, 171 Euclid avenue, Toronto. Deceased, who had reached the great age of 94 years, was in possession of all her faculties and able to walk about till her death. She was born in Yorkshire, England, and came to Toronto in 1830, before the city was incorporated. When she first came to the city she lived on King street east, where Hamilton's foundry is now situated. Mrs. Drew was proud to say she lived in the reign of five sovereigns—George III., George IV., William IV., Queen Victoria, and King Edward. She remembered the trial and subsequent execution of Lount and Matthews for taking part in the rebellion. The hanging took place in Court House square, at the corner of Church and King streets. Deceased was a Methodist. Two sons and three daughters survive.

CANADIAN READING CAMPS.

An Association Which Endeavors to Educate Laborers in Camps.

The fourth annual report of the Canadian Reading Camp Association has just been published and contains much interesting matter concerning the illiterate conditions of the laborers in the temporary lumbering, mining and railway construction camps.

The causes of this illiteracy are first, the foreign element, and secondly the fact that this class of labor is chiefly recruited from the newer settlements.

The practicability of manual laborers in the older settlements and towns acquiring an education or improving what they have in spare moments has often been demonstrated.

It is only within the last decade that the feasability of educating the men in the frontier camps, before mentioned, has been proven. Correspondence schools have established the fact that the men who have already an elementary education can improve it by studying during spare moments.

In the last four years the Canadian Reading Camp Association has shown it to be possible to acquire even the rudiments of an education in these camps, a field which correspondence schools have not entered.

The Ontario Department of Education has assisted the Association by starting a system of camp libraries, and giving a small grant for the maintenance of reading camp instructors.

The Y. M. C. A. sends men and tents to the militia camps which only last a few weeks. The need at the camps is not so great as at the isolated mining, lumbering and railway construction camps.

Last season 25 buildings were operated by the Canadian Reading Camp Association, most of which were closed during the summer months. The first club house built was at Copper Cliff by the Canada Copper Co., and its employes. This club house is fitted up with baths, parlor, reading rooms, etc.

The majority of mining men and quite a few lumbermen have already made provisions for these camps. Last year ten fully qualified teachers were employed, of whom two were doctors. The doctors practiced medicine in the camps and one of the teachers acted as clerk, while the others engaged in manual labor. Each man earned over one-half of his salary, the association paying the rest.

HIS GRAVEL WAS SURELY CURED

Dodd's Kidney Pills Removed the Stones.

And now Reuben Draper is Well and Strong After his Long Suffering.

Bristol, Que., October 7. — (Special.) — Reuben Draper, a well known resident here, keeps the proof right with him that Dodd's Kidney Pills will surely cure the much dreaded Gravel. The proof consists of two stones, one the size of a small bean and the other as big as a grain of barley. He passed these stones and was relieved of all the terrible pains they caused, after using Dodd's Kidney Pills for a short time.

Mr. Draper is confident that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else caused his cure, as he tried two doctors without getting help, and was fast getting weak and despondent, when stopped all other treatment and at once started in to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. In a week he passed a large stone and four days later the smaller one.

This cure caused a feeling of relief over people in these parts as it shows those terrible operations, that were long thought to be unavoidable in case of gravel, are no longer necessary.

New British Battleships.

The first of the new type of battleships for the British navy has been launched at Pembroke, says The Scientific American. This warship is a combination of the battleship and cruiser, possessing the most prominent features of each, being larger and more heavily armed than the cruiser of the latest design and resembling the battleship in many respects. The armament is particularly formidable, comprising six 9.2-inch guns, ten 6-inch and twenty-eight smaller quick-firing weapons. There are three submerged torpedo tubes. The main armament is carried in a citadel amidships. Under all the 6-inch guns are small auxiliary magazines and shell rooms. The maximum speed is to be 22.33 knots per hour. The battleship cruiser, as it is called, will cost $5,659,410 to complete.

A Gigantic Trout.

A New Zealand contemporary states that a monster trout was captured by Mr. J. J. Lane, of Milton, at the mouth of the Tokomairiro River. On putting the fish on the scales the register showed 58 pounds, and some idea of its size may be gathered when it is mentioned that, from snout to tail, the fish measured 3 ft. 11½ in., largest circumference 29 in., and depth 11 in. Needless to say, this specimen eclipses even the "fish yarns" of speckled beauties taken from the river. Had it not been for assistance it is more than doubtful whether Mr. Lane could have successfully landed his prize. A North of Ireland angler declares that this mammoth trout beats by a pound weight the huge "boddagh" captured from Lough Neagh exactly a century ago.

Waiting Instead of Going.

The art in life is to sit still and to let things come toward you, not to go after them or even to think that they are in sight. How often I have chased some divine shadow through a whole day till evening, when, going home tired, I have found the visitor just turning away from my closed door.—Arthur Symons in Saturday Review.

AUTUMN FASHIONS.

MODELS TO SERVE THE MANY PURPOSES OF THE SEASON.

Elaborate Watering Place Toilets, Including a Study in Fuchsia Color. Clever Building and Attractive Fabrics in New Tailor Suits.

Early autumn toilets that grace fashionable resorts include such styles as the first cut displays. Here are a very chic coatee and skirt in blue colored hyacinth barege, enhanced with lace bands and medallions, which accentuate the fullness of the bolero fronts and of the skirt. The double row of accordion plaitings round the shoulders harmonizes with the seven graduated gathered frills edging the front box plaits of the tablier in relief. The pointed waistcoat, with opal buttons, and the coat collar in deeper blue satin add a distinguished touch to the whole.

A study in fuchsia tones is the second costume. The trained skirt in fuchsia red duchesse, box plaited down to the knee, flows out thence in free and graceful fashion. The coatee, with full curved fronts, bears a puffed yoke and bands of silk muslin, graceful cape epaulets and wide sleeves in shot red fuchsia tints. A corselet belt, peaked waist, coat fronts and gauntlet cuffs in a deeper tone of red accentuate the whole color scheme, together with garnet fasteners encircled with a brass beading terminating in dangling strands.

The whole tenure of the new autumn suits for traveling and country wear is such as to satisfy the most exacting taste. Perfectly built and well considered in every detail, the tailor made coat and the shirt also is practically faultless. The subtle missing of the figure line in the center of the front of the coat may be noted as an especially clever and very becoming bit of sartorialism. Such a creation is the black and white tweed suit pictured in the second cut. Many skirts, especially if for shooting or fishing purposes, are laid in tucks well stitched and pressed above and left loose at the feet, with simple ornamentation of leather straps.

Leather is quite an important ornamental motif of the autumn, and the motor suit illustrated demonstrates its decorative value. This is made in brown mixed tweed flecked with red, brown leather facing the collar and cuffs and fashioning the buttons, which are set within rings of oxidized silver. The loose, easy style of the coat meets the demands of the popular pursuit.

Leather bands, straps and facings are also much employed on the many short coats and Norfolks designed for country wear and sports. In the autumn suitings may be found all sorts of mixtures and fleckings.

Extremely smart little "trottoir" skirts of checked fabrics are built "on the cross," a very clever handling of the material. Effective and decidedly convenient do these prove for wear with a neat blouse or shirt waist.

AMY VARNUM.

The Confederate Cent.

There was only one complete die made for the purpose of coining money by the Confederate States of America—that for a one cent piece, which was made by Lovett, the Philadelphia engraver, in 1861. After he had finished the dies Mr. Lovett found that he was unable to send them to the persons who had ordered the work done, and, becoming alarmed, he "struck off" twelve nickel cents and then carefully secreted both coins and dies. For twelve long years the engraver kept his secret, which was finally revealed through an accident. One day in 1873 he went to the hiding place of the rare coins and selected one for a pocket piece and within the month passed it out unknowingly to Haseltine, the Philadelphia restaurant keeper. This man, knowing the piece to be Lovett's work, sent it to J. C. Randall, the coin collector. After some little trouble Haseltine and Randall succeeded in buying the die, and from it they struck fifty-five copper pieces, twelve in silver and seven in gold. This accomplished, they mutilated the die, and coin dealers now hold Confederate cents at a very high figure.

"BREATHLESS WE STRIVE."

Breathless we strive, contending for success,
According to the standards of our day.
What is success? Is it to find a way
Wealth out of all proportion to possess?
Is it to care for simple pleasures less
(While grasping at a more extended sway),
And sacrificing to our gods of clay,
Submerge the soul, at last, in worldliness?

By Grasmere stands a cottage small and poor;
The dove was once its emblem, and the sign
That marked it as a wayside inn obscure;
But, frugal, dwelt high consecration here,
And gratitude still guards it as a shrine,
Hallowed by that success which time but makes more dear!

—Florence Earle Coates.

Treasurer for Half a Century.

It is indeed a rare occurrence when a man occupies any public office continuously for a half a century, but such is the record that Thomas Crawford, Treasurer of Bosanquet township, has made, having recently completed fifty continuous years in that position. During all of that long period he has retained the fullest confidence of the officials and people of the township, and of other communities with whom his business brought him in contact, and there has passed through his hands without the loss of a cent the sum of over $730,000. When he assumed the office a great majority of the present residents of the township had not yet been born. While Mr. Crawford was going on in the even tenor of his way, faithfully discharging year after year the duties of his comparatively humble position, some of the most important events in modern history were transpiring elsewhere. . . Governors-General, Premiers and other public men have come and gone, but the Treasurer of Bosanquet, now in his 82nd year, is to all appearances as hale and hearty as he was twenty years ago. Mr. Crawford's farm homestead, on lot 13, con. 1, Bosanquet, ranks among the best of the many fine homes in the township. Mr. Crawford, who was born in the north of Ireland, came to this country when a young lad, and lived with relatives some years at Markham. When about 27 years of age he came to Bosanquet, accompanied by his mother. On July 15, 1862, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Crone, daughter of Francis Crone, now of Forest. . . There are seven children living, viz., Mrs. John D. Boyes of Lesmahagow, Scotland; Mrs. Jackson, in Manitoba; Dr. D. T. Crawford of Innisfail, Alta; Frank Crawford, Township Councillor, Warwick; Dr. J. Crawford, L.D.S., in Michigan, and McKenzie Crawford, at home.—Forest Free Press.

Read His Own Banns.

A distinguished English churchman tells this in M. A. P.: "The vicar of Swanscombe was a very eccentric man. I remember—indeed, who could ever forget it?—that he once read out his own banns of marriage with a lady who had not only not consented to marry him, but whom he had never asked to do so. He did this for two Sundays. On the third her father rose and formally objected to such a ridiculous proceeding."

A Coat of Many Shapes.

A Cape Town tailor has invented a coat that can be turned at will into a frock, morning or evening dress coat. The change is effected by the use of detachable and interchangeable skirts, which are fastened to the body of the coat by an ingenious system of lacing. It is claimed that in two minutes a man can change a frock coat into a morning coat or a dress coat by whipping off one pair of skirts and lacing on another, and it is impossible to distinguish the joining from an ordinary seam.—St. James' Gazette.

The Clergyman and the Dog.

The late Dean Hole used to delight in telling the following: A country clergyman went away for his holiday, and a benevolent neighbor, who had a curate, took his Sunday duties. After he had preached his first sermon, he remarked to the clerk of the vestry, "I am sorry that I gave you such a short discourse, but the reason is, that a dog got into my study and tore out several leaves." The clerk gazed wistfully upon the speaker, and said, "Oh, sir, do you think that you could spare our parson a pup."

BORING INTO THE EARTH.

Engineer Parsons and His Plan for Penetrating Mysterious Depths—A Very Long Job.

There is room for a world of speculation as to what might be discovered if the scheme of the eminent English scientist and engineer, Charles Algernon Parsons, should be carried out. Mr. Parsons' idea is that a shaft bored twelve miles into the interior of the earth would bring to light many facts which the scientific world has long been eager to learn. Jules Verne and other writers of fiction have taken their readers on voyages of discovery to the centre of the earth, but in the world of reality no human being ever penetrated it to the distance that Mr. Parsons proposes. The task of sinking a shaft twelve miles may seem an easy one when it is considered what great engineering feats have been achieved in other fields, but it is a stupendous undertaking, owing to the increase in the heat of the earth as one goes toward the centre and to other obstacles to exploration in that direction. Mr. Parsons estimates that the job of boring a small shaft twelve miles in depth might be done in eighty-five years at a cost of $25,000,000. He is anxious to see the project undertaken and explained, his ideas at some length before a recent meeting of the British Association For the Advancement of Science.

Mr. Parsons is no mere visionary. He is a practical man, and his inventions have been of great value in engineering and other branches of industry. He was born June 13, 1854, and is the fourth son of the third earl of Rosse. He was educated at St. John's College, Cambridge, and in 1884 married Katherine, daughter of the late William Bothell of Rise Park, Yorks. His father was the inventor of the famous Birr telescope. His development of the steam turbine and his application of it to the generation of electricity and the propulsion of war and mercantile vessels are sufficient of themselves to win him enduring fame. For "the successful application of his invention of the steam turbine to industrial purposes and in navigation" the Royal Society awarded him the Rumford medal.

Mr. Parsons is proprietor of the C. A. Parsons & Co. electrical engineering works at Heaton, Newcastle-on-Tyne, managing director of the Parsons Marine Steam Turbine Company, Limited, and an officer of several other electrical or engineering companies.

Rapid Spread of Plants.

It is marvelous how rapidly some plants will spread themselves over wide stretches of land. The writer was struck with the way in which the yellow charlock took possession of the line when the Meon Valley railway was being made. The very next spring after the embankments were thrown up their sides were clothed with this rampant and conspicuous crucifer. A line of yellow across the country marked in many places the course of the railway. Poppies, too, for some unknown reason, will occasionally appear in strange and wonderful profusion. The striking instance related by Lord Macaulay may be quoted by way of illustration. After the battle of Landen the ground, he tells us, "during many months was strewn with skulls and bones of men and horses and with fragments of hats and shoes, saddles and bolsters. The next summer the soil, fertilized by 20,000 corpses, broke forth into millions of poppies. The traveler who, on the road from St. Tron to Tirlemont, saw that vast sheet of rich scarlet spreading from Landen to Neerwinder could hardly help fancying that the figurative prediction of the Hebrew prophet was literally accomplished—that the earth was disclosing her blood and refusing to cover the slain."

Pandora Range

The bane of common ranges is their uncertainty. Can't tell what they will do under given conditions, they are freaky, eccentric, tricky—sometimes they burn fiercely, at others you can get no heat—never can rely upon them. Why not have a non-worry, easily-managed, smooth-working range like the "Pandora" when it costs no more than the other kinds? You can set the "Pandora" to do a certain work and it does it—you can do anything else meanwhile. Take the air, don't be a slave to your range or your work.

Joy Succeeds Despair.

In the Home of Mr. Joseph Hilton, Thorold, Ont.

His Daughter Florence, Was All But Dead From Dropsy—Her Doctor Had Given Her Up—Dr. Williams Pink Pills Were Then Used and To-day She is Well and Strong

From the Post, Thorold, Ont.

Everybody believes in a dreamy sort of way of the efficacy of a well and wisely advertised medicine, when the recorded cases of restored health are at a distance; but when a case comes up in the home town, when the patient is known to everyone, and when the cure is not only positive but marvellous, the efficacy of the medicine becomes a fact—a decided thing. For many years the Post has advertised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People; large quantities of them have been sold by the local drug stores, and many remarkable cures have been effected. One of these attracted the attention of our reporter and he investigated. Miss Florence Hilton, the eighteen year old daughter of Joseph and Mrs. Hilton, living in the west part of the town, was taken ill early last summer with dropsy, coupled with heart trouble. She was compelled to give up one duty after another, and finally became unable to walk or to lie down. Her suffering was intense and medical skill did all that could be done Florence, however, grew worse, sitting in her chair day and night for five long months to get her breath, and the parents despaired. At last the doctor gave her up and said further visits were futile. The poor girl's limbs were pitifully swollen and finally burst below the knees. She sat helpless and weak, gasping for breath and at times could breath at all only with the greatest difficulty. One night the neighbours came in and said she could not live till morning. But to-day she is alive and well, moving about among her young companions a remarkable and miraculous contrast to what she then was. The reporter called one evening at the Hilton home, but Miss Florence was out visiting. The father and mother were in, however, and freely told him of the cure, which they attribute entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The first box was brought to her by her grandmother, who urged their use. Then Mrs. Hilton herself remembered that she had the previous winter been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of a slight attack of dropsy, and also remembered the many cures advertised in the Post. She bought two boxes and Florence took them three pills at a dose. In two weeks she felt a slight decrease in the pain in her limbs, and more pills were procured. For five months—five long pain-laden months—the weary girl had sat day and night in her chair, but now she began to feel the pain leaving her and to see her limbs resume their natural size. Fourteen boxes of the pills were taken and at last her perseverance was rewarded. She rose from her chair, her former strength gradually came back, one by one her household duties were taken up again, and when The Post representative called he was met by beaming faces and thankful hearts and a grateful readiness to give to the world the facts that had saved a bright young life and had brought joy instead of grief to a Thorold home.

In thousands of other homes, scattered over the length and breadth of Canada, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have brought health and joy and gladness and in every home in the land where sickness and suffering enters new health and strength can be had through a fair use of this medicine. Remember that substitutes can't cure—they make the patient worse, and when you ask for this medicine see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around the box—then you are sure you have the genuine pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Killing a Robin.

There are persons at the present day—and not all old women either—who believe that killing a robin will bring bad luck. According to ancient belief the stormcloud was a huge bird. The Arabians represented his wings as measuring 10,000 fathoms. This bird lived on worms, the latter being the streaks of lightning accompanying storms. The Germans remodeled the fiction by creating the god Thor, whose bird was the robin. Consequently to kill a robin first meant death by lightning, then bad luck.

THE FRIEND OF PEACE.

King Edward LII. Has Done More Than Any Other Monarch for the Cause of the World's Peace.

There is and has been always a strong tendency on the part of subjects to fasten nick-names of affection, hate, contempt, or fear on their rulers. One could go through the long line of English Kings and Queens and find few sovereigns not so dubbed. What her people thought of the late Queen is crystallized in the name which historians will apply to her—Victoria the Good. Her son, unless all signs fail, will go down to posterity as Edward the Peacemaker, a title which he has fairly earned in the few years of his reign. There has never been a monarch on the British throne, nor on any other throne, who has done as much for the cause of the world's peace in so short a time as King Edward. First came the treaty with France, in which both nations pledged themselves to submit all differences to arbitration. It has been acknowledged by the French Premier that His Majesty did more to bring about this agreement than the combined statesmen of the two countries. After a short interval there was the meeting with the Kaiser at Kiel, followed by the announcement that a similar treaty was about to be signed by Germany and Great Britain. Finally we learned recently that as a result of a conference between the Emperor of Austria and King Edward an arbitration arrangement between the two countries would be made.

Remote Chances of War.

For all practical purposes the Austrian instrument will seal the peace of Europe so far as Britain is concerned. Of first-class powers there remain Italy and Russia to be reckoned with. The relations between the former country and Great Britain have always been particularly friendly. Indeed for many years Italy has been considered Britain's chief ally among the great European powers. Chances of a rupture between them are very remote. The same cannot be said, unfortunately, of Russia, whose interests have appeared to clash with our own in many quarters. The present war with Japan, however, is likely to depose Russia from among the great European powers for some years to come, even should no arbitration treaty between the Czar and King Edward be framed. The war with the United States reduced Spain's prestige, and this country, for centuries regarded as England's hereditary enemy, is no more likely to provoke the wrath of the Lion than Sweden, Denmark or Holland. In Asia, Britain's great rival has been Russia, but Japan in the sense that she is crippling the Bear, is fighting Britain's battle, and every day the chance of Russia and Britain clashing in India or Persia grows more remote.

Spirit of Arbitration.

That the modern spirit of Anglo-Saxons is for arbitration rather than war is proved by the records of the past century. Great Britain and the United States lead the rest of the world in this respect, the two nations together having arbitrated more cases than all other nations. Each referred fifty odd cases to arbitrators, whereas altogether there were a few less than two hundred cases so discussed and adjusted. To show the growth of the arbitration idea it is only needful to note that between 1810 and 1820 three international disputes were peacefully settled, while between 1890 and 1900 no fewer than 60 controversies, many of which might have led to war otherwise, were disposed of by the friendly offices of umpires. In the past century thirty-seven countries have sought arbitration in preference to war. At the present time only three or four nations—Turkey, China and Persia—cannot be depended on to appeal to The Hague court before resorting to arms in the furtherance of any dispute. The establishment of The Hague tribunal has done much for the cause of peace, despite its theoretical impotence. In certain cases, as in the present issue between Japan and Russia, The Hague court is powerless. Someone had to fight Russia. Had The Hague court disapproved of the Czar's course in Manchuria, then The Hague court might have been invited to play the part now so ably filled by the Japanese.

Czar Loses Credit.

It is satisfactory to know that the relation of Nicholas II. to the court at The Hague was as purely accidental as the relation of Andrew Carnegie. A recent article by Mr. Benjamin F. Trueblood, an authority on the subject, makes this very plain. He traces the growth and development of the arbitration idea through the nineteenth century, and asserts most emphatically that had the Czar not issued his famous invitation to the powers, some other monarch would have done so by this time. The tide toward arbitration was becoming irresistible, says Mr. Trueblood, and the Czar's Congress was only as a chip on the surface which showed its direction. We are glad to learn this, not because it deprives the Czar of credit for one of the few noble acts which the world has attributed to him, but because it is good to know that this great court has a surer foundation than the whim of Nicholas II. To believe that without the Czar there would have been no peace conference at The Hague is to have grave doubts about the general advantages of that conference, and its permanence as an institution.

A Mr. That Shaves.

Man has a rival in the art of shaving, in a South American bird called the "motmot," which actually begins shaving on arriving at maturity. Naturally adorned with long blue tail feathers, it is not satisfied with them in their natural state, but with its beak nips off the web on each side, leaving only a little oval tuft at the end of each.

Proved It.

"My wife will bear witness," said the prisoner at the bar, "that at the very time I am accused of burglarizing Mr. Smith's premises I was engaged in walking the floor with my infant child in my arms, endeavoring to soothe it by singing 'Rock-a-by, Baby.'" "The prisoner is discharged," remarked his honor. "He can prove a lullaby."

MILLBROOK FAIR A RECORD BREAKER

Yesterday's Exhibition Surpasses all Previous Records.

About 4,000 Visitors on the Grounds—Entries in all Classes Were Large—The Races.

The fifteenth annual Fair of the East Durham and Cavan Agricultural Society was held at Millbrook yesterday, and it was by all odds the most successful of any ever held under the auspices of that society.

Since the union of the county and township societies fifteen years ago the progress of the Fair has been one of growing gratification. Every year sees an increase over the preceding one, and that of 1904 will go down into the history of the Society as the best ever.

Yesterday more than 4,000 people passed through the gates into the grounds, and not alone in the number of visitors was the fair a success, for the entries, too, were more numerous than those of any previous year. This year they numbered 1250, which is more than half a hundred more than they were last year, which, up to that time was the fair's best year.

A remarkable thing about the Millbrook fair is the fact that never during the fifteen years since the joint fair has been held, has there been a rainy day for the fair. It is always held on the first Thursday and Friday in October, and this year the weather was all that could be desired, and the continued success of the exhibition in this respect is almost enough to raise the suggestion that Providence has something to do with this fair.

Another fact which is rather remarkable, is that every year the Society ends up with a handsome surplus in the treasury, and this surplus is sometimes so large that the directors are almost ashamed to name the amount for the fear that someone who does not know might suggest that all their debts had not been paid, but the fact is that after every dollar of prize money, and all expenses have been paid there is frequently a surplus for the year of from $1,000 to $1,200. This is, of course, in years when no great expense has been necessary on the grounds or buildings, and at the present time the grounds and buildings are in such good condition that there is really nothing needed to make them all that they should be, and the only thing which the directors will have to provide for in the near future is enlarged premises, and increased accommodation, for the ever increasing number of exhibitors.

This year all the building that was necessary was to place coops in the poultry house, and the exhibit of poultry was so large that at the present rate a new building will have to be erected in the very near future.

Last year a handsome new office and dining hall, and in this latter an example was set which might very well be followed by larger fairs, and among them the Peterborough Industrial Fair. The Society itself does not conduct the dining hall, but it lets that privilege to a caterer who is under the control of the Society, however.

The fair in every department was an unqualified success, and the thousands of visitors who passed through the gates yesterday were well repaid for the time spent. Every class of exhibits was so well represented that any attempt to particularize would be impossible, but for a country fair the exhibit of poultry was magnificent, and one of which the directors were particularly proud. Not only was the showing of fowl a large one, but the quality of the birds shown was especially good.

In the large building, shortly after noon it was almost impossible to get an opportunity to see what really was there, the crowd was so great. In every line of exhibit usually shown there was a good showing, the display of fine arts and ladies' work being particularly creditable, while in fruits and vegetables there were shown specimens of nearly every imaginable variety, and the universal excellence of the articles shown was a subject of considerable comment among those who visited the fair. In this building an exhibit of hand-made steel horse shoes was made by Mr. W. D. Nugent, of Millbrook, which is worthy of special mention. It consists of a collection of nearly every known shape of horse shoe known to man, and this particular exhibit has additional interest attached to it from the fact that at the World's Fair, Chicago, it was shown, and awarded first prize.

But the excellence of the Fair was by no means confined to those exhibits inside the building. The number, variety and good quality of the different classes of stock shown was another feature which stamped the Millbrook Fair, as one of the very best in this part of the province. Nearly every one of the hundreds of stalls erected to accommodate the live stock was occupied by animals, and in these, too, the competition in all classes was very keen, and in many cases the work of the judges was no easy matter for the grade of the stock was so universally good.

The band of the 57th Regiment from Peterborough was on the grounds and during the afternoon gave a choice programme of music which was thoroughly appreciated by the thousands of visitors. During the evening they also rendered some selections from the balcony of the town hall preceeding the concert.

There were ten entries for Messrs. Grafton & Co's special prize for team of general purpose farm horses with harness in wagon.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

Peterborough merchants were prominent at the Fair, and evidently the business of the patrons of the Millbrook Fair is considered of value by them.

LANG & MAHER'S CLOTHING.

The new firm of Lang & Maher, the new Peterborough clothiers, were represented at the Millbrook Fair, for the first time. This new firm is making a strong bid for business, and, what is more, to the point, is getting it in a goodly measure. At Millbrook yesterday, Mr. J. T. C. Lang, who is well known and favourably, by a very large proportion of the residents of Cavan and Monaghan, was at the Fair, and had charge of the firm's campaign of publicity. The beautifully executed and catching signs of the firm were displayed prominently from all parts of the grounds, and the visitors could not help seeing them at every turn.

The clothing sold by this progressive firm has a distinctiveness about it which at once stamps it as different from the ordinary ready-to-wear clothing. The Sovereign Brand, which is handled by Lang & Maher is thoroughly up to the required point in style, and in most cases just a little ahead of other brands, while the make and quality are of the very best.

The business of this new company is growing satisfactorily, due chiefly to the thoroughly progressive manner in which it is conducted, coupled with the fact that only the very best goods are sold.

GRAFTON & COMPANY'S CLOTHING.

In a tent, centrally situated on the grounds, Messrs. Grafton & Co., the makers of high grade ready-to-wear clothing, had a good exhibit of their clothing, and during the entire day this exhibit, which was the only one of clothing on the grounds, was the centre of attraction for the thousands of visitors, and those in charge of it were kept busy attending to the many visitors who were deeply interested in the clothing shown, the exhibit being composed of representative samples from the immense stock of this firm.

A feature of this firm's business, and perhaps one of the principal reasons for its great success, is the fact that not only is the firm a retailer of clothing, but is also a manufacturing firm, and, consequently, pays more attention to the quality of its clothing than a wholesaler would in making goods, because the firm comes into direct contact with the wearer, and if the goods were not satisfactory this fact would reflect on the firm's business. That Grafton & Co's trade has been constantly growing, is an evidence of the fact that good goods are made and sold.

The high-grade clothing of Grafton & Co. was liberally advertised at the Fair yesterday by the signs prominently displayed.

PROFESSOR FALLA A CLEVER ORGANIST.

Rideau Record Speaks Highly of New Organist at George Street.

The Rideau Record, of Smith's Falls, speaks thus of Professor Falla, who is about to leave that town to accept the position of choir leader and organist of George street Methodist church, Peterborough:—

"Professor Falla expects to leave town about the end of October for Peterborough, where he has accepted the position of organist in the George street Methodist church there. His going away will be greatly regretted not only by the people of St. Paul's church, where he has been the organist, but by all who have come to know him. He is an exceptionally clever organist, a successful teacher and an all round good citizen. He has given the best of satisfaction to St. Paul's church as an organist, and is removing only because he gets a bigger organ in Peterborough and a better salary."

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and will heal such injuries to heal with much less risk and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all druggists.

Drawing and Painting.

Miss A. K. Bennett will resume her drawing and painting classes on Saturday, October 8th. During the winter months these classes will be conducted in the Y.M.C.A. Building. Terms upon application at her residence, 402 Charlotte street. 2d

MR. R. F. McWILLIAMS RETIREMENT.

The Morning Times to-day announces the withdrawal of Mr. R. F. McWilliams, as an Independent candidate in West Peterborough in the present election contest. In taking this course Mr. McWilliams has acted wisely. His success under present conditions was an absolute impossibility and there is no question that he would have imperilled his political future. He is a young man of good ability and young enough to wait for the favourable turn of the tide, which comes to every man, for launching his political bark. Mr. McWilliams has no doubt cause for complaint in respect of the assurances given him by Mr. Kendry and some other Conservatives, that no Conservative candidate would be nominated. Perhaps Mr. Kendry may think that he has kept the letter of his promise, inasmuch as no Conservative candidate has been "nominated"—he has just dropped in, there having been no convention called since Mr. Waddell was nominated and retired. However, Mr. McWilliams can afford to ignore the means employed to place him, to a certain extent, in a false position, and await his opportunity, which the future may easily bring.
